Talkabout

An early lesson

The League Cup seems to have become a jinx competition for Bristol Rovers. For the fourth time in four years, we have made our exit in the first round.

Going out again to opposition from a lower division was disappointing in itself but letting slip a 2-1 lead held at the end of the away leg at Torquay made it even worse to accept.

Supporters already know my views on the value of a cup run — how it gets the whole place buzzing with excitement and eager anticipation of the next round.

To be out of one of the two major competitions virtually before the season has started is a bitter blow to everyone, not least the supporters, who braved atrocious conditions to come to Eastville for the second leg last Tuesday and were not exactly well rewarded.

Apart from the chances we missed, we did not play with the determination usually associated with Bristol Rovers and were punished for it by a Torquay team who, I am the first to admit, played very well in both legs of the tie.

I would much rather still be in the League Cup but perhaps an early lesson is not a bad thing. We need to sort out why we can play with so much spirit at Torquay on the Saturday and disp lay a lack of it on our home ground only three days later.

A DIFFERENT STORY

Complacency was always a danger after taking a lead in the away leg and I was at pains to impress on the team that the return match was an entirely different game that had to be won.

If we had taken one of those early chances, it might have been a different story. Someone said they reckoned we missed eight simple opportunities. Without having to think very hard, I can recall five or six.

But it is no good looking back at a game that proved so big a disappointment — particularly for Terry Cooper and Stewart Barrowclough. It certainly wasn't the kind of home debut they expected, especially after the big contribution they both made in the game at Torquay.

Now it is left to us to restore our pride by rolling up our sleeves and really getting cracking with our Second Division programme.

I wish Torquay every success in the second round and congratulate Mike Green, our old skipper here at Eastville, on the fine job he is doing in his first managerial appointment.

And, while awarding bouquets — well done Gary Mabbutt in being selected for the England Youth party for an international tournament in Yugoslavia later this month and early next.

We are keeping our fingers crossed that Paul Petts, chosen for the shadow squad, will also get a call-up.

WELCOME

Hatters join Big Spenders

writes Alan King

Luton Town rank alongside Queen's Park Rangers and West Ham as the big summer spenders of the Second Division.

Having splashed out nearly half a million pounds on just two players, manager David Pleat must have been upset at his side's quick exit from the Football League Cup.

After a 3-0 first leg defeat at Gillingham, the "Hatters" could only manage a 1-1 draw at home against the Third Division side.

Defender Mike Saxby from Mansfield Town is the most expensive of the two signings, representing a £200,000 investment.

Irish midfielder man Tony Grealish's fee was fixed five days ago by the League's independent tribunal at £125,000. His former club, Orient, had wanted £350,000.

HE'S IN CHARGE

David Pleat has been manager of Luton Town since February 1978 when he took over from Harry Haslam, who moved to Sheffield United.

He had been on the Luton coaching staff since 1975 and prior to that was manager of Nuneaton Borough.

A former England youth player he had five clubs in his playing career. He started with Nottingham Forest and later played for Luton, Shrewsbury Town, Exeter City and Peterborough United.

PEN PICTURES

JOHN FINDLAY (goalkeeper): A Scot who spent eight years at Villa Park before his £95,000 move to Luton in November 1978. He started with Villa as an apprentice and made his League debut in April 1974 against Sunderland. But he played only 14 games in all.

KIRK STEPHENS (defender): He has made the transition from non-League soccer to the Second Division with immediate success. Signed from Nuneaton in June 1978 for £5,000 he went straight into the League side at the start of last season.

PAUL PRICE (defender): In his eighth year with the club he has twice had his career interrupted through injury. He broke his leg in 1974 and again in 1975. He made his debut at Oxford in April 1973.

MIKE SAXBY (defender): Luton's record signing who moved from Mansfield Town during the close season for a fee of £200,000. He started with Mansfield as an amateur and became an apprentice in July 1974. Six months later was given a full professional contract but he has played less than 80 League games.

MARK AIZLEWOOD (defender): A former skipper of the Welsh youth side he has also played for his country at under 21 level. He was still a schoolboy when he made his League debut for Newport County in March 1976. He became a full professional in October 1977 and joined Luton in April 1978 for a £50,000 fee.

MAL DONAGHY (midfield): Joined the club from the Irish side Larne in June 1978 for a £20,000 fee. He won an under 21 cap four months before his move to England.

