JAMES BROWN

CTFC Editor James Brown On A Famous Victory And The Need For Consistency

Good evening and welcome to this Friday night confrontation between the Robins and recently relegated Luton Town. Luton were of course relegated from the Championship in the summer and this makes them a tricky tie tonight. I hope all the Luton fans, staff and players had a safe journey to Whaddon Road, enjoy your evening here in Cheltenham.

Cheltenham have beaten Leeds United 1-0...say that to any Cheltenham fan ten years ago and they will have probably accused you of taking advantage of the free mulled wine at the Christmas party. However now we can say that Cheltenham have recorded this famous victory over the former Champions League contenders. Leeds really did give us a game and perhaps on another day Jermaine Beckford might have found the luck he needed but that does not take away the major achievement of the Cheltenham players. They fought well, battled hard and never gave up and this is why we got the three points on the day...that and a classic from one half of the Scouse connection!!! Keith Downing is still moulding the team to the shape he wants and this may take a bit of time but we have already seen an improvement on and off the pitch. An historic day which no Cheltenham fan will forget in a hurry!

The need for consistency in this league is great and there is no doubt in that. League One has always been and always will be a tight league in which a rich run of form could land you higher than you expected. Everyone here at Cheltenham will have said we needed to keep the ball rolling after the victory over Leeds but unfortunately that did not happen due to the 2-0 defeat against Leyton Orient. The long break after the Leeds game will have rested the players but many will believe that we needed a game almost straight after so we could keep up the tempo. It didn't help that the game against Bristol Rovers was called off, but that's football. I just want to quickly mention JJ Melligan who of course scored the winner against us on Saturday. Cheltenham Town kick started his career and I thought he showed a great side of his personality when he didn't celebrate his goal in a show of respect. He also applauded the Cheltenham fans at the end of the game which was a nice touch from the former Robin.

Dean Sinclair has signed on for a third month with Cheltenham and we also welcome Guy Madjo and Michael D'Agostino. All three players have the ability to pull this club up from the relegation zone and it will be interesting to see what impact they make over the next few weeks. We already know about Dean Sinclair and he has done a great job in the middle alongside Dave Bird. Madjo looks a strong signing with the ability to threaten the opposition defence and he could prove to be the missing link we have been looking for. D'Agostino is a young lad who likes to get crosses into the box and feed the strikers which is essential if you want to win games, expect to see a lot more from D'Agostino in the next few weeks! The new signings will strengthen this side and it is up to the players now to turn the corner and push Cheltenham Town out of the relegation zone. The manager and backroom staff can only do so much but the players hold the key to survival in this league and recent performances back this theory up.

Get behind the lads tonight and sing your hearts out. One win over a decent Luton side could be just the confidence we are looking for.

Enjoy the game,

The game was very even with both teams restricted to limited chances. Unfortunately the difference between a top six and bottom six team is when those opportunities come and they need to be taken.

KEITH DOWNING

'CTFC Manager Keith Downing On An Extended Break and Tonight's Game'

We would like to welcome Kevin Blackwell and his Luton Town team for tonight's game.

Luton have suffered recently with another club going into administration and being deducted 10 points. Kevin I'm sure is used to some sort of up-heaval in his management with the experiences with Leeds United. He of course, overcame those problems guiding them to a play-off final and I'm sure with all his experience he'll guide Luton in the months ahead.

Our frustration in not playing so soon after the victory of Leeds was evident in the postponement at Bristol Rovers last Wednesday. The events of the day compounded the problem with the match going ahead up until a late downpour at 5.00pm. No official pitch inspection was announced and the judgement by the referee and Bristol Rovers was made shortly after 5.00pm. Although the decision may have been correct, not being in attendance with both parties gave me cause for concern.

We had a similar dilemma last Saturday when torrential rain put the Leyton Orient game in doubt just before kick-off. Both myself and Martin Ling wanted the game on and a sensible discussion with the referee ensured the game went ahead although in difficult conditions. The game was very even with both teams restricted to limited chances. Unfortunately the difference between a top six and bottom six team is when those opportunities come and they need to be taken. On the day Orient did and we came away feeling disappointed not to have taken something from the game.

We have two crucial home matches with teams around us. We have become a stronger side at home and we are hoping that our home form will keep us in contention. Our away performances obviously need improving. We are fully aware of the situation and we will all be working hard to gather as many points as we can, particularly over a busy Christmas period. Adding to the squad was important and with Guy Madjo and Michael D'Agostino and an extension to Dean Sinclair's loan gives us much needed strength going through December.

With your continued support let's hope you all enjoy the game.

Keith

PADDY WOOD

'CTFC Director Paddy Wood Looks Upon The Issues Of Foreign Influence'

First let me begin by welcoming the players, staff, directors and travelling fans from Luton to Whaddon Road. The Luton fans in the away end will see a dramatic change in the facilities as opposed to their last visit. Whilst our hospitality to away fans has improved significantly let's hope that it does not extend to them taking three points.

Luton Town's problems off the pitch are well documented in the national press. I know I speak for all of our board when I say that we hope you manage to emerge from your current trauma, no true football fan wants to see clubs having to face such problems. We all hope that you're off field problems are soon resolved and that you can look forward to a brighter future.

One issue that has been receiving a lot of press coverage lately is that of foreign players in our game. The subject is one that I am particularly opinionated on. I have always felt that for every foreign player playing in the premiership is an opportunity lost for a home breed player, by home I mean the four home countries. Increasingly it becomes more difficult to watch a young home breed player break into the first team and embark on a long career with the club. To be honest I find it difficult to keep track of the coming and goings in the movement of players. Could this situation explain the falling in ranking of the national team? Examining the statistics concerning the percentage of foreign players in the premiership compared with other countries makes interesting reading.

England	57% foreign players
Italy	30% foreign players
France	39% foreign players
Spain	39% foreign players
Germany	57% foreign players

Certainly this debate is acquiring the same level of discussion as picking our favourite team, who is the best, all time team and so forth. Interestingly when considering the published opinions of "football people" Generally speaking those people actively involved in the game today fully support the present arrangement. The ex players, ex managers, the PFA, feel that the situation needs addressing.

The subject will continue to be debated who is right, who is wrong? We all have our opinions I have stated mine and yet paradoxically, I feel we are so lucky to be able to experience the skills from the likes of Ronaldo and Torres and in our own back yard!

The Leeds match seems so long ago, but the memory of the performance is still fresh in our minds. The atmosphere was tremendous, just think if it could be like that all the time, what a difference it would make. The players responded and the bank manger was happy...sounds like that is the way to do it!

A special mention must be made of Simon Perruzza. Simon is in charge of the "Cheltenham Town Football Club Community Programme". I am sure Simon will give a report in this or a future programme so I will not steal his thunder, I would suggest that you familiarise yourself with our Community Programme. It is gathering momentum and will certainly benefit the club and the community, so keep up the good work Simon.

Our annual Christmas dinner will take place next week. The players and staff join the directors for one of Nigel's "festive Feasts" it gives everyone the chance to get to know each other a wee bit more, in particular the new players and staff. Any over indulgence in the pudding will be noted and recorded for future reference; sorry Gilly (Scouse) burgers are not on the menu.

Finally a big thank you to the home and away fans for attending today's match, traditionally this and next week are poorly attended games due mainly to Christmas shopping demands, so thank you to you all.

John

TOWNSEND OUT UNTIL NEW YEAR

Cheltenham Town have been dealt a severe blow after the conformation that the 21-year-old is still suffering after his case of labyrinthitis, a condition of the inner ear that affects balance and the symptoms of which include tinnitus and tiredness.

