Danny Wilson

THE BEHAVIOUR of a tiny majority of our fans on Tuesday night was appalling. I thought we had rid ourselves of that kind of hooliganism. The scenes we saw were absolutely disgraceful and have no place in our football grounds.

The perpetrators should be banned for life. And I will do everything I can to see that this happens, whether the guilty people are spectators or stewards.

We are doing everything we can at this club to try to encourage families to come and watch. Then young children have to witness the scenes we saw during the Portsmouth game. And I will simply not tolerate it.

I hope the vast majority of decent people amongst you will not tolerate it either. If you know who the guilty ones are then point them out. We don't need them, and we don't want them.

Barnsley Football Club are the main sufferers in all this. If it is judged that the club cannot control the fans then we could face a ban, or the fences could go back up. And we can ill afford that. But if people act like animals they cannot complain if they are treated like animals.

The best way to solve the problem, however, would be to simply get rid of them. And that's what we aim to do.

The game itself was a disappointment as well. It was so frustrating. Just as much for me as it was for you. Possibly more so. Portsmouth didn't come to play. They came to keep it tight, and do everything they could to prevent us from playing.

I am not offering that as an excuse. We knew it would be like that. We expected it. And it was up to us to break them down, which we failed to do. But it is a fact, nevertheless.

We were very poor in the first half, but I thought we did enough in the second to win it and was bitterly disappointed that we didn't.

The plus point was that we again kept a clean sheet, for the third time in four games, and the three lads at the back are now looking much more solid. They are working together as a unit and that is something to build on.

Unfortunately it seems to have had an adverse effect on our attacking play and now we need to work on that to get the points flowing again.

This afternoon, as I extend a warm welcome to Luton Town manager Terry Westley and his players, as well as the fans of the club, I know we can expect a similar type of game to the one on Tuesday. Like Portsmouth, Luton are struggling near the bottom of the table and they will not come here to make it easy for us.

Once again the onus will be on us to break them down. But we must not put pressure on ourselves by thinking it's a game we've simply got to win or else ..... we have to relax, be patient and play the right kind of football.

I know our recent run has been disappointing, but we are still in a better position than we were at the same stage of last season. We are only half-a-dozen points short of the promotion play-off places. And there are a lot more points to play for before the end of the season. No team has ever won promotion in November.

AROUND OAK WELL

NEWS, VIEWS, PHOTOGRAPHS OF ALL THE HAPPENINGS INVOLVING THE REDS

COMING SOON

AFTER today's game with Luton, the Reds will be back on their travels again for two away fixtures against Leicester City and Derby County.

The next First Division encounter at Oakwell will therefore be on Saturday, December 16, when Charlton Athletic will be the visitors.

Fifteenth last season, Charlton are again hovering around the mid-table mark, and that is the best they can hope for unless they improve on their league goalscoring record.

Defensively solid, they are finding it difficult to score goals, with only 19 to their credit in the first 17 games of the season, five of them coming in one game - a 5-1 away victory over Ipswich Town.

That makes it all the more remarkable that they scored eight goals against Premier League side Wimbledon in the Coca Cola Cup to record an 8-7 aggregate victory over two legs.

One of the finds of the season is 18-years-old England Youth international midfielder Lee Bowyer, who joined the professional ranks last season - a year earlier than normal - from the youth team.

He made his debut in the Coca Cola Cup against Swindon and his Football League debut came the following week in the home game with Watford. He made five other first team appearances last term.

Now he has made the breakthrough on a more regular basis and his form has attracted the attention of some of the top clubs.

As well as being comfortable on the ball, with first-class distribution, he is also the leading scorer, with a total of nine at the time of writing, including a Coca Cola Cup hat-trick.

A MESSAGE FROM BOSNIA

Private Paul Kelly is currently serving in Bosnia, but the Reds are never far from his thoughts, even at such a distance, and he has written to ask if we would print a small message in Oakwell Review.

The message is simply: "Hi, there, to my dad, John (Whiskey John) Kelly, and my two younger brothers, Lee and Mark. I'll see you after my tour ends in May."

Paul adds that he would also like, along with his mate, Andy Tallant, to ask all the people back home to get behind the team. They are both looking forward to sitting amongst the fans in the ORA Stand.

Man of the People?

NOT QUITE WRIGHT

HEARTS midfielder George Wright, who had been having a trial at Oakwell, has been allowed to return to Scotland.

Manager Danny Wilson felt he was not quite what he was looking for after watching him in the reserves.

Injury has also brought at least a temporary halt to the club's interest in Dutchman Wilko Hellinger, who took a knock on the ankle after 25 minutes of an under 21 friendly at West Brom and was sent back home to recuperate.

One of the younger players, YTS recruit Richard Cannon, has returned home to New Zealand. The club released him because he was feeling homesick.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS

Congratulations this week to reserve team midfield player David Brooke, who celebrated his 20th birthday on Thursday, and colleague Luke Beckett, who is 19 today.

Other birthday boys this month are David Watson, who was 22 on the 10th and Brendan O'Connell, 29 on the 12th.

OUR THOUGHTS AND PRAYERS ARE WITH JACKO

YOU will all be aware that our 19-years-old striker Chris Jackson is still in a critical condition in hospital following a car accident nearly a fortnight ago.

It has obviously affected everyone at the club. We are all deeply shocked and upset. And there is a feeling of helplessness as 'Jacko' fights for his life.

The fact that he is young and so very fit gives him a chance.

Despite the uncertainty we felt it was only right that there should be some mention of Jacko in our match-day magazine on this occasion to highlight the fact that he is to the forefront of all our thoughts.

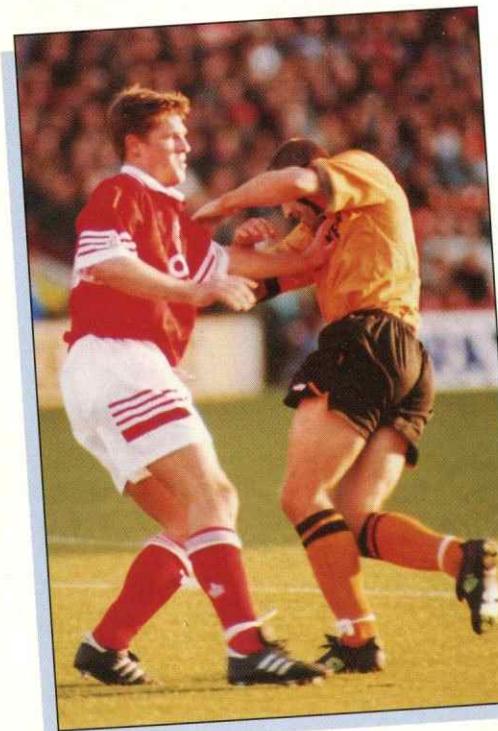

It is a particularly painful and worrying time for his family and his girlfriend, Rebecca, who was also in the car but thankfully was not seriously injured, and we offer them all our help and support.

We hope that you will all join us in thinking about Jacko and praying for his recovery.

CAN YOU HELP?

Keith Davies is a disabled Leeds United supporter who is currently researching a book about the Elland Road Club.

The book is based on managers' comments and player pen pictures from home and away programmes.

Having supported Leeds since the 1958-59 season, Keith has hundreds of home programmes. The problem is getting hold of away programmes, which are essential for his research.

Keith tells us: "The project is proving to be enormously enjoyable and extremely therapeutic as I am, sadly, unable to work. "Hopefully the book will be of interest to all true football fans, as there will be a section about most clubs."

