EVERYBODY TALKS ABOUT NEGATIVES, BUT WE HAVE TO REMAIN POSITIVE

TO all those travelling supporters at Wolves I thank you for your encouragement and support given to the team, but I feel we as a team also gave you something to support. The team at Wolves played with commitment, thought, pride and the belief that we could collect all three points.

Our organisation and tactics were spot on on the day. We defended to a man magnificently well, but also had enough creative/flair players and enough possession throughout the game for us to make four excellent opportunities. At the start of the game and in the sort of run we are in, we would have settled for an encouraging point, but on the way home on the bus we started to get greedy and believed we could have collected all three points.

But again the platform is there for us to build from, but we have had this scenario before. Encouraging away performances at Southend, Grimsby, Millwall and now Wolves have all given us a platform from which to build on with the next game being at home. To date we have not been able to take that opportunity to kick-start our season.

Today we welcome Portsmouth, their directors, officials, players and supporters. The manager Terry Fenwick, and his assistant Keith Waldon are two of the younger manager/coaches, whom I have worked with in conjunction with the FA, and I wish them both well in their first appointments at this level.

The expectations of a home win will be no different today, no different to the expectations of the 25,000 fans who expected their team to win at Molineux last week.

I tried to stress to the press that it is no different at our club, with directors, managers, coaches, and supporters of Luton Town expecting us to win and perform well at our home matches.

I have been encouraged by performances away from home. The midfield of Hughes and Vilstrup did show signs of real quality; Johnson, Davis and Peake did show determination in keeping a clean sheet; and the on-loan Feuer shows some real presence.

But the question on everybody's lips is WHY can we not produce any type of form at home. People talk of pressure but we would think there is more pressure away from home in front of 25,000 Wolves fans or in the atmosphere of the New Den, but we have proved that is not the case.

So if it's not the pressure we have to look closely at the structure and the pattern which revolves at home matches. Today we must show the confidence to keep the ball for longer periods, and dominate possession rather than losing it by playing 'longer'.

If we can have more possession thus creating more opportunities I am sure today, with the supporters' HELP and encouragement to all the players, we can come away from this afternoon with a POSITIVE result and performance.

The medical side of the club continue to work overtime. Scott Oakes, as we prepare these notes, continues his rehabilitation work and gets ready to join the group at the end of the week, whilst Darren Patterson has had his plaster removed, and his rehabilitation is a week behind in terms of getting back with the first team group.

John Taylor will yesterday (Friday) have seen the back specialist once again for clarification as to when he will need an operation to cure his lingering problems. Thus we have been looking for a replacement, and I never realised how difficult a job that is.

Of course our player requirements are changing all the time, last month it was a goalkeeper, now a striker, and prices being quoted in this country for non-established lower league players are out of our reach.

But there is a shortage of quality players, and with more clubs chasing fewer players you end up with a situation such as Gareth Taylor going from Bristol Rovers to Crystal Palace for nearly £2 million after approximately 40 senior games.

Premier League clubs are unwilling to release squad players in case of injury, and their values decreasing by being allowed out on loan, whilst the wages of a player at the top level who would be released are extremely high.

So attention turns to foreign players, as with Vilstrup who would not have been £205,000 in this country. But we can then be at the mercy of agents, and of course there is the 'three foreigner' rule to bear in mind, and we already have Feuer, Vilstrup and Guentchev in our team.

The search continues for a quality forward, one who is better than we have, can progress the club, and who will also have a re-sale value, and we have looked at a list of over 40 from the UK and Europe.

Meanwhile Matthew Woolgar has been released by mutual consent. This is always a difficult aspect of a manager's job. Matthew was an outstanding prospect at YTS level but unfortunately has not made the step up in the professional game, and we wish him well.

Turning our attentions back to today's game, however difficult you all may find it at the present time to really get behind the team, I plead for your support and encouragement.

Your support is vital, and as we said earlier let's kickstart our season off today and look for the all-important home win and three vital points.

Oakes aiming to striker it lucky!

SCOTT Oakes returned to training this week, looking forward to taking his place in the first team and in the role which catapulted him into many Premiership managers' thoughts during the Hatters 1994 FA Cup run.

Manager Terry Westley has made no secret that Oakes is a key figure in his side, but has had to do without the England Under-21 international so far this season following his hamstring injury in the pre-season friendly at Torquay.

