A WORD WITH THE BOSS

We are creating chances but we have to start scoring more if we want to win

AS we welcome Luton Town and their supporters to Anfield, tonight's replay may have come as a surprise to some people.

Everybody was expecting us to win at Kenilworth Road but that proved not to be the case.

While we were very disappointed with our performance we at least did enough to stay in the FA Cup and the 1-1 draw has provided us with another chance here tonight.

Other Premier League clubs do not have this opportunity after the third round so we must try to do our best to progress in the competition.

The game at Luton was our third consecutive draw after Manchester City and Wigan. I believe we had enough chances to win each of those games but we haven't done enough in front of goal.

We have to start scoring more if we want to win.

As I say, we had our chances at Luton despite not playing well. We just didn't take them.

Their goalkeeper has made some fabulous saves from Ryan Babel and John Arne Riise, and Dirk Kuyt and Peter Crouch have both had opportunities to score.

Luton also had chances and so we must be disappointed that we were not controlling the game.

At the same time, we must give full credit to Luton for their performance. They worked really, really hard but I believe it will be a different game here at Anfield.

We know from experience that the FA Cup can be dangerous, particularly against lower league opposition who can present different pitfalls.

Blackburn, Birmingham, Bolton and Everton were just some of the Premier League teams that had problems in the third round. There is always the chance of an upset and that is why everybody likes the FA Cup.

Regardless of the result, tonight's game is really important for Luton. Given their recent problems off the pitch the revenue from tonight's match, which is being televised, could be really important.

We also met Luton two years ago in the FA Cup. Hopefully we will meet them again some time in the coming years. We wish them all the best for the future.

The fourth round draw has been made and we know that whichever team wins tonight will be at home to either Swansea or Havant and Waterlooville next.

However, it is too early to be talking about the next round. We must treat every team with the utmost respect and so Luton is the only target we have at this moment.

Provided there were no problems following our game against Middlesbrough on Saturday, tonight will be Jamie Carragher's 500th game for Liverpool Football Club.

That is a fantastic achievement for any player.

It is really difficult to play 500 games at this level but even more so for just one club.

The quality, mentality and loyalty of Carra is amazing.

He joins an elite group of players who have played 500 plus games for the club; players such as Billy Liddell, Emlyn Hughes, Kenny Dalglish, Alan Hansen and Ian Rush.

When we talk about these names we remember that they were all fantastic players for Liverpool. Carra has earned his place alongside them.

Finally, it was with great sadness that we attended the funeral of our longstanding manager's secretary Sheila Walsh last week.

All of the managers who worked with Sheila since and including Bob Paisley always spoke highly of her and I can only add to that.