PASQUALE (LIL) FUCCILLO (midfield): Born in Bedford his parents are Italian and he has been with Luton since May 1973 when he joined as an apprentice. He became a full professional in July 1974 and made his League debut — against Derby County — five months later. He scored seven goals last season.

ALAN WEST (midfield): A former England under 23 player who cost the club £80,000 when he was signed from Burnley in October 1973. He had earlier been due to join Sunderland but the move was called off at the last minute. He played in Division Two promotion winning teams for both his clubs.

Previous Meetings

by Geoff Allman

Like Rovers, Luton were elected to the League on the creation of Division Three (South) in 1920, and the two clubs' careers have run along remarkably similar courses.

They both continued in the Third (South) until Luton were promoted in 1937, but were re-united in Division Two in 1953 after Rovers' championship win.

Luton reached the top flight two years later, but Rovers were still in the Second when they came back down in 1960.

They sank into the Third in 1962, a year before Rovers, but fell into the Fourth in 1965. Luton resumed games against Rovers after winning promotion in 1968, then climbed back into Division Two in 1970, to be followed by Rovers five years later.

Rovers' overall record in these games reads:

	P	W	D	L	F	A	Ps
At Eastville	29	12	11	6	54	31	35
At Kenilworth Road	29	3	7	19	27	76	13

The teams for last season's corresponding fixture on 9th September were:

Rovers: Thomas, Pulis, Bater, Day, Taylor, Prince, Dennehy, Williams, Staniforth, Randall, Barry.

Luton: Aleksic, Jones, Aizlewood, Hill, Turner, Price, Donaghy (Sub. West), Fucillo, Stein, Ingram, Moss, Rovers won 2-0 (Scorers: Staniforth, Randall; Att.: 6,508).

ALAN BIRCHENALL (midfield): With his seventh English League club he has also played regularly in the USA. He joined Luton on a free transfer in March from Blackburn Rovers. He started with Sheffield United and Chelsea, Crystal Palace and Leicester all paid fees around the £100,000 mark to sign him. He later played for Notts County. He won four England under 23 caps and will be 34 later this month.

RICKY HILL (midfield): Made his League debut against Rovers in April 1976 when he came on as substitute and scored in Luton's 3-1 win. A former England youth player he became an apprentice in November 1975 and a full professional a month after his debut.

TONY GREALISH (midfield): Born in Paddington but he is a Republic of Ireland international. Joined Orient as an apprentice in July 1972, became a full professional two years later and made his League debut against Sheffield Wednesday in September 1974. He played for Eire as a youth and won the first of his eight full caps against Norway in Dublin in March 1976. His move to Kenilworth Road will cost Luton around £125,000.

BOB HATTON (striker): His 11 goals last season took his League career total to 156 with seven clubs. He started with Wolves went to Bolton Wanderers for £27,000 and was later with Northampton Town and Carlisle United. But his longest stay was with Birmingham City who paid £80,000 to sign him in October 1971. He moved to Blackpool for £50,000 in July 1976 and cost Luton the same amount two years later.

DAVID MOSS (forward): Leading scorer last season with 13 of the club's 60 League goals. He was signed for £110,000 in May 1978 and scored twice on his debut against Oldham Athletic. He spent his previous nine years with Swindon Town and scored 60 goals in 230 League games.

BRIAN STEIN (forward): Born in South Africa, he joined the club from Edgware Town in October 1977. A month later he made his debut in a League Cup second replay against Manchester City at Old Trafford. He scored nine goals last season.

GODFREY INGRAM (forward): A Luton-born lad who was an apprentice for 15 months before joining the full professional ranks in October 1977. He made his debut against Oldham Athletic in January 1978.

Your Round-up of Rovers' News

Tribute to retired Supporters' Club chief

UNIQUE — that's Eric

Unique — That's the word which keeps cropping up when people assess Eric Godfrey's contribution to Bristol Rovers' Supporters' Club.

A Committee member since the club's formation in 1947 and Chairman and Hon. Secretary for the last 30 of those 32 years, he decided to retire this summer.

In the 1950's and early-60's — before Commercial Managers started professional lotteries — Mr. Godfrey inspired the Supporters' Club into the top voluntary fund-raising organisation in the entire League.

"His must be an unique example of devoted and loyal voluntary service," wrote his successor Ron Batt in the Annual Report.

Rovers' Vice-chairman Alan Seager, who takes a keen interest in Supporters' Club affairs, stresses that Eric Godfrey "worked while others merely talked".

"He is unique because he has done so much for Bristol Rovers — and is still going to, for although retiring from the Supporters' Club, he will continue to be an active Director of the Football Club".