If anyone can help Keith with offers of programmes he can be contacted at 23, Holmsley Avenue, South Kirkby, Pontefract, West Yorkshire WF9 3HU, or on 01977 645122.

TALKING SOCCER

AFTER the match at Elm Park last Saturday I embarked on my usual search for a player to interview on Hallam FM.

Last season I had managed to grab one outside the dressing room and we had a good natter about the Reds' excellent 3-0 win.

So I made my way to that same area, only to be met by a closed blue door. On opening it I was confronted with the dreaded 'Jobsworth'.

"Can't come in here", he said.

"But I just want to get a Barnsley player for interview on local radio."

"Well, you can't get one in here."

Undaunted, I queried: "Right, then. Where can I get one?"

"They'll go out of the dressing rooms straight into the coach behind the stand."

"But I need to take someone to the Press Box to interview down the line. It seems silly to go outside and then have to come back in again. In any case, by the time the players are making for the coach it may be too late."

"Can't help that. You can't come in here."

He then relented - just a little. "You might be able to get somebody in the players' lounge", he suggested.

Was this a light at the end of the players' tunnel?

"How do I get there?"

Right at the end of the stand, turn right, then right again. But they don't always go in there." He paused. "Who do you want?"

I suggested a name to him.

"I'll see what I can do," he said. And closed the door.

Five minutes later Danny Wilson emerged, obviously having been instructed to meet the rest of the Press corps outside on the surround track, in the freezing cold. After sitting in on his interview with my daily and Sunday paper colleagues I told him of my search for a star.

"Leave it to me," he said. And less than a minute later out popped David Watson.

Interview eventually completed, equipment packed away, I tried to beat a hasty retreat, but found the exit chained up.

So I made my way back to the tunnel, where I came across Reading's joint manager Jimmy Quinn.

"Excuse me," I asked. "The door where I came in is locked. What's the best way out?"

He pointed down the tunnel. "Through that door, turn left, then right."

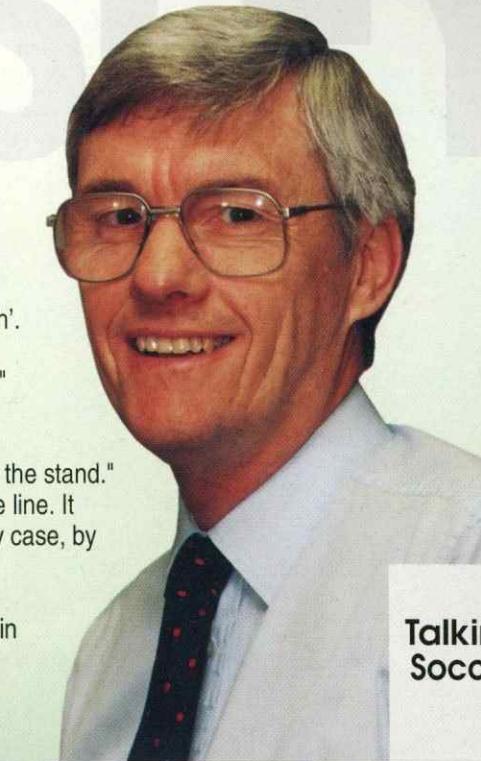

I opened the door - and there he was.

"Where are you going?"

"Er, I'm on my way out. Jimmy Quinn told me to come this way."

"No, not this way. You can't come in here...."

PROFILE

David Watson

DAVID WATSON thought his last chance to play for England Under 21s had gone when Oldham's Paul Gerrard was again preferred for a recent European Championship qualifying game.

The Barnsley goalkeeper therefore philosophically accepted the consolation of an appearance for the Endsleigh League Under 21 side to play their Italian Serie B counterparts in the Mitre Challenge at Huddersfield's McAlpine Stadium on the same night.

Imagine his frustration, therefore, when Gerrard pulled out of the England game through injury and, because Wattie was committed to the Endsleigh League encounter, it was Aston Villa 'keeper Michael Oakes who was, instead, called up to deputise for the lad from Boundary Park.

For David there will be no more opportunities to play at that level. He celebrated his 22nd birthday on the 10th of this month and is therefore now too old.

He told Review: "It was an honour to be called up for the Endsleigh League side, and I enjoyed the experience, particularly as my clubmate Martin Bullock was also in the side and laid on the cross which produced our goal in the first half.

"We should, perhaps, have gone on to win it from there, but in the end had to settle for a 1-1 draw. I thought I did well and it was a good night.

"Having said all that, it was tough to miss out on playing for my country. That's where you want to be. At the top. Not many people get the opportunity, and this was the last for me at this level.

"Next step is the senior scene. And a lot can happen meantime. I have to maintain my place at club level for a start, and continue to impress. It will be important to keep my name to the forefront. I have shown what I am capable of and people at international level have seen that and have appreciated it.

"But I know it will be a few years before I can start to seriously challenge the top players in the country for a place in the full England team.

"David Seaman is deservedly number one at the moment. He is the best there is. He is so unflappable. Nothing seems to bother him. He is a top-class 'keeper, with Tim Flowers not far behind."

Wattie was thrilled to play opposite Seaman in the Coca Cola Cup tie at Oakwell last month and was very impressed with him on that occasion. He was only disappointed he did not get the chance to have a chat with him.

That was also the night he faced up to Denis Bergkamp, Ian Wright and co. Those two alone are enough to put the frighteners on any goalkeeper. So how did Wattie shape up to the task?

"I didn't feel any different to any other game. There was no additional nervousness. You are always tense before kick-off but it disappears once the first whistle goes and that's exactly how it was on this occasion. If you go into a game worrying about the opposition's firepower then you're simply asking for trouble.

"It was good experience for me, no doubt about that. And for the team as a whole. I thought we did well overall, although we conceded three bad goals. Against one of the best teams in the country generally we did o.k. We did ourselves justice, especially in the first half-an-hour."

Conceding goals has, of course, been a big problem this season, and as the last line of defence Wattie has had to take some good-natured stick. So what has been the cause of the trouble?

"The defence has not functioned well as a unit. We were simply not getting it together. We have worked really hard at our defending in recent weeks and now there is a better understanding. Everyone can see that for themselves. We are finally keeping clean sheets and we look really solid at the back now. The hard work is paying off.

"As a goalkeeper I take it personally if a goal goes past me. And it naturally affects confidence when you are conceding so many. Now I'm much more confident again. I go out feeling that the other side isn't going to score. And that goes for the rest of the lads at the back.

"Arian - I'm not going to try to pronounce the rest of his name - has come in and done a really good job. He's settled in quickly and well and he's a really nice lad. He can speak better English than me, so language isn't a problem, although he's probably learned one or two words that weren't in his vocabulary before he came to Barnsley!

"He's got a bullet header as well, as he showed at Blundell Park. That's probably the best goal that's been put past me all season. I never saw it."

Wattie has missed just one game this season, as a result of his sending-off against Birmingham, and he is still upset about that.

