INSIDE THE COTTAGE

WE reckon that a fair summing-up of our match with Birmingham at the Cottage is that if we can continue to play that type of football we ought at least to be among the leaders at the season's end. Certainly Birmingham, looked upon in some quarters as a promotion team, could never match our lads as a footballing side, and Gil Merrick must have felt that this was the worst day he'd had since Hungary.

Our forwards were rampant, finishing off almost every movement with shots which, if they did not all beat the England and Birmingham goalkeeper, at least kept him constantly employed. In fact, what with the shots he had to stop and the number of back passes he had to pick up, Merrick can rarely have been so busy.

There was no looking back for our team once Bedford Jezzard gave us the lead in the second minute. The movement developed on the right from where Arthur Stevens put a low ball across in front of the Birmingham players who packed the goalmouth.

It should have been Bobby Robson's ball but he, seeing nothing but bodies in front of him, wisely let it run on to Jezzard to drive right through the crowd.

This goal heralded some of the finest combined movements we have seen from our forwards for some time. They were all in it right up to their necks, all the time getting a magnificent service from Jimmy Hill at left half, and Norman Smith at right half.

BEDFORD JEZZARD
Twenty-nine goals so far this season

At the end of a quarter of an hour we went into a 2-0 lead with as great a goal as we wish to see. Round about midfield Johnny Haynes was left with the ball by Smith and looked round carefully before he parted.

Then he put a long pass, head high, to the left of centre where Robson, from all of 18 yards out, met it with a flick of the head and into the net it went just inside the post.

By this time the process of wearing down the opposition was well on its way. Time after time Charlie Mitten must have taken the heart out of Hall as he raced past the Birmingham back and crossed a good centre. If they hadn't had Merrick behind them the Birmingham backs would have had a much worse day.

It was half an hour before Ian Black was given a serious job of work, and then he brought off a grand save by diving to his left to turn a shot from Murphy away.

Robson Again

TWO minutes later we were three up, and again Robson was the scorer. It started when Haynes caught the Birmingham defence flat-footed with a pass out to Jezzard, who was left of goal. Jezzard hit it so powerfully that Merrick could only push it away, and at once Robson pounced and put the finishing touch.

BOBBY ROBSON
Two grand goals against Birmingham

But for two England - form saves by Merrick we might well have been five up by the interval. The first followed a brilliant 50-yard solo run by Mitten which only came to a stop when a defender desperately kicked away for a corner. Mitten placed his flag kick straight to Hill, who had joined the forwards, and the latter crashed in a magnificent shot which was going just under the bar until Merrick somehow turned it over.

The second came from another shot from Jezzard, who was given his chance by an astute pass from Smith.

Still, three clear goals in the first half was nothing to grumble about, and the lads proceeded to pile it on as soon as the second half began. Again and again they cut the Birmingham defence to shreds with movements that kept the crowd warm on a biting cold day, and it was only in the course of justice that Johnny Haynes made it 4—0.

Mitten and Haynes went down on the left almost as they liked until the winger put the ball right across to Stevens. The latter killed it, then slipped it inside to Haynes, who turned and drove low past Merrick for the fourth.

Disputed Penalty

FIVE minutes later Birmingham were awarded a penalty (from which they scored) about which the least said the better.

Within three minutes Stevens had got that one back for us following a movement which started on Mitten's wing. The outside left beat a man and passed inside to Haynes, who moved the ball across to Smith as the right half came through.

Then Smith parted to Stevens, who rounded off the attack with a shot which gave Merrick no kind of chance. Birmingham still had some fight, though, and a minute from the end Trigg scored their second following a scramble in our goalmouth during which Hill was injured.

While our forwards got the goals, just as much credit is due to our defenders. Each one of them played a sterling game, with Brice once more completely dominating the middle. And with him, Robin Lawler and John Chenhall were in top form.

Down to Earth

BUT football is a great game for teaching you the realities of life. You're top of the world one minute—practically on the floor the next. And you can take our form at Nottingham against the Forest as a case in point.

In this encounter our lads could not reproduce the form they showed against Birmingham although they opened in brilliant style. Had they maintained the standard of the opening minutes they could not have been beaten, but in the long run the Forest deserved their victory though the 4—1 score undoubtedly flattered them.

