"THANKS TO CHRIS PLUMMER'S FIRST EVER GOAL FOR THE CLUB AND A GREAT SOLO EFFORT FROM SAMMY KOEJOE, WE COLLECTED THREE VITAL POINTS"

GREENOAKS
Driving Home Quality

Good evening ladies and gentlemen and a very warm welcome to tonight's FA Cup third round replay with Luton Town.

Our win on Saturday against West Brom was very welcome, but the manner of the victory was even more important. We thoroughly deserved to win the game and had we taken more of our chances in a first half that we totally dominated, the victory would have been by a much greater margin.

Nevertheless, thanks to Chris Plummer's first ever goal for the club and a great solo effort from Sammy Koejoe, we collected three vital points. I was also delighted with the players' spirit with Peter Crouch and Clarke Carlisle getting out of their beds with 'flu to play and Chris Kiwomya, Michel Ngonge and Matthew Rose, none of whom were 100% fit, trying to help out.

Our third round match at Luton 10 days ago was an amazing cup tie. Both teams started brightly during the first 20 minutes with Ludek Miklosko making a couple of good saves and Peter Crouch having two decent chances with headers.

But when Luton scored from their second corner in the 20th minute we were second best for the rest of the half and by that time Luton had scored from another corner to put them 2-0 up.

I can't tell you exactly what was said in the dressing room but they kept going and had two chances cleared off the line as the minutes ticked away. Yet with a minute to go a Richard Langley corner was handled by Lee Logan as Peter Crouch was coming in to make

Within 15 minutes of the restart the score was 2-2 — a great pass from Gavin Peacock found Peter Crouch who controlled and finished brilliantly before a good move involving Clarke Carlisle, Sammy Koejoe and a great chip from Karl Connolly enabled Peter Crouch to head his second goal and bring us level.

We were now in control and were unfortunate not to have taken the lead on a couple of occasions before a cross from Douglas — going nowhere near the goal — hit Clarke Carlisle and deflected into the net for an own goal with 10 minutes remaining.

This was obviously a big blow for the players but they kept going and had two chances cleared off the line as the minutes ticked away. Yet with a minute to go a Richard Langley corner was handled by Lee Logan as Peter Crouch was coming in to make contact with the ball and the referee pointed to the spot.

Gavin Peacock was very cool under pressure and put away an excellent penalty to give us a replay that our second half performance deserved.

So tonight there is a massive incentive for both teams to get into the fourth round with mighty Arsenal waiting to play the victors. We have to make absolutely sure that we give everything we can to ensure that team is going to be US. Therefore we also need your great vocal support behind the players, like on Saturday against West Brom and against Luton 10 days ago, because it will not be easy.

As with the first game, we are going to have to fight for the right to be in the next round.

Come on you Rs!

LUTON BOSS Lil Fuccillo (bottom left) was flabbergasted after the last minute handball by Lee Nogan that gave Rangers the equalising penalty in the 3-3 draw at Kenilworth Road.

Fuccillo said: "It was a mad moment from our most experienced player. The ball wasn't going anywhere, so it made the incident doubly bad for us.

"Even where I was, you could see it was a handball. It wasn't even one of those discreet ones.

"I could understand if he had lunged at someone because it was a last minute, last ditch tackle. That is still a horrible way to give away a penalty, but at least you can understand that a player is trying to do something. But that handball? I really don't know.

"I turned to my people in the dug out and said 'Why do you do something like that?' They all looked amazed as well.

"Funnily enough, I was going to take Nogan off in the second half just to change our pattern of attacks. But Andrew Fotiadis up front had a groin strain so he had to come off.

for the facts, not fiction. tel:09068 121162 (calls charged at 60p per minute)

"Lee Nogan was in tears in the dressing room afterwards. He apologised to everyone else. He had no explanation for it. I don't know what goes through your head when you do something like that.

"Looking ahead to the replay, I won't say we have a team that can win games against First Division opposition. But we will give QPR a good game at Loftus Road."