Although a specialist has now given Townsend a clean bill of health, he is still unable to train properly.

Senior sports therapist Ian Weston told www.ctfc.com: "Michael saw the specialist again and he has given him the all clear although he is still suffering with symptoms. A blood test confirmed that he has had a virus so the conclusion is that it is some kind of post-viral syndrome.

"We have taken the decision to leave him out completely until the New Year to give him time to fully recover.

"That will take the pressure off him and allow Michael to concentrate fully on getting himself right."

DOWNING HAILS EX-ROBIN

Despite coming back to score the winner against his former club, JJ Melligan has been praised by Cheltenham manager Keith Downing this week.

Melligan moved to Orient after three years with Cheltenham Town and has made a great start with his new club.

"JJ Melligan is a smashing lad. We kick-started his career and I know he is grateful for everything we did for him," Downing said.

"He popped up in some of those scoring positions for us last season.

"Now he's come to pastures new and he's done it against us - he's a decent lad and a decent professional."

BIRD INJURY NOT A PROBLEM

Cheltenham Town's workhorse midfielder Dave Bird should be fine for tonight's game following a nasty gash suffered in the 2-0 defeat to Leyton Orient.

The 22-year-old has been in scintillating form this season and Downing is optimistic he will be fit for the Luton

Unfortunately John Finnigan and Michael Townsend will not be available for our game tonight.

John was due to return to the specialist yesterday after making very little progress with his heel injury over the last few weeks. At present we cannot put an estimated time on John's return to training.

Michael was also due to return to a specialist this week after little improvement from his virus. The initial consultation and tests revealed Michael was suffering from a form of post-viral fatigue. His symptoms haven't subsided and he was due to have a scan on his sinuses to see if this was contributing to his symptoms. Again at present we are unable to estimate a time for his return to full training.

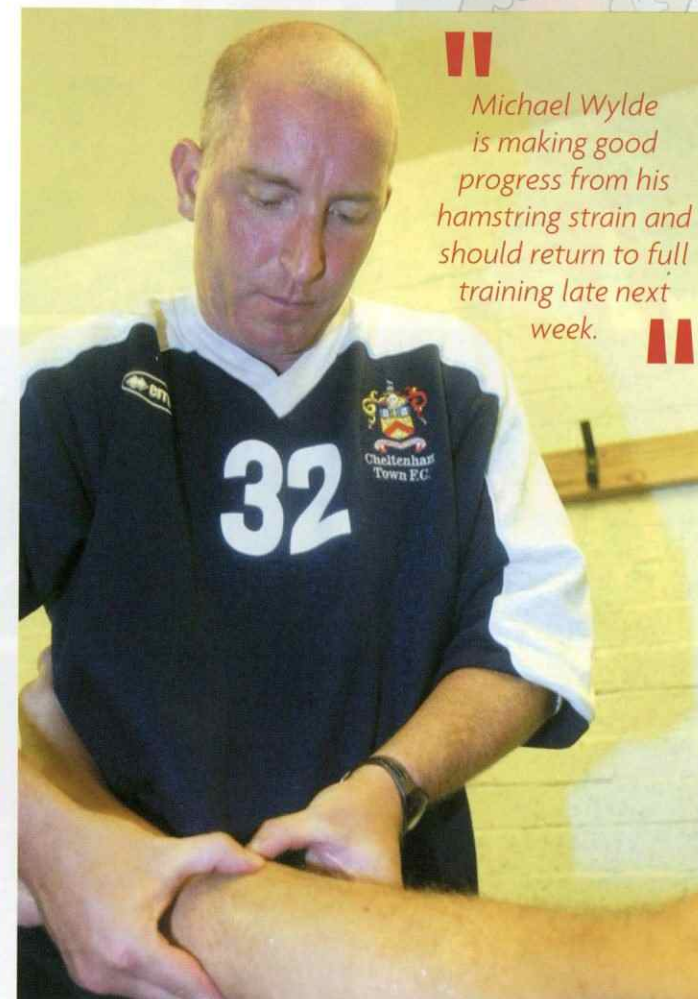

Michael Wylde is making good progress from his hamstring strain and should return to full training late next week.

Although we suffered a few minor niggles following our game at Leyton Orient last week I am pleased to report that the remainder of the squad will be available for selection for tonight's game.

THE HATTERS UNDER THE SPOTLIGHT

The club was created by merging together Luton Wanderers and Luton Excelsior in 1885 and they became one of the founding members of the Southern League in 1894.

Luton Town have been rampant in the transfer market in the summer making nine signings under new manager Kevin Blackwell. The challenge was to win back promotion to the second tier of English football again but by mid-October Luton found themselves in a disappointing position in League One. However they have brought some success to the fans in the shape of a 3-0 win over Sunderland and a 3-1 win over Charlton Athletic in the League Cup, before eventually slipping up 1-0 to Premiership side Everton. Luton have recently fallen into administration and they were docked ten points which left them rooted to the bottom of the table. Blackwell and his players will know that good performances on the pitch are necessary to helping the club off the pitch and for the long term future of the club.

IN THE HOT SEAT

KEVIN BLACKWELL

Blackwell was born in Luton and began his playing career with Cambridge United, with Ron Atkinson as his manager. Blackwell left Leeds United with sour memories but will be eager to start a new successful chapter with the Hatters. On the 27th March 2007, Kevin Blackwell was named as the new manager of his hometown club Luton Town. He made a number of quality signings such as Darren Currie and Richard Jackson to bolster the squad for the upcoming season in League One. One of the top managers around at the moment who is well known for his tactical side of management.

DID YOU KNOW

- Denis Law, then playing for Manchester City, scored six goals against Luton in 1961 but they still lost! The match was abandoned and Luton then won the replay 2-1!
- In 1936, Joe Payne scored a league record of ten goals in one game for Luton against an embarrassed Bristol Rovers side!

LUTON TOWN

Dean Brill

DEAN BRILL

One of the big prospects of League One and arguably one of the most talented keepers around at the moment. Brill took the number one spot when Kevin Blackwell took charge at Kenilworth Road. He was named young player of the season despite Luton Town being relegated in the summer. The 22-year-old joined his hometown club at the age of nine and rose through the ranks. He has played for Gillingham on loan but is now an integral part of the Hatters side. Brill organises his defence well and has been in great form during the 15 starts he has made this season.

RICHARD JACKSON

One of the nine summer signings made by Kevin Blackwell prior to the start of this season and is well known for a distinguished career with Derby County. The full back was their longest serving player until he made the move to Luton Town on a two-year deal. He joined Derby in 1999 from Scarborough after playing just 24 games for the seaside club. The 27-year-old made five appearances in the Rams promotion season last year but now finds himself at Kenilworth Road helping the club in their efforts to return to the Championship. 21 appearances so far this season for the Hatters.

Chris Perry

CHRIS PERRY

The well travelled Chris Perry is held in high regard by Hatters fans and he will be the one to stop Steven Gillespie today. Perry started his career with Wimbledon in 1991 and found himself at Tottenham Hotspur in 1999. Before this move Perry was being touted as one of the players that could make the England team. Injuries have hampered Perry's career and he has found himself at clubs such as Charlton, MK Dons and WBA. He played for Albion in their Championship playoff final defeat to Derby last season. 23 appearances for the 34-year-old this season and one goal in League One.