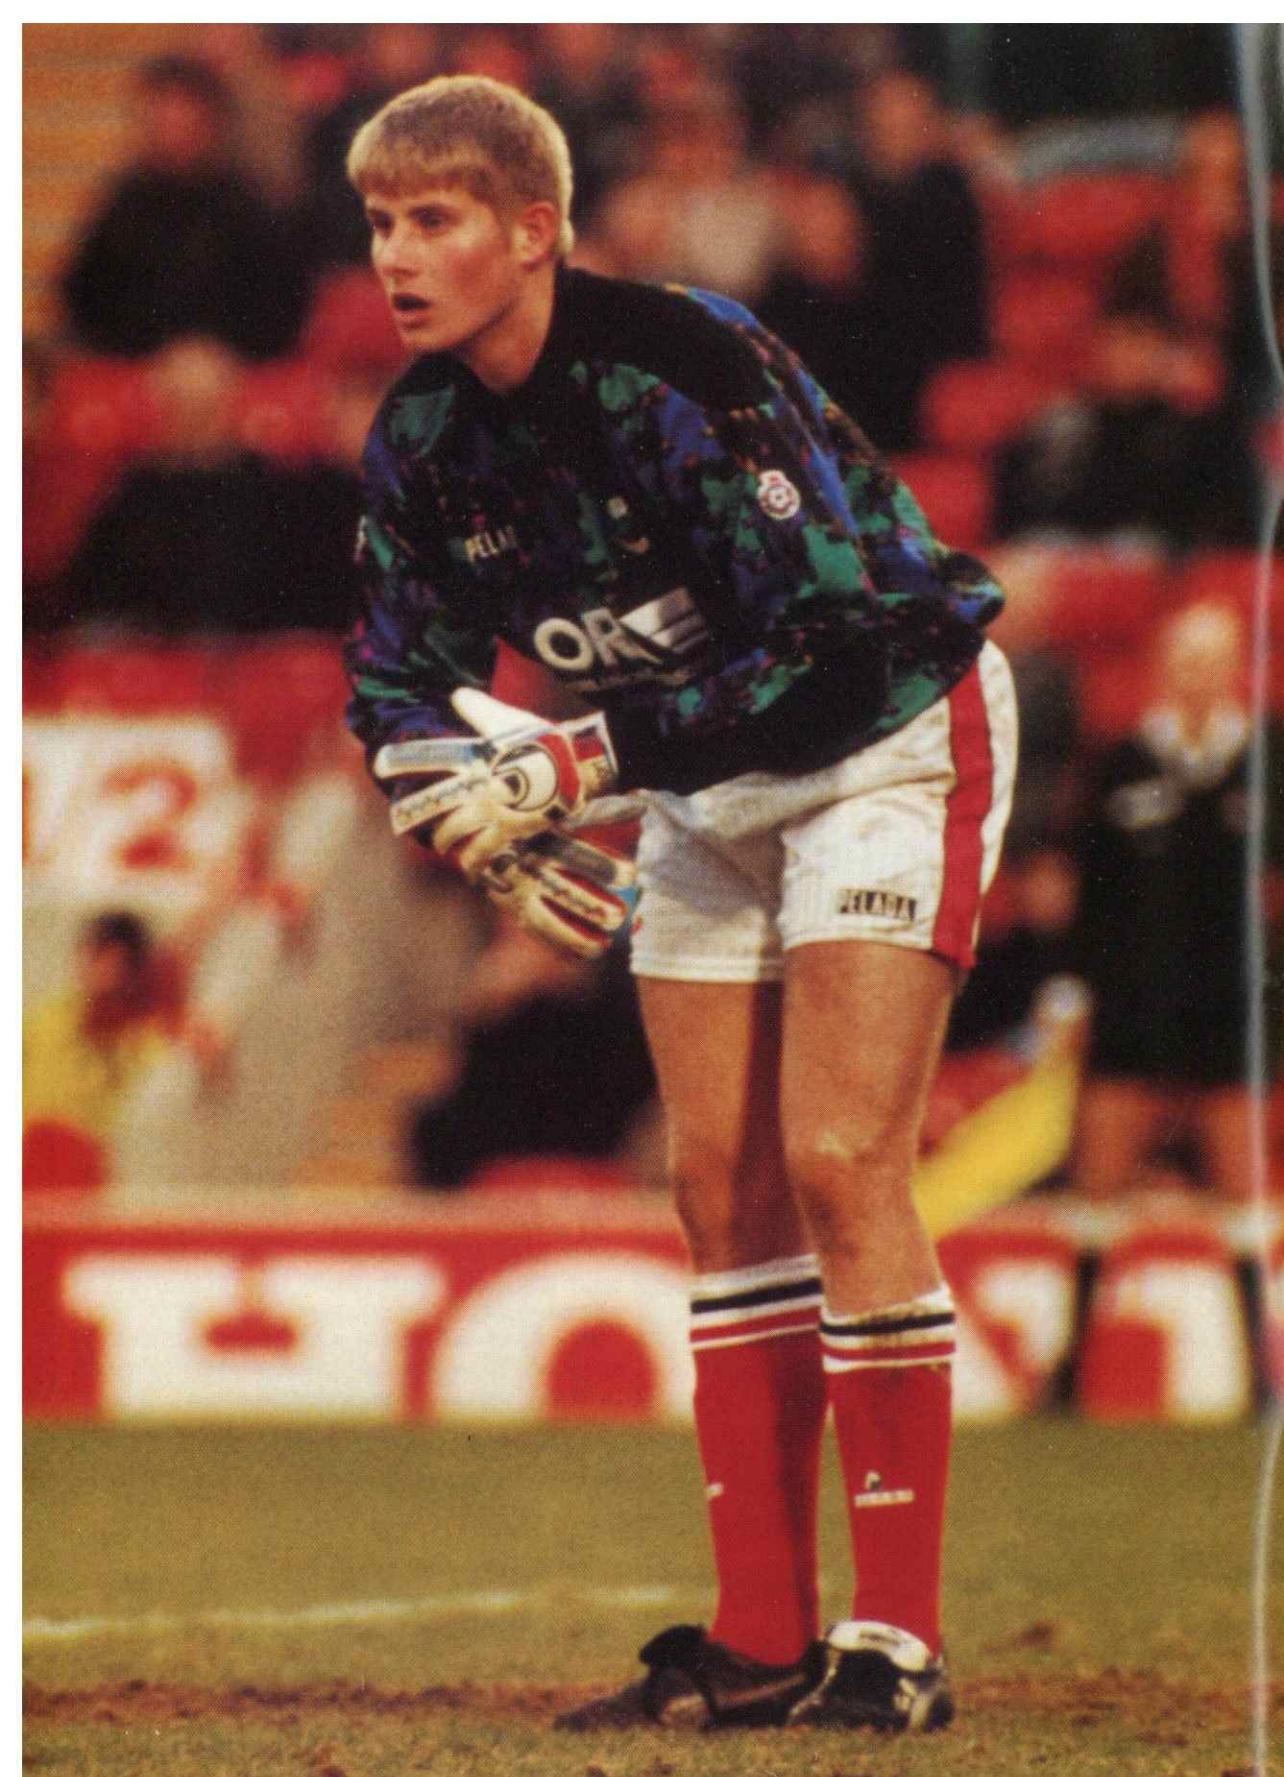

"It was the first time in my career from schoolboy days onwards that I'd ever been sent off. And it was harder to take because I honestly never touched the Birmingham player. Even if I had done I think it is sufficient punishment in those situations to award a penalty, with perhaps a booking. But never a sending-off."

Although the Blues inflicted the season's biggest defeat on the Reds that day - 5-0 - it is Leicester City who have impressed Wattie so far and he fancies them to win automatic promotion, despite recent set-backs, along with Mick McCarthy's Millwall.

"Then it's going to be a mad scramble for the play-off spots and we've still got a very good chance of claiming one of them, although we have to start winning games at home."

Incidentally, Wattie has just bought a new house at Darton. And he likes it there. He's settled. Which suggests that he's happy enough at Oakwell for a while yet, with another year of his contract to run.

It is good news for both club and supporters that one of the best young goalkeepers in the country has no immediate plans to move anywhere else.

Football in the Community

STEVE LISTER REPORTING

DANNY WILSON, manager of Barnsley Football Club, current Barnsley players and a number of ex-footballers representing the PFA joined representatives from Barnsley City Challenge and Barnsley Metropolitan Borough Council to launch a new partnership last Thursday.