One Supporters' Club member felt so strongly that his retirement should be marked appropriately he anonymously donated £500 to launch an Eric Godfrey Football Foundation to help youth football.

For Mr. Godfrey firmly believes in fostering youths — at both professional and amateur levels — and, whenever possible, accompanied Rovers' successful youth team on their away trips last season.

Ironically, it was on the journey home after seeing Rovers win the South West and Wales Youth Cup at Hereford that he became ill, and the subsequent operation at Frenchay Hospital prevented him from saying his "farewells" at the Supporters' Club's annual meeting.

Well Done Jack

"The best ever" — that was the unanimous verdict on the velvet-like Eastville pitch after last week's League Cup-tie with Torquay.

"Every credit must be given to Jack Pitt and the groundstaff," says secretary Peter Terry, for re-seeding was delayed because of matches in late May".

With Jack's assistant Harry Smith now working part-time, Rovers recruited school leaver Adrian Sims during the summer as an apprentice groundsman.

Ron Hicks, in charge of our Hambrook Training Centre, has had an equally busy close season preparing the pitches there for another hectic nine months' non-stop activity.

PAUL RANDALL APPROVES...

Rovers' record "export" Paul Randall was at Twerton Park on the Saturday before last to see Rovers' Reserves notable 2-1 win over Bath City's first team.

"I was home in Glastonbury for the weekend as Stoke had no game," explained Paul, "and was thinking of watching Bristol City's Anglo-Scottish Cup-tie with Fulham. But I just couldn't bring myself to go to Ashton Gate, so decided to watch the youngsters instead, and must say I was most impressed".

It's hard to believe Paul only joined us just over two years ago — on Friday 12th August 1977. A few days earlier he had just signed his first ever professional contract — for Western League Frome Town — and so impressed then Rovers' boss Don Megson in a pre-season friendly against our Reserves that he arranged his immediate transfer.

Little did anyone then realise the novice recruit was to score 36 goals in 61 first team outings before his transfer last December to Stoke — for whom he made his First Division baptism last Saturday!

MEDA MEN MOVE

During the summer the local media men appear to have been playing musical chairs.

David Solomons, for many years Sports Editor of the Evening Post, switched to Radio Bristol and is now in charge of all the station's sports programmes.

Peter Godsiff has taken David's place at the Post, with Robin Perry, who very kindly contributes to our Match Programme, becoming their Chief Sports Reporter.

"With the untimely death of the Green 'Un, Radio Bristol — 194 on the dial — will be even more of a must for soccer fans for after-the-match reports and comments on Saturdays", says David.

"We all regret the Green 'Un's disappearance but most of the Green 'Un features appear in our lively new Sports Extra in all the Post's Saturday editions, and we have enlarged our Monday match report coverage as well," replies Robin.

There's a change on the Western Daily Press as well. Their Rovers' correspondent Colin Bateman has joined the London Evening Standard and been replaced by Ralph Ellis.

Hammers for the top?

West Ham, Sunderland and Cardiff for Division One — that's my predicted outcome of the Second Division campaign, just beginning.

The Hammers narrowly missed out last time, mainly due to Trevor Brooking's absence through injury during the closing weeks. But with fit-again Trevor elegantly conducting their talented orchestra, I confidently expect them to finish champions.

But Brooking's England colleague Tony Currie is unlikely to find similar success at Q.P.R. — neither will Scottish ace Tommy Gemmell at Birmingham City — although their arrivals will considerably boost interest in the Second Division this season.

With Chelsea's financial problems an enormous handicap, I cannot see any of the relegated clubs bouncing back, and the Division's other aristocratic clubs, Newcastle United and Leicester City, are unlikely to do much better.

So Sunderland, despite a change in manager — and I just cannot understand why a club that finished fourth needed to sack Billy Elliott — should have a clear run back to the top flight.

And Cardiff City, who had an incredibly good run in the New Year under Ritchie Morgan, have only to maintain that form to finish among the elite.

DOOMED TRIO

Their nearest challengers will probably be promoted clubs Watford and Swansea City. Both are bound to create plenty of excitement although their challenges will probably fade after Christmas once clubs become familiar with their tactics.

But Shrewsbury, with limited support, will only just avoid a quick return to the Third — the clubs facing doom, in my opinion, being Preston North End, Charlton Athletic and Cambridge United.

What about Rovers? Well, there's a resurgent spirit in the dressing rooms, and with many promising youngsters emerging, competition for places will be so strong I am sure we shall have our best season for 20 years. But, much as I should love to see promotion, I think we will have to settle for something like sixth.