GAVIN PEACOCK was as cool as a cucumber as he tucked away the last minute penalty equaliser in the 3-3 draw at Luton. Gavin said: "Obviously, there was pressure on the penalty. But in those situations you have to make up your mind what you are going to do. Then you keep your head down and make sure you get a good contact on it.

"Don't lift your head too early. That is the main thing I have learned in those situations. Often, you see people miss penalties in World Cups and so on and the reason is they are looking at the goal too early.

"I had a bit of an obscured view of the actual penalty incident, but I just saw Nogan's hand fly up. It looked a bit unusual because there was no need for him to do it.

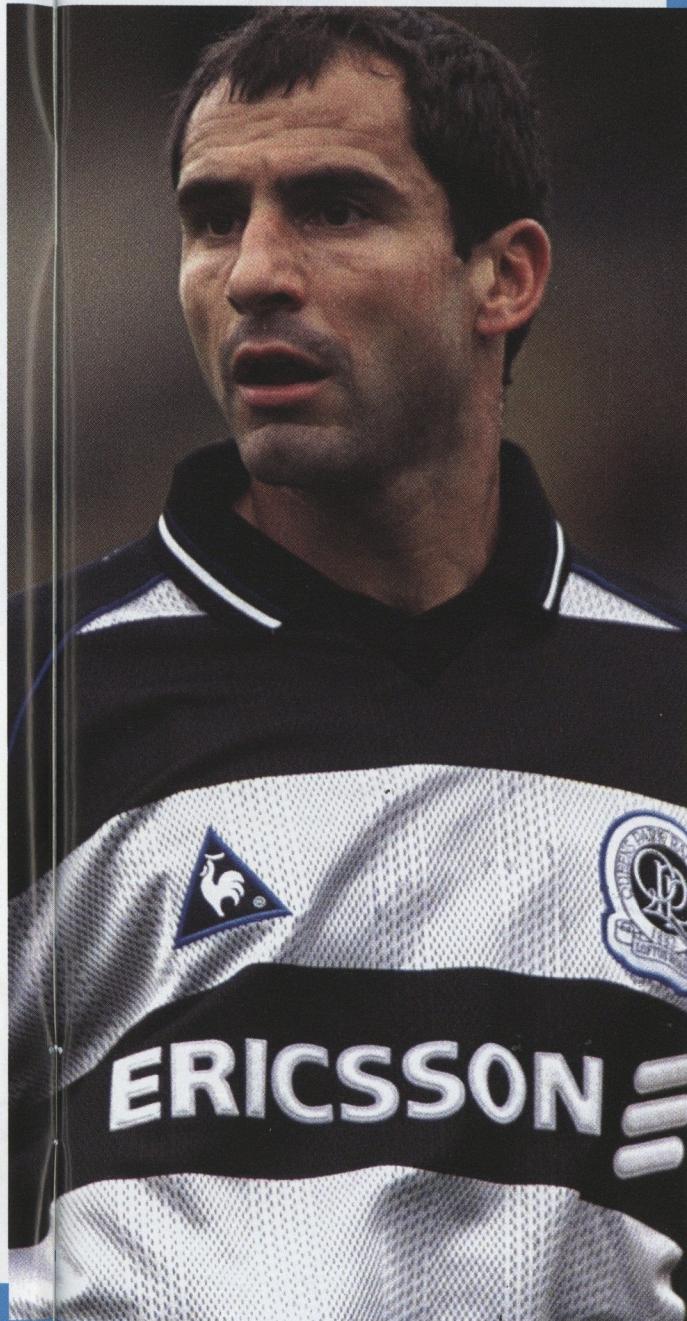

"In saying that, I did that myself once. I was playing for Chelsea in the year we got to the FA Cup Final. We played away to Oxford in the fourth round. In the last minute when we were 1-0 up, the ball came over and instinctively I thought an Oxford player was behind me to head it in. I just flung my hand up to stop the ball. So I know how Lee Nogan feels! In saying that, Oxford missed the penalty and we went on to reach the Cup Final."

