After two successive Saturdays away, we hope we'll have a goalscoring return to the City Ground against Luton today.

On face value, there is reason to be pleased with two draws from visits to Birmingham and Arsenal but those Forest fans who made the trips to St. Andrew's and Highbury will know that a point could easily have been translated into three on both occasions.

We had to withstand early pressure from Birmingham but fought our way back into the game with Peter Davenport's second half goal and Peter was only denied a winner by a flying save from Tony Coton.

Then at Highbury last Saturday we passed by an excellent chance to lay the Arsenal bogey. We had taken only one point from five visits since returning to the First Division but what an opportunity we had to straighten the books a little.

But once more chances went begging and when we were hitting the target, Pat Jennings revealed the talent that has made him a formidable opponent throughout his 1,000-game career.

So we now look forward to taking more of the chances that we are thankfully still creating and ending a run that has seen us score just five goals and one victory in the last 11 games.

It's a situation that has led to claims that we are not good enough to have stayed in fourth position so long but it could be that those same critics have got a short memory.

We had a spell, for instance, in the period running up to Christmas when we had nine victories in 11 games. That's not just the kind of form to stay on course for Europe but good enough to challenge for the title !

By coincidence that impressive run began with a 2-1 victory over today's opponents Luton at Kenilworth Road back in October.

Ian Wallace and then Bryn Gunn, with his long-awaited first goal in league football, shot us to victory that day and gave us the kind of boost from which we prospered in the weeks that followed.

Hopefully the game against Luton today can have the same inspirational effect on us as it did just over four months ago and we can then go forward to qualify for Europe in style.

It really is getting to the stage now where any side putting together a run can thrust themselves from mid-table into the U.E.F.A. qualifying places.

And despite our recent run, we mean to do our best over the coming weeks to make sure that European football returns to the City Ground next season.

Cloughie calling...

Last year I spent a few very enjoyable days in the company of Luton manager David Pleat in Amsterdam.

We were there for the Blau-Wit youth tournament and talking to him just confirmed what I thought about the job he has done at Luton.

He's got the problems that are associated with managing a relatively small club in the First Division but he's done a fantastic job for them.

They haven't had the best of times recently but they've entertained a lot of people with their positive style of play which also tells you a lot about the man in charge.

He's also made some useful signings within his budget and I'll be fascinated to see how his latest buy Paul Elliott develops following his move from Charlton.

THROUGH THE PAIN BARRIER

The marathon race has now reached the stage where the runners have to go through the pain barrier. The pressure is on both the front runners and the stragglers although this season it's a case of a runaway in the lead and a large following bunch. The medal positions are not cut and dried and will need a bit more application and professionalism from most of the clubs in order to achieve their aims whether they be the modest retention of status quo or qualifying for Europe.

Most clubs hit a bad patch during the race, some like Liverpool, are fortunate that it coincides with two legged ties which offers the opportunity of redeeming their position whilst others lose ground in the league race.

Our poor spell has been due to a combination of circumstances which is not entirely due to injury, although that has played a part.

It all started at Goodison Park when Garry Birtles was belted from behind early in the game and was "carrying" the injury for the rest of the game. Then came Sunderland at home who were intent on not conceding a goal. They had stopped Liverpool and Manchester United from scoring by playing nine at the back and stopped us too, although the crossbar came to their aid when "Walshy" beat the goalkeeper with a superb shot.

FREAK GOAL

Then it was Brighton away when a freak fly-kicked clearance by their goalkeeper produced an unlikely equaliser.

Derby away on a heavily watered mud-heap. The depressing sequence was broken by that spectacular Ian Wallace goal but then it was Manchester United away, twice, and not many teams get much change out of a visit to Old Trafford. Villa at home, against a side on song, and three fierce draws were to follow, so have we turned the corner at last.

