LUTON TOWN V WEST HAM UNITED
Barclays Football League Division One
Saturday, January 18, 1992 Kick-off 3.00 pm

David Pleat

Welcome to this afternoon's game, and a warm welcome to West Ham United, their supporters, officials and players. In the past we had several magnificent games with our friends from East London and the football has been of the highest quality. With both sides fighting to maintain their status I am sure today's game, despite the pressures that both clubs are under, can live up to expectations.

We were delighted with our Christmas efforts in defeating Coventry, Arsenal and Chelsea and we go into today's game confident but also aware of the challenge our visitors present. It has been most upsetting in view of away performances to lose last minute goals at Sheffield United 1-1, Nottingham Forest 1-1 and Liverpool 1-2. In all these games I have been delighted with the attitude and application of the players, but absolutely distraught at the way fate dealt a cruel blow in the last seconds.

I would like to thank all the good supporters who travelled to Anfield last week. It would be wrong for me to single out any particular player, but I have to say that our present mix is showing the desire and the determination that is going to be required over the remaining games.

"I have always felt there is a far greater pride and purpose when one is working with players who have come through the ranks. It is that purpose and pleasure that is stimulating me at this moment at Luton."

Last Sunday I buried my despair by spending some time watching television fortunately, I saw some marvellous football. It is a long time since I have seen a first half performance as good as Leeds United's against Sheffield Wednesday, proving all the tremendous qualities of English football. Compared to games later in the day, Milan v Verona, Senegal v Nigeria and Cameroon v Morocco, I felt uplifted by the pace and skill that Leeds showed. It is to their credit.

But on reflection, one thing troubled me, only one player in the Leeds United side was home grown, Gary Speed, who played excellently. In the Sheffield Wednesday side there was not one player whom the club had brought through their ranks. Strangely for the statistically concious there were seven ex-Nottingham Forest players on the field. At Liverpool last Saturday, only McManaman who played and Mike Marsh who did not start, were home produced.

I have always felt there is far greater pride and purpose when one is working with players who have come through the ranks. It is that purpose and pleasure that is stimulating me at the moment at Luton Football Club. I hope that we can eventually play seven or eight of our young home produced players in our first team. That of course, is the ultimate dream but we know some will get snatched away. There is no point in club's all over the country purporting to have good solid youth systems if they don't give their youngsters a chance when the opportunities arise. Manchester United, the other leaders, only have Ryan Giggs at this present time who has come through the ranks. Compare this with a much recently maligned Arsenal. I know what type of club I would rather be attached to - it is a club that builds and retains pride and loyalty from within.

We at Luton must endeavour to do that. Along the way there are casualties, for example, since the start of the season Sean Farrell, Kevin Shanley, David Gormley, Aaron Tighe, Matthew Jackson and Kingsley Black of our locals, home produced, have all moved away. Also Paul Holsgrove and David Beaumont have left us. That is quite a turnover, but of course at our club we have to keep changing faces around to maintain the standards that we wish in view of our precarious finances which can never be satisfied from our gates.

This personal pleasure in the development of players was never more epitomised for me than in the best reserve performance I have seen for many a long day when a very young Luton side outplayed a very experienced Ipswich side a week last Monday. It was really an enthralling performance although 0-0 at half time, despite conceding two penalties, we fought back and Jason Rees scored two goals: Darren Salton and Jason Rees were an effective midfield unit and front players Kurt Nogan, Martin Williams and Jamie Campbell showed me that we are definitely moving in the right direction.

There is no greater feeling than spotting, producing and nourishing young talent. It is the most important factor in our minds as we develop the club. It is this formulae that built the West Ham United Football Club and I am more than pleased to be associated with it at present here at Luton.

Enjoy today's game and make sure you give us the much needed support that you gave us in that valuable period over Christmas.

Mark wins Barclays Young Eagle Award

□ Our exciting young midfielder, Mark Pembroke, has been voted Barclays Young Eagle of the Month for the London and East Anglia region. Mark will be presented with his award from Mr Jack Pearce, Barclays business centre director, before today's game. Mark was nominated by Bill Nicholson who said: "Mark is a left-sided player, on the small side, but he has a lot of stamina and he is quite quick. He has good vision and has good control and doesn't give the ball away." Aston Villa's Trinidad and Tobago international Dwight Yorke is the overall winner for December. The twenty-year-old striker scored in each of Villa's three league wins during the month and was nominated for the award by Graham Taylor. Regional awards went to the following players: North West - Alan Wright (Blackburn Rovers); North East - Mattie Appleby (Newcastle United); Yorkshire - Chris Bart-Williams (Sheffield Wednesday); London and the South - Keith Rowlands (AFC Bournemouth).

United Odds On

□ Manchester United are being quoted at only 18-1 to accomplish an unprecedented domestic treble of League Cup, League Championship and FA Cup and at just 13-8 for the double. Bookmakers William Hill offered the odds following United's convincing win at Elland Road in the Rumbelows Cup two weeks ago.

