F.A. CUP (4th Round)

LUTON v. TOTTENHAM H.

Sat., Jan. 28th.

So thoroughly have the newspapers covered the story of the 'Spurs and the Town in Cup-ties, that it is needless to recount, romantic reading though the tales make.

We heartily welcome our old friends, and the worst we wish them is that they will be eliminated from the Cup Competition this afternoon, but obtain consolation in the shape of promotion to the First Division at the end of the season.

Despite the keenness of modern Cup-tie games, they are not so fiercely fought as they were, and this game should be a proof that even Cup-ties can provide good football.

We hope to pull through, for the issue is on the turf and not in cold print, and in spite of all the predictions made by the multitude of writers, many of them here to-day, we feel that we have quite as good a chance against the 'Spurs as Walsall had against the Arsenal.

Of course we lament the absence of Andrew Rennie, but he has been ill enough during this week to have made his appearance in this tie almost impossible, even if the F.A. had not said he must be excluded.

According to the names provided by the 'Spurs, they will have Levene at centre-half instead of Rowe.

We hope for a really good sporting tussle, and if the 'Spurs are in the hat on Monday, we shall wish them all good luck. They have had two draws away from home, and if they succeed in two such matches, they deserve a run at White Hart Lane.

If this game reaches a definite result to-day, we are at home on Wednesday to Brentford for the League game postponed from to-day. We should like to see as big a crowd as we have this afternoon, and if the lads win they will deserve it. We would point out that our League position is not so bad as it appears to be, for we are three home games in hand.

We would like at this point to express our appreciation of the way the 'Spurs have fallen in with our work during the last fortnight, and especially their willingness to change their colours to red, for this will help spectators to follow the game much better.

The LUTON BAND will commence playing at 1.30, and their programme will consist of POPULAR SONGS and DANCE NUMBERS.

GRAND THEATRE

"THE ARCADIANS."

In Arcadia it is always summer; there is a patch of blue sky beyond the shady elms, and blossom hangs above the mossy boulders, while the people of that fair land are as picturesque as their home, with flowery garlands, skins and draperies for clothing, and life as simple as a song.

Such are the folk into whom Luton Amateur Operatic and Dramatic Society have changed themselves this week, for the performance at the Grand Theatre of "The Arcadians," a fantastical musical play in three acts, which they have chosen to perform this year for their tenth musical production.

The outstanding impression is one of prettiness and simple charm, contrasted first with the clumsiness of the modern "monster," who chances upon this land of pleasant unreality and is responsible for the introduction of more of his type, and secondly with the no less picturesque, but oppositely smart and sophisticated set, who have gathered at the Askwood racecourse for a social event no less than for a sporting one.

The cast is undoubtedly good, and the wide range of "types" which the play introduces with such variety to characterisation and plot has given scope for acting of almost every kind any amateur could desire within the confines of one play, whether it be the serious, the buffoon, the smart man-about-town and his lady friends, the simple idealist, or the "nouveau-riche."

EMPIRE

"PACK UP YOUR TROUBLES."

In this, their second full-length film, "Pack up Your Troubles," showing tonight, that inimitable pair, Laurel and Hardy, are even more hilarious than ever. It is their efforts to help win the war that runs them into such comical situations of the sort in which they have no equals. Titterton, the great English tenor, is shown in Pathetone Weekly. The supporting picture, "Watch Beverley," shows Henry Kendall and Dorothy Bartlam in some amusing adventures.

Entertainment in Luton

ALMA

"The Greeks had a word for them" is a fast-moving story of three girls who came to Broadway. How the men took to them—and how they took the men—these three gold diggers, Joan Blondell, Ina Claire and Madge Evans, are the stars to-night. Buck Jones is also featured in new thrills in "High Speed," a daring drama of the speedway. On Monday Tallulah Bankhead and Gary Cooper appear in "Devil and the Deep," and Tim McCoy in "The Fighting Marshal."

PALACE

"THE DARK HOUSE."

J. B. Priestley's great mystery novel has become the greatest mystery picture. "The Old Dark House," featuring Boris Karloff, Charles Laughton, Melvyn Douglas and others, vividly portrays a night of terrors in an ancient house in the lonely mountains of Wales. Boris Karloff is even more grotesque than in that remarkable picture, "Frankenstein." A contrast is provided by Will Rogers at his wittiest in "Down to Earth." Patrons to-night are assured of a good evening's entertainment.

WELLINGTON

"JACK'S THE BOY."

To-night the famous British pair, Jack Hulbert and Cicely Courtneidge, appear together in "Jack's the Boy," a film whose humour has become by this time proverbial. Jack is the son of a "big noise" at Scotland Yard, but his father did not take this as justification for Jack's joining the force to re-organise it. As Constable Brown, Jack has some first-rate adventures, the full humour of which must be seen to be appreciated.

"THE GUILTY GENERATION."

How children suffer for the sins of their parents, how family ties make young innocents guilty, is the theme of the Columbia picture, "The Guilty Generation," showing next Monday. Leo Carrillo is the motivating force in the play. He even puts artistry into the flicking of cigar ashes. Emma Dunn, in the character role, Constance Cummings, Robert Young and Boris Karloff, give capable performances. The supporting feature is Buck Jones in "The Lone Rider."