JAROSLAW FOJUT

Currently on loan from Bolton Wanderers and making good impressions with the Luton backroom staff. Fojut already adds to a strong defence including Chris Perry and Chris Coyne. The 20-year-old is on loan with Luton until the 1st January 2008 and has been with Bolton since 2004 having moved away from his birthplace of Poland. He made his Premiership debut in the 1-1 draw against Portsmouth in 2006 but is now looking for more regular first team football. 17 appearances so far this season and he has even managed to hit the back of the net twice.

David Bell

DAVID BELL

A talented young midfielder than can play in the centre as well as on the right and left. Bell signed a two and half year deal with the Hatters after signing from Rusden & Diamonds. Bell rose through the ranks at Nene Park and became a crowd favourite but found himself relishing the chance of playing at a higher level. The 23-year-old has been capped by the Republic of Ireland at U19 and U21. 21 appearances for the youngster so far this season and an impressive four goals. Definitely one of the danger men to watch out for today.

CHRIS COYNE

The 28-year-old was playing for Perth Soccer Club when he was chosen to represent the Australian under-17 squad to play in the 1994 Youth World Cup, a tournament which brought him to the attention of Harry Redknapp. Coyne signed for West Ham but never found his feet in Premiership football and after loan spells with Brentford and Southend, he moved to Dundee United. He then moved to Luton Town for £50,000 in 2001 and he rapidly became a favourite with Luton fans. Coyne has been so influential for Luton and was part of the Team of the Year in their League One success. The Luton club captain has made 21 appearances so far this season and has scored once.

Matthew Spring

MATTHEW SPRING

This is the second spell with Luton Town for Spring after he left originally to join Leeds United in 2004. Spring had been with Luton since he was a youngster and he went on to become an impressive figure, capturing the attention of Leeds. Unfortunately injuries pegged his career with Leeds back and he joined Watford to aid them in their quest to get into the Premiership. His rediscovered form eventually led him to signing a two and a half year contract worth £200,000 with his former club Luton. 24 appearances for the 28-year-old this season and six goals, four of which were in the league.

DAVID EDWARDS

David Edwards became Kevin Blackwell's first ever signing for Luton Town after joining in July 2007 from Shrewsbury Town. The energetic midfielder is a product of Shrewsbury's youth system and made 101 appearances for them, scoring 15 goals. He was capped for the Wales U19 team and has made 11 appearances for the U21 squad, scoring five goals. The 21-year-old was also named in the 26-man squad to face the Republic of Ireland and San Marino during the Euro 2008 qualifying campaign. Edwards has already been heavily tipped to feature in the future of the Welsh national squad. 18 appearances so far this season and two league goals.

Calvin Andrew

CALVIN ANDREW

One of the biggest prospects to come out of Luton Town for a while and will be a definite threat today. He was given his chance to shine in the first team after scoring eight goals in three youth team games, including hat-tricks against Northampton and Rushden. The tall, powerful frontman has a lot of pace and holds the ability to score goals in the air and on the ground. His first goal for Luton was in April 2006 but an injury at the start of last season halted his chances under former manager Mike Newell. 18 appearances so far this season and three goals to his name.

STEVE ROBINSON

A firm favourite at Kenilworth Road and a player who adds some much needed experience to a youthful midfield unit. The 33-year-old joined Luton in 2002 from Preston for a deal worth up to £50,000. Robinson has been capped five times by Northern Ireland but he really made his name with AFC Bournemouth. Sixty goals in 286 appearances for the Cherries tempted Preston to pay £375,000 for him. Robinson holds a tight midfield unit together and he will be keen to stop the threat of Dean Sinclair tonight. Eighteen appearances so far this season for Luton and one goal in the League Cup.

STAR PLAYER

DARREN CURRIE

Kevin Blackwell's third signing as Luton Town manager and arguably his best. The 33-year-old has played for a lot of clubs including West Ham, Ipswich and Plymouth. Currie started his career with West Ham but made his first senior appearance with Shrewsbury Town. An unsuccessful spell with Plymouth led to him becoming a prominent figure for both Barnet and Wycombe. In February, Currie had flown to LA Galaxy for a two week trial but having taken part in three trial games he returned to move on loan with Derby County. Currie will be the danger man today and all his experience will mean he could prove a thorn in the side of Gavin Caines and Shane Duff tonight. 21 appearances so far this season and two league goals.

SWANS AREN'T COMPLACENT

Swansea midfielder Darren Pratley believes that the high standards issued by manager Roberto Martinez will only help the team reach the success they crave.

Martinez ripped into his players at half time during their FA Cup clash with non-league Horsham because of their sloppiness throughout the first half which left them drawing 2-2. Swansea came out in the second half and won the game 6-2.

"The gaffer had a right go at us at the interval," said Pratley.

"I don't think many sides would get one of those when you go in 4-2 ahead. He thought we could play better and we had to agree with him. He sets high standards.

"If there's one lesson the boys have learnt from the game it's that you have to earn the right to play first."

Scott Fitzgerald

FITZGERALD BECOMES LION

Gillingham youth team manager Scott Fitzgerald has joined the Millwall backroom staff this week as part of the new youth coaching staff at the New Den.

Fitzgerald joined Gillingham in July but could not resist the return to his former club and a higher level of youth coaching.

He told the Kent Messenger: "I was desperate to coach a team up against the best and in Millwall's division they play Chelsea, Arsenal and West Ham.

"I've been at Gillingham for four months and I loved it and I did have second thoughts about leaving.

"The chairman has been fantastic to me and the new manager has been great. I really believe the first team are going places."

LACTICS GROUND PLANS ACCEPTED

Oldham have received a massive boost after their plans of Boundary Park's re-development were accepted by Oldham Borough Council.

One of the club's trio of American-based owners, Simon Corney, paid the tribute to the Latics fans who campaigned vigorously for the scheme to be approved.

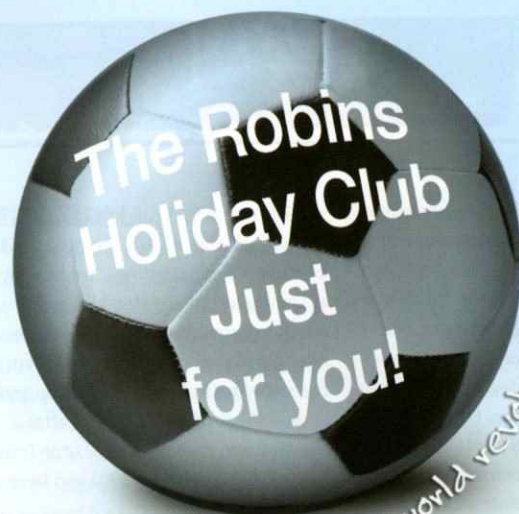

Corney said: "They've given us a wonderful show of support. The way they have come together has made it feel like we are one big family and now we want to go places."

We couldn't be happier; this is like getting 12 points in the league all in one go!

"We're very pleased. This was the right decision, and I hope we can do the town proud and create something special.

"This is the culmination of four years' hard work by everyone. People within the Council have helped us tremendously, as have individuals inside and outside the club.

