THAT SCORING RATE MUST IMPROVE

It was a bit of the old Chinese water torture on Saturday, after conceding a goal through bad defending in the second minute, to then have to watch as a succession of chances came and went. We certainly had enough of the play and enough opportunities not to have been beaten. But again there wasn't the quality on the final pass, the final cross or on the finish when the chances did arrive that we need to break teams down when they come here to defend in depth.

Apart from the result, however, there were some pleasing things to come out of the game because we did play quite well and as I've said we did create chances which wasn't the case against Southend. But six goals scored in six games isn't enough and we've got to work to put that right. When you're not scoring many it does put extra pressure on the defence, which in spite of that early lapse on Saturday has been outstanding. Clearly we can't rely on winning games 1-0 every week, the scoring rate has to improve.

Having said all that, my message to the lads before tonight's game will be to remember the good things we did on Saturday, concentrate from the kick-off so we don't concede a stupid goal and then if we play like we did for the rest of the game we should be OK.

Alex Rae starts his suspension tonight, so Maurice Doyle will come back into midfield for him. Whilst we've got a strong squad in terms of the overall quality, we haven't got the numbers we once had so we can't afford too many injuries and suspensions at once. Ricky Newman has done a great job a right-back in the absence of Mickey Bennett, but Benno will be training again later this week and I'm looking forward to getting him back.

We've had a few draws in recent games against Luton and I'm certainly hoping that we can do better than that tonight. They've not made the best of starts and got beaten 3-1 on Saturday, but then Barnsley came here on the back of a 5-0 home defeat so we'll not read anything into that. As I've said before every team that comes to The Den sets out to make life very difficult for us, just as we do to opponents when we go to their grounds. It goes without saying that if we have ambitions to reach the Premiership, which we do, we have to start winning our home games. The away victories have given us a great start but we're desperate to entertain our fans here and the best way to start would be with a convincing win against Luton tonight.

On the Road with Yokohama

The Football League have launched a new monthly award for the Division One team which achieves the outstanding away performance. Sponsored by tyre manufacturers 'Yokohama' it will be judged by ITV commentator Brian Moore, former World Cup Final referee Jack Taylor plus representatives from both Yokohama and the Football League.

Alex Out

Alex Rae is missing from the Millwall line-up tonight as he starts a three match suspension following his sending-off at Reading a fortnight ago.

PHYSIO'S FILE with Keith Johnstone

The casualty list is still mercifully light as far as the first team squad is concerned. Scott Taylor won't be available for tonight's game again after hurting his neck in training last week, but he should be OK by the weekend. Mickey Bennett will also be back in full training by the end of the week which is good news, and apart from Ali Edwards who has a little Achilles problem which caused him to miss Monday night's Reserve game, that's about it as far as the senior pro's are concerned. Unfortunately, Tom Walley has not been so lucky. At the beginning of this week I had no fewer than eight members of the Youth squad under treatment.

Funday breaks all Records

In spite of the weather the Junior Lions Funday here at The Den on Sunday broke all records for attendance with around 1,300 fans young and old here to join in the fun with the Millwall stars. Unfortunately the rain put paid to the abseiling and the bucking bronco after about an hour, but the inflatable moved indoors where the penalty shoot-out proved especially popular with Kasey, Mick and other members of the squad all taking their turns in goal.

The six-a-side football carried on throughout the afternoon leaving some very bedraggled participants at the end. (Pictures of the event will appear in the Everton programme).

LUTON TOWN

David has a point to prove

There are two players in the current Luton set-up who will be keen to prove a point or two to Lions boss Mick McCarthy. The first is former Leicester City midfielder David Oldfield. Oldfield rejoined the Hatters - where he started his career - this summer for £150,000 after returning to Filbert Street having spent the last two months of last season on loan at the New Den.

The 27-year-old Aussie born player was brought in by McCarthy as a makeshift striker, and his record of 6 goals in 17 games could well have earned him a permanent move.

But Oldfield's efforts were not enough to prevent the Lions season finishing on a low note, and McCarthy decided against taking him onto the staff as he radically re-shaped his squad. The second is ex-Crystal Palace full-back Darren Patterson, who is hoping to be fit enough to figure in tonight's game following his £150,000 switch to Kenilworth Road last month. At the beginning of last season Patterson, then unable to command a regular first team spot at Selhurst Park, had a trial with the Lions which eventually came to nothing.

But having returned to the Eagles Patterson finally got his first team chance, and became a regular in the Palace side which reached the FA Cup semi-finals last season.

Elsewhere the Hatters have World Cup pedigree up front. Bulgarian international Bontcho Guentchev played in USA 94 as his country proved the dark horses of the tournament, knocking out West Germany on their way to the semi-finals.

After 58 Premiership appearances for Ipswich Guentchev was given a free transfer by the Portman Road club following relegation at the end of last season.

That could have meant the 31-year-old striker would have to go and ply his trade outside the UK, but fortunately Guentchev's wife's job at the Bulgarian embassy allowed him to stay and Luton were happy to give him a chance to continue in English football.

Following the departure of Kasey Keller's American international rival keeper Juergen Sommer to QPR for £450,000 a fortnight ago, youngster Kelvin Davis now has a real chance to make his mark in the First Division.

Davis broke into the side in March, saving a penalty against Watford in his televised debut, and was then called into the England U21 squad for this summer's Toulon tournament.

Elsewhere evergreen club captain Trevor Peake is still going strong at the centre of defence in his 16th year as a senior professional.

Alongside him Hatters manager Terry Westley has Republic of Ireland U21 defender Scott Greene and £750,000 buy from Burnley Steve Davis to choose from.

Ex-West Ham and Spurs man Mitchell Thomas and Richard Harvey fight it out for the left-back slot and Fans Player of the Year Julian James and Des Linton fight it out on the left.