Geoff Smith elected to management committee

□ The election for the Second Division vacancy on the Football League Management Committee has been won by Watford vice Chairman Geoff Smith. The results of the ballot were as follows: Mr Geoff Smith (Watford) 15 votes, Mr Vic Jobson (Southend United) 6 votes.

John Dreyer, now forming a fine partnership with Trevor Peake in defence, is pictured in commanding action against Chelsea last month.

Three presentations to reflect happy Christmas period

Last season, when West Ham were winning promotion from the Second Division, we met them twice in cup competitions so it is with a little extra pleasure that we welcome them to Kenilworth Road this afternoon for a Barclays League Division One fixture.

Our clashes with the Hammers have a tradition of providing exciting football and I hope today will be no exception. We shall all be waiting with interest to see if three of their players, Tim Breacker, Mitchell Thomas and Mike Small, who all started their careers here, are included in their side.

Our own results over the Christmas period were excellent. No-one could have asked for more than three successive home victories and it made it all the more disappointing not to gain at least a replay at Sheffield United in the FA Cup.

A replay, of course, would not only have kept alive our hopes of a chance of reaching the fourth round, but also counted as one of the two games Mick Harford misses through suspension for passing the 21-point mark with his booking against Chelsea.

Mick, incidentally, had been walking a tightrope on 21 points since November and had brought four disciplinary points with him into the new season from his efforts for Derby County last season, long before he came back to Kenilworth Road.

Last week, we all sent our best wishes to Sean Farrell as he left the club to join Fulham after a transfer had been agreed. Sean had been on one month's loan to Fulham and obviously impressed as he cracked a hat-trick in one of their Christmas fixtures.

We all wish Sean, who is another boy who came right through the ranks here at Kenilworth Road, good luck and send the same sentiments to Kevin Shanley, who has been released by the club, and Graham Rodger, who has joined Grimsby Town on one month's loan. Tim Allpress, who had been at Preston on loan, is now back.

Captain's diary

By Trevor Peake

First of all I would like to welcome you all to Kenilworth Road for the first time in 1992. I'm sure you all share my optimism when I say that the new year will bring us an improvement in the team's performances and results...we are already seeing some of the benefits now.

The game against Coventry set up a fine Christmas for us all, better than we dared wish in fact. Although the game was pretty sloppy, the result was very important as it gave all of us a confidence boost after going so many games without a win. With all the games over Christmas, the game against City seems a long time ago now.

Our next game, against the defending champions Arsenal, was particularly pleasing to win as it was the first time that we had strung together two wins on the trot. We could have won by more goals than the scoreline suggested, particularly after Scott Oakes came on to give us extra width. The performance was overshadowed the next day in the press when all we heard was of Arsenal's poor performance. I felt we deserved more credit than we got.

The Chelsea game will be remembered for Richard Harvey's fine drive from a well worked free-kick. It is very pleasing to see all the hard work on the training pitch come off on a Saturday and that goal was a good example.

At this point, I would like to say how well the defence has gelled together in the league over the past month. John, Julian, Richard and myself have been pleased with the way things have gone, it definitely helps having a settled back four, not only for the players involved, but also for the goalkeeper.

Although the games against Forest and Liverpool will have made the rest of the First Division sit up and take notice of us, they both ended in frustration and disappointment, particularly as we came so close to winning both. Against Forest we couldn't have got off to a better start through Mark Pembroke's first of the season and we defended exceptionally well for 89 minutes. When they scored it was a real kick in the teeth...yet again we surrendered all three points in the dying moments of the game.

The same thing happened at Liverpool, which can be a daunting place to play at the best of times. There are not many clubs this season who will go to Anfield and have them despairing like we did. Then the dreaded last five minutes came and we conceded two goals. It was agony walking off of the pitch being so close to winning, yet ending up with nothing. It is as much a psychological thing now, but I can assure you we will be trying our hardest to make sure it doesn't happen again.

The FA Cup defeat was crazy as we looked comfortable for so long and then just caved in. Defensive errors were mainly to blame, although at least we can now concentrate on our performances in the league 100%.

Enjoy the game and keep up your fine support.

The Prime Minister, John Major, receives a memento of his visit to Kenilworth Road from our Managing Director, David Kohler, after the match with Chelsea on December 28th.

Welcome to the West Ham players and supporters with special greetings to former Luton Town players Tim (former player of the year) Breacker and Mitchell Thomas.

Congratulations to the team for their achievements over Christmas and the new year period, nine points from three games - great! A further three points today would be tremendous.

During the Christmas holiday we had the pleasure of entertaining two members of the Scandinavian branch of The Supporters Club. Lars-Petter Ronnestad and Thomas Moller stayed with Karen and Rob Pickstock, members of the supporters club, with Bill Tomlin's help I was able to show them around Kenilworth Road.