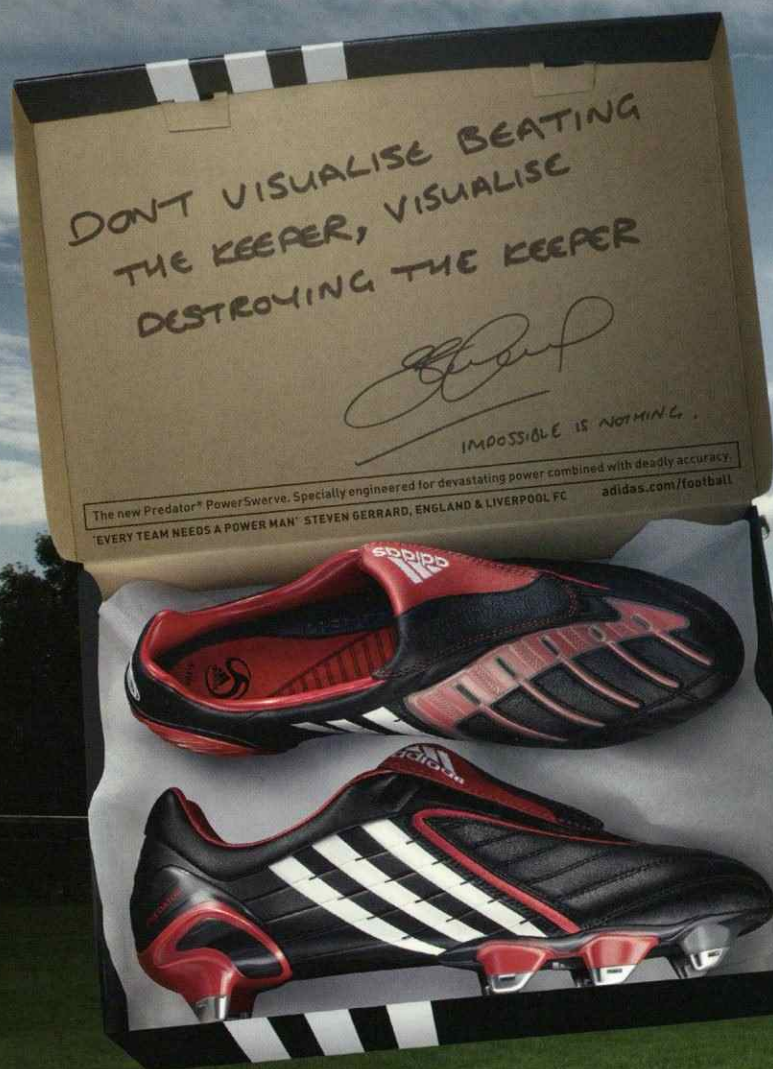

Sheila was brilliant, both as a colleague and a person.

We can talk a lot about the great job she did but it is the person we will remember. Sheila was a very nice person to be around, with a great sense of humour.

She will be missed by all at Liverpool Football Club. Our thoughts are with her family.

TONIGHT'S FA Cup third round replay is probably a game that we could have done without, but having watched the game with Luton at Kenilworth Road nine days ago I wouldn't pretend that they don't deserve it.

If anything, they might feel hard done to not to have won the game at the first attempt because they certainly had the chances to cause an upset.

We need to be better tonight to make sure that we don't join the other teams from the Premier League who saw their interest in this season's competition come to an end.

It's not the easiest place to go in the world; to play against a team who knew they had to pull something special out of the bag to give themselves a chance of surviving. They were playing on live TV and they needed to put on a show for potential investors.

But we didn't play like we can, or anything like how we can play. We'll be determined tonight to put that right.

We won't be disrespectful to them and we won't treat them lightly but we're not going to give them the possession or the chances that we did down there.

We're not really sure how many of the Luton team will be left from the 1-1 draw with their financial position forcing them to sell several of their best players.

But we can't look beyond the job that we've got to in 90 minutes – and that's to get into the next round of the cup, a cup that's been very good for us.

This is the first chance I've had to write for you since the Christmas period and, but for two dropped points at home to Wigan, it went pretty well for us results wise.

We were 10 minutes away from what anyone would admit was an excellent run, and suddenly we're out of things again.

We're not.

Just like we were supposed to be out of it four or five weeks ago and then dropped points by United and Arsenal allowed us to close the gap.

We've still got a game in hand to reduce the deficit between us and the league's top two.

They will slip up again. That's a definite. What the manager's said to us is that from now until the end of the season we have to be almost perfect against the teams below us in the table, or the teams outside the top four.

We're going for a run of winning results, hopefully for the next couple of months.

If we do that and take care of our own business then we'll put ourselves in a position where we can take advantage of any slips that the title rivals make.

I believe and I know that the rest of the lads share the view that we can go anywhere in the country and win and that includes Old Trafford, the Emirates or Stamford Bridge.

It's far too early for anyone to count us out and I promise you that no-one at Liverpool has thought for a second that we're out of anything.

What it does show you is the difference those draws against Arsenal and Chelsea have made to our position.

We have a real challenge facing us, and one that we'll all relish. We need to be more consistent now than any of us have ever been in our careers, and we need to take our chances and be resilient at the back by defending as a whole team.

If we do that, then there's no limit to where this team can go or what we can achieve.

Skipper notes

THE funeral of former club secretary Sheila Walsh took place last Thursday.

During her 26 years at Anfield she served under seven different managers and was described as "the glue that held everything together".

Kenny Dalglish, Roy Evans, Graeme Souness and Gerard Houllier were amongst the mourners at St Mary's the Virgin in Waterloo.

Rafa Benitez and the current squad, including Steven Gerrard and Jamie Carragher, were also on hand to pay their respects to Mrs Walsh who sadly died of cancer on New Year's day.

MAGIC OF THE CUP

A FIRST taste of the FA Cup, especially when paired with a hungry opponent from the lower leagues, can often take imports by surprise.

When that Third Round opponent has hardly been paid in months, and requires new investment just to keep them alive, then anything can happen.