TWO GREAT goals by Peter Crouch at Luton in the 3-3 draw

tonight's tie

LOOKING FORWARD to tonight's FA Cup tie against Luton, QPR's past League and Cup record against the Hatters is... Played 119 Won 45 Drew 32 Lost 42 For 175 Against 166 Including last week's 3-3 draw, there have been 12 previous FA Cup meetings between Rangers and Luton. Both sides have won four games with four ending in draws. The last League meetings between the sides came in the 1991/2 season. Rangers won 2-1 at home (Ferdinand 2) and 1-0 away (Barker). Luton were relegated from the First Division at the end of that season - the last campaign before the Premier League was formed.

GAVIN PEACOCK: PENALTY HERO

took his tally to six in six outings for Rangers.

Peter said: "For the first goal, Gavin Peacock put a good ball over the top for me. I don't know if I was offside or not, but I wasn't going to look at the linesman. I went through and I just managed to slot it in the corner.

"The second came from a nice team move. It was a good ball across the box by Karl Connolly and I was there in the right place at the right time to meet his excellent cross.

"I'm pleased with the number of goals I've been getting. I've been aiming to improve my game as the season progresses and things have been going in the net for me recently. I haven't set myself any targets, but hopefully I can get as many goals as I can.

"We've got Luton back to Loftus Road now. I'm sure we'll have the crowd behind us and it will be a different game. Luton proved in the first game that this is no easy task so there is still a lot of hard work to do."

FORMER QPR defender Ernie Howe has been named Ryman League Premier Division Manager of the Month at Basingstoke Town.

With games in hand, sixth placed Basingstoke could creep into the title chase, which is currently being dominated by their Hampshire rivals Aldershot Town and Farnborough Town.

Howe said: "It was nice to win the monthly award, even though it is often the kiss of death for a manager! Compared to last year when we finished fifth bottom, our form is excellent."

A SURVEY in the current edition of Groundtastic, the football grounds magazine, places Rangers 45th in a table of League clubs' ground capacities.

Loftus Road has a capacity of 19,148, putting Rangers just behind Portsmouth (19,179) and just ahead of Port Vale (18,902) in the table.

The largest capacity in the country is held by Manchester United (68,936). The smallest is at Mansfield Town (4,500), where spectator facilities are currently restricted due to a massive rebuilding programme.

WHETHER this impressive win marks the turning of a corner or not, there is little doubt that confidence is returning to the team. West Brom were well beaten and goals from Chris Plummer and Sammy Koejoe were the very least that the home side deserved.

This was the first time since May that QPR won a game by at least two goals, but their dominance throughout could and should have led to more. Plummer's first ever Rangers goal materialised after Richard Sneeckes casual clearance had rebounded into Peter Crouch's path.

But it wasn't until Koejoe's classy finish with 20 minutes remaining that the home fans could breathe a little easier. Despite facing the obstacle of two defenders in front of him, a flick and a shimmy did for them and his strike was from the top drawer.

The highly praised twin strike force of Jason Roberts and Lee Hughes offered little for the visitors all afternoon with the endeavour of Rangers' attacking play matched by the solidity of the rearguard.

Rangers remain second bottom but with only three points separating them from 17th placed Stockport, this vital win has at least opened up a path away from danger.

A decade or so after mixing it with this country's football elite, Luton have had to cope with all sorts of difficulties in the last few years, including almost going out of business. Their participation in the 1999/2000 season was in doubt until a few hours before it kicked off.

For Hatters supporters, that summer was a mixture of gripping fear and eventually huge relief as boardroom disputes led the club being put in to receivership. It was not until 15 hours before the season's first league match that Luton knew for sure they would still be in The Football League. The new owners brought stability and Luton enjoyed an unflustered season, finishing 13th.

Then last summer came more change. Another new owner took over in Mike Watson-Challis, a director during the successful 1980s. Manager Lenny Lawrence was replaced by former star player Ricky Hill and, together with assistant Chris Ramsey, he began plotting a revival of fortunes for a club which once competed with the best and would have played in Europe were it not for the ban on English clubs between 1985 and 1990.

Their hopes came to nothing though and with Luton languishing close to the bottom of Division Two in November of last year, both men were replaced by two former players already on the staff — Lil Fuccillo and John Moore.