Welsh international Ceri Hughes and England U21 Scott Oakes, who will unfortunately miss tonight's game through suspension and injury, are the driving forces in the middle of the park, hoping to supply the ammunition for last season's leading scorer, former Plymouth striker Dwight Marshall.

The Hatters

New recruits

As at the New Den, there has been no shortage of transfer activity at Kenilworth Road as the new season got under way. Former boss David Pleat had already recruited former Ipswich midfielder Gavin Johnson on a free transfer and signed Steve Davis from Burnley, pending a tribunal, before departing. New boss Terry Westley was only just installed when a tribunal ordered Luton to pay £750,000 for Davis rather than the original offer of £300,000, but that shock hasn't put him off wielding the cheque book.

His first signing in July was midfielder Graham Alexander from Scunthorpe for £100,000, and then Bontcho Guentchev joined former Portman Road colleague Johnson, again on a free. Since then the club have splashed out £150,000 on Darren Patterson from Crystal Palace, and following the £450,000 sale of Juergen Sommer to QPR Westley is believed to be in the market for another goalkeeper.

And the wheeling and dealing may not stop there. After the acrimonious departure of former midfield favourite David Preece to Derby - chairman David Keohler is threatening legal action over a tribunal ruling that the player should be given a free transfer - Westley has travelled to Denmark in search of a new midfield play-maker.

Bye bye Kenilworth Road

There are clubs up and down the country hoping to move to purpose built stadiums, but Luton's plans for a new home must rank among the most ambitious.

The club have already received outline planning permission for a new super stadium just off Junction 10 of the M1, on the outskirts of the town.

But Luton aren't just looking to build a football ground for the 1990's.

Under the current proposals the stadium will be covered by a giant roof and feature removable grass, just like that used by some venues during World Cup USA 94.

Terry takes control

If you asked anyone outside Luton who Terry Westley was last season chances are you would have drawn a blank.

Until his rapid promotion to the Kenilworth Road hotseat this summer Westley was in charge of the Luton youth team, nurturing the likes of Arsenal's John Hartson and Hatters keeper Kelvin Davis.

But when David Pleat quit the Hatters to take over at Sheffield Wednesday chairman David Keohler decided against joining in the managerial merry-go-round and plumped for a Luton insider.

After a playing career with non-League Bury St Edmunds and Diss Town, whom he later managed, Westley headed Ipswich Town's School of Excellence before Pleat brought him to Luton in 1991. And although Luton have made a mediocre start to the new campaign, the new boss believes he will enjoy the sweet smell of success by the end of the season.

"We see ourselves as a top six side," he insisted.

"We have missed key players and haven't defended too well but I'm confident we can get things sorted out."

DID YOU KNOW?

* Luton were the first professional team in the south of England, paying the whole team, plus an allowance for working time lost travelling to away games, from 1891.

* Having lost the 1959 Cup Final 2-1 to Nottingham Forest as a First Division team, the Hatters found themselves relegated to the old Fourth Division within six years.

* When Luton notched up their 8-2 win over Sunderland at Kenilworth Road in 1955, the Wearsiders were First Division leaders. There first four goals came within nine minutes of the start, Bob Morton hitting a hat-trick.

* Post war hero Joe Payne was not the only prolific goalscorer to make the journey from Luton to Chelsea. Local boy Hugh Billington had registered four hat-tricks in the 1938 season before war intervened, and added another three trebles for the Hatters before moving to Stamford Bridge in 1948.

* In February 1993 Luton equalled a 70 year club record by completing seven games without conceding a goal after beating Charlton 1-0 in Division One.

I felt I had to write to the club to let you know of Meridian Television in Kent covering local matches. After last week's match away to Portsmouth I phoned Meridian News to complain they did not give Millwall a mention or match report or even Kerry Dixon's goal.

This I told them is not the first time it had happened. Last season away to local rivals Charlton they did not cover us on the early news. It seems to me Meridian do not like to mention Millwall on sports news which is a shame as many of us Lions supporters live in Kent. Meridian have taken my address so I hope to hear from them about this.

From irate Lions fan
Roy Lee, Chatham, Kent.

The 92 Club - A club for the fan who has done the lot
The club was founded in June 1978 with just 39 members and is open to those football fans who have visited all the current 92 Premier and Football League grounds for a first team match. The number of qualifiers has steadily grown and now exceeds 900. The aim of the club is to provide formal recognition of this special achievement. The club also has informal meetings at selected games and these are a good opportunity to meet fellow fans from other clubs with a similar interest.

At the present time seven Millwall fans have reached this goal and joined this exclusive club but if any other supporter has completed the current 92 or is going to mount a serious challenge in the coming months then full details of the 92 Club can be obtained by sending an SAE to The 92 Club, 104 Gilda Crescent, Whitechurch, Bristol BS14 9LD.

To assist in keeping records of matches attended the club also produce a very popular "Complete Statistical Records Book" with space for team line-ups, substitutions, scorers, attendances and even the weather conditions! The book can be obtained for only £2.00 inc.p&p from the address below.

With the advent of the Premier League it is ever more vital to support Millwall F.C. through the turnstile at home and by bringing a friend or family member this will help your club. So make sure you're a regular attendee at the New Den and don't forget any new grounds you visit with Millwall F.C. or as a neutral fan will take you one step closer to that 92 Club goal.

That extra mile

Have you ever been 'to hell and back' for the purpose of seeing the Lions play. If you have a story similar to the one below in which you really have made the ultimate sacrifice of time and effort (and indeed money!) just to watch Millwall play in some remote part of this green and pleasant land write to: 'THAT EXTRA MILE', MILLWALL PROGRAMME, THE DEN, ZAMPA ROAD, LONDON SE16 3LH.

"The rain poured down. The night was closing in. It had been raining all day. It was 6.00pm on a Monday night, the 5th October 1964 at Ellesmere Port where I had been sent to do a week's work at an oil terminal.