"ROBBO" IN RESERVES

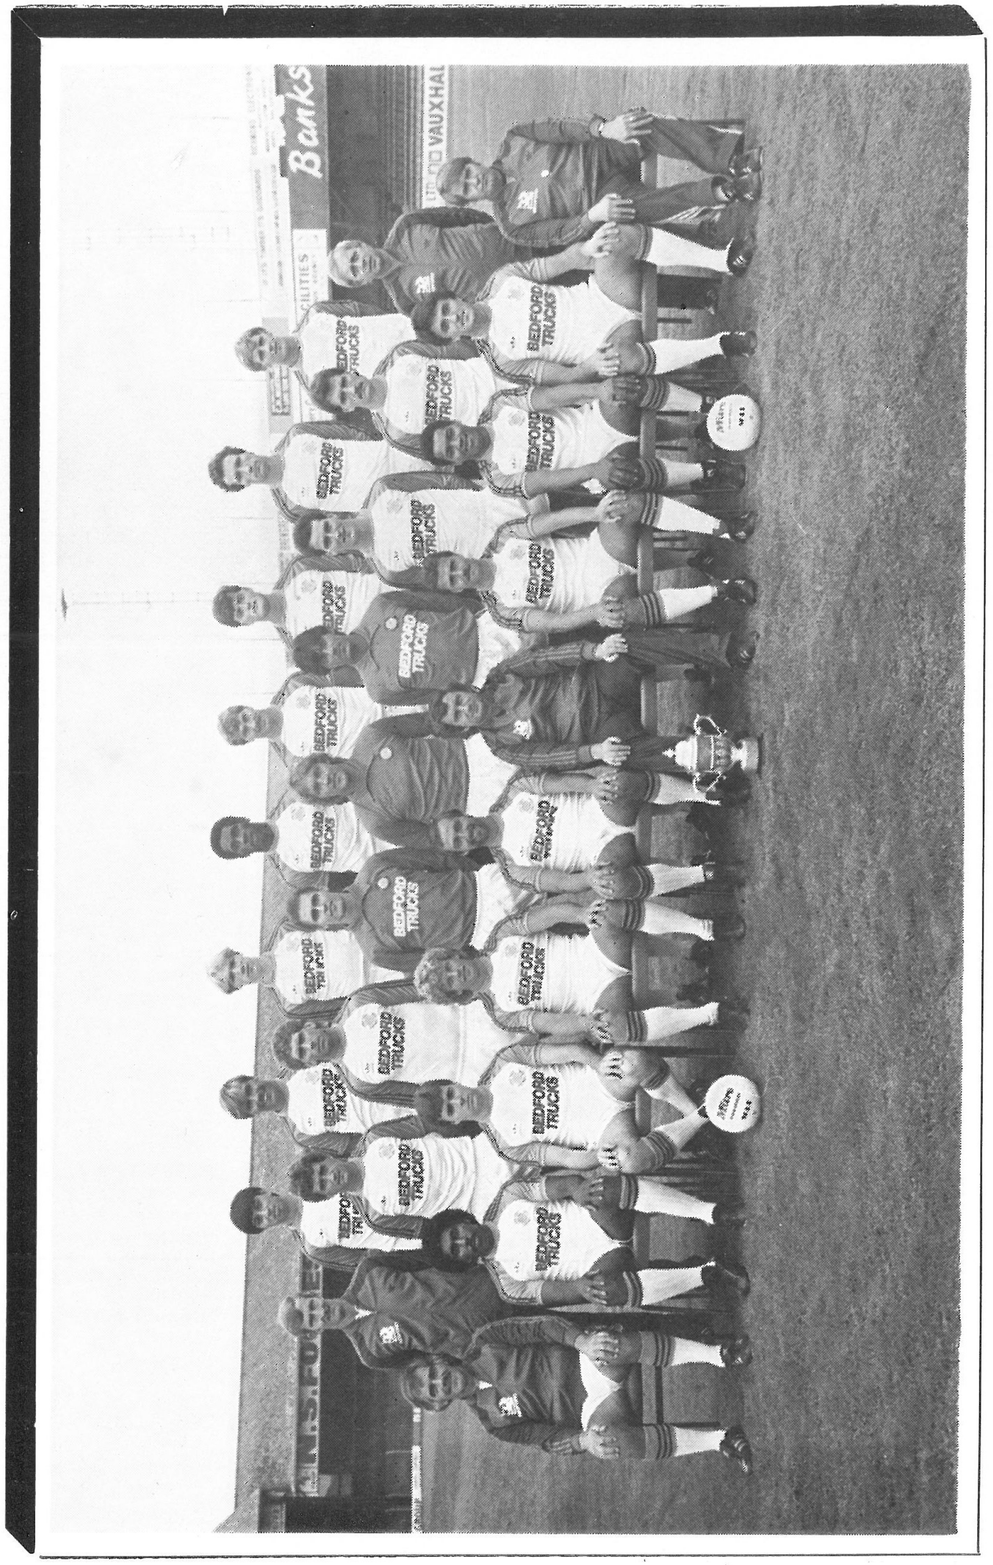
"Robbo" is on the mend and had a game with the Central League side last Wednesday. Hans van Breukelen is also back in harness so for the first time since the first lap of this long, long, race we have almost a full squad to pick from.