The partnership between Barnsley City Challenge, Barnsley Football in the Community and Barnsley Football Club launched a scheme aimed at bringing a wide range of training, sports and recreational activities to the residents of the North East Corridor.

The scheme, which will be operated by Barnsley Football in the Community, has been funded by a City Challenge grant to provide a range of football coaching and training opportunities to schools and local football teams in the City Challenge area. It will also cover an extensive range of other sporting activities with many of these being aimed at girls and women. Alongside this, the scheme will provide training for unemployed adults to work towards NVQ qualifications in the Sport and Recreation field.

Councillor Roy Robinson, Chair of the City Challenge Community Forum, who approved the grant, said: "This scheme demonstrates how the private and public sectors can work together for the benefit of the community. Barnsley Football in the Community has long enjoyed funding from a number of private sector investors, including the PFA and Pizza Hut with a major contribution from Barnsley Football Club.

"The City Challenge grant has allowed this exciting project to be targeted in the North East Corridor, where residents have increasingly requested more opportunities for sport and recreational activities. It will also help unemployed adults to acquire training which will assist them towards future employment. With this scheme, everybody wins!"

Danny Wilson said: "This is a great new idea and everybody at Barnsley Football Club is delighted to be supporting it."

Chris Patzelt, Barnsley Football Club assistant secretary added: "For many years Barnsley Football Club has recognised that its role extends far beyond simply playing football. This new joint venture enhances the Club's existing projects, will enable so many more people to benefit and can only be good for the town of Barnsley."

Steve Lister, Co-ordinator, Barnsley Football in the Community, summed it up by saying: "This unique partnership will enable Barnsley Football in the Community to expand on the opportunities we can now offer to an area of Barnsley which has previously suffered due to the lack of funds, manpower and a major transport problem. We now have the services of a minibus which will allow our organisation to visit schools and bring into Barnsley Football Club, groups of children to take part in activities and coaching sessions, encouraging both boys and girls to become equally involved and interested in the game of football, and other sporting activities."

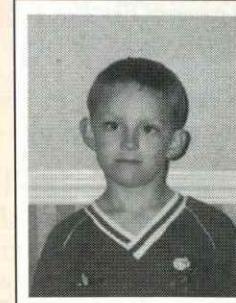

The launch took place at Oakwell where there were also coaching sessions run by Barnsley Football in the Community with children from Birkwood Primary School, Cudworth.

The presentation of the keys to a new minibus purchased for the scheme with funds from City Challenge and T.C. Harrison was made by Councillor Steve Houghton, Deputy Leader BMBC, and Councillor Roy Robinson, Chair of the Community Forum and City Challenge Board member.

TODAY'S MASCOT

EIGHT-YEARS-OLD Daniel Addy achieved one of his ambitions by sponsoring the match ball for the Barnsley v Sunderland game on Friday, March 24th, of this year.

Daniel, who lives in Summer Lane and attends St. Mary's School in Stocks Lane, watches the Reds both home and away.

He is football crazy and is interested in all other sports.

His favourite player is still Danny Wilson, although he is still, of course, waiting for his first glimpse of him in that capacity this season!

Enjoy the day, Daniel. .

BARNSLEY v PORTSMOUTH Tuesday, 21st November, 1995

For the second time in a matter of weeks a small minority of spectators at Oakwell have seen fit to tarnish the proud name of Barnsley Football Club.

Incidents that occurred during Tuesday night's match with Portsmouth were unwarranted, unwelcome and clearly unacceptable.

The incident during the first half of Tuesday's match started when, a senior steward was deployed to eject from the ground a supporter who had been using foul and abusive language and had made racist remarks aimed at Portsmouth players.

The decision to eject was only taken after the individual had failed to respond to a number of requests to moderate his language. After much persuasion it appeared that the person concerned accepted that he should leave the ground and rose to his feet. At that point a number of his friends/acquaintances physically attacked the stewards who were dealing with the ejection. Eventually the stewards were able to restrain three of the offenders and they were removed from the ground and taken to Barnsley Police Station. Sadly, while the ejection was taking place a steward committed an act which was totally unacceptable to the club and any other reasonably minded person. That steward has been dismissed.

Over the last few years Police Officers on duty at football matches have been reduced in numbers countrywide. Oakwell has been no exception and South Yorkshire Police's confidence in the club's ground and crowd management policies has enabled them to reduce their manning levels substantially.

Stewards at Oakwell are Barnsley people, recruited locally. Indeed, many supporters will have seen the recruitment adverts which have appeared from time to time in the local press. The myth, put forward by some supporters, that our stewards all come from Sheffield is simply not correct. They are employed by a national company, based in Buckinghamshire, whose reputation is exemplary.

The duties performed by stewards are many and varied. They include the need to ensure the safety and wellbeing of supporters, the management of crowds and compliance with national ground regulations as well as assisting in the maintenance of public order. These tasks are often performed in difficult circumstances and their roles can be greatly assisted by the co-operation of supporters.

The last three years has seen the club make great strides forward. The public of Barnsley now has a stadium that is the envy of many and a team with a well earned reputation for playing attractive, attacking football. These factors have led to an upsurge in attendances at Oakwell with many new supporters and families coming to home matches. It is the club's wish to see this positive trend continue.

Sadly, the current season has also seen the return to Oakwell of a number of hardcore hooligans. It is Barnsley Football Club's firm belief that the anti-social behaviour of such people, a good number of whom were present at the Portsmouth match, plays no part in the future of our club - or indeed that of any club.

The incidents which occurred on Tuesday were filmed on the clubs closed circuit television system and it is the intention of the Police to review the video tapes thoroughly and to make further arrests.

The three people who were arrested on Tuesday are no longer welcome at Oakwell and they have been advised accordingly.

The actions of a small minority must not and will not be allowed to spoil the enjoyment of football by genuine, law-abiding supporters. Your co-operation in helping us to achieve this aim and to identify those responsible is greatly appreciated.

SAFETY MESSAGE

BARNSLEY Football Club takes very seriously the safety of all spectators during their visit to Oakwell.

In order to assist us, please comply with the instructions of stewards, the Police or any safety message broadcast over the public address system.

Make sure you know the location of your nearest exit and please remain seated throughout the game. Standing on seats, in any gangway or aisle marked with yellow paint is strictly prohibited.

Any supporter requiring medical attention should make their way to the St. John Ambulance Brigade staff who can be found around the pitch perimeter track. Supporters in the East Stand Upper Tier should make their way to the first aid post, located close to Stairtower B, towards the centre of the stand. Alternatively, contact any steward. A fully equipped first aid room is located on the lower concourse of the East Stand.

Enjoy the game.

RACIST BEHAVIOUR AND RACIST CHANTING AT OAKWELL

FOR some time now we at Barnsley Football Club have been aware that a very small number of people attending matches at Oakwell have indulged in racist chanting and the making of so-called 'monkey noises' at coloured players playing for the opposition.

The club's policy in these matters has always been to keep a low profile and not drawing too much attention to those incidents in the hope that lack of attention given to those perpetrating this type of behaviour would encourage them to desist.

However, that policy appears not to have worked and the club and the town have received much unfavourable publicity due to serious racial abuse directed at coloured players playing for Arsenal in our recent match against them.

Therefore, Barnsley Football Club wishes to make it quite clear that racist abuse of any kind will not be tolerated within the Oakwell ground.

We would like to point out that racist behaviour within any football ground is an offence under the Football Offences Act, 1991, and those responsible are liable to be ejected from the ground, prosecuted and banned from the ground for life.