Oakes failed a late fitness test prior to the season opener at home to Norwich, but a nagging pain in the hamstring resulted in a minor operation. He was back in training this week raring to go, but at the same time wary not to rush his rehabilitation.

"I didn't think it would take so long, but perhaps I rushed to get back and you have to bide your time with any injury," said Scott.

"I felt fine after Monday's session, and I'm looking forward to getting back into contention after a frustrating time on the sidelines. The manager hasn't changed his system, he has stuck by it, and hopefully I can fit into that role just behind the front players where I got my goals in the cup run."

LEADING THE LINE

by Club Captain STEVE DAVIS

REFEREE Neale Barry looks on as Town skipper Steve Davis lines up a shot against Wolves, at Molineux last Saturday.

TODAY it is vitally important to build on last week's good work at Wolves, and score our first win here at home.

We are all aware it has been a frustrating time for you the supporters, and I can tell you that all the players are desperately keen to do well and see the club at the other end of the table.

The spirit in the dressing room has been very good throughout, and everyone has remained focused on the task in hand throughout the past two weeks in training.

Not having a midweek game prior to the match at Molineux gave us a chance for some hard work on the training field, and in the end we were probably disappointed to only get a point from Wolves.

However that was nothing to the disappointment we all felt after the game against Sunderland.

From a personal point of view it was nice to see a former colleague of mine John Mullin doing well at his new club, but not that well!

We know we can and must do better, and are determined to do that today against Portsmouth.

It was good to see Scott Oakes and Darren Patterson back in training this week after injury, and these two can only strengthen our side in the weeks ahead.

A belated welcome to Johnny Vilstrup and to Ian Feuer, who have both settled in well.

Speaking as a defender it is vital to have a good understanding with the man behind you, and from day one Ian has been a reliable last line of defence.

Everyone is working hard to improve the situation, and we are confident of a change in fortune.

A big thank you to all the supporters who travelled to Wolves last week for your excellent vocal backing, and we look forward to giving you plenty to cheer this afternoon.

Keep up-to-date with all the news from Kenilworth Road on

FROM THE SECRETARY'S CHAIR with Cherry Newbery

WE will be playing two consecutive matches on a Sunday at the end of October, as the games at Ipswich and here against Charlton have both been selected for live television.

The match away at Ipswich Town has been switched from Saturday, October 21 to Sunday, October 22, with the kick-off time remaining at 3pm.

The match will be shown live on Anglia TV, and for ticket information for the trip to Portman Road please see opposite.

Our home game against Charlton has been switched from Saturday, October 28 to Sunday, October 29, with the kick-off time brought forward by five minutes to 2.55pm.

This match is currently being televised live by LWT, and we will advise you if, and when, we get confirmation from Anglia.

Televised matches are an important source of income for any club, and mean a great deal of extra work behind the scenes.

On the day itself, we will do our best to ensure that there is little or no inconvenience to spectators with the additional camera crews in and around the ground.

This afternoon's game starts a busy week of matches, with the Reserves in action at Stotfold on Monday in the Beds Premier Cup, and the youth team in Eastern Junior Cup action on Tuesday.

You can find full details of these matches on pages 30 and 31.

The Reserves are back here at Kenilworth Road on Wednesday, in the Avon Insurance Combination, at home to Bristol City, kick-off 7.30pm.

This afternoon we have a collection around the ground in aid of the Beds Olympic Appeal.

This worthy cause helps support our local athletes in their bid to reach the Olympic Games in Atlanta next year, and we thank you for your kind support.

A number of supporters have inquired about the Anglo-Italian Cup match in Italy next month, for the match against Genoa.

For those of you not travelling with either of the official trips, please contact me here at the club so I can advise on the match ticket situation.

Today's match programme also includes details of the trip to Cesena in November.

Meet the Manager

TERRY FENWICK joined Crystal Palace as an apprentice from school, and was a member of their back-to-back FA Youth Cup winning teams, scoring the winning goal on each occasion.

He made his first-team debut for the Eagles aged 16, and after 70 appearances was transferred to QPR.

At Loftus Road he won England U21 international caps, appearing in both FA and League Cup finals, and was club captain before joining Spurs in December 1988 to once again link up with Terry Venables.

Won 20 full international caps whilst at White Hart Lane, and after leaving Spurs in 1994 he had a brief spell at Swindon before being appointed manager of Portsmouth in February 1995 in succession to Jim Smith.