I was watching the lads training last week and this finished, as usual, with a six-a-side. Viv was fancying his chances up front, much in the same way that he performed at the N.E.C., in the Atari six-a-side.

He thinks he is another Tommy Lawton and, of course, he gets called Tommy on these occasions.

However "Bomber" told him that he was playing more like "Charles" than "Tommy" — only we older ones like "Bomber" can remember the original version of "Mutiny on on the Bounty."

TODAY'S OPPONENTS



Luton fighting for survival

Luton Town brought a breath of fresh air to the First Division when they arrived this season full of bright ideas and attacking intentions.

Few, if any teams have provided a more consistent level of top-quality entertainment and in the circumstances, it's sad that they should now find themselves struggling to avoid relegation.

David Pleat, a Nottingham man and former Forest player, of course, takes his managerial responsibilities seriously.

He sees it as his duty to ensure the paying customers get value for money — but the Luton boss could find himself forced to amend his principles in the coming weeks.

It seems a tough battle for First Division survival lies ahead and the immediate priority is to improve on the worst defensive record in the top flight.

Pleat's problems were not helped by the long absence of former Mansfield defender Mick Saxby, who this week joined Grimsby on loan in an attempt to regain full fitness.

But in an effort to bring added strength to the Luton back-line, Pleat went to Charlton last week and bought £150,000-rated teenager Paul Elliott, who made an impressive debut in last Saturday's goalless home draw with West Bromwich Albion.

In fact, that's the fourth piece of business conducted between the two clubs in less than a year and if Elliott can emulate the success of Paul Walsh, Luton will have few complaints.

Walsh, who moved across London during the summer for a club record fee, certainly played his part in the exciting start to the season.

And it was not surprising that his productive partnership with Brian Stein soon attracted the attention of England boss Bobby Robson.

It's not insignificant that the loss of Stein with a long-term injury coincided with the downward turn in Luton's results.

And when the star-striker was injured again while training with England, Pleat turned once more to Charlton for assistance.

Steve White made a priceless contribution towards "The Hatters" Second Division Championship success last season when he weighed in with 18 goals.

And although he made the reverse journey when Walsh arrived from Charlton, White is now back at Kenilworth Road on loan, temporarily filling in for Stein.

Former Swindon winger David Moss not only creates openings for others but also scores more than his share of goals, while Luton have no lack of striking potential in their midfield.

It was Ricky Hill's ability to produce spectacular goals as well as making telling passes from midfield that earned him England recognition earlier this season.

Fuccillo is equally adept at supporting the front players — while experienced Brian Horton completes Luton's regular midfield trio.

Horton served Port Vale faithfully for many years and after tasting success during 218 league appearances for Brighton, moved on to Kenilworth Road at the start of last season.

Horton's influence was immense as Luton stormed to promotion — they finished eight points clear of Watford at the top — and he has a vital part to play during the difficult weeks ahead.

Confidence has inevitably suffered as Luton strive to regain their early-season sparkle and Horton, who has seen it all before, is a handy man for Pleat to have around.

Reports that the manager is interested in buying a new goalkeeper has placed extra pressure on Jake Findlay, the agile Scot who had a lengthy spell as Jimmy Rimmer's understudy at Aston Villa.

And there's also pressure on the defenders, who have to stem the flow of goals if Luton are to have a realistic chance of avoiding the drop after just one season in the top flight.

Kirk Stephens is now heading towards 200 league games in the right back spot and Mal Donaghy's performances have won him a regular place in the Northern Ireland side.

Local-born Wayne Turner has been given the opportunity to gain a regular first-team place at left back while Clive Goodyear has been a permanent fixture in the No. 5 shirt this season.

The arrival of Elliott and return to fitness of Saxby means there is now intense competition for defensive places, however, and that can only be healthy at a time when Luton need all the help they can get.

"ROBBO'S" TREAT

Who says footballers are an inconsiderate bunch ? If proof were needed that they do spread a lot of happiness, here's the evidence.

When John Robertson was in hospital for his cartilage operation, he came across 74-years-old Bill Allsebrook, of Clifton, who always had a cheery word.

Said John "He used to keep me going when I was in hospital and we got on famously together. He's a great character."

So when "Robbo" got out of hospital one of the first things he did was to arrange for Bill to come as his guest for the game against West Brom.

MISTAKE LIT UP

Humble apologies come from our scoreboard operators for strange goings on at the last match against West Brom.

You will no doubt have noticed that at half-time the wrong scores were flashed up on the board because a mischevious little switch was pressed down when it should not have been.

