The Biggest Battery Renewal Scheme ever offered to motorists

The introduction of this original scheme of battery service is of vital interest to all car owners whose cars are already equipped with a LUCAS, C.A.V. or ROTAX Battery. It is simple and straightforward, will eliminate much of the trouble hitherto experienced with battery failures and will definitely save time and expense. Moreover it is an addition to the existing 90 days free service covering defective materials or workmanship, under which any repair or replacement is carried out entirely free of charge.

Every Motorist provided for in one of the following
THREE ALTERNATIVE SCHEMES

20
MINUTES
SERVICE

Battery Exchanged For Brand New One During First Two Years.

At any time during the first two years of a LUCAS, C.A.V. or ROTAX Battery's life we will, (provided there has been no obvious abuse or accidental damage) supply a brand new battery in exchange for your present one, you paying one twenty-fourth of the list price for each month since the battery to be replaced was first put into service. This service can be effected in 20 minutes.

40
MINUTES

Battery Exchanged For Thoroughly-Reconditioned One.

Your present LUCAS, C.A.V. or ROTAX Battery will be examined and a quotation given for necessary repairs which fixes the price at which a thoroughly reconditioned battery can be fitted and retained in exchange. This service can be effected in 40 minutes.

TWO HOURS
SERVICE

Any Make of Battery Replaced or Repaired.

Any make of battery of standard modern design can be overhauled and if necessary fitted with new plates in two hours, excepting in cases of exceptional rush periods.

We are very pleased to welcome Mansfield Town to Luton on their first visit. It is problematical whether they will be in the Southern Section long, but everybody with knowledge of football knows what a plucky fight they made year after year to obtain admission to the Northern Section. They failed, but would probably agree that they were even more fortunate to get into the Southern Section than they would have been in the Northern.

They began quite well, but of late have not been fulfilling their early promise, though for a first venture, and made at a time when most of the "bargains" in players had been snapped up, they have nothing with which to reproach themselves.

They have shown a lot of courage in the acquisition of players, and will probably do better next season.

Their record may not be very bright, but that does not mean that the Town have an easy job this afternoon. Certainly we hope to make a good start for a successful Easter, and if our lads play as they did last Saturday, we should win all right.

Please take note of the following games:—

To-morrow (Saturday), Chelsea Reserves are due at Luton.

On Monday, Cardiff Reserves are our guests.

On Tuesday, Norwich City are to visit us for the postponed League game.

We want a big crowd at each match, for those of our supporters who read the remarks of the Chairman at the meeting for the election of directors will appreciate the serious position.

We cordially welcome Councillor Stewart Wilkinson and Mr. H. S. Hewson as new members of the directorate, and hope their arrival will mean a change of fortune for the Club. Both are very much interested in the Club, and Mr. Hewson has often found his way to matches far afield.

News from all Quarters

Old friends will regret to hear that Tom Boyle's health has failed, and he is now in a nursing home near the scene of his former football triumphs after he left Yorkshire and became the leader of Burnley's great side and the idol of East Lancashire. Since his retirement Tom has been in Blackpool, but recently he has been in his old haunts, and it is well that when he broke down there were friends handy to see he was properly looked after.

The outstanding objection to paying footballers at so much a match is simply that you cannot look at professional football in terms of matches. During my days as a manager a good many lads came to me who seemed to have the idea that a footballer's life consisted of playing a match a week and pleasing himself for the rest of the time. Nothing is further from the truth. The root of all professionalism is training and practice, and nothing else. I mean, the only difference between the good amateur and the good professional is that the professional trains and practices more.—Andy Ducat.

George Waterfield is one of Burnley's two old servants, the other being Louis Page, who has just been transferred. The former went to Turf Moor as an outside-left, and when he was converted into a back Page took his place on the wing. Waterfield might have gone elsewhere within the last few months had not his wife belonged to Burnley and been so attached to it that she wished to stay there.

"Jerry" Dawson, who was Burnley's goalkeeper for twenty years, is now a scout for his old club, as well as showing the young idea how to keep the ball from going between the posts. Jerry still retains that rosy colour, so much so that he looked as though he ought to be in the thick of things to-day. Turf Moor could do with a change of fortune, for the old club is in a bad way at present.

A well-known Lancashire official who had charge of a Second Division match recently confessed to me that he was greatly mystified on at least two occasions by the extraordinary interpretation placed on the rules.

News from all Quarters

time he was more astonished to learn that certain other referees had permitted such methods, but he did not leave the ground until he had made it plain that they were illegal and contrary to the regulations.

"Cornish Referee" writes me from Penzance, asking "whether off-side is determined by the position a player is in when he receives the ball, or the position he was in when the ball was last played."

This is one of the questions the answer to which is always fresh to some people. If the ball is played forward by an attacker and goes to one of his own side, the latter must have had two opponents between himself and the goal-line when the ball was last played, otherwise he is out of play.

In the second case the two backs proceeded to the back of the net behind their goalkeeper, and when the ball came across they ran out and leaped into the air with the object of getting an advantage over the attacking forwards. Unfortunately for the players the referee was very much awake and he refused to allow the game to proceed until the two backs had re-entered the field.

After the match the referee informed me that he made it his duty to institute inquiries into the new practices, and was surprised to find that the players had been specially studying tactics. At the same
