Club Notes

OUR hopes of promotion this season came alive again after the brilliant win at Bradford last Saturday in which the determination which was called for by Manager George Martin came to complete fulfilment.

Our meeting with Aldershot this afternoon is the first of three home matches during this month and at the end of it we are hoping to be in a position to contemplate our chances of promotion as rosy.

Our success at Bradford completed our first double of the season and, today, we were hoping to wipe out the memory of a 3-1 defeat at Aldershot way back in August. On that occasion, the Soldiers looked more than a useful outfit, but we had not then settled down into a cohesive unit. Now, Aldershot find themselves at the bottom of the League table but, with bitter memories of what happened when Bradford City came here, too much notice should not be taken of the fact because form is apt to go topsy-turvy in the most unexpected style.

Today is the first occasion on which we have staged a first team match under the new parking restrictions on the Dunstable Road side of the ground.

On another page in this programme, there is a map detailing the roads on the Dallow Road side of the ground where unlimited parking is possible and to which the police will direct motorists. In addition, the shaded areas show where the restrictions apply for two or four hours in such roads as Kenilworth Road. With a change of approach by supporters, we feel that this problem can be overcome completely, and there seems no reason at all for undue concern.

In coping with this problem, the police have been most helpful and arrangements have been made to man extra turnstiles at the Maple Road end to cope with the expected rush in that area.

With regard to the donation of match footballs to which there has been a most generous response, we would like to draw attention to the fact that the ball given for the home match with Bradford City, was not the personal gift of Mr. Mayes, of the "White Horse", Eaton Bray, but as the result of a collection among his customers.

We understand that similar collections are being made at some licensed premises in Luton but, in the meantime, we have accepted a most generous offer from Mr. Reg. Swain, the well-known Luton bookmaker and commission agent, to supply match balls for the remainder of the season.

Since the last home match, our playing staff has been reduced by one in that Billy Stark has gone on loan for a month to Corby Town, who asked us to help them out of an awkward period caused through injuries.

For real football enthusiasts, there is an attractive match on this ground next Wednesday evening (kick-off 7.30) when Luton Schoolboys meet Smethwick for a place in the quarter finals of the English Schools' Shield.

Winners visit either Blackburn or Leeds, and Luton, who won at Brighton on Saturday, are to be congratulated on reaching the last 16 which is a distinct feather in their cap.