In fairness to the players, however, it must be pointed out that their deterioration in this game dated from the moment our confident appeals for a penalty were ignored.

It was such an obvious infringement that the referee must have been the only person not to see it. However, referees are not infallible and we have to take the rough with the smooth.

At that stage the score stood at one-all. We took the lead in the early stages with a brilliant Bedford Jezzard goal.

NORMAN SMITH
Capable deputy for Eddie Lowe

However, the Forest fought back like the good side they are and drew level at the end of 27 minutes with a good goal by Capel for which Moore did all the work.

After the penalty incident the Moore-Capel combination got cracking again and Capel put Forest ahead. Ten minutes after the interval Hill tried to get a centre from Collindridge away as Ian Black came out, but the ball went astray leaving McLaren with a simple chance which he took.

Seventeen minutes from the end Capel completed the scoring with a shot for which Black was unsighted.

A fair resumé is that our lads tried hard but that it was one of those days on which very little would go right for them. They did not reach the standard we, as a club, have set ourselves, but at least we know they can play much better than this.

Goal for New Boy

OUR Reserves, who incidentally haven't had a game at home for a month, gained a useful point at Plymouth a fortnight ago with a one-all score. Our goal was scored by a young inside forward on trial named Ken Craggs.

His goal was the only one of the first half and was scored after half an hour. Receiving a well-timed pass from Ken Wilkins at right half, he waited for the goalkeeper to advance and then calmly lifted the ball over his head into the net.

ROUND THE GROUND.

ENTIRELY of their own accord, all our players decided to brighten life for Johnny Campbell. They put donations into a pool and this week presented Johnny with a television set.

As you may know, Johnny has just had two more operations. How many that makes in recent months we can't recall, but though he's only a shadow of the man he once was, he's the same cheerful Irishman we all knew.

He is still on our books, which means that his financial position is assured, but his job now is actually that of our Irish representative. However, we are not allowing him to take up those duties yet awhile. We shall keep him handy until we feel that he is fit enough to go home and start his new career.

In the meantime, now that he has a TV set, here's hoping he takes a better view of life!

NEWS of another invalid—right back Tom Wilson. Tom, who has been out of football for about a year through internal trouble, is now looking fitter than ever. But no attempt will be made

Our boys were always a better combination than their opponents and it was not until near the end that Plymouth got a goal that many people thought had been scored from an offside position.

We made only one change for our game at West Ham last Saturday, a trial being given to a goalkeeper named Frank Hart.

Hart is an amateur on the books of Altrincham, and we have permission to play him while he is doing his National Service in the Guards.

After leading by one-nil and 2-1, we lost this game 7-2 chiefly because in the second half our forwards could not round off their approach work, but also because the first half link-up between forwards and half backs just disappeared.

Tom Cronin gave us the lead with a well-taken goal, and after West Ham had equalised Bernard Newcombe put us in front again. In the closing seconds of this half West Ham drew level once more, but although they had been straggling behind nearly all this period, the home team had matters mostly their own way in the second half.

Roy Dwight, at outside right, had one of his best games of the season, while another who played well for us was Harry Gibson at centre-half.

to bring him back into the game this season though he's impatient to get cracking again.

TO complete our "medical report," here's the latest bulletin on two more of our players. Peter Baxter, our young Reserve inside forward or wing half, has just left hospital after an operation to the ankle he injured many weeks ago. Dai Edwards, our very promising Welsh wing half now in the R.A.F. on National Service, has just entered hospital for a knee operation.

BETTER news . . . for Robin Lawler and Norman Smith, anyway. Before the season is over they will receive benefits. Bedford Jezzard has had his already this season.

RON NICHOLLS, the Gloucestershire County cricketer and Cheltenham amateur goalkeeper who created such a grand impression on his only appearance at the Cottage so far, completes his National Service shortly and may sign professional forms for us.

WELCOME TO LUTON TOWN

IT is safe to say that every club now in the Football League plus those who were members but are no longer with us, have at some time or other had great difficulty in finding the wherewithal to live. But few have suffered from this problem more than Luton Town.