Forecasting individual match results is, of course, a precarious enough passtime, let alone a season's, but for the record, this is how I expect the final Second Division table to read next May:

West Ham United	Chelsea
Sunderland	Newcastle United
Cardiff City	Birmingham City
Watford	Fulham
Swansea City	Burnley
BRISTOL ROVERS	Oldham Athletic
Wrexham	Orient
Queens Park Rangers	Shrewsbury Town
Luton Town	Preston North End
Leicester City	Charlton Athletic
Notts. County	Cambridge United

SUPPORTER'S CHOICE

(A Series in which fans may comment on individual players - and the players add their own opinions)

Terry Cooper is a particularly welcome addition to Rovers' staff and I hope his stay will be a long and successful one. The club has needed a top class, experienced player with coaching ability - for a person like Terry should both bring more success, and help our youngsters progress.

If he can avoid injury and play regularly in the first team - along with our other new signings - I am confident Rovers will capture the general public's imagination and boost future support.

JOHN THORNELL of Glenside Close, Frenchay.

Terry Cooper

Joining a new club is always a challenge for a footballer. For me, arrival at Eastville has a double appeal.

For it has brought not only a change of team as a player but also the start of my new career as a coach. And I must say right from the start that the response I have received from the players here has been marvellous.

Whatever I have asked them to do they have done - and done with enthusiasm. That makes me very optimistic for the season.

It frightens me a bit that our squad of players is so young and will be coming up against much more experienced sides in the Second Division.

It means they are going to have to grow up very quickly. I will certainly do everything in my power to help them do that both as a coach during training and as a player with them during matches.

I am pleased to have the support of Stewart Barrowclough, who I am sure will do a great job for the club. Bobby Campbell is a manager who likes to have two players operating wide.

I feel I can do the job on the left - and I can think of few better people to do the same duties on the right flank than Stewart, which is why I was so anxious we should sign him during the summer.

My aim in my first season with Bristol Rovers is promotion. If it wasn't, there would hardly be any point in the team going out on the field at all.

With the very young age of the Squad, it may well take a little longer than that. So it is pointless making any promises.

But what I will guarantee is that Rovers fans will have 11 battlers to support. We have devised a set pattern and the players who will pull on Rovers' shirts this season will be the 11 who make the biggest contribution towards making that formula work. That is the only way to achieve success.

While saying we have decided on a pattern and will stick to it, there is no intention to make Rovers a stereotyped team.