It almost did.

Yet in the case of Charles Itandje, Luton were everything that he expected before kick-off. Their plight had not gone unnoticed and he has seen enough cup football in France to know that upsets are infinitely possible.

The Frenchman was full of praise for the effort that the Hatters put into the first 90 minutes at Kenilworth Road last Sunday afternoon, but promised them that tonight's action will be altogether different.

He believes that the tight, bumpy pitch and the backing of the majority of the ground, coupled with the survival instinct that the chance to showcase themselves to prospective investors brought out in them combined to bring the very best out of Luton.

No-one would dare claim that we saw the best of Rafa's Reds.

Itandje insists that this second chance is all we need to end Luton's interest in the Cup.

When we caught up with the former Lens number one he didn't yet know the boss's starting line-up, but he hoped a smart save early on and a faultless display throughout will prove sufficient to keep his place in the team.

"I could not have told you until the manager read out the team sheet whether or not I was going to be involved in tonight's action," he told us late last week.

"I hope that I am, because I enjoy every single minute that I get to play for Liverpool. Despite the fact that maybe it was not the best display of the year, I enjoyed the Luton game and my first taste of the FA Cup.

"They made it exactly the type of game that I expected them to make it. They are a small club paying against one of the most famous clubs in the country, and in the FA Cup competition too.

"I always expected that Luton would produce something fantastic, and that is what they did.

"In France we would say that it was the magic of the cup.

"It was a very small stadium and a very tight and bumpy pitch. They made life difficult for us in that game in Luton, although we did not play as well as we can play.