He guided Pompey away from the threat of relegation, and is now looking to build a team capable of challenging at the other end of the table.

For the Hatters and for Pompey...

Woking-born BRIAN LEWIS joined Crystal Palace from school and made his debut for the South London side as a teenager before moving to Portsmouth in 1963, and scoring 24 goals in 134 league games in just over three seasons.

He then went on to become Jimmy Hill's "final piece in the jigsaw" as Coventry City won promotion to Division One in 1967, and it was regarded as a tremendous coup by Luton manager Allan Brown when he was enticed to Kenilworth Road, for the then huge sum of £20,000, in the summer of 1968.

Newly-promoted from Division Four, the Town continued where they left off and narrowly missed out on further promotion, ably assisted by Lewis who finished as our top scorer in 1968/69.

A clever inside forward who also possessed a mean streak which can be confirmed by at least three opposition defenders who were sent off that season for retaliation!

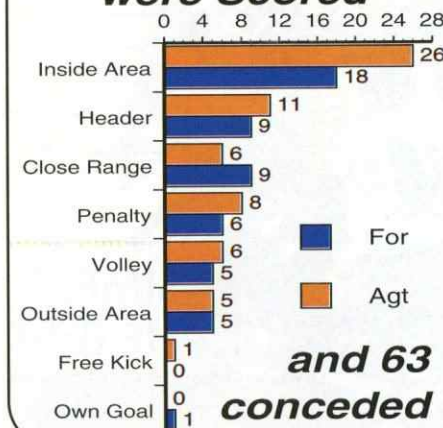

Falling out of favour under new manager Alec Stock, Lewis was transferred to Oxford in January 1970 and then onto Colchester later that year, just in time to star in the 'U's' famous FA Cup win over Leeds.

His final transfer took place in April 1972 when he returned to Portsmouth, where he made a further 58 league appearances, scoring eight goals. - ROGER WASH.

IAN Feuer in action on his Hatters debut at Millwall.

AND you thought Juergen was tall! When Ian Feuer's name was read out (incorrectly!) at Millwall there were a number of questions to be answered, writes SIMON OXLEY.

"Who?", "When?", "How tall?", and "How do you pronounce it?" were the most popular, as Terry Westley threw his new loan signing into the Lions' New Den.

Who? - Ian Feuer, 24, signed on loan from West Ham, where he was understudy to Ludek Miklosko, but due to restrictions on overseas players was kept off the bench by ex-Hatter Les Sealey.

When? - The day before the Millwall game, and initially for one month, as the Hatters looked for some experience to take the pressure off young Kelvin Davis, following Juergen Sommer's transfer to QPR.

How tall? - 6ft 7ins, compared to Juergen's 6ft 4ins, but like Sommer an American.

And what was the name again? - Feuer, pronounced foyer, as it hotel, not fear or fair, or even fever as announced on the Millwall PA system, although the latter was put down to the handwriting on the teamsheet!