Thank you to Andy King for his hospitality and conducted tour around the ground. Andy's tea is made with boiling water!!

A very special thank you to all the players for the time they took in chatting to the lads, signing autographs and posing (for photographs of course, what else!!) It's a long way to come to see your heroes and it is always nice because at Luton Town Football Club you can fulfill a dream for such supporters; if we are aware of such visits to our club we always try and arrange a personal visit, where as at larger clubs they really haven't the personal contact or time.

Watch out for February's issue of the Essentials magazine, in it you will find an article on a Luton Town supporters club family. Nicky, Rob, James and Lauren Parsons very kindly agreed to be interviewed and photographed at Kenilworth Road. As this magazine is distributed all over the country I felt it was an opportunity we shouldn't let slip as such P.R. is always welcome.

January 29th Alan West and Andy King will be guest speakers at our supporters club meeting. Tickets will be available after today's match in our kiosk or you can pay on the night.

Thank you to all who have wrote to me after receiving their Christmas newsletter, card and key ring. We are so glad you enjoyed your Christmas 'goodies'.

Enjoy the game, support the team.

Bigger nets if possible

Dear Sir,

I have now been a Luton Town supporter for five years and have been a regular member of the home crowd. For the last two seasons I have had a season ticket with the rest of my family in the Oak Road end of the ground, with the seats and views of the playing pitch being particularly good.

This season we are situated at the Kenilworth Road end with comfortable seats and generous leg room, but the reason I am writing to you concerns the view behind the goal. The size of the net squares are restricting our view and making it very hard to see the state of play from the centre of the pitch. As we see it, the net covers almost the entire middle section of the grass.

So we ask a great favour of the groundsmen. PLEASE! PLEASE! remove the small squared net and replace it with a much larger squared one. This will make us all very happy and help s to enjoy the game more.

Welcome to West Ham United

WEST HAM UNITED F.C. 1991/92 SEASON

When West Ham United dismissed Swindon Town 2-0 at Upton Park on Saturday, April 20, it confirmed their return to the top flight. It was no more than the Hammers deserved, as over the marathon season of 1990-91 they had led all the way.

Despite losing the Second Division title on the final day of the season to Oldham Athletic, Billy Bonds' side had much to savour from a season which included an FA Cup semi-final appearance against Nottingham Forest (dismissing of the Town and Everton along the way) and the fact that Mr Bonds had restored the old values upon which the 'academy' has been built.

A major factor to West Ham's success has been the way in which all their major signings have fitted into the side with ease. Over the past couple of years, Ian Bishop, Tim Breacker, Frank McAvennie and more recently, Mike Small and Mitchell Thomas have settled in with remarkable ease. Bishop becoming club captain and Small the club's top-scorer this term.

This season, however, West Ham, like their promoted rivals Oldham and Notts County, have found life tough in the First Division. With, at the time of writing, only 20 points from 23 league games the Hammers find themselves in 21st place after picking up only one point from their three Christmas games against Sheffield United, Aston Villa and Notts County.

The Hammers have never quite recovered from their poor start to the season where they won only two of their opening twelve matches. Like many clubs at the wrong end of the table, West Ham's plight has not been helped by the fact that there is no money available to strengthen the side. Manager Bonds is lucky that he still has a side who, on their day, are more than a match for any side in the top flight.

Consecutive wins against Tottenham and Arsenal have proved this and with the likes of Gale, Parris, Thomas and McAvennie in the side, there is enough experience to pull the club through during the hard winter months.

One positive aspect of the Hammers' trying season so far has been the form of summer signing Mike Small. A player who cost the club only £400,000 from Brighton, Small has been a revelation for West Ham. In his first season in Division One since leaving Luton in 1982 he had scored 14 goals at the time of writing and could go on to become the find of the season.

Small is one of three players in the current West Ham side who have connections with Luton Town. Right-back Tim Breacker, who was a firm favourite at Kenilworth Road, joined the Hammers from Luton at the start of last season after joining the Town from school. Mitchell Thomas is another player who made his league debut here at Kenilworth Road before his big money move to Tottenham Hotspur. He joined West Ham last August for £500,000.

Mr Bonds will be hoping 1992 brings an upturn in the Hammer's fortunes. Only time will tell whether the East-End outfit can succeed in winning matches with exciting, flowing football - but with such experience and talent on show at Upton Park, there will not be many soccer pundits betting against them staying in the First Division for next season.

West Ham United were originally formed as Thames Ironworks FC in 1895 by employees of this shipbuilding yard. They played friendlies during the first season of existence at Chatham and joined the London League a year later. Short of funds, the club was wound up in June 1900 and relaunched a month later as West Ham United, playing at the Memorial Ground, Canning Town. In 1920, the Hammers were finally elected to the Football League and drew their first match, in Division Two, 1-1 with Lincoln.