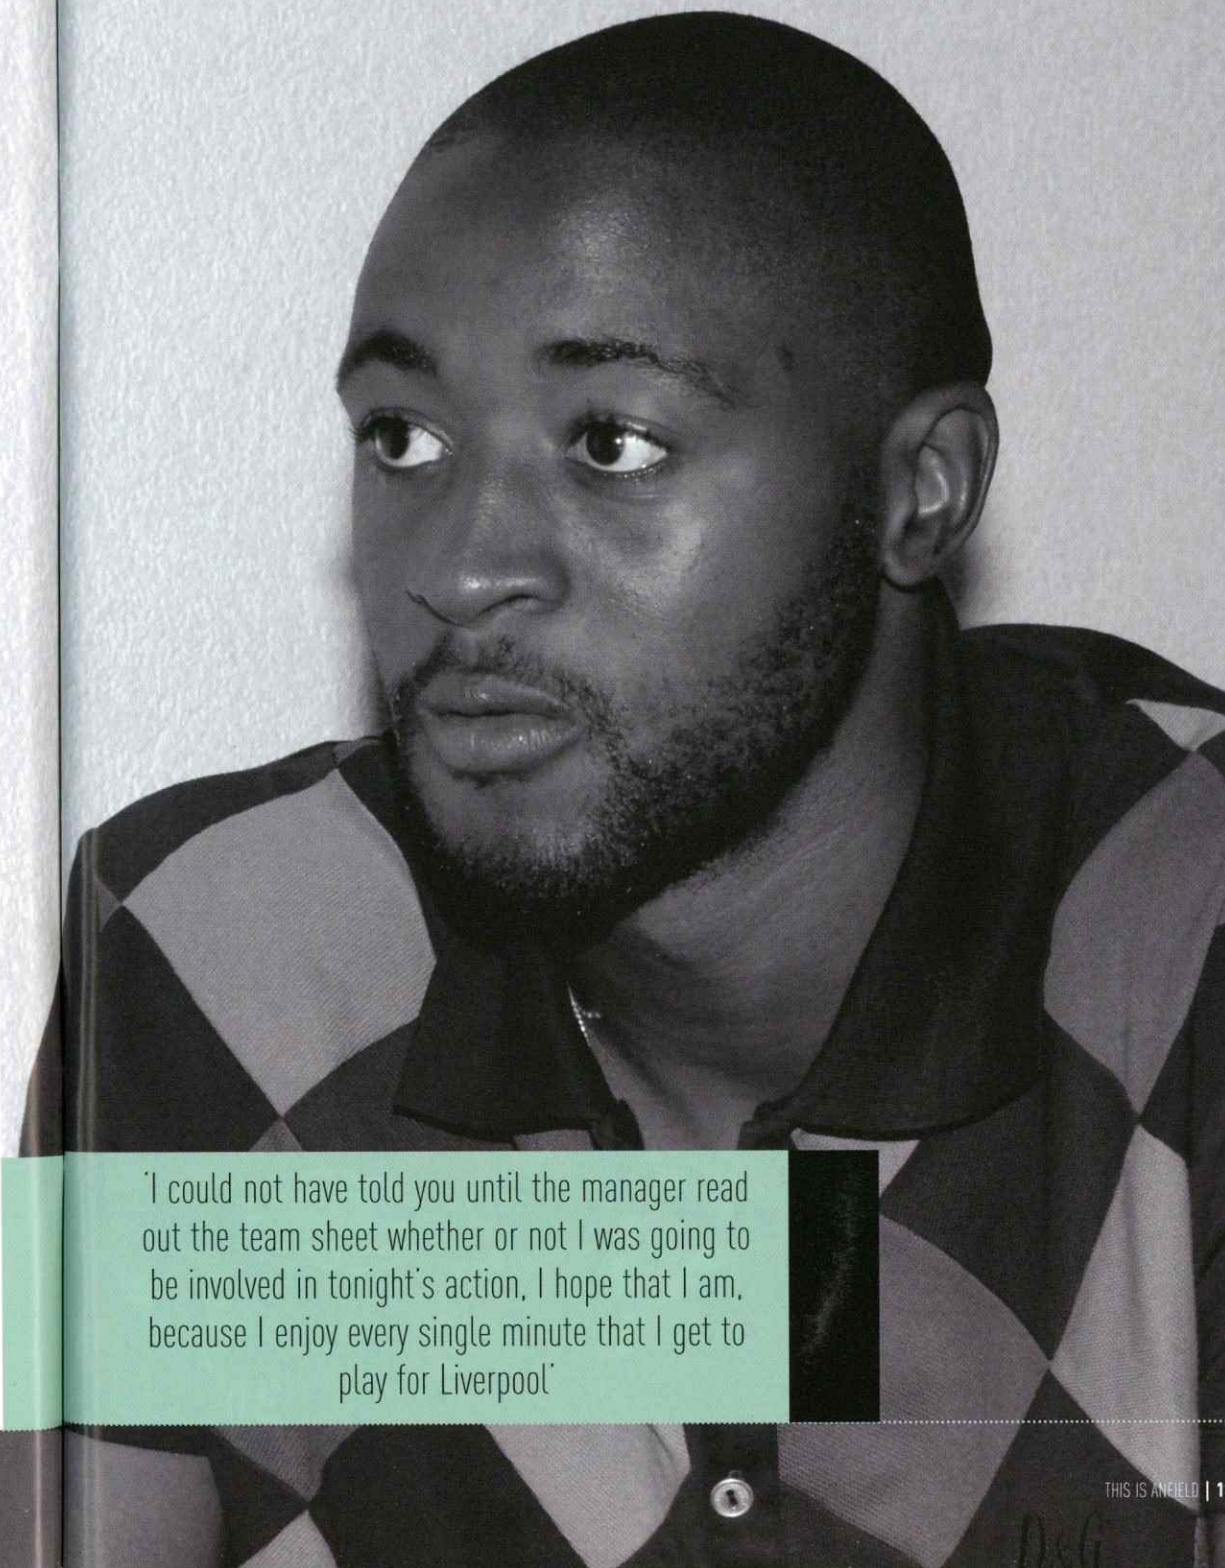

"Those two factors combined to make the 1-1 draw.

"They did play very well, and I am sure that the uncertainty over their footballing future and everything else helped to make them such a difficult opponent."

That was then, and this is now and Itandje – while respecting Luton's chance of an upset – believes that it will be Liverpool who advance into the Fourth Round.

"At Anfield I would expect it to be very different. It is a bigger pitch, which makes life automatically tougher for them, and we must be better than we were in the first game."

The 25-year-old has had his fair share of misfortune in a Liverpool jersey so far, conceding the own goal last week and a wickedly deflected goal at Chelsea.

'I could not have told you until the manager read out the team sheet whether or not I was going to be involved in tonight's action. I hope that I am, because I enjoy every single minute that I get to play for Liverpool'

"I haven't maybe had a lot of luck when I've made appearances like you say but that is football and there's nothing any of us can do about that.

"I would say though that it's not me who has been unlucky, it is actually the team who have been unlucky.