I had left Mile End at 5.00am, and covered the 150 miles by car to start work at 9.00am. The day's work over, it was now time to "knock off" and my two work mates knew the best pubs. 'What do you mean, you're not coming', they said! I have got to go to Southport I stuttered - it's my gran, she lives there and I have to see her urgently.

'What in this weather they chorussed. You're mad!' I couldn't reveal just how mad by telling them I was going to see a football match between Southport and Millwall kicking off in just one hours time. But you all know the feeling. When our team is playing, the urge gets you and nothing, just nothing is going to stand in the way. At times it is madness, just like on that occasion, sheer madness, but that's why football makes people take leave of their senses. It brooks no logic or reason. The rain was still pouring down and time was getting on.

After being relegated back to Div 4 we had started well and were lying 6th after 11 games. There was a great spirit about the club generated mainly by that most charismatic of managers, Billy Gray, whom supporters really believed could work wonders. All being well promotion was on.

As the crow flies I had 30 miles to go but I am no crow and I knew that I had to get to Birkenhead, go through the Mersey Tunnel find my way in and out of Liverpool and Bootle. This I managed with some little geographical difficulty, but that was easy compared to what was to follow. With the wiper blades going full blast and in very poor visibility I left the Coast Road at Formby and after several very hazardous twists and turns along some rough terrain on the eastern side of Royal Birkdale Golf Course I came to a sudden halt in pitch darkness some 6ft from a sea wall with waves lapping over the bonnet. A harrowing moment.

At a time like this you begin to ask yourself questions. I sat momentarily and suddenly for the first time in my life I began to doubt my Millwall lunacy, to seriously ask myself what is it all about. But instantly rejecting all such treachery I ploughed on and finally made the game just before half-time. I managed to persuade the lone stile man to let me join the other 2,146 people but he wouldn't entertain my story about being from Millwall.

It was still 0-0 but we were under the cosh. Billy Gray had played himself for the first time that season and defender John Gilchrist was leading the line in an attempt for more fire power. Billy Neil hit the post, with a rasper, but it was all Southport in torrential rain in the 56th minute their No. 9 fell over Tommy Wilken and the ref pointed to the spot. At that moment I wondered if there were any other Millwall souls in the ground and I prayed and closed my eyes. Groans from the crowd, the kick had been sliced wide. A true Stepney that greatest of all Millwall keepers kept us in the game with some superb stops and the game finished goalless. A truly mindbending and exhausting day but the point was worth it all. Any normal person would certainly consider my journey, much more than a mile too far, but the journey back to Ellesmere was a doddle.

Millwall finished the season runners-up and won promotion back to Division 3.

A Kase to prove

KELLER: Demand

By MARK IRWIN
Millwall 0, Barnsley 1

KASEY KELLER reckons £1million strikers Uwe Fuchs and Chris Malkin have got to start justifying their transfer fees if Millwall are going to stay top of the First Division.

Malkin has managed just one goal since his £350,000 move from Tranmere while record signing Fuchs has yet to break his duck.

Despite keeping Barnsley penned in their own half for virtually the entire game, Millwall huffed and puffed without ever finding a way past goalkeeper Dave Watson.

Keller warned: "The boss has spent a lot of money on strikers in the summer and now they have got to start repaying it. We've only managed six goals in six games so far and that's just not good enough.

"We had all game to equalise after conceding a first-minute goal yet despite all our pressure we didn't take our chances."

Skipper Neil Redfearn's strike ended Millwall's unbeaten record, but he backed both sides to be in the promotion frame.

"We both play the right way to win promotion, because possession football is the only way to do it these days.

Otherwise you end up like Oldham or Palace. You boot your way up to the Premiership, but just come straight back down again."

Expectations were high going into the new season, particularly with all the money that has been spent in the transfer market during the summer. I must confess that I'm surprised at some of the fees, but that just shows what happens when there is such a demand for success.

At this early stage there have already been far too many sendings off and I'm afraid referees have to take their share of the blame. The days when they could laugh and joke with the players seems to have gone. Perhaps it's as a result of the demands on them but man management skills seem to have gone out of the window and been replaced by a strict adherence to the rule book producing 'robot referees' as I call them.

As far as the First Division is concerned, my pre-season predictions for Promotion were Wolves, Stoke and Norwich. However, the three outstanding players I've seen at this level so far all come from Millwall. Ben Thatcher for me is the new Kenny Sansom, Tony Witter has looked amazingly cool and Kerry Dixon has been rolling back the years.

Lions tamed

Millwall 0 Barnsley 1

MICK MCCARTHY'S Division One leaders were beaten for the first time this season after conceding a goal in just 77 seconds to Barnsley's Neil Redfearn.

McCarthy said: "We've only scored six goals this season so we've got to start taking chances."

The dominant Lions' best chance came from Ricky Newman's 20-yard shot which was tipped over.

CONROY JOINS MICK

MICK MCCARTHY has appointed Terry Conroy to the club's scouting network.

The ambitious table-topping Lions, planning an all out assault for Premiership membership, are stepping up their catchment recruitment area.

And 48 year old ex-Stoke and Ireland winger, who has strong knowledge of the Potteries scene will monitor the North West region.

AUSTRIA U-21 1
IRELAND U-21 0

THE battling babes in Green were unlucky not to have at least a share of the spoils against Austria last night.

Maurice Setters' side went down by the only goal of the game — but home keeper Mario Krassnitzer performed heroics to deny the Irish a point in their UEFA under-21 championship qualifier in Amstetten.

He pulled off a series of stunning saves from Declan Perkins, David Greene and Willie Boland — twice — to make the Republic's youngsters pay for giving away a sloppy goal from a corner in only the ninth minute.

They it was the tiny Jurgen Kauz who was left unmarked to head home from a Mario Haas cross.

Stubborn

Even though Austria were reduced to 10 men for the last 26 minutes, when centre back Gunter Schiesswald was sent off for a professional foul on Andy Turner, Ireland could not break through Krassnitzer's stubborn last line of resistance.