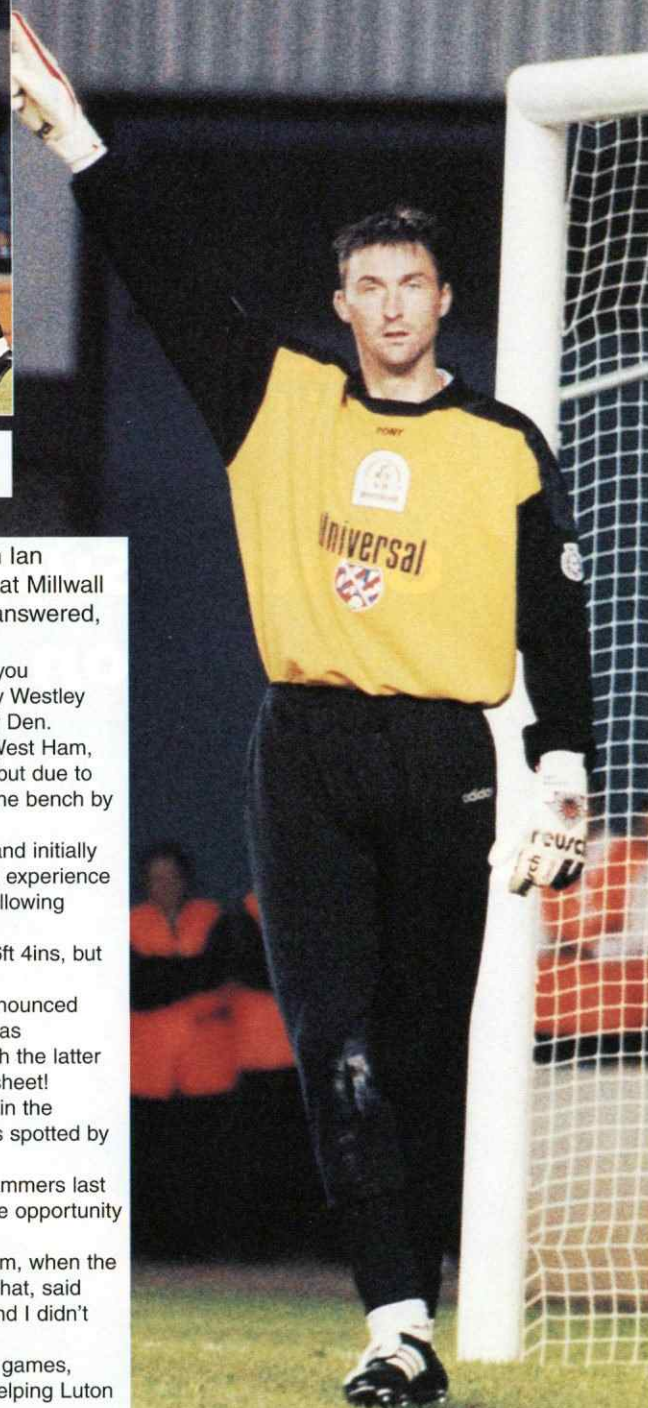

Born in Las Vegas, Ian Feuer played soccer in the flourishing junior set-up in the States, and was spotted by West Ham playing in Belgium.

But with Miklosko an ever-present for the Hammers last term, and so far this season, Ian jumped at the opportunity to come to Kenilworth Road.

"We were just training as normal at West Ham, when the manager Harry Redknapp asked me in for a chat, said Luton were interested in taking me on loan, and I didn't hesitate to make the move," said Ian.

"I am in the shop window now playing some games, getting more vital experience, and hopefully helping Luton up the table."

His debut at Millwall was impressive with fine first-half saves from Keith Stevens and Kerry Dixon, and, as the headline writers were hoping, Luton's gamble on the 'Vegas Kid' appeared to have paid off.

But Millwall substitute Chris Malkin had other ideas, and netted an 89th minute winner.

"I was pleased with my performance, but disappointed at not keeping a clean sheet," said Ian. "It was quiet for most of the second half until that last minute when Malkin broke through.

"It wasn't a clean strike, but because he scuffed the ball, it just threw me off balance a bit, but we deserved something more from the game. If Millwall are top of the league, we should be up there too."

Ian's Luton debut wasn't his league debut though, as despite not appearing in the West Ham first team, he was on loan last season at Peterborough where he played 16 games in Division Two.

This, ironically, after the Town's Fred Barber had suffered his serious shoulder injury whilst back on loan at London Road.

So from the New Den, Ian made his Kenilworth Road debut in the 2-0 defeat by Sunderland, but still managed a penalty save midway through the second half, after himself bringing down Roker striker John Mullin.

(Infact that was his second successive spot-kick save, as he kept out a penalty for West Ham against Brighton in the Avon Insurance Combination prior to his loan move).

Then to Wolves, where he played his part in the 0-0 draw, with a first-half save from Mark Atkins' free kick, and then in the last minute to deny Steve Bull.

Ian is enjoying his loan spell, and would like to stay, to further his prospects at international level after partnering Juergen on the recent USA trip to Sweden; although messrs Freidel, Keller and Sommer are currently ahead in the pecking order.

"I want to be playing week in, week out," said Ian.

"I am really enjoying this opportunity at Luton, and when you are enjoying it I think you play at your best."

Terry Westley has been similarly pleased.

"He is a hard-working player who has a real presence in the penalty area," said the Town manager.

"His loan spell ends after next week's trip to Tranmere, but we will certainly be asking West Ham to let us keep Ian for a further month."

INJURY UPDATE..... with LTFC physio Clive Goodyear

LEFT: Marvin Johnson had to leave the field after just five minutes against Millwall but, after missing the home game against Sunderland, was back in action at Wolves last Saturday.