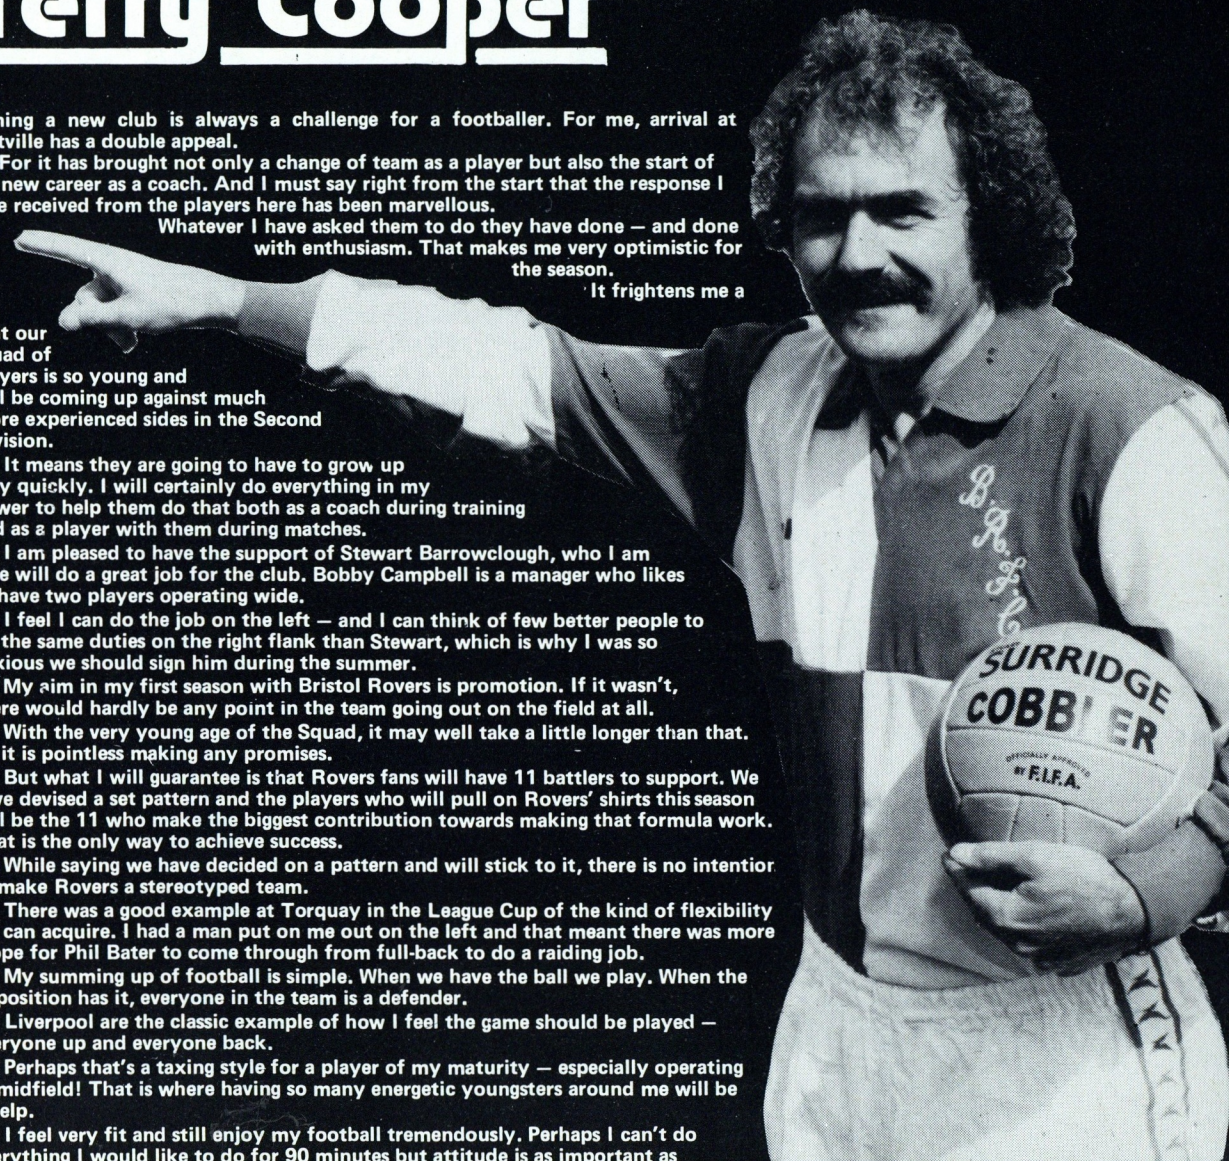

There was a good example at Torquay in the League Cup of the kind of flexibility we can acquire. I had a man put on me out on the left and that meant there was more scope for Phil Bater to come through from full-back to do a raiding job.

My summing up of football is simple. When we have the ball we play. When the opposition has it, everyone in the team is a defender.

Liverpool are the classic example of how I feel the game should be played - everyone up and everyone back.

Perhaps that's a taxing style for a player of my maturity - especially operating in midfield! That is where having so many energetic youngsters around me will be a help.

I feel very fit and still enjoy my football tremendously. Perhaps I can't do everything I would like to do for 90 minutes but attitude is as important as anything and where there's a will, there's a way.

WANTED: TICKET SELLERS

Jane Browne

New Supporters' Club Hon. Treasurer today appeals for extra volunteer Match-day lottery ticket sellers.

"They must be keen and enthusiastic, and over the age of 16", says Jane, who requests everyone interested to report to her at 2 pm at the Supporters' Club Shop, 468 Stapleton Road on Saturday before the Shrewsbury game.

"And although sellers will be operating right up to kick-off time, we guarantee them a free front row seat in the Stand so they are sure of a good view of the match," adds Jane.

In Reserve

Our young professionals and apprentices (plus several trialists) had a successful pre-season build-up — winning five and drawing one of the seven friendlies arranged.

Striker Keith Brown, with five goals in six outings, has already found his scoring touch and along with Dave Palmer, Mike England, Martin Shaw and Gary Clarke, looks more than capable of doing well should first team opportunities arise.