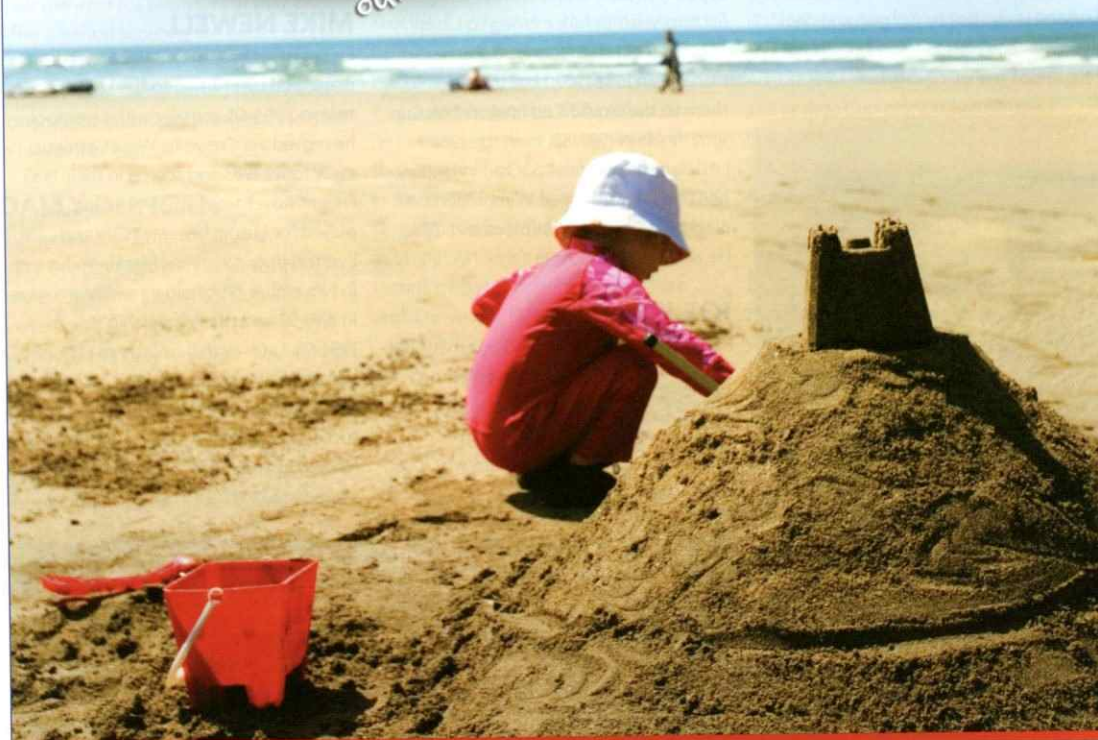

"And the response from people who don't really work for the club but have some kind of attachment or involvement has been phenomenal."

10 DAVIDIAN SPENCER

“ I never set myself targets as a striker; I just take the chance when it comes. I'm here for two months so I could be scoring more than five to seven goals, it doesn't matter what teams come here if you take the chances that drop to you. ”

GUY MADJO

Age: 23
Birthplace: Cameroon
Squad Number: 24
Position: Striker
Previous Clubs: Bristol City, Stafford Rangers, Forest Green, Crawley Town.

An Interview With One Of Cheltenham Town's Latest Signings

Guy Madjo was brought to Whaddon Road to help Cheltenham Town survive a tough season and he is relishing his chance to tackle the Football League. James Brown joined Guy at Seasons training ground to catch up with Cameroonian striker.

How did you get into football as a youngster?

To be fair I was always playing football back home in Cameroon for my team PMUC F.C. I always wanted to play football and I always focussed on professional football. I always admired Samuel Eto'o and I started to like him when he was with Mallorca. His performances for club and my country Cameroon and the goals he scored made him such a good player in my eyes.

You recently spent time training with the Cameroon national squad, how was it to have that chance and play alongside Samuel Eto'o?

It was like a dream for me, it's almost like your religion. Then you're playing alongside him, it was like a dream and I can't believe it. I remember the last time I saw him was about six years ago and he just gripped me and I shook his hand. I thought to myself this is the professional footballer that I like the most and it was great. I definitely try and use his style in my own game because I have some of the attributes he has. I am strong and I can hit it myself and he has all those skills. He has pace and power, he is so quick and he is just a difficult player who can score goals, he has everything.

When you signed for Crawley Town, were you settled or were you always ### dreaming about a chance in the Football League?

To be fair, in my life I have always thought you should try your hardest with what you have got. I don't think about something else because I've always learnt that when you play football, you shouldn't think about anything else but your own game. When I signed for Crawley, of course I was thinking to move to a higher level but first I have to make sure I have finished my business in Crawley before I have a chance to move up the leagues. I was never just going to sign for Crawley and then think about moving straight away, I needed to prove myself there first. If you work hard and score the goals then the move will be easy.

When Cheltenham came knocking, what were your first thoughts?

Well when Cheltenham first came knocking the manager didn't tell me it was Cheltenham! He just said that it was a league club that wanted me on loan. This was before I went to the training camp with the national squad in Germany and I thought that this would be a great move for me. My confidence was high and I hoped that we could complete the move before I went to the training camp but it never happened. But I came back to Crawley and of course it happened. It's taken too long for me to get back into the Football League, when I was at Bristol City I was not ready for professional football in England. I thought I was ready but I know for sure now that I'm ready to tackle the league and I can do that here.

You're obviously looking to prove yourself here and perhaps make the signing permanent?

Definitely, I've come here for business and I will make sure I do everything right. It's tough because the gaffer and the staff are looking for something more from the team and the lads that are here already have been brilliant, but I am determined.

Is your goal scoring record in the Conference something you are going to try and mirror here in the Football League?

To be fair, if you score goals in the conference, I don't know why you can't score goals in the league because the conference, in a way, is tougher than the league. Everything is harsher there and harder, in the league there is more space to play in and you have more time to think. Everything in the conference is tight and more of a fight than it is in the league. If I have the chance then I will score the goals, why not?

What are your personal targets and goals for this season?

I never set myself targets as a striker; I just take the chance when it comes. I'm here for two months so I could be scoring more than five to seven goals, it doesn't matter what teams come here if you take the chances that drop to you. I never set myself targets...just take your chances when they come.

What were your first thoughts about Cheltenham when you first came to the club?

When I was with Bristol City, I played a few games against Cheltenham Town, in the reserves that is. To be fair my first thought was that I'm back in the league and now I have to go out and prove that I can play at this level. After two or three seasons I left City and people have just told me that I need to go and show that I can play in this league, maybe I wasn't ready at first but I am determined to prove I am now. We are near the bottom but I believe what will be, will be and that whatever team comes here you should go out and play your best, whether it is for five, ten minutes or if you start the game. Cheltenham is the important team at the moment; we need the points and to make sure we move away from the bottom of this division.

It's Luton Town on Friday night, a team just relegated for the Championship. Are you determined to go out at Whaddon Road, score some goals and prove to people that you can perform at this level?

Yes of course, as I say from the beginning I'm looking forward to every single game here and I will make sure I do my best and give my best for the team as well. There's not much point if I'm out there and I don't give my best. I will do my best and prove to the fans that I can play in this league. I don't know much about Luton Town but at the end of the day I don't like to talk about the opposite team because I'm not bothered. Whatever team we play I'll take it in my stride and play my own game. For example, if the guys from Chelsea or Manchester came here to play us, I'm not bothered because I'll just go out and play my game. Football is on the pitch and it doesn't matter who you play, you have to go out and play your best and prove it on the pitch.

For Cheltenham Town, the Leeds game was historic and when you came on from the bench, you made the difference. Did you get involved with the excitement of that match?