We do not want to be associated with those who perpetrate this type of behaviour. They must surely realise that they cast a stain on the good name of Barnsley Football Club, the town and the people of Barnsley. We therefore, urge people very strongly to desist from this type of behaviour.

Barnsley Football Club

Childhood killer highlighted by John Marshall

THE DEATH of teenage footballer John Marshall could help save the lives of other young sports stars.

He was killed by a congenital heart defect - a time-bomb in his own body - which could have been detected by a simple scan.

His mother Maureen said: "Football clubs and other sports bodies are investing a lot of money in these young athletes. For the sake of simple screening, precious lives could be saved."

Sixteen-years-old John, one of Britain's foremost emerging football talents, and an England schoolboy international, died inexplicably in the summer on the day he was due to join Everton Football Club.

Launching a joint national heart scanning campaign by the charity CRY and ultrasound manufacturers Acuson, his parents confirmed that he died of a heart defect called cardiomyopathy.

Cardiomyopathies are killing at least four young people each week in the UK, many of whom are active in football, such as Daniel Yorath, 15, son of Welsh football manager Terry Yorath, who had signed to play for Leeds United Football Club and died suddenly whilst playing football in the garden at home; Ian Bell, 16, had just signed for Hartlepool FC when he died during a game; and David Longhurst, 25, a York City footballer who died during a televised match.

Up to 10,000 people, the majority young, are unaware that they are at risk. The heart defects cause sudden death when the heart has been stressed by extreme physical exercise.

Kevin Keegan, manager of Newcastle United football club said: "John was an outstanding athlete, the last person you would expect to have a heart problem, but he is typical of the youngsters at risk. Too many youngsters are dying and it's time something was done."

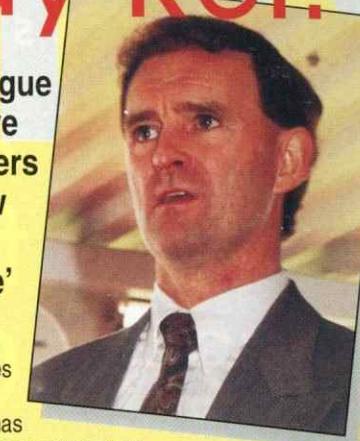

Acuson, have made the campaign possible by providing machines free of charge for public scanning sessions in the coming year. What is needed, is the commitment of professional sporting bodies and funds to establish an on-going, routine heart scanning problem.

CRY founder, Alison Cox said: "We've set up a John Marshall Memorial Fund to help finance a national mobile scanning unit, to find defects and prevent these deaths."

Donations to the John Marshall Memorial Fund can be made, care of Alison Cox at CRY, P.O. Box 28, Ashtead, Surrey, KT21 1BW. Telephone 01372 276187. The charity C.R.Y. Cardiac Risk in the Young, is registered in England No. 3052985.

Nay Ref!

National League Referee Steve Lodge answers with the view of the 'man in the middle'

AS THE season gradually approaches the half-way stage round about Christmas spectators always start making their predictions about which team is likely to win titles in the respective English divisions, even though a lot can happen in the rest of the campaign.

Easter tends to be the time for making 'firm suggestions', and as most managers will say: "It's never over until the final ball is kicked."

In the Premier League everyone seems to be predicting Newcastle United. Having refereed their opening away game of the season at Bolton, which they won well by 4-1, I was very impressed.

By the time you read this article I shall have had a second view of their talents as referee for their match with Aston Villa at Villa Park.

Villa, under the much-admired Brian Little, have been transformed from last season, when they looked like relegation candidates, to a side capable of making a possible champions challenge.

Another side that has impressed me this term is Liverpool, who have been quite consistent - until the last three games, that is.

Arsenal, another side who failed to make an impression last season, when they had a mediocre campaign, also look a good bet, especially now that Bruce Rioch, for whom I have a great deal of time, has bought some attractive forward players to add to probably the best defensive set-up in the Premier League.

More importantly, the discipline of the side has improved dramatically as the manager has a reputation of being a strong disciplinarian.

I think there is something to be said for the statement that a team's discipline is as good as the example that the manager sets."

As a Barnsley supporter I hope for the same as all Oakwell regulars - that the Reds can win promotion to the Premier League. The track record of previously promoted clubs shows that it is difficult to survive up there, but just to get the opportunity would realise a lifelong ambition for many people connected with the club.

Whilst there are a number of outstanding teams in the Premier League there are also quite a few, that the better of the current First Division sides have no cause to fear.

Let us hope that the Reds discover the consistency which is necessary if they are to taste life in the top flight.

STOP PRESS

Today's writer is STEPHANIE HYNER (BBC Radio York)

IF YOU had £20 million pounds, a blank team sheet, and a list of Premiership players, I wonder who YOU would choose for YOUR Fantasy League team.

At the start of the season, a work colleague asked around the office to see if anyone was interested. Several weeks later, 12 of us met up one Saturday night for the most important day of the season - the auction.

Expectations were high, as everyone sat around clutching their scraps of paper with their list of target players.

For the record, I'd decided to build my team around Ian Wright, Nick Barmby, Ruud Gullit and Ian Walker in goal.

But I hadn't banked on everyone else's tactics. Some of my so-called friends deliberately bid against me, pushing up the price of my players.

I decided £5 million was too much for Ian Wright, so lost out on him. Panic set in at one point when I realised I'd spent £12 million on just three players! So I stopped bidding for a while, and had another beer instead.

However I did succeed in buying Gullit, Barmby and Walker.

All this took quite some time! According to the Fantasy League, a typical auction should last one-and-a-half to two-and-a-half hours. Well I think ours must have lasted well over four hours, and by the time it got to 2.30am, we were all flagging....

At the outset we'd banned all mobile phones, just in case there were any dodgy goings-on during comfort breaks. I hadn't realised quite how seriously the boys would take it!

But that was nothing compared to what has now become the ritual Monday fantasy football talk. It's the only topic of conversation for a good part of the morning.

And something strange was also starting to happen. From our 12 "managers", we have a mixture of supporters.

My team is Sheffield Wednesday; others at the Radio Station support Villa, Leeds, Newcastle and Spurs. But as the weeks have passed, the performance of our fantasy players has overtaken the real battle in the Premiership.

I was quite pleased with Wednesday's 0-0 draw at Stamford Bridge - it meant Gullit earned me three points for a clean sheet.

But what happens when Wednesday play Spurs? Do I sacrifice Ian Walker's clean sheet, for a Mark Bright goal? It's a dilemma.

In the end, of course, it's a bit of harmless fun. And bearing in mind, my proper team look unlikely to win any silverware this season, at least I have a chance with my fantasy team!

• Editor's note: Many of our supporters will remember Stephanie from her Radio Sheffield days.

WHAT THE PAPERS SAID

.... about Tuesday's game with Portsmouth

• Off-colour Barnsley missed the chance to stop their drift into mid-table no-man's land. An out-of-tune bugler and, sadly, a minor disturbance in the seats in front of the main stand, added nothing to a desperately dire first half. Yorkshire Post

• Both teams seemed to concentrate their attentions on not conceding any more goals and forgot all about doing what the fans had paid their money to see in a dire goalless draw. - Barnsley Star

• The only bright spark for Barnsley was promising youngster Martin Bullock, who showed why he is attracting Premiership interest by producing two devastating runs which had Pompey back-pedalling. - The Sun

• Goal-shy Barnsley made it only one win in nine league outings as they failed to break down a resolute Portsmouth. They had the ball in the net twice in the second half only to be ruled offside and hardly threatened otherwise. - Daily Express

• It was up to Barnsley to break Portsmouth down. And this they failed to do. Having, it seems, solved their own defensive deficiencies - this was their third clean sheet in four games - they have lost the knack of scoring goals and a second successive blank scoresheet did nothing for their hopes of climbing back amongst the division's pacesetters. - Barnsley Chronicle

JUNIORS

CW

GOING forward the Reserve team looks very good. Unfortunately the defensive side of our game leaves a great deal to be desired.