The result means revenge for Austria after their 3-0 defeat in Dublin in June, which was only the seventh win for Ireland in 47 matches at under-21 level.

Maurice Setters' team also slip from third place to fourth in qualifying group six, with no chance of reaching the quarter-finals.

Boss Setters was far from happy afterwards.

"We had time to put it right after conceding a bad early goal but it didn't happen for us," said Setters.

Deserved

He added: "We needed to change our game after the sending off and we took a risk with three at the front, but although everybody worked hard, we couldn't get the point we deserved."

"If we had pulled back their goal before half-time I am convinced we would have gone on to win it."

Setters picked out Millwall midfielder David Savage as the Republic's star player and said: "He looked tireless out there and seemed to be all over the pitch."

"The front players, Brian Lauders and Declan Perkins, also worked hard but never had much luck."

"Once again we learned from our experience, but there were a few things from which we could draw satisfaction against the much stronger Austrian team than we faced in Dublin in the summer."

Austria U21: Krassnitzer, Jovanovic, Hiden, Glasner, Schiesswald, Kitzbichler, Kozul, Panis, Haas (Amershauser 80), Silberberger, Wagner (Leitner 66). Sent Off: Schiesswald (64).

Ireland U21: Given, Carr, Woods, Greene, Breen, Boland, Kavanagh (Scully 42), Savage, Lauders, Perkins, Turner.

LATE CALL FOR SAV.

Dave Savage was left wondering whether he had been left out in the cold or whether he was no longer eligible for the Irish Under 21 squad after his name didn't appear when the party for last week's European Championship qualifier in Austria was announced.

"My dad rang me and told me I wasn't in, so I assumed that at 22 I wasn't eligible any more because I thought I'd done well enough in Millwall's first four games to be included." Dave told Millwall Clubcall.

It came as some surprise, then when Sav. got a late call from Maurice Setters to say that Mark Kennedy had moved up to the senior squad and that he should report for the flight to Austria. He went on to play a starring role in spite of the Republic's disappointing 1-0 defeat, and his performance will not have gone unnoticed by Big Jack, whose inclusion of Mark in the senior side the following night indicates that he is ready to blood some new faces into his ageing squad.

LIONS SHARES - A GOOD DEAL?

According to a recent article in the Daily Mirror's Family Finance section, now could be the best time to buy Millwall shares, which are currently quoted on the Stock Exchange at around 2p.

"If the club gets promoted to the Premiership this season the shares can be expected to rocket," according to the Mirror's Financial expert. He tempers this view with the usual caution about buying any shares being a risky move.

TRAVEL

ON THE ROAD TO NORFOLK

The Lions will be looking for their fourth successive victory away from home this season when they travel to Carrow Road. Although relegated from the Premier and in spite of Martin O'Neil's arrival it has been a relatively quiet close season, although the recent return of Robert Fleck has spiced things up a little.

The Canaries are getting used to life in the First Division with two defeats in six to date, with their home record reading 2 wins and a draw. Our last win at Carrow Road was 3-0 in 1968-69, Possee, Weller 2 (1 pen).

MICK SIGNS

Good news for Lions fans is that Mick McCarthy has finally put pen to paper and signed a new contract with the club.

"There was never any problem in spite of the fact that this had been unresolved for a little while," explained Chairman Peter Mead, "It was simply a case of Mick and myself finding the ten minutes we needed to run through the necessary changes to his contract. He had previously had a contract as player/manager and that needed to be amended, and really that took no time at all.

"I know that some people will say that contracts aren't worth the paper they're written on these days, but that really depends on the people involved."

On the subject of contracts, Mick has in turn offered Anton Rogan a contract until the end of the season which has been accepted. The Northern Ireland international defender had previously been given a deal for a month, but has subsequently satisfied all concerned as to his form and fitness.

"Naturally, I'm very happy to get it sorted," admitted Anton to Clubcall last week. "I think there had been a bit of concern about the hamstring problems I'd suffered at Oxford, but to be honest that was down to playing when I really shouldn't have done. Now I can concentrate on winning a first team spot at Millwall followed by a Promotion winners medal and hopefully reclaim my place in the Irish squad."

HAPPY 18th BIRTHDAY

PFA FACTFILE

There's nothing like a freebee to get a bit of publicity. I recently received an invaluable publication entitled 'THE OFFICIAL PFA FOOTBALLERS FACTFILE 1995-96. Retailing at £8.99

it's not exactly bedtime reading material, but gives a biography and career details of every player who made an appearance in the Premiership or Football League last season. For those of you who like to keep statistical records or make an educated judgement as to whom to select for your 'Fantasy League' team, his could be the book you need. (Ed.)

Home thoughts

I started a new job recently and although everyone was friendly and helpful it took a while to get used to my new surroundings and a different way of doing things.

This made me think about the life of a footballer, who is often moving around, and how difficult it must be.

Now you may say that should make no difference at all, playing football is the same wherever you are as they are professionals after all.

However, there are lots of things to take into consideration. Apart from new team mates, there will probably be a new system of play to get used to.

Add to that the possibility of new living accommodation, maybe in a new country and therefore a new language, and if married a wife and perhaps children who also have needs to take care of.

So it must take time, no matter how good a player you are, to settle into a new team.

All of this makes me wonder at how quickly things have worked out here at The Den this season with so many new faces in the side. If this is what can be achieved in so short a time then the future will hopefully be even better. It may be wrong but local bookies had better get ready for a large payout.

30 years ago -

(September 1965-66) (DIV 3)

The Lions went the whole of September avoiding defeat, playing five League matches and two League Cup ties.

First there was a 1-0 home win over Oldham Athletic, Watford were then defeated by the same margin at Vicarage Road. Exeter City were seen off 3-0 at The Den on a Monday night. Att. 12,228.

Millwall were then held to a 2-2 draw at home to Scunthorpe United, and by the same score at Brighton.