I AM pleased to report that Scott Oakes and Darren Patterson are back in training.

Scott, after his minor hamstring operation, started rehabilitation work this week, and it has gone very well. We have to be careful not to overstretch the muscle too quickly, but at the time of writing he should be back in full training soon.

It is a similar situation for Darren, who has had the plaster taken off his achilles injury, and will now get to work on strengthening the muscles in his leg ready to resume training.

John Taylor's back injury has been widely reported, and after his battling performance at Wolves went to see the specialist in London on Monday.

He had an MRI scan, and we await the surgeon's verdict later in the week to see the extent of the damage, and whether he will require an operation.

Mitchell Thomas has been out for some time with an achilles injury but was due to play for the Reserves at West Ham on Tuesday, whilst Jamie Woodsford has overcome his wrist injury and played against Crystal Palace Reserves with protective strapping.

Des Linton came off against Sunderland with an ankle injury, but is now fit to resume, and Tony Thorpe should be back in full training later this week after his calf injury.

Marvin Johnson has also overcome an ankle injury. He had been suffering soreness for a little while, which was worsened by an early knock at Millwall which kept him out for the game against Sunderland. But he was back at Wolves last week.

All home matches to be played at Kenilworth Road until further notice.

THE Town's Reserve side lost 2-1 at Upton Park against West Ham on Tuesday evening.

Jamie Woodsford scored a first-half equaliser for the Hatters, but they were beaten by Don Hutchinson's second-half goal.

Mitchell Thomas was back in the Luton side after injury.

Team: Barber, Chenery, Thomas, Evers, James, Greene, McLaren, Waddock, Oldfield, G.Johnson, Woodsford.

The match at West ham followed last Wednesday's 1-0 defeat at Kenilworth Road against Crystal Palace.

The Londoners, who included £2 million summer signing from Millwall, Andy Roberts, in their ranks, scored the winner with nine minutes to go.

George Ndah created the opening for substitute Steve Taylor to score - Taylor who was poised to join Luton from non-league Bromsgrove in the summer, before opting to head further south to Selhurst Park.

Earlier, Kelvin Davis had produced several fine saves to keep Palace at bay, with Nathan Jones firing over just before Taylor's strike, and Sean Evers hit the bar in injury-time.

Team: Davis, Chenery, G.Johnson, Evers, Greene, McLaren, Alexander, Woolgar, Douglas, Woodsford, Jones.

Subs: (all used): Issott, Augustine, Willmott.

The Reserves are back in Combination action on Wednesday, here at Kenilworth Road, when Bristol City are the visitors, kick-off 7.30pm.

Defender Darren Patterson could play in that game, following his achilles injury.

But the Reserves are also in action on Monday, October 2, in the first round of the Beds Premier Cup.

We travel to Stotfold, and kick-off is 7.30pm.

The Luton youth side have been in high scoring form,

THEY SAID IT!

on LUTON TOWN CLUBCALL
0891 121 123

"IT'S a question of waiting to see what the specialist says about John Taylor before progressing further with a transfer or a loan regarding a front player.

"John is suffering with a trapped nerve which affects his running and jumping, and it isn't a surprise that he isn't the player we saw last season.

"The loan situation is difficult though, and we have enquired about a number of players, but without success.

"Managers are very wary about letting players go. Plus we can't have more than two players on loan at any one time, and Ian Feuer is already at the club on loan from West Ham, so we have to make any selection carefully." TERRY WESTLEY on the injury to John Taylor, and the possibility of bringing a player to the club on loan.

"IT wasn't a clean strike, but because he scuffed the ball, it just threw me off balance a bit, but we deserved something more from the game. If Millwall are top of the league, we should be up there too." IAN FEUER on his Luton Town debut in the 1-0 defeat at

Millwall when he was finally beaten by Chris Malkin's last minute winner.

IT'S nice to be back in training after over a month off.

"I didn't think it would take so long to get back, but each time I felt it getting better there was still a nagging pain when I stepped up from jogging to sprinting, so I had to have the operation to cure the problem.

"You have to bide your time with injuries, and perhaps I rushed to get back for the start of the season. But I'm looking forward to getting back in the team now, and playing in that role where I scored those goals in our cup run." SCOTT OAKES on his return to training after his hamstring injury.