West Ham have won the FA Cup on three occasions, in 1964, 1975 and 1980; the European Cup Winners' Cup in 1965 and the Division Two title in 1958 and 1981. Mr Bonds, only the club's sixth post-war manager, follows a fine list of footballing names such as Ted Fenton, Ron Greenwood and John Lyall.

Hammers on Parade

LUDEK MIKLOSKO (goalkeeper) - Czechoslovakian international goalkeeper, Ludo joined West Ham from Banik Ostrava for £300,000 in December 1989. He kept 25 clean sheets last season and the 21 he maintained in league games was just one short of the all-time club record set by Phil Parkes. His fine form also earned him the Hammer of the Year title.

TIM BREACKER (defender) - A former Town favourite, Tim became Billy Bonds' first signing when he joined the Hammers in October 1990 for a £600,000 fee. He joined the Town straight from school and, after making his debut v Ipswich in 1984, was a permanent fixture in the Luton line-up.

JULIAN DICKS (defender) - Recently returned from a serious knee injury, Julian joined West Ham from Birmingham City for £300,000 in 1988. An inspirational leader, his return was complete when he scored a late penalty in his comeback game, the Hammer's drawing 1-1 with Sheffield United at Upton Park.

Julian Dicks

COLIN FOSTER (defender) - Colin began his career at Leyton Orient, where he made over 170 appearances before joining Nottingham Forest. After three full seasons at the City Ground he joined the Hammers for £750,000 in September 1989.

TONY GALE (defender) - Tony rose through the junior ranks at Fulham, making his debut v Charlton in 1977. His fine leadership qualities led to England under-21 recognition before West Ham signed him for £200,000 in 1984. Tony recently made his 500th appearance for the Hammers.

KENNY BROWN (defender) - The son of former Hammer Ken Brown, Kenny signed a full contract with the club after an initial month on loan from Plymouth Argyle. He was called into the Hammers' squad to ease injury problems and made his debut v Sampdoria in August. It is the third time Kenny has followed in father's footsteps, for his Dad was manager at both Norwich and Plymouth when he signed.

MARTIN ALLEN (midfield) - Now in his third season at Upton Park after his £660,000 move from QPR, Martin started his career at Loftus Road in 1980. He made his league debut v the Town in 1985 and went on to make 135 appearances before his transfer. Martin is a former England Schoolboy captain.

IAN BISHOP (midfield) - Club captain, Ian emerged as one of West Ham's outstanding players during last season's promotion campaign. He started his career at Everton, but made his League debut on loan at Crewe in 1984. His career took off at Bournemouth after a spell at Carlisle and Manchester City signed him for £750,000 in 1988. He joined West Ham the following season as part of the deal which took Mark Ward to Maine Road.

KEVIN KEEN (midfield) - Kevin, who is a former England Schoolboy international, is now in his sixth season at Upton Park. He made his debut v Liverpool in 1986 but it took a couple of seasons before he became a regular in the Hammers' line-up. Some fans may remember that his father, Mike, used to play for the Town.

GEORGE PARRIS (midfield) - A popular and hard-working player, George developed through the ranks at Upton Park and made his debut v Liverpool in 1985. Last season was probably George's best as he scored as many goals (eight) as he had in all of his previous seasons with the club! He was also voted runner-up in the Hammer of the Year poll.

STUART SLATER (midfield) - A very promising youngster, Stuart joined West Ham from school. He established himself as a prolific scorer in the reserve and youth sides at Upton Park, prompting a first team call-up in 1987 v Derby County. Last season Stuart earned rave reviews nationally and his form was rewarded with an England B cap v Switzerland.

MITCHELL THOMAS (midfield) - A player who started his career at Kenilworth Road, Mitchell made his debut for the Town in a 3-2 win at Upton Park in 1983. The former England B and under-21 international followed Mr Pleat to Tottenham in 1986 and enjoyed a fairly regular place in the Tottenham side before joining West Ham for £500,000 in the summer.

MIKE SMALL (forward) - Another player with Luton connections, Mike started his career at Kenilworth Road, making four substitute appearances during season 1981/82. After a loan period with Peterborough he decided to turn his attentions abroad and enjoyed spells with Twente Enschede, Standard Liege and PAOK Athens before joining Brighton from the Greek club for £70,000 in 1990. After scoring 21 times in his first season back in England, West Ham signed Mike for £400,000 in the summer and his form has continued in the same vein this term.

FRANK MCAVENNIE (forward) - Frank started his career at St Mirren in 1981/82 and scored 62 goals in four seasons. This form prompted the Hammers to sign Frank in 1985 and he immediately formed a striking partnership with Tony Cottee. He scored 28 goals in the first season in England and earned a call-up to the Scottish national squad. After two successful seasons with Celtic, Frank returned to Upton Park in 1988 and this season has seen him return to form with a regular first-team place.