Well, I never sit on the bench. Everywhere I've played I have played in the first team. If I am on the bench I'm really watching the game but I am watching what is happening around my position a lot as well so I can work out what is needed. When I was watching that game I thought we needed to pile on some pressure up there because there wasn't enough. When I came on, I didn't even play! But what I was doing was making runs and putting pressure on their defence, which is what we needed. At the end of the day, we got the benefit by stopping them from playing like they were and putting pressure on them. We finally got the goal by using pressure, I went to the keeper and he just came out to the 18 yard line and hit it, and obviously Gilly got the goal. But like I said when I was on the bench, I'm not just watching the game but I am watching my part of the game as well. Getting the three points was the most important thing and we did that. Whatever the manager gives to me, I will deal with and play to my best because he is the only one who knows what he is looking for and his decision making is for the best of the team.

FAN'S VIEW

By Hannah Lugsden

SLIP UP ONCE AND YOU'RE OUT!

I cannot think of a more deserving award winner than Sir Bobby Robson and I was delighted to see him pick up a lifetime achievement trophy at the Sports personality of the year ceremony.

Managers like Robson come along about as often as punctual buses and for him to have such respect from young and old, friend or foe, after managing several teams is a success which is understated.

So many managers have time bombs attached to them that it makes it almost impossible to stay at one particular club for a substantial period. You only have to look at the likes of Martin Jol and Stuart Pearce leaving Tottenham and Manchester City to understand what a crazy football world it is which we live in.

Not even the once thought untouchable Jose Mourinho could hold down the Chelsea hot-seat, so what hope have the smaller fish got?

Managers' losing their jobs has become part and parcel of today's football league life. No longer are there headlines protesting the shock at top flight bosses being given the boot. Nowadays, chances are that one of the tabloids gave us the tip off months before the actual manager knew he was going himself.

I, as a football fan, have had to get used to this and as the saying goes...look after number one. But I must admit there was one Premier League redundancy which really irritated me and that was completely unjust.

Chris Coleman's dismissal from Fulham was a terrible decision. A cynic would argue that he didn't push the London club much further forward than his predecessor, but he stabilised a wobbling squad and won respect of not only his fellow league bosses but that of the team which he led.

Fulham, like Middlesbrough and Wigan, are clubs that find themselves in a dogfight for survival most seasons. But with Coleman at the helm, I always fancied them to grind out a result to upset the Premiership applecart. However, under Lawrie Sanchez (whom I feel left his Northern Ireland post with a bit of snobbery) I fear that Fulham have jumped out of the frying pan and into the fire.

Players get second and third chances, when Michael Owen misses chance after chance he doesn't get dropped. When Lee Bowyer gets himself sent off, he gets back into the starting line-up upon completion of his ban. Managers don't seem to get those nine lives, maybe because they don't have anyone else to bail them out whereas footballers can rely on their team-mates to dig them out of trouble.

At the first sign of trouble, the majority of football clubs' boards act hastily to ship out the can carrier. Not all clubs get it wrong, Portsmouth reinstating Harry Redknapp after Alain Perrin's P45 was written was one of the best moves in the clubs history. You could argue that Perrin's appointment was a clanger in the first place, but rarely can ex-managers go back to a club and be successful, bravo Harry, a wise old bird.

When Chelsea and Arsenal were going through their unbeatable phase, Manchester United were pushed into the shadows. Sir Alex Ferguson was struggling to win any silverware, an expectation of die-hard red devil fans. His signings; Kleberson and Eric Djemba-Djemba were churning out unsatisfactory performances and the team looked to be falling apart. Sir Alex was given time (a rarity) to turn things around and now United are back up there with the best.

Very few managers in that position would have been given the chance to come up trumps and Ferguson's reputation probably secured him the support he needed. It's a shame that clubs react to the blips and let them overpower the long term achievements. I can't see the situation changing, not while money is such a predominant factor.

Paul Jewell won't be able to do any more than Billy Davies could have done to rescue Derby from the drop, yet Davies got County promoted out of nothing. And Big Sam Allardyce won't rocket Newcastle into Europe, but never mind, they can always go and get a new manager, maybe Steve McClaren!!

SPOTLIGHT ON...

BBC Radio Gloucestershire's Ian Randall Puts The Spotlight Upon Cheltenham's Michael D'Agostino

WHAT'S THE MOTTO YOU LIVE BY?

I'm really big on being respectful of others, and believing others should be respectful of you.

WHAT IS YOUR MOST PRIZED POSSESSION?

I've got a couple of necklaces that I wear that mean a lot to me. One's a pendant from my grandmother and grandfather, and the other is the crest of a saint that is meant to protect me.

WHAT IS YOUR FAVOURITE BREAKFAST CEREAL?

I like Granola, dried fruits and yoghurt.

WHICH COMPANY WOULD BE YOUR IDEAL SPONSOR?

I'd have to say Ferrari if they would give me a nice car!

ARE YOU A SPENDER OR A SAVER?

I'm a spender. Mostly it's clothes and electronic stuff.

WHO IS YOUR FAVOURITE PERSON ON TV?

Either Tony Soprano or

Vincent Chase from Entourage.

WHAT MADE YOU LAST LOSE YOUR TEMPER?

I don't remember. I haven't lost my temper in a while. Maybe when I gave a bad ball away in a game I did but that's about it.

TELL US SOMETHING YOUR TEAM MATES DON'T KNOW ABOUT YOU?

They may not know I speak a second language (Italian).

WHICH TV WOULD YOU LIKE TO BE A CONTESTANT ON, AND WHY?

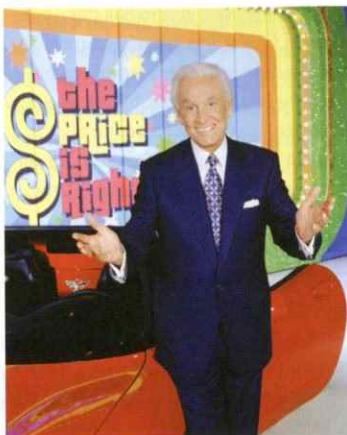

Probably The Price is Right, or Jeopardy, which is a quiz show with smart questions. Thinking about it, I probably wouldn't do too well on that!

IF YOU WENT TO UNIVERSITY, WHICH DEGREE WOULD YOU DO?

I started Business Management but I'm nowhere near finished. I started University in the USA mainly for the football, which is pretty good. I could always go back if I wanted to, although I hope I don't need to.

WHAT PART OF TRAINING DO YOU ENJOY MOST?

I would say the small sided games, five or seven a side.

IF THERE IS A PRANK BEING PLAYED, WHO IS USUALLY THE CULPRIT?

There's a few, but Scott Brown is probably the main one.

WHICH OTHER SPORTING EVENT WOULD YOU LIKE A TICKET FOR?

In history, it would be the World Cup final between Italy and France. In the future, maybe a Champions League final between Liverpool and AC Milan.

BBC RADIO GLOUCESTERSHIRE

The BBC's Ian Randall Reports

Iwould never make a director at a football club. Risk is not a word that sits easily with me, as my glass is usually half full rather than half empty.

Last week during our commentary at Leyton Orient, we had several texts asking the Board to come up with the money to buy Forest Green striker Stuart Fleetwood after he scored his 25th goal of the season at Burton. Many of you will know Rovers have placed a £250,000 fee on Fleetwood's head, and that would mean Cheltenham spending more than four times their previous record fee on one player. Whether the club has the money is another question, but to me how the club is being run financially is ethically correct.