The full summary of games reads:

Opponents	F—A	Scorers
Sully	2—1	Griffiths, Prince
Manor Farm	3—0	Brown (2), Chapious
West Brom. Youth	1—1	Williams (S)
Clevedon	3—1	Williams (S), Brown, Griffiths
Frome Town	0—1
Bath City	2—1	Williams (S), Brown
Hungerford	1—0	Brown

The Reserves, who opened their Combination programme against Leicester City on Saturday, are at Ipswich tonight and Birmingham next Saturday — a series of tough tests for the youngsters.

While our Intermediates, who were away to Shrewsbury last Saturday, entertain West Brom at Hambrook next Saturday, k.o. 11 a.m.

Gary Mabbutt, awarded the Bert Tann Memorial Trophy as Youth Player of the Year at last month's presentation evening, receives the handsome trophy from Mr. Tann's widow, Mrs. Daisy Simpson, watched by the donor, director Ian Stevens.

Said Gary afterwards: "We had such a good youth squad last season and so many of the lads would have been worthy winners, I really do feel honoured".

On Wednesday Gary flies out with the England Youth squad for an international tournament in Yugoslavia. Paul Petts is on stand-by as a member of the shadow squad for the trip.

Dear Mr. Terry,

Several members of the youth club in my parish are doing a Sponsored Walk to Birmingham from 28th August to 1st September, arriving at Birmingham City's ground before Rovers' game.

Proceeds from the walk are to be used to care for the terminally ill in Weston, and a workshop for the elderly in Weston, and a collection will be taken outside the ground for a Hospice for the dying in Birmingham.

We should be grateful for any donations from supporters.

Every good wish and God bless.

GREGORY GRANT,
Corpus Christi Presbytery,
14 Ellenborough Park South,
Weston-Super-Mare.

Good luck on the first!

THE OTHER VIEW

Bristol Rovers 1 Torquay United 1

Tuesday, 14th August, 1979

(Extracts of the match report which appeared in the Torbay Herald Express).

"NOT A BAD START"

— Match Winner Richard

BIG Richard Bourne, all 6ft 1in and 13 stone plus of him, chose the perfect moment to head his first goal for Torquay United — 113 minutes after his side had set out to climb a mountain at sodden Eastville last night.

Bourne, United's £10,000 summer signing from Southern League Bath City, threw himself at a Tony Levy free-kick in extra-time to beat Second Division Bristol Rovers and create the biggest upset in the first round of the League Cup.

Bourne was at the far-post to power home an unstoppable header and, as United celebrated a famous win, he said: "Not a bad way to start, was it?"

"I didn't think Tony's free-kick was going to reach me through all the bodies. But it did — and I don't miss those sort of chances!"

FULLY DESERVED

After Steve Cooper and Les Lawrence had wiped out the 1—2 first-leg deficit, it was only a Gary Emmanuel goal in the 66th minute which kept Rovers in the cup.

But it didn't matter. After holding Rovers' early surge in the first period of extra-time, United finished much the stronger and fully deserved their victory.

Player-manager Mike Green beamed:

"When I went on to talk to our lads before extra-time, there wasn't a doubt in their minds that they were going to do it. They were tired, but they were still high and excited and very positive about what they had to do. They never thought they were going to lose, and it showed great character in a team which has six new signings in it".

Green, for whom victory was extra-sweet on his return to the club where he knew success as a player six years ago, was reluctant to pick out any individuals in the Torquay side.

But the midfield pair of Dave Smith and Tommy Sermanni were outstanding. And Bourne, who improves with every game, had another impressive match in the air and combined well with skipper Albert Larmour to contain the quicker Rovers strikers on the ground.

COMMERCIAL SCENE

by Graham Drew

Bristol Rovers are taking to the air next month.

We have agreed to sponsor the media balloon at the Bristol International Balloon Fiesta, which is being organised by the local Junior Chamber of Commerce at Ashton Court from September 7 to 9. So Press, radio and TV coverage of the event will be by courtesy of the club.

It was good to start both the League Cup and the League programme with special R.A.T.S. trains for Rovers fans, who travelled in good numbers to Torquay and to QPR. If that kind of support is maintained, then it will be worth running trains to all away matches this season, which is what we would like to do.

And, talking of a good response, the demand for tickets for both our lotteries — the Premier and the Golden Liner — is such that we are in need of a few more agents in the Bristol area.

Please get in touch with me if you are interested in joining our team of fundraisers to support the football club in a very practical way and at the same time earn good commission.

With the Associated Clubs scheme, our organisation now stretches throughout the West Country. This fast-growing project is designed to help keep the region's smaller football clubs alive in these days of soaring costs. We want to help West soccer flourish at all levels so that the area can compete with any other in the country.