Meet the Boss

BILLY BONDS

Born in Woolwich on September 17, 1946, Billy Bonds started out on his long and successful footballing career with his local club Charlton Athletic in 1964. He made an immediate impact at the heart of the Valiants defence and established himself as one of the hottest young properties around.

It was no surprise when, in 1967, after making nearly 100 league appearances for Charlton, Mr Bonds was transferred to West Ham for £50,000. It was at Upton Park that his career really took off, collecting FA Cup winner's medals in 1975 and 1980 after succeeding Bobby Moore as the Hammers' captain in 1973.

Mr Bonds is West Ham through and through. He remained a loyal and hard-working servant to West Ham spanning an incredible twenty-one years. Over 500 appearances later and at the age of 41, Billy decided to hang up his boots and take a break from the rigours of professional football. He was rewarded with two testimonials, the trouble was that West Ham was in his blood, something that just would not go away.

It is well known that the Hammers like to 'keep it in the family' as far as managers are concerned. After breaking the mould with Lou Macari, the West Ham board decided to return to this tradition in 1990...there was only one candidate...Billy Bonds.

He crowned his first full season as manager by achieving promotion to the First Division, finishing just one point adrift of Division Two champions Oldham Athletic. A manager whose influence and presence has rubbed off on his entire squad, 'Bonzo' knows that the hardest battle still lies ahead in securing Premier League status, but for the West Ham faithful there is no better man for the job.

Player profile

Julian James

For Julian James 1991-92 has been a topsy-turvy season so far, but after a successful mid-term period in which he has settled into the right-back spot, he is determined to make the position his own. "I have been fortunate with other players' injuries and I have worked hard at my game. Now I aim to make the most of it and to remain a regular in the side," said Julian.

Although he made his Football League debut for the Town back in the 1987-88 season, when he made three appearances in the final section of the campaign, Julian remains one of the club's young brigade. He will not celebrate his 22nd birthday until March this year.

"Sometimes people think you might have been around longer than you have, if you started your career at a young age. But that is just the way it is. My job is to just settle down, improve my game and play football. And that is all I want to do."

Julian's early form earned him England under-21 recognition a few years ago, but since then he has suffered a series of irritating and upsetting injuries. These affected his form and it was a benefit in disguise for him this season when he went to Preston North End on loan.

"Last year I had so many stupid injuries it was annoying. I had a broken cheekbone and a broken nose. I wondered what it would be next. The injuries don't help when you are trying to settle down and to establish yourself."

"This year I just did not seem to start off on the right foot. I don't know exactly why. But the move to Preston paid off for me. Les Chapman was a really good manager and they had a lot of young lads.

"Then when I came back I was able to get into the side here and, since Des Linton's own injury, I have been fortunate to stay in and have a run of games. It makes all the difference. You can build up an understanding and I feel that we now have that in defence."

"The whole team benefits from it and I think that is partly why we managed to start winning games again at Christmas. But, overall with the three games, I did not think we played as well as we can. Team spirit was the thing which mattered most."

"I feel we are a much better team than a lot of the others in the league, but we have to go out and prove it. We have proved what we can do by standing up to and beating the likes of Arsenal and Chelsea. The main thing now is to keep on putting the ball in the net."

Julian, who lives in Tring, came to Luton as a schoolboy and his progress through the ranks has been an example to follow. He says the main influences on his career have been all the coaches he has worked under at Kenilworth Road and his father...who used to be a steward at Watford. Now, said Julian, he watches him play for the Town all the time.

Update: World Cup '94

Luke Nicoli investigates the bids from cities hoping to host the World Cup group games in the United States in 1994.

Three and a half years after the final competition of the 1994 World Cup was awarded to the USA, two groups from FIFA inspected 19 out of the prospective 25 venues last month. The local organisers (LOC) of USA '94 wanted to show the FIFA officials every city bidding for the games, however, FIFA asked the officials responsible to narrow the choice down themselves, leaving 21 stadia to look at.

The 25 prospective venues are Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Columbus, Dallas, Denver, Detroit, East Rutherford, Kansas City, Los Angeles, Miami, New Haven, New Orleans, Orlando, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Seattle, Tampa Bay, Washington, Charlotte, Honolulu, Knoxville, New York, Phoenix and Portland.

By the end of February, the choice will again be trimmed down to the twelve stadia which will eventually host the finals.

By that time, a number of technical, legal and administrative obstacles will have been cleared. Artificial turf, the width of the field and baseball are the three main stumbling blocks which threaten to halt progress at the moment. In stadia which are in frequent use and subject to changeable weather, such as the Giants stadium in New York, the playing pitch is covered with astroturf. Switching, at least temporarily, to natural turf, as required for a World Cup competition, should be only a matter of routine for a country such as the United States.