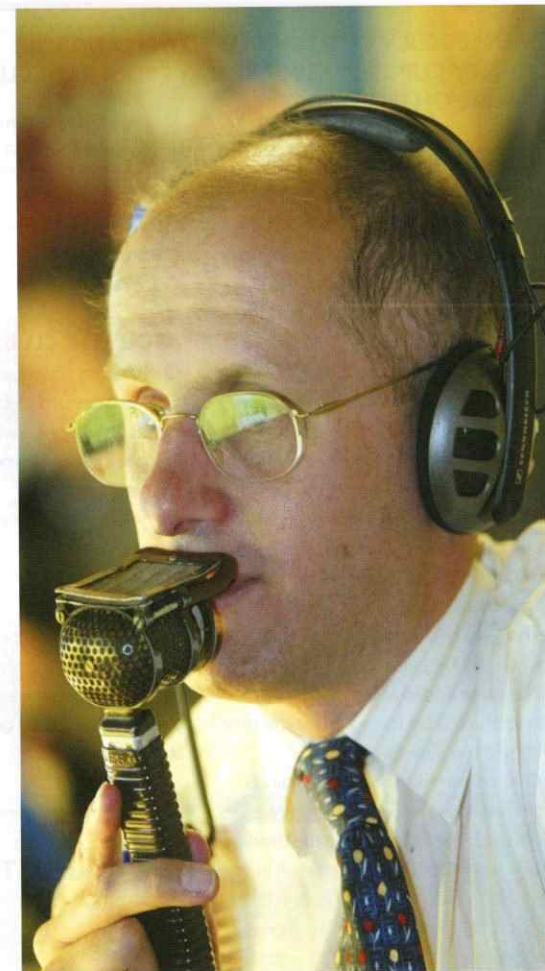

Luton Town come here tonight in administration. I am not party to how they got there, but Mike Newell's much publicised criticism of the Board selling a raft of players last season to stay afloat suggests the financial management of the club has clearly had its flaws. They have taken a ten point hit for their stance, but ask yourself this - is that all that clubs should suffer? In my opinion some clubs are far too free and easy in their spending (Leeds would be the most obvious example) and have far too glib an attitude to administration, effectively dismissing millions of pounds worth of debt at a stroke. The League should be decided on the ability of a club to run its affairs properly and those that don't should be punished more severely. To me, the minimum punishment should be automatic relegation for the following season.

The Robins have debt, but not a lot compared to others. Fans have been critical about investment, but if Bournemouth should go into administration for a second time (an option not available to financially troubled Swindon, who have been down that road twice and are not allowed by the League to do it a third time) and Cheltenham finish above the penalised clubs, how would you feel then? It would be a moral victory in more ways than one.

Luton's current situation is so bad that their players being paid hung on the result of their FA Cup replay with Nottingham Forest, showing how the desire for success can outstrip the ability to pay for it. My colleague Peter Matthews went to the Ricoh Arena recently, the home of Coventry City. Lovely venue, but the Sky Blues are £38 million in debt and they don't even own it. Administration looms unless a wealthy benefactor has come forward by the time you read this. Talks are on-going but the world is hardly full of men (or women) willing to take on that sort of liability.

With the Christmas programme approaching - the Robins face four games in twelve days - I'm sure Keith

Downing is already thinking ahead to the January transfer window. What can he do, and how much flexibility does he have? According to my notes there are eleven players out of contract in the summer, and the less experienced ones (7 have fewer than 20 first team games to their credit) do not have long to build their case. In terms of a short term fix - I would hope Keith makes a call to Simon Davey at Barnsley if Kayode Odejayi continues to be on the fringe of things. I see he has played less than 45 minutes in the last eight matches. He is a confidence player and a month here may benefit everyone.

The Hatters are one of only four teams the Robins are yet to play this season. The outcome, as much as anything, may depend on the morale of the Luton players.

'Keep Up To Date With The Cheltenham Town Ladies'

CIRENCESTER V CHELTENHAM TOWN LADIES COUNTY CUP 25/11/2007 REPLAY FROM CANCELLED FIXTURE ON 18/11/2007

Cheltenham started off well on a big pitch at Cirencester stringing some nice passes together and had quite a few chances but only one clear cut chance when Donaldson put Martin clean through but her shot was soft and the keeper claimed the ball.

Just after half time Roberts was fouled and given the free kick however Roberts retaliated and kicked out at her opponent. Roberts was sent off following her rash reaction. Playing with only one up front Cheltenham seemed to up the effort and improved as a unit. The Cirencester keeper made a couple of good saves from player of the match Parker who had a goal disallowed for a foul on the keeper.

The game ended at 0-0 and Cheltenham were forced into extra time with just ten players.

Cheltenham were physically drained from their player deficit but continued to work hard. The Robins broke the deadlock finally when Donaldson won a ball in midfield to set up a Cheltenham attack. Parker finished the move off by showing great composure with the Cirencester keeper charging out and finishing neatly to give Cheltenham the lead.

Before the break in extra time a hard tackle by Fields meant she had to limp off with a knee injury. The rest of the team battled hard and despite continuous pressure from the Cirencester Town team Lunn made some good saves and the defence were equal to any attack they faced.

A hard fought good win for Cheltenham who now await the quarter finals draw and focus their attention on Penzance next week in the league.

RESERVE TEAM NOTES

A young Cheltenham Town Reserve side played a touring team from Australia at the training ground this afternoon and ran out 5-2 winners with youth team stiker Dean Maynard scoring a first half hat-trick.

Sam Foley

Scott Brown got through another full game, his third 90 minutes of reserve team football since recovering from a broken leg, and there were also appearances from Ben Gill, Sam Foley and Will Puddy from the professional ranks.

The remainder of the team comprised Scholars and trainees from the Under-18 set up, while the visiting side was put together from various Australian youth teams under the banner of Pro Soccer Australia.

Cheltenham scored twice in the opening three minutes with Maynard driving in a shot at the far post from a Marley Watkins cross after Sam Foley had set him up.

Maynard then headed the second after a cross from right-back Jack Taylor had been headed back across goal by Watkins.

Kado Acoa pulled one back for the visitors on 18 minutes but Cheltenham went on to create chances with regularity and Lee Millichip rounded the goalkeeper after good work from Ben Gill and Maynard in the 27th minute.

Scott Brown

Ben Gill

Matthew Walsh put Maynard clean through four minutes before half-time to claim his hat-trick and Cheltenham should have had a fifth at the start of the second half. Brown was brought down in the penalty area but Ben Gill's spot kick was saved.

The goals dried up until two minutes from the end when Matthew Jarman pulled another goal back for Pro Soccer Australia with a shot from a tight angle. Right from the kick-off, however, Theo Lewis supplied Andy Sheppard with a crossfield pass for him to complete the scoring at 5-2.

CENTRE OF EXCELLENCE

All the Latest from the CTFC Centre of Excellence

A belated welcome to John Brough who has joined the department taking over from Bob Bloomer as Youth Coach. John worked with us last season with both the youth and reserve group and was the ideal candidate to take over from Bob. John's role will also extend down through the centre of excellence as he aims to nurture the home grown talent through to the youth group.

We have reached the half way point in our season for the schoolboy programme. We were disrupted the last weekend with poor weather conditions and the cancellation of a set of fixtures with Oxford United however we are looking forward to Sunday when we face Walsall for our final set of games this year.

It has been a good first half of the season for the centre of excellence. The Football League has been in to monitor our practice three times since September and the feedback has been excellent. Adie Shaw, our regional monitor, has observed the games programme at both youth team and schoolboys level and audited the administration and delivery of our scheme. We have been commended for operating a good scheme but one we want to continue building upon.

We have 110 registered players within the Centre of Excellence who are coached and monitored by 20 part time staff. Our coaching, medical staff and security staff deserve our thanks for all their efforts to date. It is a big commitment to work within our programme, but one which all staff do with professionalism and enjoyment. Their work ethic, dedication and enthusiasm towards the scheme has been excellent this year and we are seeing the benefits of this as we feel the programme has kicked on again this season.