Luton Town had entered the 1990s as one of this country's leading clubs. They enjoyed 10 glorious year in the top flight winning the League Cup in 1988 after defeating Arsenal in a thrilling final at Wembley.

But then came the decline, with a club in an antiquated stadium unable to compete with the big-money outfits. Luton were relegated in the final season before the introduction of the Premiership and within four seasons had dropped down again to the division they now inhabit.

The summer of 1999 saw receivers force through unwelcome player sales and restrict recruitment of new ones, but Luton got through that campaign and now with a new board and management team in place and plans taking shape for a new stadium, the supporters hope that at long last the Hatters really are set to move ahead again.

This season, since Fuccillo's arrival in the hot seat, Town have as yet been unable to haul themselves out of the

Their previous two games before the FA Cup clash with QPR ended in defeat and there is still an awful lot of work to be done if this season isn't to end in tears. The Cup does at least provide some distraction though and Town's performance against the matchLUTON TOWN

Axa Sponsored FA Cup Third Round at Kenilworth Road, Saturday January 6th

the outcome

A stunning 3-3 draw. Early Luton pressure and some indifferent defending gave the home side a 2-0 lead at half time. But two clinical finishes from the increasingly impressive Peter Crouch levelled the scores within 15 minutes of the restart. Luton then took the lead and appeared to have won the game before a bizarre handball by Lee Nogan gave Rangers' a 90th minute penalty. Gavin Peacock equalised.

getting there

No problems at all and only a 100 mile round trip which makes a change! Parking is always a nightmare in Luton, especially with the ground situated smack bang in the middle of row upon row of terraced houses. we managed to find a car park though which only charged £2 for the whole day. Bargain!

stadium and food

Quite an odd place. The stadium almost appears to be built in to terraced houses and you can't get all the way round. One side of the ground famously comprises of executive boxes only which takes some getting used to. I was told that the food and drink was very good at the ground although I didn't get any myself — the queues were a bit of a nightmare.

the programme

£2 for 48 pages is about par for the course. A clean and uncluttered style with a number of interesting contemporary and historical articles.

Has to be Peter Crouch. He just kept going throughout and once again deserved his goals which were very well taken. If anyone deserved a hat-trick it was him and who knows, if we had been 2-0 up in injury time he probably would have taken that penalty. Talking of which, Gavin deserves a lot of credit. He helped turn the game when he came on at half time and his well taken penalty was just so cool. He saved the day!

How many emotions did we go through? The first half performance was poor and we could have few complaints at the score.

We were much improved in the second half though and we could have won the game. It would have been nice to get through without the need for replay but if we had been offered a draw at half-time we definitely would have taken it.

latest news

The latest news from the F.A. is that the establishment of a women's professional football league is inevitable. Results from initial research have given the F.A. encouragement for the success of the whole project.

QPR FC WOMEN'S FOTBALL CLUB

QPR FC WOMEN'S TEAM ARE CURRENTLY LOOKING FOR EXPERIENCED PLAYERS AGED 15YEARS AND OVER AND ALSO AN EXPERIENCED GOALKEEPER. THE TEAM TRAINS ON TUESDAY EVENINGS AT PRESENT AND MATCHES ARE PLAYED ON A SUNDAY. ANY PLAYERS INTERESTED CAN CONTACT THE WOMEN'S TEAM MANAGER, MARTINO CHEVANNES AT LOFTUS ROAD ON 020-8740-2565 FOR FURTHER DETAILS.

Both players and fans researched felt that professionalism should enhance the positive aspects currently in the game and ensure that the pyramid remains strong below the professional league. There was also a feeling that the women's game could strengthen the image of football in England.

Results indicated that there would be a potential family audience along with those already interested in the men's game. There was concern within the women's game as to how the league could be sustained and funded but at the same time they were very excited by the concept in principle.

The groups researched believed that professionalisation of the women's game was inevitable and that it must be created in a structured manner rather than evolving, further more all the groups felt that overseas. The plan will be in place by March 2001 where it will then go for further consultation with women's football before being taken to potential media and commercial partners in the summer of 2001.