This has again been reflected in our last three games, the 10 goals conceded resulting in three further defeats which have sent us closer to the bottom of the table.

When we entertained league leaders Middlesbrough at Oakwell last Monday night the visitors adapted to difficult conditions better than we did, but we created far more chances.

However, Boro' anticipated things much better than us. They were so much more aware of the situation when it came to picking up knock-downs, rebounds and the like, while we tended to be flat-footed, reacting only after the ball had gone and it was too late.

Players were unable to see the danger quickly enough and were punished for it.

Typical was the first goal which resulted from a slip by Dean Fearon, who failed to spot the danger.

The second came when Lee Butler went for a cross, missed it, and their lad was allowed a free header at the far post.

The third came from a free-kick wide on the edge of the area. We set the wall in place but no-one picked up the runner and a good header from an unmarked position put the game beyond our reach after Fearon had sent us in level at 1-1 at the interval with a good header from a corner.

That 3-1 defeat was followed two days later by a 3-2 defeat at Huddersfield, Luke Beckett and Simon Bochenski scoring the goals, and it was pretty much the same old story.

It was just the same in our return with Middlesbrough on Wednesday, when we went down 4-1.

The first half was very even and it could have ended 3-3, but we failed to take our chances and were instead 2-1 down, Russell Harmer scoring the goal.

Middlesbrough added two more in the second half but, although they deserved to win, 4-1 flattered them.

When in possession we look good, but a lack of awareness at the back continues to let us down.

So there are two areas that need improving. We have to tighten up defensively and we have to start taking more of the chances we are creating.

And, believe me, we are working on it. Hard.

Players have to be strong mentally. They have to prove they are up to the job. If not, they will be out and someone else will be given a chance.

At this stage of their development it is very much a learning process. But if they are unable, or unwilling, to learn, then they will have to take the consequences. It is up to them.

The team against Middlesbrough was:

Butler, Hanby, Harmer, Clyde (Perry, 20 mins), Fearon, Moses, Brooke, Gregory, Bochenski, L. Beckett, Hurst.

For the Huddersfield game the line-up was:

Butler, Perry (Hanby), Fearon (McClare), Gregory, Bishop, Moses, Bochenski, Brooke (Harmer), Hurst, L. Beckett, S. Jones.

In the return with Huddersfield our team was:

Butler, Hanby, Moses (Fearon, 60 mins), Bishop, Jones, Harmer, Brooke, O'Connell, Gregory (Bochenski, 46 mins), Rammell, Hurst.

It was good to see Brendan

O'Connell coming through a good 90 minutes in his first game of the season.

AFTER all the good weather we've had so far this season it came as something of a shock to hear from Hartlepool last Friday that they had postponed our Northern Intermediate League fixture up there the following day because they had had several inches of snow!

So our lads were left kicking their heels on what turned out to be a nice day in this neck of the woods.

We hope to return to action at home to Huddersfield Town on Saturday morning, when we will be looking to gain revenge for a 1-0 away defeat in the second game of the season.

Two 3-1 defeats at the hands of Leeds in the space of five days brought identical problems, with the simple lesson that if you don't take your chances you don't deserve to win.

The first loss came in the F.A. Youth Cup at Elland Road. We went behind early on, and that woke the team up. Until then they had been too busy looking round at the stadium instead of getting on with the game.

We pressed and pressed and had a strong penalty appeal turned down when Dean Webster was challenged by the goalkeeper. We also had a goal disallowed following an indirect free-kick, the referee claiming that the ball had not moved its full circumference. In that case, why did he not order us to take it again instead of giving a goal-kick?

We had been the better side in the first half, so I just told the lads to give a repeat performance in the second - only this time to stick the chances away.

Unbelievably we then had a penalty given against us. Only two people in the stadium thought it was a spot-kick - the referee and one of his linesmen. So we went 2-0 down. We pulled one back almost immediately with a diving header from Karl Rose, but other chances went begging and, as we continued to chase the game, Leeds broke away to score a third in the last minute.

Our team was:

Coleano, Jones, Hume, Morgan, Shaw, McClare, Shenton (Bagshaw, 55 mins), Hayes, D. Beckett, Rose, Webster (Clayton, 75 mins).

It was just a continuation of the same old story when we visited Leeds for a Northern Intermediate League game on the Saturday.

Sean McClare, Luke Beckett (twice) and Shaun Hayes (twice) all missed good chances, and in between Leeds scored to take the lead in their first attack.

FIRST GLANCE

JOHN GAYLE has issued a 'drop me if you dare' warning to Stoke City manager Lou Macari.

The giant striker's two goals against Portsmouth at Fratton Park last Saturday reminded Macari of his embarrassment of riches in the goalscoring department.

Former England Under-21 international Mike Sheron, Stoke's new signing, watched from the substitute's bench as Gayle, the man he was tipped to replace, starred in the 3-3 draw.

Said Gayle: "There are five strikers at the club now and we are all quality players. Everyone thinks that I'm the most likely to be dropped, but if I keep on scoring the boss won't be able to ignore me."

Meanwhile, Portsmouth's John Durnin believes his side need a more aggressive attitude if they are to get out of trouble after defensive frailties cost them a two-goal lead.

He said: "It's no use playing pretty football and not getting results. If we need to get a bit nasty then we'll do it. We played some good stuff but came out of the game having thrown away two points. We should have won easily."

It was not a happy return to Grimsby Town for former boss Alan Buckley as his West Brom side went down 1-0.

"No complaints," he admitted. "Grimsby played very well. But we were disappointing and too many players did not do themselves justice."

As Albion slid to their fourth successive defeat, Grimsby continued their climb up the table to seventh, but it seems they will have to resign themselves to losing Italian match-winner Ivano Bonetti, whose cash demands cannot be met on the club's existing wage structure.

League leaders Millwall had to battle hard to take a point from a goalless draw at home to Huddersfield Town and goalkeeper Kasey Keller admitted that it was frustrating for the players not to take all three points in front of their own fans.

"They made it difficult, but we had 90 per cent of the possession and we should have taken better advantage of the chances we had. If we have to win ugly, then that is what we must do."

The post-match reflections of Town boss Brian Horton add to the impression that this was not a particularly entertaining game.

He admitted: "Coming here was a test. Not many of my players have played at this level. We defended well playing a five-man midfield. Sometimes that is what you have to do away from home."

Leicester City missed the chance of regaining top spot the following day as they slipped to their fourth home defeat of the season, beaten 1-0 by a resurgent Tranmere Rovers, who moved back into the play-off places.

Nineteen-years-old Ian Moore notched the winner to increase the interest being shown in him by several top clubs.

Bruce Rioch (Arsenal), Brian Little (Aston Villa), Frank Clark (Nottingham Forest), David Pleat (Sheffield Wednesday) and Roy Evans (Liverpool) have all watched him play and Moore commented: "Being watched by people like this has given me more confidence."

"I've also had a lot of help from John Aldridge. There is no better teacher. I had no idea this was going to be such a big season for me."

His manager, John King, observed: "He's got pace, a big heart, and an eye for goal, and they don't often come in one bag. I think we have something tasty here."