The project becomes tricky, however, if the turf has to be laid around the pitch to comply with the width of 68m (room needed for throw-ons, corners etc). The whole playing surface then needs to be elevated, or the first few rows of seats need to be removed, to compensate. The Giants Stadium faces such a problem, along with similar stadia in Kansas City and Detroit, which happens to be a covered dome, capable of holding 82,000 spectators.

The Pontiac Silver Dome in Detroit has been receiving particular interest as it could, quite possibly, become the first venue to hold World Cup group matches indoors.

FIFA General Secretary, Sepp Blatter, has welcomed the prospect of USA '94 offering "a new dimension in the spectacle of football," so there is a possibility that such a radical step could be accepted come the end of February. Critics, however, would question the validity of the turf (will it be compact, stay green, and firm under artificial lighting?) and also the change in air pressure of an indoor stadium, compared to outdoors, which is needed to support the canopy above.

At present, FIFA are carrying out extensive tests at Detroit...it will be interesting to hear what their final decision will be next month.

So that leaves the problem of baseball. A city like Philadelphia, for instance, has good facilities in the shape of the Veterans Stadium, but can only make it available for 18 days on account of the baseball franchise. That is a very short time to allow for the adaptation of the stadium to the requirements of football, such as the turf, advertising space and technical installations for the television and press.

In spite of all the aforementioned problems, it should still not be difficult for FIFA to choose twelve suitable stadia. Firstly American stadium owners are used to huge spectacles drawing masses of people and, secondly, the LOC found the support from the organisational groups from the prospective venues overwhelming, even if not all the candidates know exactly what is in store for them.

Everyone wants to join in and are calling on celebrities from Mickey Mouse to General Norman Schwarzkopf to try and convince FIFA of the importance of staging some of the 53 World Cup games in a particular place.

The Veterans Stadium, Philadelphia...Baseball takes priority.

It was agreed after the event that a draw was a fair result in this opening game.

West Ham had the majority of possession especially in the first half but the Town came closest to scoring when a shot from Mark Pembridge cannoned off the bar.

Mark Pembridge hit the bar

Big crowds hushed as the Town enjoy a memorable double over the Irons

The Town's first match of 1980/81 was away to West Ham at Upton Park - not the ideal start to a season for a variety of reasons.

West Ham were parading both the F.A. Cup, which they had won at the end of the previous season, and new signing Paul Goddard purchased from QPR for close on a million pounds. Luton by contrast were without the previous seasons leading scorer - Bob Hatton - and had only one cut-price signing to boast in Raddy Antic.

Ten minutes before kick-off the crowd of 27,933 was whipped up into a frenzy as the West Ham players carried out a lap of honour with the Cup and, as the game commenced, the Town were immediately pushed back by wave after wave of attacking play.

By half time West Ham were well ahead on points for, despite Paul Price keeping a very close control over Goddard, only a couple of superb saves by Jake Findlay and the woodwork had prevented the 'Hammers' taking the lead.

West Ham's increasing frustration looked over in the 57th minute when Tony Grealish up-ended Pat Holland in the box. Ray Stewart scored from the resulting penalty.

A double substitution then turned the game with firstly, Goddard limping off to be replaced by defender Frank Lampard and then Alan West coming on for the Town for Steve White with Antic being pushed up front in his place.

Gradually the Town began to take the upper hand with West playing some lovely through balls to David Moss and Brian Stein who, in turn, were pulling the West Ham defence all over the place.

The breakthrough came in the 75th minute when Moss, clean through, was tripped by Alvin Martin. The winger despatched the penalty with ease as he did again when, with only two minutes to go, Stein was tripped by Billy Bonds. The carnival atmosphere had now turned positively funereal.

West Ham managed to pick themselves up from this disappointment for, by the time of the return game three months later, they had gone a club record 15 games without defeat and were sitting proudly at the head of the Division Two table.

The Town's form had been patchy after their fine start to the season. After winning the first two games they then picked up only one more victory in the next eleven games before winning three out of the next four.

This time it was the Town's turn to attack from the start and their persistence was rewarded in the 13th minute when a through ball from Ricky Hill was touched off by White to the onrushing Stein who hit a scorcher from 20 yards past a helpless Phil Parkes.

More excitement was to follow five minutes later when the Town increased their lead when White fed Stein again who this time took the ball around Parkes to score from an acute angle.

Although looking dead and buried West Ham continued to fight hard in an open game played in difficult, wet conditions and their perseverance paid off when they reduced the arrears shortly before half time through a close range header from Trevor Brooking.

The Hammers came out with a vengeance in the second half and threw everything at the Town defence and it was not long before the equaliser came, albeit fortunately, from the boot of Trevor Brooking after he fought through several tackles, saw his first shot hit Findlay, his second hit the post and the third creep over the line.

