SATURDAY, 24th MARCH, 1962.

WE CAN WIN THROUGH.

The battle to stave off relegation is bitter and relentless. We did not expect to find salvation merely by virtue of signing new players but we think we are entitled to ask how much longer we have to wait before the fates run in our favour for a change.

Before our last home game, against Swansea Town, it was recorded here that we were determined to pull out of relegation trouble and in fact, it seemed that the transfusion of new talent which brought two welcome points from that match, was at any rate a step in the right direction.

It would have been an inspiring source of confidence if that victory over Swansea Town could have been followed up with another fine performance and a profitable return from our match at Southampton but it seemed that Dame Fortune had other ideas.

Every effort was made to give United the best possible pre-match preparation. The team left for Southampton a day earlier than normal in order to get the long journey out of their systems, but there was to be no respite from the remarkable series of hammer blows which have hit us so hard this season in one way or another—on the field and off.

This time it was a sudden illness and the victim was Tommy Younger, who went down with tonsillitis. What happened in consequence is now another piece of Soccer history and one that would have been recalled with greater relish in the years ahead if there had been a happier ending.

Gary Sprake was rushed by taxi and charter plane from Leeds to Southampton to deputise for Tommy and become the youngest player ever to appear with United's first team. United went down by 4-1 but, as team manager Mr. Don Revie has already made perfectly clear, those goals against cannot be attributed to young Gary.

Gary showed the sort of stuff he is made of by bringing off some gallant saves so soon after the excitement and physical discomforts of his dash to the game. His colleagues too, of course, were tensed by the events of the morning on top of the nagging and urgent necessity to pick up League points. In these circumstances they failed to continue the good work of the previous week.

Further misfortune befell United during the match for Bill McAdams hurt his face and had to go off at a time when we were striving to get on level terms.

After that catalogue of tribulation we can only comment that we are bowed but unbroken in spirit and will continue the fight which is not yet lost. We can still win through with loyal support all round.

Against Luton Town today we hope to hear our supporters give voice in the same encouraging way as they did when cheering us on to victory over Swansea Town. That, of course, is a suitable point for us to remind you of the magnificent goal scored by Bobby Collins who had been signed only two days previously.

Bobby quickly established himself as a favourite with the Elland Road crowd and his attacking generalship is undoubtedly going to play a big part in United's immediate future. Cliff Mason, recruited from Sheffield United only the previous evening, has also settled well at left back.

And while we are on with introductions of new personnel it is pleasant to add that Ian Lawson opened his account for us by scoring our goal at Southampton.

Our visitors today, Luton Town, are old friends who have made a habit of helping themselves to points at Elland Road. In five visits since United joined them in First Division status in 1956-57 Luton are unbeaten at Elland Road with three wins and two draws here.

Their manager, Mr. Sam Bartram, is well remembered in Yorkshire for he was in charge of York City before taking over at Kenilworth Road and, of course, he was a great favourite in his playing days with Charlton Athletic for whom he kept goal with distinction for a very long period.

Yorkshireman Gordon Turner has made his presence felt against United sides on many occasions and although this sharp-shooting forward was in the wars last Saturday, receiving a split nose in the match against Norwich City the latest report was that he would probably be fit to play today.

Luton, who accompanied United back into the Second Division two years ago, are seven points in front of United and almost, though not quite, safe from relegation. When they came to Elland Road last March they pulled off their first away win of the season but this time they come with five away successes to their credit—at Plymouth, Middlesbrough, Charlton, Norwich and Huddersfield—and also two extremely creditable draws at Liverpool and Sunderland.