Draft costings for the project are to be drawn up based on consultation with the AXA F.A. Women's Premier League, The F.A. Carling Premier League and Nationwide Football League and using Fulham FC's women's professional side as a guide. These will be finalised in March.

There is much work still to be done but the F.A. is confident that they are on track to creating the first successful women's professional football league in Europe. Let's keep our fingers crossed.

THE PACE QUICKENS OVER THE NEXT FEW WEEKS AS RANGERS PLAY HOST TO SOME POTENTIALLY MOUTHWATERING GAMES.

The next 17 days could be the most crucial period of Rangers' season as Gerry's men attempt to steer themselves clear of the relegation waters.

If Rangers are to overcome Luton tonight, they will face three massive home games in the space of eight days against teams in the finest of fettle. It would be a real test of Rangers' strength and stamina.

Before all that though, an opportunity for swift revenge presents itself in the form of Norwich City. The Canaries returned to Norfolk on Boxing Day with all three points from a smash and grab raid at Loftus Road, and Rangers will be looking to perform a similar feat when they play at Carrow Road this weekend.

Despite their win here last month, this has been a disappointing season for Norwich with manager Bryan Hamilton resigning only nine months after Bruce Rioch left the club. Both felt the task of rebuilding a club riven by the debts of a previous regime beyond them and with the current board unwilling to release the necessary funds for a concerted promotion challenge, new boss Nigel Worthington will have his work cut out keeping the Carrow Road faithful happy.

City's only purchases this season have seen strikers Alex Notman and Zema Abbey come in from Manchester United and Cambridge United respectively and whilst they promise much for the future, City's immediate battle with avoiding the relegation scrap beneath them is still a worry.

Despite losing to them only three weeks ago, Rangers may justifiably feel that they still have every chance of securing a vital three points away from home for the first time this season.

Obviously at this stage we cannot know who Rangers' next opponents will be. But either way – they're going to present the toughest of challenges.

If Rangers win tonight, Arsenal will visit Loftus Road a week on Saturday in the Fourth Round. Whilst Arsene Wenger's team may be more concerned with the bigger fish of a title challenge and Champions League glory this season, the FA Cup is still a coveted trophy and much loved by the supporters of a club who have lifted the trophy on seven occasions.

Their world class players are familiar to every football fan throughout the country and Rangers would need to call on all their powers of organisation to hold back one of Europe's best teams. Nevertheless, thoughts of Arsenal must be ignored for now whilst tonight's game has yet to be resolved.

One imposing fixture that definitely will take place sees Division One leaders Fulham travel to Loftus Road in a fortnight's time. Jean Tigana's men are undisputedly the best team in Division One – a Premiership club-elect – and with the financial backing of Mohammed Al Fayed they have every chance of making a big impression in the top flight as well.

At the moment their priority is to ensure promotion is achieved without a hiccup and at present there seems little danger of that. The outstanding Louis Saha will make life hard for Rangers and although wins are vital a draw against this impressive team should be regarded as something of a triumph.

Good evening and a very warm welcome to all of our commercial partners, sponsors and executive supporters to this evening's game with Luton Town.

If we are successful tonight then the visit of Arsenal on Saturday week would be a great shot in the arm for everyone connected with QPR — not least the supporters whose backing at Luton was brilliant — very noisy and positive even when we were chasing the game in the final few minutes.

I believe we are putting in place a marketing plan which will stand the club in good stead in the future — based on a customer focused culture with community relations and much improved communication between the club and supporters at its core.

Already the new newspaper 'The Beat Around the Bush' has proved itself to be an excellent additional communication piece with both supporters and potential fans in our locality and we operate a very successful Club Call telephone line.

However we are very aware of the shortcomings of the official website and an all new state of the art site will be launched (using the current domain name www.qpr.co.uk) in July in partnership with PTV — a joint venture between the Football League and NTL. More details of this exciting relaunch will follow over the next couple of months.

Our thanks go to all our matchday sponsors for their support of QPR this evening.

Enjoy the game.