In the League Cup, Millwall won 1-0 at Oxford United in the 1st round, and then had a good win against York City at the Den in the 2nd round. Although it was 0-0 at half-time, the Lions went on to win the tie 4-1, thanks to goals from Billy Neil (2), Curran and Jacks.

40 years ago -

(September 1955-56) (DIV 3(S))

Millwall started September with a 1-1 draw against Crystal Palace at the Den. Att. 16,454. Two days later a low crowd of 6,874 watched Millwall trounce Brentford 4-0 at The Den. Next was an exciting game at Gillingham which was won by the home side 4-3. The return match with Brentford (A) resulted in a 2-2 draw. Bournemouth were then beaten 4-0 at New Cross, but the Lions ended the month with defeats

Past Masters

No 4 - GEORGE FISHER

● George is one of seven brothers and four sisters. Two of his brothers also played for Millwall.

● The New Den is built over Erlam Road where George was brought up.

● George made 316 appearances and only a fall out with the manager prevented him from being the longest serving player.

● His brother Ted was a steward in the directors lounge until last year when he passed away. Ted played for the reserves in his younger days.

● George moved to Fulham in 1954, then to Colchester United. He played 164 games for the Essex club.

Q. Who did you room with on away trips with Millwall?

A. Roomed with! You mean who did I sit with on the coach. Reg Dudley, then later Alex Jardine. In those days Hotels were unaffordable. When we played Torquay we caught the coach at 5'o'clock in the morning. Also we were known to change on the coach if we were held up in traffic. Our manager Charlie Hewitt thought nothing of a 300 mile coach trip with sandwiches on board. We had some good fun on the journeys, but at Fulham with Haynes and Jezzard before my first away game against Notts Forest they said "Don't forget your overnight bag". I thought it was a wind up as Nottingham is only down the road.

Q. How did you get on with the Managers?

A. Bill Voisey signed me from the ATC during the 2nd World War 42-43. I had a trial on the Tuesday and played for Millwall on the Thursday. Jack Cock my next manager was a great character. He owned the White Hart pub, and when he was drunk we would throw him in the bath. My last manager Charlie Hewitt was ruthless. I was earning £4 a week, married and living at Grove Park. I had to get a 94 bus to Lewisham, then the 21 to New Cross Gate and walk to the ground from there and I had to keep both bus tickets to show him to get paid. When I hurt my right ankle and couldn't stand properly he said "I think you're a malingerer". I'd played over 300 games for the Lions. I saw red and gave him a right hander, knocking him up in the air. He said to Bill Voisey who was the trainer and a gentleman "Did you see that Bill?", Bill replied "No I'm sorry, someone called me and I was looking out the window". I was soon transferred to Fulham.

at Southend United (1-3) and Norwich City (A) (1-4) respectively.

50 years ago -

(September 1945-46)

The Lions were engaged in war-time football, and were playing in the Football League South.

On September 1st Millwall travelled down to Portsmouth and gained a point from a 1-1 draw.

The following Saturday, a long trip up to Nottingham to play Forest produced another point (2-2), Millwall were leading 2-0 at half-time.

The second home game of the season saw Millwall crush visitors Swansea Town 5-1. Jimmy Jinks helped himself to a hat-trick.

Millwall then had wins over Nottingham Forest (H) 2-1, Newport County (H) 4-0, before losing their first game of the season 1-3 at Newport.

Ted Wilding

Q. How did you get on at Millwall?

A. I loved it. I was Millwall through and through, I lived there and all my family followed them. We had the Fisher rail, my dad and brothers always stood in the same place at the Old Den. As a boy I would wait till they opened the gates so I could see the last quarter of an hour. I would have beaten Crippsy's record if I could have stayed.

Q. Do you remember any funny moments at Millwall?

A. My twin brother Jack played inside forward. We both played against Torquay in 1948 and one of their players said "Jesus that man's fit, one minute he's defending next he's attacking, he's all over the pitch". His mate said "You silly sod they're twins."

Q. What was your most memorable match?

A. Probably Notts County in 1948. Record crowd with Tommy Lawton playing for them and me scoring the winner, (3-2). Also playing at Wembley in the 1945 War Cup Final against Chelsea. I was coming up to twenty years old and the week before the final the papers were saying Stanley Mathews was playing and I couldn't wait. But in the end Mathews didn't play. Ted Smith our captain that day gives me fond memories as a boy at the club, he took me under his wing. In one match a winger clattered me, Ted told me to swap positions, Ted then gave him a tackle and put him straight into touch and then said to the winger if I see you kick him again you'll answer to me. Senior players were looked up to and respected then and in return they looked after you.

Q. Do you keep in touch with any players?

A. Yes. Jimmy Constantine and Johnnie Johnson and I came last season to the New Den and we met up and visited the Executive boxes together.

Coincidentally George met his wife whilst playing against Luton. He saw her in the crowd, then bumped into her at the railway station after the game in 1945, exactly 50 years ago. Her family were also Millwall supporters, 9 brothers and 2 sisters.

Chris Bethell

BACK TRACK

27th December 1926 saw the Lions maul Luton Town 7-0 at The Den. The Daily Express match report starts off as follows: "The tables were turned with a vengeance at New Cross yesterday, for Millwall, after being beaten at Luton on Christmas Day by six clear goals, won the return match by a margin of seven goals to none". At this time the Christmas Day rout was Millwall's worst reverse since entering the Football League in 1920. For the return game Bob Hunter made two changes, both in the forward line! The Lions tore into attack from the outset registering two quick goals by Amos and Phillips and further strikes by Gomm and Parker made the half-time score 4-0 with revenge in sight. Parker and Gomm increased the lead to six. "In the closing minute Phillips sent the Lions supporters into seventh heaven of delight by scoring number seven. It was the easiest journey that Millwall have had at the Den this season". Incidentally Millwall won the corresponding fixture the previous season by exactly the same score.