The girls, who operate the scoreboard, ask us to say "sorry" and that it won't happen again. But they do a great job throughout the season and we reckon they are allowed one mistake.

ANY ADVANCE ON 400 ?

We're told that one of our members Stuart Astill, of Sandiacre, will clock up his 400th consecutive Forest first team match at Stoke next Wednesday.

Are there any supporters who can beat his "unbroken" record ?

AWAY WE GO

A train will be taking supporters to the re-arranged game at Stoke next Wednesday. Tickets, priced £2.50, are available from the commercial office or the Midland Station.

STALEMATE !

West Brom. became only the third team this season — Manchester United and Sunderland were the others — to prevent us scoring at the City Ground.

As the pictures show we didn't have the best of luck with our finishing, particularly in the early part of the game when we pressurised the Albion defence.

Above, the photograph suggests we had reason to claim a penalty when Micky Lewis challenged Steve Hodge as he was about to shoot.

And when Garry Birtles (right) headed over from a good position we felt it just wasn't going to be our day.

★ Star Spotlight on

DANNY WILSON

Danny Wilson achieved a lifetime ambition when he moved to the City Ground and arrived in the First Division. Now he's got a fresh challenge — to stay there!

The former Chesterfield star has only three full appearances behind him with Forest and while he's finding the experience totally different to life at Saltergate he's enthusiastic about the prospects.

Both on and off the field he's discovered remarkable differences from the Third to the First Division but he reveals: "I'm enjoying every minute of it.

"I knew making the step up would be a big challenge for me . . . and that's the way it's working out. It is a different game to the one I've been used to.

"In the lower divisions players give the ball away a lot more and as a result you get more chances to regain possession than you do in the top flight.

"When you've got the ball in the First Division you've got to keep it because the opposition do and, generally speaking, they make good use of it.

"The thing that has hit me most of all is the way the first touch of the ball is so positive. You don't get the same chance to have a bite at the ball as you do in the Third Division.

"Then when it comes to taking chances it's exactly the same. With a bit of luck I could have had a hat-trick at Arsenal last Saturday but it didn't work out for me.

"I had a good chance early on with a volley but I hit it too well if anything and on the other two occasions Pat Jennings made saves from me.

"I would have hoped that it wouldn't have been too much to expect that one of the three was made to count but I ended up without a goal and it was disappointing."

But despite the Highbury misses, Danny is hoping he gets the extended run in the right-sided midfield position that has been the least wanted spot in the side over several years.

Even when Martin O'Neill filled it so effectively during the European Cup era, he preferred a central position and the same goes for Mark Proctor.

Now Wilson says: "It's a role that I hope I can fill even though I've been more used to playing in a central position before I joined Forest.

"There's one thing about it, you get the chance to get in at the "back door" and I had the openings at Arsenal to prove it.

"When you are playing in that kind of position, you do get the opportunity to sneak in. Martin Peters was a master at doing it throughout his career."

But it's not only on the pitch that Danny has discovered a transformation in his football life.

He added: "I was thinking when we left for Algiers during the week that in my time in football I hadn't been on a club trip until I came to Forest and now I've been on two in the space of a matter of weeks.

"I've also been involved in three matches out of four that have been televised and I doubt if I've been on television on three occasions in the rest of my career!

"They are the sort of differences that you don't consider until you are playing in the First Division but, of course, there is a lot more involvement from the Press and Television than I have experienced in the past.

"But it's all part of the whole business and as the weeks go by I'm getting more and more used to it. I just hope in the remainder of the season I can play a part in helping us get into Europe."

PRESENTATION TO JOHN CARTER

Commercial manager John Carter left the club last week after nine "very enjoyable" years at the City Ground.

John, who said the time had come for him to have a change in his career, is keen to stay in sport and with 20 years of experience behind him in football that hope should certainly materialise.

He added: "Having been here with the glory that the manager Brian Clough has brought to the club has enabled me to ride on the wave.

"The success enabled me to have a lot of job satisfaction and visit places all over the world that I would otherwise have never seen.

"The European era did make life easier and it's always a bitter pill for people to swallow when that success ends. In my job you live or die by success.

"I can't thank the manager enough for what he has done for me and I have been very fortunate to have had a very loyal and hard-working staff.

"All I can do now is wish them every success for the future. My daughter Gemma asked me if she could still be a Forest fan even though I was leaving and I told her that once a Forest fan . . . always one."

WIGLEY THE STAR

We strengthened our position at the top of the table with a crucial 4-2 away win over John McGovern's Bolton.