ENDSLEIGH BULLETIN

MITRE CHALLENGE A GREAT SUCCESS

The quality of young talent on show every week in the Endsleigh Insurance League was further illustrated when The Football League Under-21 representative side turned on the style against their Italian counterparts in 'The Mitre Challenge' at the magnificent Alfred McAlpine Stadium.

Despite being held to a 1-1 draw, The Football League side created an abundance of chances in front of a crowd in excess of 8,000 Huddersfield locals, but couldn't quite secure the victory they deserved over their Italian opposition.

The success of The Football League team promises a bright future for the sixteen English players involved in the Inter-League game, among them Barnsley's David Watson and Martin Bullock.

Accompanying the League's party was the Football Association's Technical Consultant Jimmy Armfield who will be submitting a full report to national coach Terry Venables.

ADDICKS ATTRACT BRONCOS

First Division promotion chasers Charlton Athletic have entered into an agreement with the London Broncos Rugby League Club which will see the Broncos play five Courage Centenary League matches at The Valley.

The agreement between the Broncos and the Addicks covers playing all of the London club's home matches at Charlton's impressive stadium when the inaugural 1996 Rugby Super League season kicks off next spring.

One of the five matches to be played at The Valley during the next few weeks is the mouth-watering encounter between London Broncos and all-conquering Wigan on Sunday 3rd December. So attractive is this fixture, Sky Television have confirmed that they will show live coverage of the match.

VISITORS LUTON TOWN

LIKE Barnsley, Luton Town have gone over to the continent to sign a player this season.

Lat month manager Terry Westley managed to complete a deal which took Vidar Riseth, a Norwegian centre-forward, to Kenilworth Road.

And Westley's thoughts on the subject of players being brought in from abroad echo those of Barnsley boss Danny Wilson.

Says Westley, who took over in charge of team affairs with the Hatters when David Pleat left for Sheffield Wednesday in the summer: "The economics of the transfer market in this country is going through the roof."

He goes on: "We enquired about a centre-forward from a Division Two club, who, like Vidar, would be a gamble in that he is not an established Division One player, but the transfer fee quoted for this player was over £1 million. I got Vidar for a fee in the region of £100,000. And, believe me, he has all the attributes to make a real impact on the English game."

"Only 23 years of age, he has genuine pace, stands over six feet tall, can attack the ball at the far post, and, once settled down into full training and the pace of the English game, will be a genuine asset to this club."

"From the Premier League, where Middlesbrough have signed Juninho, Sheffield Wednesday have taken on two Yugoslavs, Arsenal and Chelsea have gone for Bergkamp and Gullit, and Newcastle have signed Gino, through to our division, the answer is the same.

"The transfer market in this country and the expectations of the managers regarding fees for players is unrealistic, so everybody will shop in different parts of the world."

"The other answer, which has always been the case for the likes of our club, is to produce your own quality players. But that takes time and hard work."

Westley has a hard act to follow in David Pleat, who was a very popular and successful manager in two spells at Kenilworth Road.

The latter's first full season in charge was in 1978-79, when the Hatters narrowly missed relegation from the Second Division.

Concerted efforts were then made to bring top football back to Kenilworth Road and after two near misses the Division Two championship was won in 1981-82 with a points record and only four defeats throughout the season.

Town struggled in their first year back in the top flight and relegation was still a worry two years later, but money was made available for Pleat to make some brave purchases which not only preserved Division One status, but also enabled the Hatters to reach the FA Cup semi-final for only the second time, when they were unfortunate to lose to Everton in extra-time.

With Pleat having been tempted away by Spurs, the club's highest ever league placing of seventh was achieved in the 1986-87 season, and the following year they won the Littlewoods Cup, beating Arsenal 3-2 thanks to a dramatic last-minute winner at Wembley.

Twelve months later the Hatters were back at Wembley for another League Cup final, but this time they went down 3-1 to Nottingham Forest.

Then followed some memorable escape acts, the most notable being in 1990 with a 3-2 win at Derby on the last day of the season.

However, in 1991-92, with Pleat having rejoined the club in the summer, Town struggled all season and were finally relegated to the new First Division on the last day of the campaign.

In 1993-94 they had a memorable FA Cup run which took them to a Wembley semi-final against Chelsea, and last season, after being fifth in November, they eventually slipped to 16th.

THE SEASON SO FAR

IT HAS so far been a difficult first season in charge for Luton Manager, Terry Westley, with the Hatters hovering around the bottom of the table, and successes have been few and far between.

It started with a 3-1 home defeat at the hands of newly relegated Norwich City, Bontcho Guentchev scoring on his Luton debut, but that was balanced by a 1-0 away win at Southend the following week - their first success in seven attempts at Roots Hall.

However, the Hatters then had to wait another eight league games before their next win - a 3-1 home triumph over fellow-strugglers Portsmouth, which was their first victory at Kenilworth Road since April. Guentchev was again on target, this time with a penalty, the other goals coming from Dwight Marshall and skipper Steve Davis.

Two more defeats - 1-0 at Tranmere and 2-1 at home to West Brom - brought a further slide down the table before the encouragement of a splendid 1-0 away victory over one of last season's Premiership teams, Ipswich Town, David Oldfield scoring the vital goal.

After that win Wesley said: "It gave everyone connected with the club a massive lift. Now we can strive for that elusive two wins on the bounce which will see us climb the table, remembering that we are only eight points off a play-off position."

Sadly, however, a 1-0 home defeat by Charlton and a 5-0 drubbing away to Stoke City left the Hatters still struggling in the bottom four.

A 1-1 draw at home to Oldham Athletic did little to relieve the situation and last Saturday another home draw, this time a goalless one against Birmingham City, saw them next to the bottom of the table, with only three wins all season.

On Tuesday night a goal from Steve Davis earned the Hatters a 1-1 draw away to fellow-strugglers Watford, who equalised with just six minutes remaining.

MANAGER

TERRY WESTLEY was appointed manager in July following the departure of David Pleat to Sheffield Wednesday, stepping up from his role of youth team coach, a position he had held at Kenilworth Road since 1991.

On the books of Ipswich Town as a youth team player, he played non-league football at Bury St. Edmunds and Diss Town, being player-manager at the latter.

responsible for a Town youth side which had produced the likes of John Hartson and Kelvin Davis.

He is Luton's 20th manager.

PLAYER FOCUS

OFTEN confused with Barnsley's own central defender of the same name, particularly in view of the fact that both have played for Burnley, Steve Davis joined the Hatters in the summer after making more than 160 league appearances for the Turf Moor club, scoring 22 goals. He joined the Clarets in August 1991 for £60,000 from Southampton, after loan spells with Burnley and Notts County. He captained Burnley during their rise up the league into Division One, and played in both their victories over Luton last season. He cost £750,000.

LUTON TOWN have already used nearly 30 players in the first team this season, barely a week going by without them having to make a change or two, which helps to explain why they are struggling around the bottom of the table.

The latest recruit is Norwegian striker Vidar Riseth, from the Kongsvinger club, for a fee in the region of £100,000. The 23-year-old came to England in mid-October, and bagged a hat-trick inside the first half of a special trial match, prompting manager Terry Westley to hurry the deal through. He made his debut at home to Tranmere Rovers on Sunday, October 29.

The Hatters have had to call upon three goalkeepers, including another newcomer, Tony Feuer, a 6ft 5ins American who joined West Ham towards the end of the 1993-94 season but spent most of the latter end of the 1994-95 campaign on loan with Peterborough United, where he acquitted himself well in 16 Second Division matches.