Millwall secured the services Twigg from Second Division League side Gainsborough Trinity in 1905.

In his first season at the club was limited to only seven South League appearances, due to form of Sid Heaton.

Twigg staked his claim for number nine shirt the following campaign (1906-07).

Although short for a centre forward, Twigg had clever footwork and possessed a high shot. He ended the season as a scorer with twenty seven goals from thirty eight League appearances. He was also lead scorer in 1907-08 with eight goals.

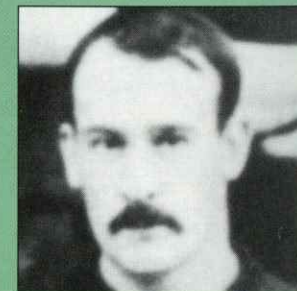

On January 5th 1907 Twigg scored five goals when Millwall thrashed Watford 10-1 at New Cross.

Twigg won a Western League Championship medal with Millwall in 1907-08, and in the Final of the London Challenge Cup in 1908 he scored both goals in Millwall's triumph over Leyton (2-0) at Watford. He spent five seasons at the club before moving on in 1910.

SUPPORTERS CAN HELP ON SUNDAY

We would like to build up our attendances at the Surrey Docks Stadium, home of Fisher 93 FC, and this Sunday would be a great time for supporters to come and get behind the girls. Fisher have promised all Millwall fans a warm welcome and the social club will be open all afternoon.

The reason we need you is to help Jim Hicks and the team to overcome an injury crisis in which fifteen of our twenty one registered FA Premier League players were unfit for last Sunday's match at Ilkeston (which was naturally postponed). The inevitable fact is that we will again be fielding a very young side against Wembley, who finished fifth last season, and our team would love a decent crowd to encourage them. Adults are charged £2 including an excellent programme, and under sixteens are free. Team selection must wait until club doctor Charlotte Cowie and physio Gill Chapman have told Jim how many of the injured players can return, and one or two new players may have to be signed this week.

Wembley may be without our former keeper Lesley Higgs who went off injured last week against Everton, but they have some excellent young players themselves and in our present circumstances will come to Fisher expecting to win.

PLAYERS PLEASE

The pre-season preparations for all our other teams finish with friendlies this Sunday. The Reserves, now managed by Sid Hayes, go to Greenwich before beginning their Greater London League programme on September 24th away to Collier Row.

We still need to hear from any potential new players, particularly between the ages of 10 and 14, for our junior teams. Ring Sue on 0181-857 6400 if you know any talented youngster who would be interested.

ARSENAL DEFEATED

Last Sunday's matches in the FA Premier League (National Division) included a 2-1 home defeat for Arsenal by Doncaster Belles. The Belles were thought not be the force they once were, whilst Arsenal won every League match they played last season until they drew their final game 0-0 with Liverpool. This result has set the Premiership alight with Croydon setting the early pace. They beat Wolves 7-0 at home, Liverpool won 1-0 away to Villa Aztecs and Wembley drew 3-3 with Everton.

We have printed the early League table for Division One (South) as well this week for those who are interested to see which clubs are in the Premier League set-up.

PREVIEW

The Wembley Trail Begins

For our next home match, we welcome FA Cup holders Everton to The Den for the first leg of our Coca Cola Cup tie. Yet again, the draw has paired us with opposition from the top flight, and it will be a great opportunity to test our Premiership ambitions. This is a competition in which traditionally clubs from the First Division have done rather well. Last season, Bolton went all the way to Wembley, after an all-First Division semi-final with Swindon. Wanderers were the third club in the 1990s to reach the final from outside top flight, following Oldham in 1990 and Sheffield Wednesday in 1991.

This is the stage when most of the clubs from the top two divisions enter the Coca Cola Cup. A few First Division sides had, however, to compete in the First Round, and three did not make it any further. Luton, who went out to Bournemouth, Portsmouth were beaten by Third Division Cardiff, whilst Port Vale lost the all-First Division tie with Huddersfield.

Top Ties

Our meeting with the Toffees is one of four Premiership v First Division ties, and these are the most likely sources of an upset. Peter Reid goes back to Merseyside as manager of Sunderland, who face Liverpool for the first time since the 1992 FA Cup Final. The Wearsiders faltering start in the League is unlikely to threaten the holders grip on the Cup. For Chelsea's Mark Stein there is the prospect of a return to one of his former clubs, Stoke City, and for Ruud Gullit a chance to compare the atmosphere of the San Siro with the Potteries. It is also the run of the 1971 League Cup, which provided Stoke, one of the oldest League clubs, with its only domestic trophy. Neither side has made a sparkling start in the League and both are looking for a good Cup run to get their season moving.

The final Premiership v First clash pits and present tenants of Selhurst Park together. Both Charlton and Wimbledon have started a new campaign in encouraging style and a local derby should be nothing less than blooded. It is, however, a brave man who would back the Dons in any circumstances.

First v First

Whatever else happens in the Second Division, another five First Division clubs will go on to compete at this stage, the losers in the ties between divisional colleagues. Yorkshire, the tie of the round will be a meeting of Barnsley and newly promoted Huddersfield. A guide as to what to expect came last night when the teams met in a League fixture at the Terriers' Auldham Stadium, with the Tykes looking to overhaul us at the top of the table.

Crystal Palace, who have managed just one goal in their last four games, meet an equally goal-shy Southend, whilst promotion favourites Reading face the only side to double over them in the League last season, West Brom. Although they struggled for goals of the year, Albion twice beat high flying Reading, 2-0, a repeat of which will suit us very nicely this time. A few days after the completed, the sides meet again in the League at the Hawthorns. The division's highest lowest scorers, Birmingham and Grimsby, in a tie where The Blues must start as favourites, whilst in the Liverpool v Manchester clash, Tranmere probably have an edge over Oldham, as they did in the League last year.