Hartpury College play an important role for our schoolboy development. We house our training programme at Hartpury and utilise some of the best sporting facilities in Gloucestershire. As coaching staff, we have access to a state of the art 3rd generation rubber crumb for three nights a week which is a superb training surface. We have access to an indoor area, a weights and conditioning gym along with hydrotherapy pools. These provisions allow us to deliver our technical programme in the best possible environment.

We move into the New Year with an eye on the progression of players within the system. The U16 group are striving for apprenticeships with John Brough's youth team. When decisions are made on the current group of youth players, players from the U16 group will begin to feature in John's group. There is then a knock on effect with players down the system who move up through the groups to play beyond their age bands.

Ken Oram

Firstly I'd like to thank Keith & Brian Forsbrook for giving me the opportunity to be involved full time with the club closest to my heart. My role as youth team coach is to develop the 16-18 year olds into possible first team players. A club like ours must produce from within and that's why I will be giving 100% towards achieving this.

It's not just the playing side that I will be trying to develop; it is the attitudes and culture as well. I am hoping that I can pass on the experiences that I have gained through my playing career.

A month in and I am enjoying every minute, I am getting to know all the players. The results haven't been great so I will be looking for a vast improvement. Youth team football is about producing individuals that can go on and play in the first team but I do think that youngsters today have lost that winning mentality which is required at first team level so this is something that I will be working on as

WHADDNEY FILES

Hi everyone

What an awesome game the Leeds match was eh? Well done to the lads for such an ace performance, and getting one of the club's greatest results.

From the reactions in the crowd, I didn't realise so many Leeds fans lived in Cheltenham did you? Just goes to show that there's quality football to be seen right here, on people's doorstep. So, if some of you local Leeds fans have returned to get behind the Robins, then welcome back folks, and hope you keep coming - we've got good pies here too eh (and just wait till you see the dancers next week!).

A warm welcome to Hatters fans tonight and best wishes to their great mascot Happy Harry - I don't fancy being weighed down with a hat the size of yours Harry, and what happens when it gets blown off? Does it take out half the crowd, or worse - lift your outside head off !!?

Don't forget our next home game, next Saturday on 22 December - it will be a family fun day and a great warm up for Christmas. Get here early, have a great time, and behave yourselves - no pushing in front of me the face painting, no pinching my balloons, and no stopping me getting hugs from those fantastic dancers!

Right, I'm about to finish my Christmas list... new CTFC warm up top (size XXXXXL), toy Whaddney from the club shop (good for my ego!), organic worm pudding....

Ok, sing up for the lads tonight, and see you back here for the Fun Day!

Coooooome on you Robins...!!!!!!!

BAD NEWS FOR THE MISSUS

Legendary manager BILL SHANKLY was right when he said "Football isn't a matter of life and death – it's more important than that."

A staggering 80% of fans polled by Virgin Media spent up to £2,500 following their team, while the same proportion said they would even chance splitting up with a loved one rather than miss their match-day outings.

Some 20% would sooner spend their cash on football than save to get a foot on the property ladder.

SUPPORTING THE ROBINS KEEPS YOU FIT

Forget about lashing out on exorbitant fees for gym membership – watching the Robins on a regular basis will keep you fit.

Research from 118footie.com has shown that a fan on average burns between 1,000 and 1,200 calories per match. This is the equivalent of 40 minutes of running, 180 minutes of sex or, in real terms, eight cans of beer.

A high-scoring game increases calories

FRENCHMAN DISLIKED 'OOP NORTH'

2000 World Cup and Euro winner VINCENT CANDELA has finally revealed what life was really like for a Frenchman in England's north. "I got out of BOLTON quick. The weather and English football were not for me. The forwards used to tackle me, a defender. I did not understand." The French international made 12 appearances for BOLTON on a 5-month loan from ROMA in 2005 before escaping back to Italy with UDINESE, where forwards don't tackle anyone, let alone defenders. He finally hung up his unscathed boots in September.

burned as celebrating a goal or reacting frustratingly to another near-miss adds to the sweat release.

And its good news for you fans in the C & G Stand – watching your team from the terraces burns on average more calories per game.

RED CARD FOR SPIDERMAN

After scoring for Bolivian team THE STRONGEST against BOLIVAR striker PABLO SALINAS was sent off for a Spiderman goal celebration. THE STRONGEST's 2 – 0 win against their bitter La Paz rivals was their first in the last 10 meetings between the clubs. SALINAS netted the decisive second goal a quarter of an hour from the end, prompting him to pull a Spiderman mask from his shorts and put it on his head. The official in charge was not amused and SALINAS was given his marching orders.

CROATIANS WANT OUR CROONER

CROATIA whilst not impressed with STEVE McCLAREN's woeful English team and the farmyard Wembley pitch, loved the singer of their national anthem. Step forward TONY HENRY the Herefordshire opera singer who belted out both national anthems before the match. He endeared himself to the CROATIA team, officials and supporters when he should have sung "Mila kuda si planina" which means "You know my dear, we love your mountains", but instead sang "Mia kura si planina" or "My dear my penis is a mountain." A campaign has been launched in the Balkans country to invite TONY to perform in Pula, Western Croatia.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE IT?

- A myth has been dispelled in the wake of the recent death of legendary tenor LUCIANO PAVAROTTI, who was reported as being a useful footballer in his youth and had played for his hometown team of MODENA. The club have now confirmed that PAVAROTTI never played for them.

- The No. 10 shirt worn by PELE in the 1970 World Cup Final fetched £66,500 at an auction at Christie's in London. It was part of a collection owned by MARIO ZACALLO, the BRAZIL manager.

- According to the League Managers Association 41.5% of sacked managers never get another job in football. This rises to 50% for first time managers who get the sack.

THEY SAID IT...

"I knew the club were not in a very nice situation. I knew the group of players here were not a very nice group of players. And I knew it needed to be sorted out. That is why I came here, because I like trouble." – LEEDS' not very nice manager DENNIS WISE.

"The English working class is turning its back on football. I rarely see a kickabout in the park. All I see are the dazzling lights of bedroom windows from the glare of TVs and computers." – PORTSMOUTH boss HARRY REDKNAPP explaining why modern teams are full of imported players.

"I do go to football sometimes but I don't know the offside rule or free kicks – or side-kicks – or whatever they're called." – VICTORIA BECKHAM

BRAIN TEASER

1. Testing your geography – which English Premier League club is a) the furthest north, b) the furthest south, c) the furthest east and d) the furthest west?

2. Who scored the goal for Hereford United against Newcastle United in the 1972 F.A. Cup which got BBC commentator John Motson very excited?

3. Spot the odd one out – which of these countries has not won a European Cup: Belgium, Greece, Norway, Sweden?

4. Who was the last English manager to win the F.A. Cup?

5. Who did Luton Town dismiss as their boss in 2000 and which club is he with now?

6. Oak Road and Maple Road go past which League One club's ground?

7. Since 1945 who has been the longest serving manager at Luton Town?

JUNIOR ROBINS

Welcome to Whaddon Road to all our Junior Robins

JUNIOR ROBINS BIRTHDAYS

LUKE MCGOVERN
IAIN CLARKE-COAST
JORDAN LYMM
MATTHEW NEWBOLD
SAM DRAPER
LUKE DRISCOLL

Christmas Party - the closing date for this annual event has now gone, and we have over 100 of you coming along to share some festive fun with Keith, Bob and your favorite players. If you are lucky we might find Whaddney and Santa drop by too. The party takes place on Tues 18th December, and if your school term has already ended don't forget that there is a Reserves game at Whaddon Road at 2pm. Reserves games are free to Junior Robins - just show your membership card. We are busily making plans, and look forward to seeing you on the day.