First choice at the start of the season was Kelvin Davis who signed a new four-year contract in June after being selected for the England Under 21 squad for the Toulon tournament in France. A highly-rated keeper, he made his league debut on the final day of the 1993-94 season at Stoke and on his first home appearance against Watford last March he saved a penalty in the 1-1 draw, retaining his place until the end of the season.

The two players who have appeared most regularly in defence this season are Steve Davis (see Player Focus) and Marvin Johnson.

Johnson made his Football League debut against Wimbledon in 1988 and quickly established himself as a versatile defender. He started the 1994-95 season at left-back, but then switched to the centre of defence to form a reliable partnership with Trevor Peake. He was one of only three players to appear in every first team match last season and was awarded the Players' Player of the Year trophy.

Club captain Peake started his league career at Lincoln City in 1979, moving to Coventry City in 1983. In eight full seasons at Highfield Road he won an FA Cup winners' medal in 1987 as the Sky Blues beat Spurs 3-2. He joined Luton for £100,000 in August 1991. Last season, for the first time in his career, he maintained an ever-present record, and was voted the Supporters' Player of the Year.

Richard Harvey resurrected his Town career last season after two years plagued by injury. The former England youth international defender missed the entire 1993-94 campaign after a cruciate knee ligament operation, making his first appearance of the following campaign at Barnsley in January. His appearance at home to Watford in March this year was his first at Kenilworth Road for three years. He held the left-back position for the remainder of the season.

Graham Alexander joined the Hatters in July, becoming Terry Westley's first signing after the latter had been confirmed as the new manager. The Town coaching staff had been watching him for two seasons before deciding to make their move with a fee in the region of £100,000, with further payments to Scunthorpe United depending on appearances.

Other defenders in contention for regular places are Paul McLaren and Julian James.

McLaren made his debut on the final day of the 1993-94 season, going on as substitute at Stoke. He joined the Hatters from school and is an England youth international. He started at centre-half, but spent much of last season in the reserves in central midfield.

James joined Luton as a trainee and was introduced to First Division football five seasons ago after being sent off on his debut in a Littlewoods Cup win at Leeds. A former England Under 21 international, he was a regular at left-back in the 1993-94 season, but made the right-back position his own last season, a string of consistent displays earning him the Player of the Year award from the Loyal Luton Supporters Club.

The scrap for midfield positions is between Ceri Hughes, Gary Waddock, David Oldfield and Johnny Vilstrup.

THE HATTERS

Hughes was a regular in the 1993-94 season and his performances earned a call-up to the full Welsh side, but damaged knee ligaments in November 1994 ruled him out for the rest of last season. He made his comeback on the opening day of the current campaign, but has again been dogged by injury and suspension. He has also represented his country at youth and under 21 levels.

A free transfer move from Bristol Rovers last December, after a three-month loan spell, brought Waddock to Kenilworth Road. He started his career with QPR, making more than 200 appearances, including one in the FA Cup Final and replay against Spurs in 1982. That was followed by a spell in Belgium, with Charleroi, and he has also been with Millwall, QPR again and Swindon.

Australian-born Oldfield returned to Kenilworth Road in the summer, six years after leaving Luton. He started his career with the Hatters, progressing through the junior ranks to a two-goal senior debut in a 2-1 Simod Cup win at Everton in February, 1988. He also scored on his full league debut in a 2-1 home win over Watford in May, 1988, and went on to make 29 appearances before joining Manchester City for £600,000 in March, 1989. A former England under 21 international, he was signed from Leicester City for £150,000.

Terry Westley signed Copenhagen-born Vilstrup from Danish side Lyngby for £205,000. A highly-rated player, he is on the verge of the Danish national squad and reportedly had the hardest shot in Danish football. He had scored seven goals in eight games for Lyngby before signing for the Hatters, making his Football League debut at Millwall in September.

DAVE COPPING TAKES A PEEP INTO THE PAST

THE LAST WIN

OUR last win over Town came in January. We were going through a little rough spell and had lost our last three games including a cup tie against Villa. However we were still handily placed with 38 points from 25 games while Town were one point worse off, having played one game more.

The first half of the match was not of the highest quality, but after the break it got better and better. Just two minutes into the half Kerry Dixon hit a speculative 35 yard lob over Dave Watson to give Town the lead. It shook Barnsley into life and mid-way through the half the equaliser came, Neil Redfearn forcing the ball home.

From then on the Reds went from strength to strength and found a hero in Andy Liddell. He broke away on the half way line and planted the ball past Jurgen Sommer to put the Reds in front after 71 minutes. Seven minutes later and the game was made safe when Liddell added his second. This time Sommer kicked the ball directly to him and he fired it back into the net.

Barnsley: Watson, Eaden, Fleming, Wilson, Moses, Davis, O'Connell, Redfearn, Rammell, Liddell, Sheridan.

THE LAST DEFEAT

Our last defeat at the hands of Town came at Kenilworth Road in October '93 and it was a heavy one.

Luton had made a poor start to the season and had taken only five points from their opening seven games and had scored only five goals into the bargain. We, on the other hand, under the management of Viv Anderson, had taken 10 points from nine games.

From a Barnsley point of view the game got off to a bad start, for after only four minutes Gerry Taggart was shown the red card for what the referee deemed a professional foul. It was downhill all the way from there.

John Hartson gave the Hatters the lead after 28 minutes and it was then a matter of how many. Scott Oakes added a second five minutes before the break. The points were made safe after 60 minutes when Julian James netted a third. Barnsley were now a beaten side and in the last 10 minutes, with the team tiring, Town added two more through Scott Houghton and Oakes (a second).

It still isn't the Reds biggest defeat at Kenilworth Road, for in the 1952/53 season they were defeated 6-0.

Town: Sommer, Williams (Houghton), Johnson, James, Peake, Dreyer, Telfer, Oakes, Hughes (Linton), Hartson, Harper.

Barnsley: Watson, Fleming, Bishop, Wilson, Taggart, Anderson, O'Connell (Eaden), Rammell, Bryson (Liddell), Redfearn, Archdeacon.

A SEASON FROM THE PAST

DURING the '60's the fortunes of the respective teams were fairly similar and as the decade came towards its end both clubs were on an up. Town were promoted from the Fourth Division as champions at the end of the '67/68 season while Barnsley finished runners-up and were also promoted. After a season of consolidation both teams were making good progress during the '69/70 campaign.

The teams met at Kenilworth Road in November with Town one point better off than the Reds on 26 points from 17 games. Barnsley went into the game without centre half and skipper Eric Winstanley who was suspended, and from the start were subjected to heavy pressure which was to last for the entire 90 minutes.

Malcolm MacDonald gave Town the lead after only eight minutes and it seemed a matter of how many. Somehow, due to some bad finishing and desperate defending, Luton failed to add to their lead and five minutes after the break the Reds found an equaliser when, from a free-kick 20 yards out, Pat Howard hammered the ball home. The pressure on the Barnsley goal intensified even more after that but Town couldn't find a winner.

By the time the return took place Barnsley's promotion campaign had faltered, yet with 48 points from 42 games they had had a successful season. Town, on the other hand, were still in the thick of the battle and although only two points better off than the Reds, had three matches in hand.

It was a superb advert for the Third Division, with both teams going forward at every opportunity. The Reds took the lead thanks to a superb finish by Norman Dean after 35 minutes. Town fought back and equalised in the 59th minute through Mike Keen. After this the game ebbed and flowed as both teams went searching for the winner and two minutes from time it came, George Hamstead firing home to secure maximum points for the Reds.

However, Town went from strength to strength, claiming 10 out of a possible 12 points that remained open to them, and in the end secured the runners-up spot quite easily. They finished behind Orient but four points in front of their nearest rivals.