Best of The Rest

Amongst the other 23 ties between teams in the Premiership and First and the survivors from the Second and Third there are bound to be some surprises, impossible to predict some interesting coincidences. Struggling take on Oxford from the Second, reviving memories of the 1986 League Cup Final v Oxford won comfortably 3-0. Leeds' potential for falling to lower division opponents should never be underestimated. Mansfield put out at this stage 12 months ago. If the same thing happens this year at Notts County will be the added twist for Howard Wilkinson who did his managerial apprenticeship at Meadow Lane.

For the second time in 12 months Hartlepool have drawn Arsenal in the Second Round. Coca Cola and doubtless the prospect of a bumper financial return will ease the pain of almost certain cup exit. Last year, the aggregate score was 7-0 to the Gunners. Arsenal fans, however, probably be aware that Hartlepool are now managed by Keith Houchen, the whose last minute penalty for York a few days ago sent the North London club tumbling sensationally out of the FA Cup. Manchester City will be similarly wary when they meet Wycombe Wanderers. In charge of the Second Division club is Alan Smith who as Crystal Palace boss last year, plotted City's downfall in the quarter-finals at Selhurst Park.

ROCK SOLID TONY BACK TO HIS BEST

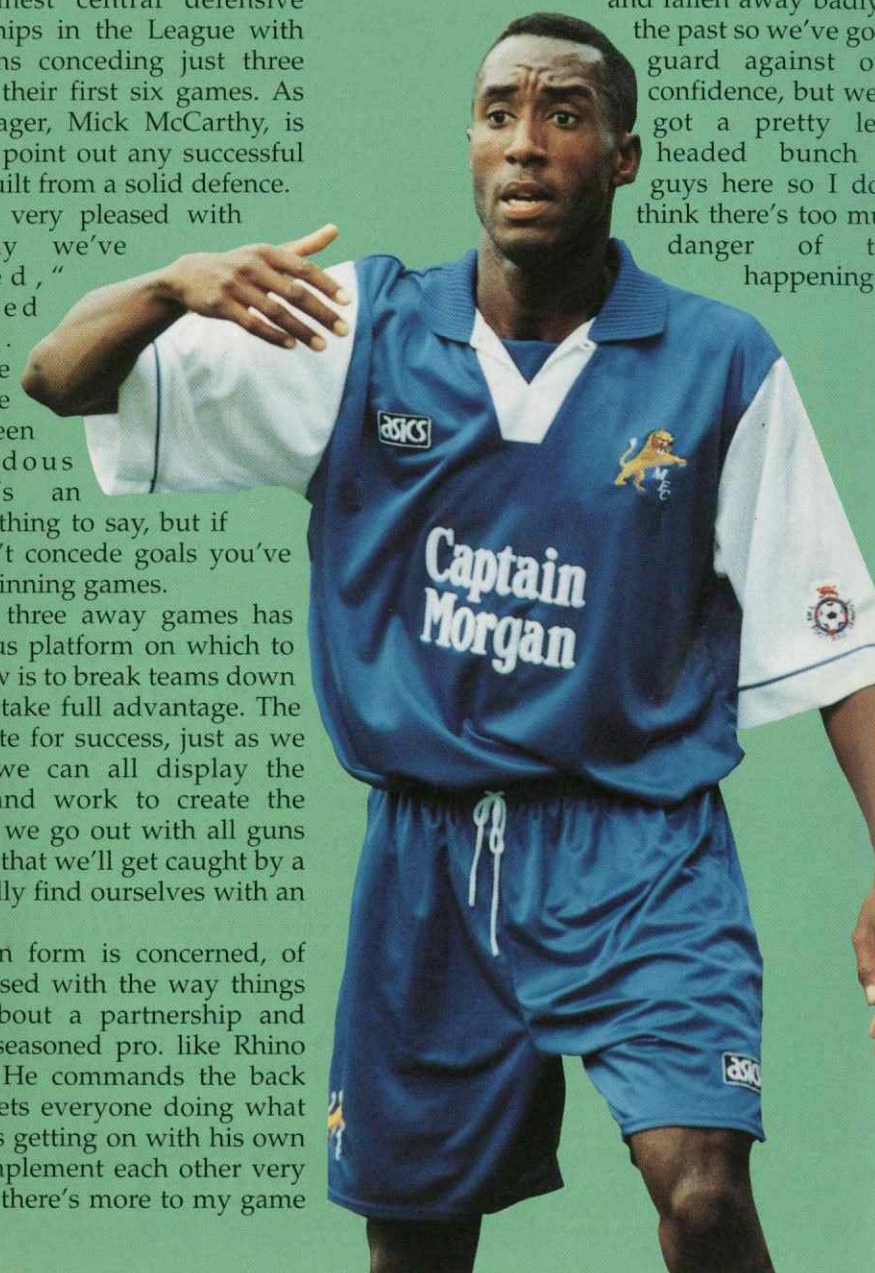

Having made a tremendous early impression following his transfer from QPR last November, including some outstanding displays in our two epic Cup runs, Tony Witter lost his way towards the end of the season and with it his place in the side. The good news is that he's rediscovered the golden touch and is back alongside Rhino, forming one of the meanest central defensive partnerships in the League with The Lions conceding just three goals in their first six games. As his manager, Mick McCarthy, is quick to point out any successful side is built from a solid defence.

"We're very pleased with the way we've started," enthused Tony. "The defence has been tremendous and it's an obvious thing to say, but if you don't concede goals you've got every chance of winning games."

"Winning our first three away games has given us a tremendous platform on which to build and our aim now is to break teams down here at The Den and take full advantage. The fans here are desperate for success, just as we are, but hopefully we can all display the necessary patience and work to create the openings we need. If we go out with all guns blazing, the danger is that we'll get caught by a sucker punch and really find ourselves with an uphill battle."