TEN QUESTIONS IN TEN MINUTES

Junior Robin Lewis Buddle was invited to meet John Finnigan in the dugout while the players were warming up before our sell out fixture against Leeds United. He had ten minutes to interview John and posed some interesting and well thought out questions. Well done Lewis, and thanks John. If you are a Junior Robin and would like to ask ten questions to your favourite player then please contact Siobhan at the Club, or ask us at the Christmas party.

LEWIS BUDDLE INTERVIEWS JOHN FINNIGAN BEFORE THE LEEDS MATCH

Hi Finners thanks for agreeing to this Junior Robins interview I've got some questions I'd like to ask you

Happy Birthday to Marcus Boville who is 10 on 15th December, Marcus attends Woodmancote Primary School and his favorite player is John Finnigan

We have a Birthday package taking place here at the Luton game. Can you please do birthday announcement in the programme (on Junior Robins page) with the attached photo "Happy Birthday to Sam Jefferies who was 9 on 11th December, Sam attends Beech Green Primary School and his favorite CTFC player is Jerry Gill"

1. How did you get into your footie career?

I was about 6 or 7 years old and watched my dad playing local football in Leeds. I started playing when I was about 10 or 11 for Leeds City boys and from there I was scouted and started at Nottingham Forest.

2. Who was your role model when you were younger?

I had a few role models. David Batty, Bryan Robson, Roy Keane but my favourite who may not be a popular choice has to be Maradona. You could add Gazza to this list too.

3. When I was mascot last season and ran out on the pitch at Nottingham Forest and I was gobsmacked at how it felt. Is it still like that for you?

Yes I still find the crowds can be deafening and the atmosphere still gets to you, especially the big games.

4. What job do you think you would have done if you weren't a footballer?

I think it would still have been something sporting. At school I wasn't very academic but was always into sports.

5. What will you do when you eventually retire from playing football?

I'd like to stay in football, work on my coaching badges and that is something I'd like to do.

6. Who do you think will be the next England manager?

That's a good one! Martin O'Neal, but he seems to have ruled himself out, I'm not sure.....Mourinho!

7. What advice do you give me and other Junior Robins if we want to follow in your footsteps?

Just enjoy playing while your young, practice all you can. I was always kicking a ball around, but also remember to still get down to your schoolwork and homework. There is a lot of youngsters out there who want to be footballers and not everyone is lucky enough to make it.

8. What do think you about Keith Downing as manager?

I think he's a good choice. The results are just starting to turn around for us but it's early days, and he needs time to mould his own team. The important thing though is he's got the backing of all the lads so we've just got to keep at it.

9. Are you frustrated with your injury? Does it help though to be able to watch the team and maybe see where things are going wrong?

It is frustrating because it was an injury from nothing, it wasn't a tackle or anything like that and it's taking longer to heal than I thought it would. It's difficult to watch from the stands.

10. Finally what do you think of Cheltenham's hopes of staying up?

Positive! Not many give us a chance. They had us to go down last season and when it mattered we proved we could do it. So we can take a lot of inspiration from last season and I'm sure we can do it again. Oh look there's Grant McCann. Do you want to say hello!

AWAY TRAVEL Swansea City

The Liberty Stadium
Wednesday 26th December 2007
KO - 2pm
Coca-Cola League One

How To Get There...

Leave the M4 at Junction 45 and take the A4067 towards the City Centre (sign posted A4067 South). Stay on the A4067 for around two and half miles and you will reach the stadium on your left. Car parking at the stadium is for permit holders only and most of the immediate residential areas around the stadium now have 'residents only' parking schemes in place. Away supporters are being encouraged to use the Park & Ride Facility located at Swansea Vale, which is signposted off the A4067, shortly after leaving the M4. The cost of parking there including transport by bus to and from the stadium is £5 per car (away coaches and mini buses are parked at the stadium itself at a cost of £10 per vehicle). Away supporters have their own separate buses to the ground, with the buses waiting outside the away stand at the end of the game to take supporters back to the car park. Don't be tempted to park on the nearby Retail Park as you may well end up with a ticket for your trouble!

By Train:

Swansea High Street Station is on the main line route from London Paddington. It is about two miles from the stadium. Regular local bus services (every ten minutes: routes 4, 4a, 120, 122, 125, 132) and taxis (around £3.50) are available from the train station to the stadium. Otherwise if you have time on your hands and wish to embark on the 25-30 minute walk, then as you come out of the station turn right and go up the High Street. At the traffic lights turn right into Neath Road. Proceed straight along Neath Road and you will eventually reach the stadium on your right

How To Get There...

By Road:

After two and a half miles when Mount Road becomes Storeton Road, turn right into Prenton Road West and the ground will be visible on the right hand side.

There is a car park at the ground, otherwise, street parking, but beware that there is a strict local residents parking scheme in operation around the ground.

By Train:

The closest railway stations are Rock Ferry and Birkenhead Central, both served by Liverpool Lime St. Both stations are a fair walk from the ground. (15-20 minutes). Upon leaving Rock Ferry turn right and walk up the road for a fair distance until you reach a roundabout. At the roundabout, turn right again and walk straight up until you are close to the Sportsman pub. Then turn left down Everest Road and walk straight down to the bottom where you will be standing opposite the turnstiles for the Cowshed Stand.

SATURDAY 22ND DECEMBER
HUDDERSFIELD TOWN (H) (CCL1)
WHADDON ROAD

Huddersfield are currently on a bad run of form, conceding eight goals in just two league matches. Despite this they are a tough side with the ability to make those pay that push to far up the field. The last time Huddersfield visited Whaddon Road, they were defeated 2-1. However they defeated Cheltenham 2-0 in the return visit.

Huddersfield are currently in 15th position in League One.

WEDNESDAY 26TH DECEMBER
SWANSEA CITY (A) (CCL1)
LIBERTY STADIUM

Top of the table and confident that they can achieve promotion to the second tier of English football at the end of the season. Roberto Martinez has done wonders at Swansea City but will be desperate to for these three points to keep ahead of the game.

The last time the two sides met was earlier this season when Swansea defeated a plucky Cheltenham side 2-1. The last time they met at the Liberty Stadium was the first game of the 06/07 season, a game in which the Robins won 2-1.

Swansea are currently in 1st position in League One.

SATURDAY 29TH DECEMBER
TRANMERE (A) (CCL1)
PRENTON PARK

Another team that is starting to realise their potential as they eye up the playoff positions. Rovers have been playing some good football of late despite a slip up against Hartlepool. The last time these two teams met the game finished 1-1 towards the start of this season. The game at Prenton Park last season also finished in a draw, this time 2-2. Cheltenham will be looking to continue their good run of form against Rovers.

Tranmere are currently in 10th position in League One.

PREVIOUS THREE RESULTS:*FA Cup

WEDNESDAY 2ND JANUARY
PORT VALE (H) (CCL1)
WHADDON ROAD

Fellow relegation threatened Vale might be lacking some confidence but they hold a distinct mental advantage over the Robins. The last time these two met there was a disputed goal, a sending off for Lindegaard and the departure of the much admired John Ward.

Cheltenham will be keen to put that evening and the 3-0 defeat behind them and take revenge against Port Vale.

Vale are currently in 21st position in League One.