Despite a hard surface, we produced some excellent football to steam into a three-goal lead at half-time with two goals from Peter Davenport and another from Ian Wallace.

Steve Wigley created the first for Davenport and helped Viv Anderson engineer the second for Wallace. Then Chris Fairclough headed forward for Davenport to make it 3-0.

Trialist goalkeeper Kevin Hitchcock had an impressive first outing with the Reserves but was beaten twice, once from a penalty, as Bolton came back into the game.

But we always had the upper hand and after Wallace had hit the bar with a header and Jim McKechnie had gone close with a volley, Wigley completed the scoring.

We followed up the victory over Bolton with a commanding 4-0 win against Middlesbrough at the City Ground.

The pace of Steve Wigley caused endless problems for the visitors and goals came at regular intervals and as a result of almost non-stop pressure.

Mark Proctor opened the scoring against his former club with a powerful close range header from Garry Birtles' left wing cross.

Then Peter Ward, back from his spell with Brighton, deflected a Birtles shot past Middlesbrough 'keeper Jim Platt to make it 2-0 at half-time.

Wigley was irrepressible and he went on to create more openings which Ward, with a shot, and Birtles, with a near post header, put away.

"A" TEAM DRAW

A young Forest "A" team — all the players were under-18 — did extremely well to draw 2-2 with Port Vale in the Midland Intermediate League Cup.

Port Vale, who fielded virtually a reserve side took the lead but Lee Howard, one of several schoolboys in our team, equalised and then we went ahead when Mark Smalley converted a penalty after great work by David Longhurst. Port Vale then grabbed an equaliser late on.

RESERVES PAY THE PENALTY

The Reserves suffered their first home defeat of the season when they were beaten 1-0 by Rotherham at the City Ground on Wednesday.

The decisive goal came from a second-minute penalty, conceded by Jim McKechnie and scored by Mark Rhodes, and we were left to reflect on an amazing catalogue of missed chances — especially in the second half.

David Longhurst went closest to an equaliser when he smashed a shot against the crossbar following a move that ought to have brought a penalty for handball.

But Longhurst, Mark Proctor, Peter Ward and the otherwise impressive David Campbell spurned other chances as Rotherham were forced to defend in depth.

The one encouraging sight for a larger than usual crowd was the safe return of John Robertson, following his cartilage operation six weeks ago.

GIVE IAN CREDIT

As a true Forest fan I feel very disappointed with the grossly unfair treatment Ian Bowyer is receiving from a section of the crowd.

True, he is not playing at his best but he gives Forest 100 per cent commitment every week. Surely it would be better to get behind Ian and help him through his rough period.

I would like Ian to know that all true Forest fans are behind him and hope he will lead Forest by his impeccable attitude for many years to come.

I was really saddened at the tragic news of Einar Aas's retirement from the game. His skill and determination will be greatly missed and Forest have lost one of the most popular and honest players ever to grace the City Ground.

He has given us many memorable moments and I wish him all the best in his new career.

ROBERT HAYNES,
Somerfield House,
Collyneston, Stamford.

ANY OFFERS ?

I have a set of Forest programmes — home and away — from the last three seasons and some from matches played in previous years which I am hoping to sell.

I would be grateful if you could publicise this in your match-day programme.

PAUL FEALEY,
2 Mildenhall Road,
Woolton, Liverpool.

CALLING COLLECTORS

Over the years I have collected a number of Forest programmes from home and away games dating back to the 1950's. I no longer have room for them but rather than throw them away, I would like to give someone the chance to add to their collection.

I am hoping, therefore, to make contact with someone through your match-day programme and if they send me a stamped addressed envelope, I will be pleased to supply them with a list.

I will be grateful if you can help and would like to add my best wishes to Forest for the remainder of the season.

MICHAEL SCARRATT,
5 Kentmere Place, Clyton,
Newcastle, Staffs.

PEN FRIEND WANTED

I am a Forest fan and I don't think there is another one like me in Mauritius. I always listen to the B.B.C. world service every Saturday to know the result of the Forest match and if the result is bad I have difficulties in sleeping.

Will you be kind enough to find a Forest pen friend for me because I like to know all that happens at the City Ground.

SHERIFF KUREEMUN,
Routs Bonna-Fin,
Mauritius, Indian Ocean.

FILM MEMORY

I have for sale one standard 8mm copy of the 1967 F.A. Cup sixth round tie between Forest and Everton which Forest won 3-2.

The film is black and white and lasts for 15 minutes.
