CLUB NOTES—continued

All we can hope is that that was "just one of those days" and Manager George Martin's comment afterwards was, "They all had an off day together and I hope that means that they have got it out of their system."

Tomorrow, there is another home match against Gillingham whom we dismissed from the F.A. Cup by the only goal, but who are still in the promotion race, despite having their record of not having been beaten at home for two years, shattered by Exeter last Saturday.

Will supporters please note that a collection will be made at this match by Sea Cadets inside the ground for the Churchill Memorial Appeal and it is hoped that the fans will give generously.

Both first and reserve teams are away on Monday and the attraction on this ground will be the Luton and South Beds. League Knockout Cup Final between the holders, Grange Albion and Luton Red Lion.

On the same day, our youth team will be taking part along with Watford and Q.P.R. in an Anglo-Dutch youth tournament at Vicarage Road, Watford. In all, six teams will be playing and they will be divided into two sections and there will be play-offs for each position in the final order.

Club Notes

TODAY sees the start of the most critical weekend of the season and there is little room for doubt that by the time that the three holiday matches are over, we shall have a pretty clear idea whether there is to be a chance of retaining Third Division status for next season.

Walsall, who accompanied us down from the Second Division, are our opponents twice during the week-end, and, like us they have been struggling against the spectre of relegation for much of the season.

Recently, though, they have struck top form, have played seven matches without defeat and collected 12 points from them which gives them high hopes of avoiding the drop, so long as they do not suffer a disastrous Easter.

Without being unfriendly, it is up to us to try to contribute to just that and, on the form the team showed against Barnsley, there should be a bright start to Easter with two points from this afternoon's meeting.

Unfortunately, after the tonic of four consecutive victories, the team blotted its copybook last Saturday at Southend when they suffered an unaccountable loss of form which resulted in them receiving a drubbing which was unexpected to say the least.