To their credit the Town bounced back and, roared on by a best of the season crowd of 17,031, increased the pressure once again on the West Ham rearguard.

This pressure eventually paid off when, with five minutes left on the clock, Kirk Stephens centred, Hill met it with a flying header and Moss was in a position to thump home the winner.

So ended a memorable game, full of everything good in football and without a hint of malice throughout.

West Ham would only lose two more games during the course of that season, both away, as they strode on to the Championship. The Town finished fifth.

NORWICH CITY

Barclays Football League Division One

Saturday, February 8, 1992

Kick-off 3.00 pm

League wise, the season so far has not been a particularly vintage one by Norwich's high standards and at the time of writing they are placed twelfth in Division One with only two wins away from home, both times in West London at Q.P.R. (2-0) and Chelsea (3-0).

Though this season's inconsistency has been a disappointment to the Canaries' fans, it is not entirely unexpected after the changes that have taken place over the last couple of seasons. After losing influential players such as Andy Townsend to Chelsea and Andy Linighan to Arsenal, both in £1 million deals, Mr Stringer has recently succumbed to another big money move for forward Dale Gordon.

Dale, who joined Glasgow Rangers for £1 million in November, was the club's top scorer with five goals when he left. Since no Norwich player has scored more than seven League goals for three seasons, his presence is bound to be missed.

Nevertheless, Mr Stringer has learnt to overcome such problems in the past, and has also made some inspired signings of his own. Paul Blades and John Polsten were signed last season from Derby County and Tottenham respectively. They were added to a side which contained the likes of million pound rated Tim Sherwood and Ian Crook in midfield, Mark Bowen in defence and Robert Fleck in attack, all signings also made by Mr Stringer and who have gone on to become success stories at Carrow Road.

This season's only new signing is Darren Beckford, a £925,000 buy from Port Vale. A player who scored 65 goals in three seasons for Vale, Beckford has not settled in to the Canaries side as well as Mr Stringer's other signings. At the time of writing, he has scored only six goals, and has recently been dropped and replaced by Ruel Fox.

Canaries supporters can gain heart from the fact that, as a good footballing side, they always do well in the domestic cup competitions. Already in the fourth round of the FA Cup after beating Barnsley 1-0, City have also had a good Rumbelows League Cup run this season. After beating Charlton, Brentford and West Ham, they lost to Tottenham 2-1 in the quarter-finals.

Come to Kenilworth Road on February 8 to see if the Town can continue their home revival with a further three valuable and much-needed points.

Serious Collecting

John Litster, Editor of 'Programme Monthly' magazine, concludes his series by taking a look at serious programme collecting...

One of the benefits of programme collecting is that it can be enjoyed as an occasional diversion or as a serious pastime. A few thousand individuals throughout the British Isles treat the hobby as very serious indeed, spending hours each week cataloguing and caring for their programmes, and scouring club shops, programme fairs and dealers catalogues for additional ideas for their collection and more particularly those elusive programmes in the 'wants' list.

The serious collectors will certainly be of a number of years standing in the hobby and will have developed a circle of contacts amongst collectors of other specialities, alongside those who share similar interests in programme collecting. They will be a member of programme clubs, either on a local or regional basis, or the national UKPC. They will avidly read each issue of programme monthly, digesting news and the goings on in the hobby, filing away facts and figures on programmes, and sifting through the pages of programmes for sale, exchange and wants.

The serious collector will subscribe to a number of dealer's lists, and have an encyclopaedic memory of postal auctions, successful or otherwise, when it comes to submitting an offer for a rare issue. Every so often, the postal delivery will be eagerly awaited for the arrival of a leading catalogue, then hours will be spent attempting to telephone in an early order to avoid disappointment in obtaining an unwanted item.

The serious collector will have a sophisticated and much thumbed cataloguing system, and his prized possessions will be well and truly protected in display folders. Such devotion to the chosen pastime will be replicated across every other hobby, the length and breadth of the country, but enjoyment of programme collecting need not be so dedicated. There can be just as much pleasure gained out of 100 programmes, as there can be for the dedicated collector who has thousands...

* Programme Monthly is available from 14 Raith Crescent, Kirkcaldy, Fife, KY2 5NN, priced £1.30 plus 30p postage.

Keeping track - your day-by-day football diary

Jan 4 – The FA Cup third round inevitably brings its usual shocks. This time it is the turn of champions Arsenal. Their woeful season continues with a shock 2-1 defeat at Fourth Division strugglers Wrexham..... West Ham also struggle as they draw with Conference side Farnborough Town at Upton Park. The game will be more remembered for the protest on the pitch concerning the Hammers Bond..... Manchester City go out of the competition after losing at Middlesbrough for the second time this season, 2-1..... The Town crash 0-4 at Sheffield United despite being only 1-0 down with 15 minutes left.