"THEY are under pressure like us, and down at the bottom like us, but the players were hurt by the criticism they received after the game against Sunderland, and rightly so, and we have to make the situation worse for Wolves.

"We have to withstand their early pressure, and then get the ball down and play the way we want to play." TERRY WESTLEY looking ahead to the trip to Molineux.

Old boys try to spoil the party!

ABOVE: Jim Ryan (7) waits for the ball to drop during the Luton v Portsmouth clash in season 1973/74.

LUTON manager Harry Haslam was probably pleased to say goodbye to season 1972/73. After his players had promised so much we had ended up with nothing due, in the main, to an appalling run of injuries which affected the side at vital times.

With everyone now fit only two signings were made by Haslam in the summer of 1973; Peter Cruse on a free transfer from Arsenal, and Tom Finney from Crusaders, for the princely sum of £13,000, and it was Cruse who won a first-team call-up for the opening game at the City Ground, Nottingham.

A good number of Luton supporters made their way up the M1 spurred on by the normal close season hype, but they were rewarded with a disappointing display as Forest won 4-0 without having to break sweat.

Losing we could accept, but the performance was lacking in enthusiasm and as we trudged away from Nottingham talk was not of promotion, but of a long, hard winter ahead.

Although Harry Haslam gave the outside impression of being everyone's favourite uncle, he could be a tyrant if the situation dictated and I can imagine it would have been interesting to be a fly on the wall in the dressing room afterwards, and to be present at the training ground over the next week.

Only 7,231 turned up at Kenilworth Road to see the visit of Carlisle the following Saturday, but what ever had been said by Haslam seemed to have worked as the players put on an amazing display going in at the interval 6-0 up!

Tom Finney, replacing Cruse in the forward line, became an instant hero by scoring two, with John Aston, Barry Butlin and Peter Anderson (also with two), completing the rout in a 23-minute spell against a side we had never beaten before.

In the next game, away at Bristol City, the players maintained their new found form and emerged easy 3-1 winners with that man Finney scoring again, and he was on target as we returned to Nottingham for a midweek game against newly-promoted County and fought hard for a point in a 1-1 draw.

By now the press were beginning to take notice and the combination of a goal a game, and an irresistible name, earmarked Tom Finney for closer scrutiny.

Luton supporters also turned out in numbers for the visit of Portsmouth to Kenilworth Road in the next game, pushing the attendance up to 11,552.

Pompey had not started the season particularly well despite some big money buys, with two draws and two defeats the reward for a loyal crowd of supporters that was still averaging just short of 20,000 for home games. We welcomed back old boys Ron Davies, now nearing the end of a great career, and Brian Lewis who had been a Kenilworth Road favourite as the Town took Division Three by storm in 1968/69.

The Town started the game like world-beaters but it was Portsmouth who took the lead in the 17th minute when the experienced Bobby Kellard curled a shot past Graham Horn in the Luton goal. But we stormed back and equalised after 33 minutes when skipper and fullback Bobby Thomson hit a rare and exquisite volley, surprising both the Pompey defence and the Luton supporters!

We went in front when Alan Garner headed home a Jim Ryan corner a couple of minutes later, and the players went in at half-time feeling that the storm had been weathered.

Unfortunately Garner gifted an equaliser to Pompey early in the second period when he handled in the area, and old boy Lewis stepped up to score from the spot, although Horn did get a hand to the ball.

Disaster followed when Davies, beating Luton centre-half John Faulkner for just about the only time that afternoon, headed Pompey in front, and it then took an amazing goal-line diving header from defender Don Shanks to prevent the scoreline having an embarrassing, and unfair, look to it.

That 'save' gave Luton hope and as Portsmouth sat back to protect their lead it was left to that man Finney who, anxious to maintain his scoring run, stabbed home the Town's third goal after 75 minutes.

The players pressed for the winner and attempted to put pressure on the injured Pompey goalkeeper Ron Tilsed (it was later revealed that he had played the last 20 minutes with a broken arm), but a goal would not come so both sides had to settle for a point.

Harry Haslam later admitted that he was about to bring off Finney shortly before he equalised as he thought the player had faded badly, and was struggling!

"Part-time" fear after Bosman court ruling

TOWN chairman David Kohler: "Luton can only survive from transfer profits."

LUTON Town chairman David Kohler has warned that the club could be forced to go part-time if the Jean-Marc Bosman ruling is applied throughout football.