On one sad occasion they had to resign from Division 2 because there was nothing in the kitty and little likelihood of there ever being anything there. But times have changed vastly for Luton. Now they have backing and support that is the envy of many clubs.

They had their origin back in 1885, when Luton Town F.C. was formed as the result of an amalgamation between Luton Excelsior and Luton Wanderers. The new club became one of the original members of the old Southern League and did so well that after two seasons they applied for membership of Division 2 of the Football League.

At first they were turned down, but they "came again" and this time were elected—in 1897-98. They then hoped for better support from the townspeople, especially as they were providing far more attractive football. But it was not forthcoming, and at the end of their third season when they were one of the clubs that had to apply for re-election, they didn't bother and went back to the Southern League.

Even then their worries were not over. Southern League football had improved since Luton were last there, and the result was that in 1911-12 they were relegated to Division 2 of that competition.

They resumed football on a stronger note after the 1914-18 war, putting up some good performances in the F.A. Cup, and when the Southern League became the Third Division of the Football League in 1919-20 Luton Town had Football League status once again.

For a number of years they did nothing out of the ordinary until about 1933-34. From then on their standard of play improved so much that they won the championship of the Southern Section of Division 3 in 1936-37, totalling 58 points and scoring 103 goals.

That was the season in which Joe Payne scored ten goals against Bristol Rovers—a League record.

LAST SEASON honours were even between us and Luton. We lost 2-0 away, won 2-0 at home. Robson scored both our goals (10th and 47th minutes) and our team was: Black; Dodgin, Eddie Lowe; Hill, Jim Taylor, Lawler; Stevens, Robson, Jezzard, Brennan, Mitten.

CRAVEN COTTAGE QUIZ SPOTLIGHTS

BILL HEALEY

(Full Back or Wing Half)

Q.—What do you feel about professional football as a career, Bill?

A.—I think it's the best for a chap who is keen on the game. Anyway, I hope to stay in it for the rest of my life.

Q.—Then how do you visualise the future?

A.—First of all I've a great desire to play at Wembley, no matter what the game is, and then some day I hope to get a job as a trainer, coach, or even manager. Who knows?

O.—What is your best position?

A.—Frankly, I hardly know. I've played in every department except goal, but there's little doubt I'm a defender.

Q.—You've been playing since you were a small boy, haven't you?

A.—Yes. I was nine when I got into one of the team at St. Francis' School at Garston, Liverpool, where I was born, and by the time I was eleven I was in the school first team.

Q.—What about schoolboy representative games?

A.—I played regularly for Liverpool boys up to the time war broke out.

Q.—What happened when you left school?

A.—I went to Toxteth Technical Institute to take an engineering course, but I wasn't playing at that time because, owing to the bombing there wasn't much junior football in Liverpool. It was near the end of war when I played again, and then I turned out for St. Francis Youth Club.

Q.—What about National Service?

A.—I went into the R.A.F. in 1947.

Q.—Get much football then?

A.—Quite a lot. I quickly got into the station teams at Cosford in Shropshire and then at Warton near Blackpool. I also played for No. 22 Group, R.A.F., representative side regularly.

Q.—How did you become a professional footballer?

A.—This way. While I was stationed at Warton I signed for Chorley, the Lancashire Combination side, and played regularly for them at centre half. When I was demobbed I became a professional with them.

Q.—How long did you stay there?

A.—Not long, because very soon after

I was demobbed I was transferred to Arsenal.

Q.—How long were you there?

A.—Until December, 1952, when I came to Fulham.

Q.—You've had one game in the League side so far, haven't you?

A.—Yes, at Bury last season when I played right back, but of course I'm looking forward to getting a regular place in the side before long.

Q.—What are your interests next to football?

A.—Swimming first, and then motor-ing.

Q.—Got a car?

A.—I've got an old tub the lads call "The Bomb" because it makes such a terrific noise. But it goes all right!

Q.—How about athletics?

A.—I won a number of events in the R.A.F., including the station half-mile championship, and was also in the relay team.

Q.—Play any cricket?

A.—I haven't played much so far, but I hope to play for Highgate C.C. next season.

Q.—And no doubt you're thinking of getting married?

A.—The idea hasn't entered my head.