Jan 5 – Still in the FA Cup Aston Villa and Tottenham draw 0-0, but the game of the round between Leeds and Manchester United is postponed due to a water logged pitch..... Abroad, Milan confirm their revival with a 5-0 drubbing of third placed Napoli in Italy. Juventus remain in second place after a 1-0 win at Parma..... In Spain Atletico Madrid beat their rivals Real in a table-topping clash. Venue: Kenilworth Road
Date: 2.1.92
Competition: Friendly
Result: 2-1
Scorer: Oakes (2)

Team: Chamberlain, Linton, Gillard, McDonough, Rodger, Salton, Williams, Rees, Nogan, Campbell, Munton (trialist), Rees, Oakes. Subs: Nogan, Smith.
Coach's comment: A very tight game, playing against a fit and organised sweeper system. Goals proved difficult to come by and we had to be very patient and alert to overcome our hyped-up opponents.

Match Digest

Fixture: Luton Town v Ipswich Town
Venue: Kenilworth Road
Date: 6.1.92
Competition: Neville Ovenden Football Combination
Result: 3-2
Scorers: Rees(2), Nogan

Team: Chamberlain, Linton, Gillard, Salton, McDonough, Rodger, Williams, Rees, Nogan, Campbell, Oakes. Subs: Allpress, Smith.
Coach's comment: We did well to get a result from a fiercely contested game. We conceded two penalties after going 1-0 up and the game looked like it had slipped by. But we fought back to equalise and stuck to the task to earn a penalty and maximum points.

Match Digest

Fixture: Luton Town v Norwich City
Venue: Kenilworth Road
Date: 17.12.91.
Competition: F.A. Youth Challenge Cup, third round.
Result: 1-1

Scorer: McDonagh
Team: Hancock, Holtham, Skelton, Rogers, Philp, Greene, Murray, Ryan, McDonagh, Hartson, Elliott. Subs: Newman, Smith.

Coach's comment: We gave a good overall team performance and came from a goal down to just about earn a replay. There was very little between the two teams and we will have to be at our best to progress further in this competition.

Fixture: Luton Town v Maidstone United
Venue: LTFC Training Ground
Date: 4.1.92.
Competition: South East Counties League
Result: 2-1

Scorers: Sutton, Greene
Team: Hancock, Sutton, Skelton, Woolgar, Philp, Greene, Gibb, Rogers, Goodfellow, Newman, Smith. Subs: Draper, Campbell.

Coach's comment: How things can turn around! Four months ago we lost 7-0 to Maidstone. This time, with 4 under-16 and 5 first year boys we win 2-1. The team played very well, with the under-16's playing their part. A very pleasing result.

Welcome to all our sponsors

A warm welcome to our match sponsor today, GRAHAM BUILDER MERCHANTS, and all their guests. Graham is specially set up to supply you because of its knowledge and expertise through many years in the building industry.

They know your requirements and, with their expert staff, they always provide prompt delivery.

There is a comprehensive stock of materials available from their seven acre site at Kingsway, Luton, which ensures rapid supply to your site or home of their quality products.

Graham has only the best products including building materials, heating and plumbing, decorating and ironmongery materials, along with several exclusive ranges.

Many of Graham's products are exclusively sourced for Graham in particular. This is very true of the bathrooms, kitchens and vanity furniture ranges they have on offer.

At present, Graham have a special 20% off of their kitchens and bathrooms, plus a 10 month interest free credit (subject to status).

Graham's can be contacted on 0582-31199.

We also welcome our ball sponsors, RW Harvey & Son. We thank Keith and his son Richard for their continued support over the season and hope that they have an enjoyable afternoon.

In our matchday executive boxes today we welcome XP plc., multiple press and Altone Stainless Steel Ltd..

XP was formed in 1988 and has built up its reputation as a premier supplier of quality power supplies by providing a complete service to its customers. They believe in forming a partnership with customers so that when equipment leaves the premises they know they have built-in reliability to their product.

Their guests today are Industrial Control Services of Maldon, Essex, who manufacture emergency shutdown systems, so they need quality and reliability.

Altone are stock holders of Stainless Steel bars and billets. They are 100% owned by the world's largest stainless steel producer Unisor Sacilor.

Over 600 tonnes of bars and billets are held at Bilston for immediate delivery nationwide.

We hope all our sponsors and their guests have an enjoyable day.

We also welcome C.P. Contracts who have recently taken a fascia advertising board for the remainder of this season and next.

C.P. Contracts are an Amptill-based company which specialises in refurbishing commercial properties and fitting out offices. Their scope of work encompasses all general building trades with the emphasis on suspended ceilings, partitioning, painting and decorating, floor and wall coverings, heating, plumbing and specialist joinery.

The company's Managing Director, Chris Park, has been a season ticket holder at Luton for 16 years and would welcome enquiries from companies who may require any of the above services. He can be contacted on 0525-840426.