And the Belgian's initial European court victory, which if confirmed could scrap transfer fees for players out of contract, was met with a similar response from the Football League.

Mr Kohler pointed out that Luton can only survive at present from transfer profits.

"We require transfer trading profits to bridge the gap between what fans will pay and what the true running costs are," said the Hatters' chairman.

"If players become free agents and there are no transfer fees then the club would have to go part-time in order to reduce the wage bill, and I think the players and their representatives will see that is not in their interests.

"We require between £800,000 and £1 million each year to subsidise what comes through the turnstiles to meet what it costs to run the club.

"For example this summer, we received £1.15 million for Paul Telfer when he moved, out of contract, to Coventry when the fee was decided by tribunal. In the future we could get nothing for a player we have spotted, developed and brought into the team."

The League stated that confirmation of the Bosman ruling would threaten the livelihoods of the vast majority of players in this country, and they have urged the rest of Europe to adopt the agreement used in this country whereby, as in Telfer's case, a transfer fee is received for an out of contract player - either agreed between clubs or decided at tribunal.

"Part-time football would be the inevitable consequence for many clubs," said League secretary David Dent.

"Last season Football League clubs alone profited to the tune of £9 million (net) from the transfer market, revenue which effectively is the lifeblood to all but a handful of sides at the very top level.

"The Bosman situation could not have arisen here, and every season several hundred players exercise their right to find an alternative club.

"Hopefully, good sense will prevail in the end, for the sake of football and the future of tomorrow's players."

'Breakaway' clubs warned to stop the sabre-rattling!

LAST week's speculation of a further breakaway from the Football League has been criticised by league officials and clubs.

Leicester City hosted a meeting of six clubs, and have now extended this to a meeting of all the league clubs to be held next month.

But the meeting between Leicester, Stoke, Crystal Palace, Millwall, Oldham and Wolves was described as "sabre-rattling which undermines the League's position," by secretary David Dent.

"The Football League's strongest position is to remain united and with its unrivalled geographical spread and significant level of support, every club throughout the three divisions will benefit," said Mr Dent.

"We recognise that our leading sides need to be given the platform to compete in the Premiership, but already the League's merit system of distributing revenue ensures the First Division would receive over 50% of new income.

"Negotiations are on-going, and speculation of unrest is unhelpful and damaging."

A warm welcome to Kenilworth Road to this afternoon's match and matchball sponsors

WELCOME TO OUR MATCHDAY MASCOT

THIS afternoon we have a second Luton Town mascot, in addition to our Junior Hatters mascot. He is JOSEPH WOODS, who attends Ashdown Middle School, and plays for Parkside FC. Joseph's favourite Luton player is Dwight Marshall. (For details about Commercial Mascots, please contact Kathy Leather on 01582 411622).

THIS afternoon we welcome Match Sponsors DENVERGLAZE and the LUTON CLEANING COMPANY, and Matchball Sponsors from TOP RANK.

We trust they and their guests will have an enjoyable afternoon.

DENVERGLAZE are one of the longest established window companies in the area, and have come a long way since their formation in 1982.

They have a 40,000 sq ft factory in Crescent Road, with 11 sales offices from Milton Keynes to Chingford, with an annual turnover of £7 million.

Their company policy of "Quality and Service" is backed by BSI kitemarks, and an insurance backed guarantee.

They recently launched their Denvergaurd range of high security windows and doors.

LUTON CLEANING COMPANY are delighted to welcome their guests from Taylors Estate Agents.

Taylors are the area's leading estate agents with four local offices in the Luton and Dunstable area.

Many of the company's staff are keen Luton supporters, despite their Managing Director Steve Annells being a lifelong Portsmouth fan!

However, they are confident he will be flying the Luton flag for the day!

Today's matchball sponsorship comes from the TOP RANK club in Dunstable Road, just a stones throw away from the ground.

Their sporting gesture celebrates National Bingo Week, the annual industry event in which bingo clubs up and down the country have been raising charity cash with a host of ambitious stunts.

According to the Dunstable Road club general manager Alan Gunney, bingo has reached new heights of popularity in the UK. It is now the second biggest pastime next to fishing, with nearly three million people playing regularly.

And at half-time today, it's eyesdown for a penalty shoot-out between Dunstable Road and the other local Top Rank club in Skimpot Road.