"As far as my own form is concerned, of course I'm quite pleased with the way things are going. It's all about a partnership and playing alongside a seasoned pro. like Rhino makes things easier. He commands the back four very well and gets everyone doing what they should as well as getting on with his own game. I think we complement each other very well. I'd like to think there's more to my game than just a bit of pace and even at 30 I'm still learning and still improving. Elsewhere in the back four we've got a bit of quality and speed with Ricky Newman coming in and doing well and Ben continuing to show what a good player he is. Behind us of course we've got Kashe, who's playing as well as ever, so touch wood we can continue in the same vein and hang on to our position at the top of the League. No-one's getting carried away by the brilliant start we've made. Teams have shot off like us at the start and fallen away badly in the past so we've got to guard against overconfidence, but we've got a pretty level-headed bunch of guys here so I don't think there's too much danger of that happening."

Summer Soccer Schools '95

In a bid to entertain all children aged between 6 and 15 in South East London, the Community Scheme once again offered a range of football courses to suit everyone's needs. For the first time in several years we attempted to combine our commitments to the Southern Youth Project (details to follow soon) with the 4 day soccer schools and various one-day initiatives.

All the normal venues have been revisited with considerable success. Numbers attending were excellent and this is due in no small part to some wonderfully enthusiastic coaching from our staff. When's the last time you saw a session devoted to diving headers and overhead kicks?

Of course the weather treated us kindly this summer. We even considered issuing hats to the coaches, but that surely would have tempted fate; as soon as they put them on at The Bridge a monsoon swept through flooding the astro turf and seriously displacing the normally immaculate hair of Mr Micallef.

One addition to our normal service was a trip to the training ground. Those attending could see their heroes at close quarters, ask questions, and get autographs on extraordinarily small scraps of paper. To all those children, the chance just to watch the youth team training spurred them to greater efforts back at the soccer school. Thanks to Mick, his staff and all the players for taking the time to make the day special for these children. Thanks also to Father Owen for the minibus!

Junior Lions

Good evening Junior Lions and welcome to our game against Luton. We would also like to extend a warm welcome to the Junior Hatters present at tonight's game. Have an enjoyable night with us and a safe journey home.

If you were at the Fun Day on Sunday did you have a good time? If you were not there then where were you? Ask the other Junior Lions about what you missed and make sure that you are present at the next Junior Lions event.

Please write and tell us what you thought about the Fun Day and if you have any suggestions for future events then let us know. They do take a lot of planning and any ideas would be welcomed. Just drop a line to Julie or Dave at the club offices. We will be taking a coach to the match against Norwich on Saturday and you will need to bring your footie gear with you as we will be playing against the Junior Canaries before the game. Travel details were not available when writing these notes so listen carefully to the Public Address System for costs and departure times.

To assist you in planning for future away matches we are arranging for travel to the following games up to the end of the year: Watford, Crystal Palace, Birmingham City, Stoke and Sheffield United. Cost includes coach travel to the ground and a ticket to the game, so if you haven't been on a Junior Lions away trip before then why not start planning now.

LIONS LOSE OUT IN SEVEN GOAL THRILLER

There were goals and entertainment aplenty at The Den on Monday night as Millwall and Bristol Rovers shared seven goals, but sadly The Lions suffered their second consecutive defeat as Rovers picked up their first Combination points of the season. Lee McRobert gave Millwall the lead on twelve minutes thumping home a left foot drive from eight yards and when Steve Forbes bundled in a Tony Dolby corner it looked as though it would be plain sailing towards three points.

Mike Davis pulled a goal back after working his way into the box just past the half hour and then John French capitalised on hesitation by Jimmi Nielsen to poach a surprise equaliser. Chris Malkin restored The Lions' lead before the break, chesting down Lee McRobert's cross and placing the ball into the far corner. The second-half belonged to Rovers striker Davis who completed his hat-trick with two more well taken goals. His second on 66 minutes saw him outpace Anton Rogan and slot comfortably past Nielsen. He then wrapped up the points with a far post header from French's cross as Millwall were left to rue some slack defending.

MISSED CHANCES PROVE COSTLY

It's been a frustrating start to the season for Tom Walley and his youngsters as the injury situation amongst the squad threatens to reach crisis proportions. With Saturday's tough looking League Cup tie against Spurs looming physio Keith Johnstone is working overtime to get the Youth squad back on its feet.

Last weekend they made the long haul to Norwich, but found the journey home even longer after a 1-0 defeat which was scant reward for their endeavours in a game which they dominated. Having created no fewer than eighteen chances to the home side's two. The young Lions should have been celebrating a comfortable win on the way back from Norfolk, but a scrambled second-half goal following a corner gave the Canaries the points and left Millwall bemoaning a hatful of missed opportunities.

Darren Keown might have given the visitors the lead as early as the fifth minute when he found himself with a one on one against the Norwich keeper but was unable to capitalise. Adam Pitwood also hit the bar in the first-half, but clearly it wasn't going to be their afternoon.

Open each first team home game.

Well three away games three wins let me give my opinion on those programmes. Port Vale is the first of the three issues and yet another fine production from the Colourplan team. A fine usage of colour pictures throughout the programme, it also had some very informative articles including an indepth look at the visitors. Excellent value at £1.50. The match was a complete sell out.

Next came the Reading issue also priced at £1.50. This game was also sold out completely. This was a vast improvement on last seasons issue. However, there was still a heavy usage of adverts. As with a lot of teams there was a page dedicated to the physio which was a good read. The layout was not as impressive as the Vale issue as in some places the print was rather small.

Now to the Pompey issue which at first glance seemed the poorest of the three. However, upon reading the programme it looks a better design than that from Elm Park.

Fine write ups on the Youth and Reserve teams were followed by some interesting articles like Skirting the Issue, and 'Pompey Shorts'. A very novel depiction of the team line-ups used on the back page.

All away programmes are on sale, after the game in my shop, but regrettably, I have no Port Vale issues. You can also subscribe to the away programme from the Norwich game onwards. All League/Cup issues £54.00.

The Norwich issue will be £1.50 and it is another high quality production.