"Against Chelsea we suffered a deflected goal that hit Carra and meant there was nothing I could do.

"And against Luton, John Arne Riise scored an own goal to set-up tonight's game. I knew what 'Ginge' was trying to do and it was an excellent intention. It was a great delivery into the penalty area from the right hand side into an area where I could not go and claim the ball.

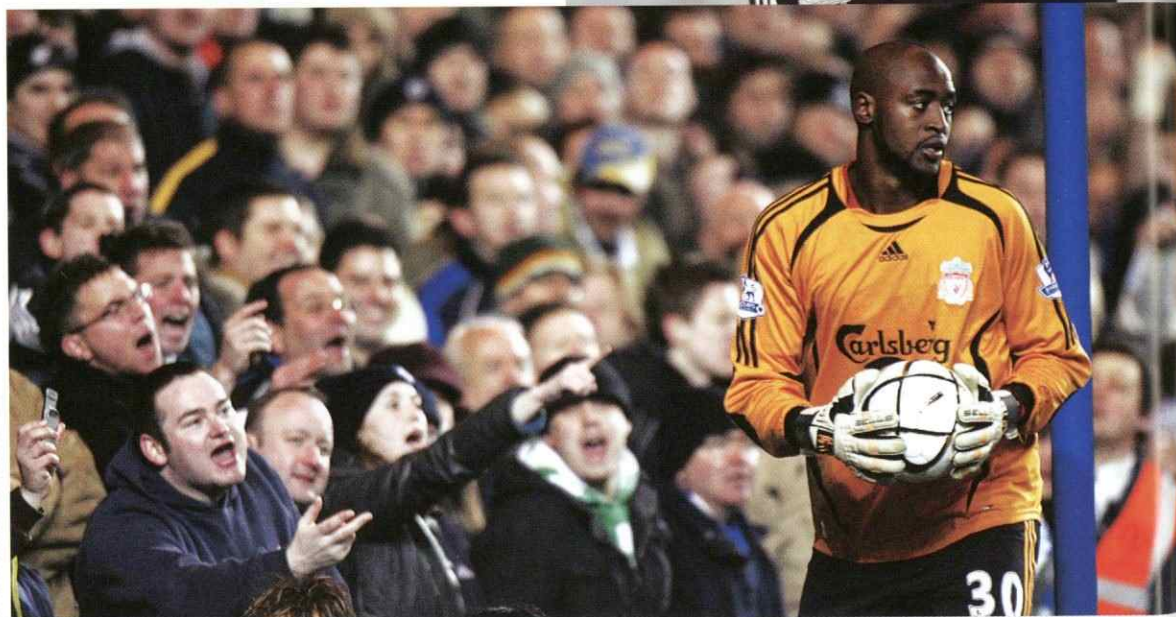

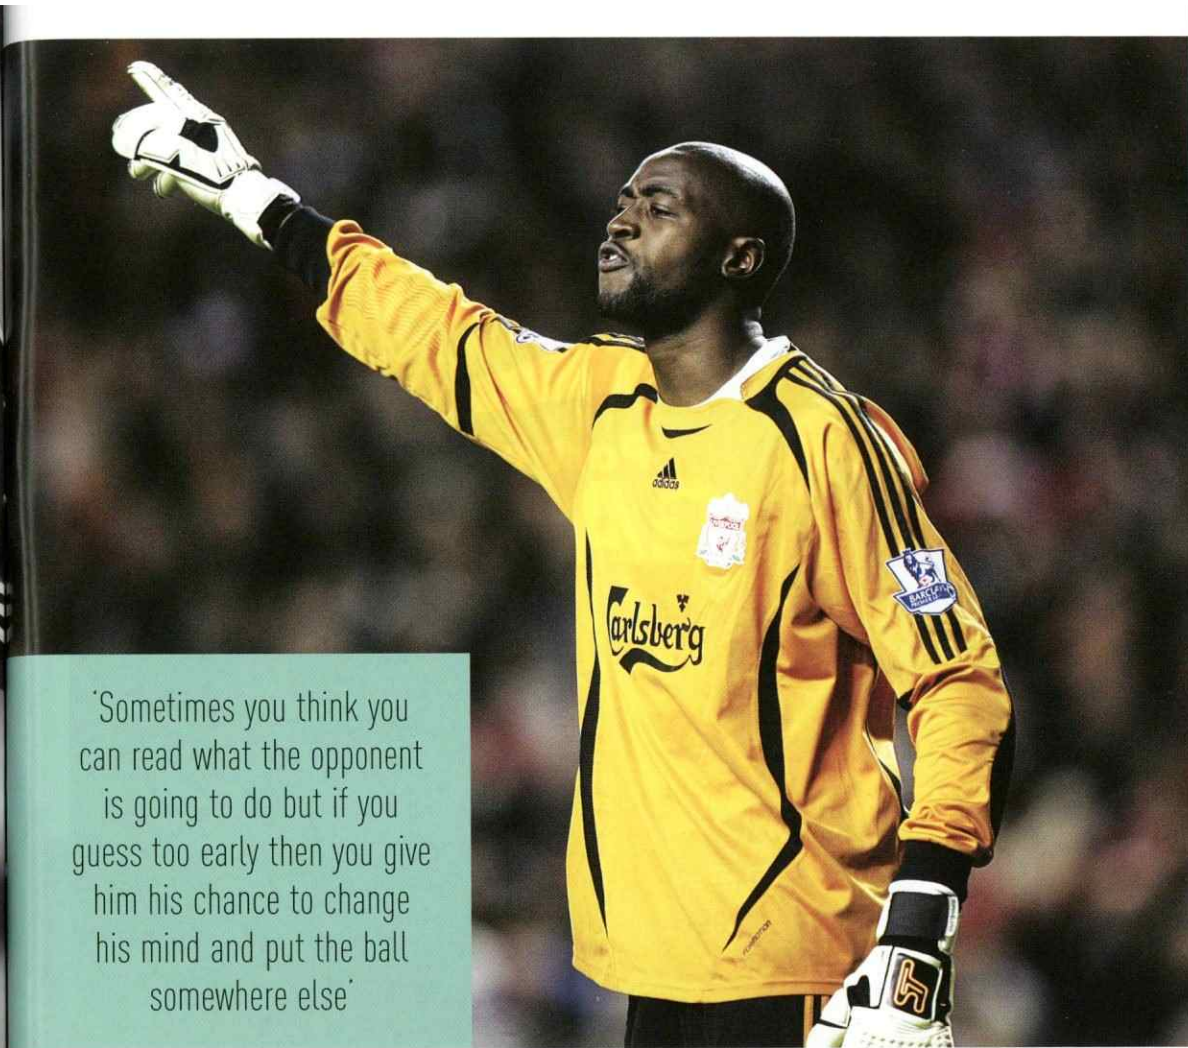

"Carra was covering out on the flank and Sami had followed a runner, there was only me and Riise left in the middle.

"All I could do was wait and try and react as quickly as possible to what was happening. I could not do anything else. I have watched it again and my view of it is still the same now as it was then when that happened.

"Their player had missed the ball, I don't know how he managed to do that but he did, and because of that Riise's gone in for a block tackle that at the last minute he's tried to turn into a clearance. He almost got it perfectly but the ball struck his arm and rolled into the net. I think his face said what we all felt.

'Sometimes you think you can read what the opponent is going to do but if you guess too early then you give him his chance to change his mind and put the ball somewhere else'

"Sometimes in cup football these things happen; it's just not your day at all. Last Sunday was not our day! This one will be better, I can feel it."

Luton would argue that perhaps Liverpool took the lead against the run of play, after spurning several guilt-edged opportunities to put their guests under real pressure.

However, their best chance in 90 minutes came after just five minutes when Dave Edwards was put clean through on goal in a movement which gave Itandje a chance to show why he was recruited in the summer.

"It was a save and it kept the score at 0-0. In those type of one-on-one situations all a keeper can do is stand up for as long as he can and hope that it is enough to put the player off.

"Sometimes you think you can read what the opponent is going to do but if you guess too early then you give him his chance to change his mind and put the ball somewhere else.

"But even if that shot had gone in I still don't think we would have lost the game. Maybe I'm wrong and things would be different but I believe we would not have gone out.

"It was good for my confidence because I have not played a lot of football lately, but I would not have got too upset if it had gone in. In that situation the keeper is second favourite and I know that there would have been other important saves to make in the game."

Few expected the former France Under-21 international to play too often when he came to Liverpool, with Pepe Reina a model of consistency both in terms of his form and his fitness.

Charles did.

He didn't come to play second fiddle. He understood that was his starting point but he has designs on the number one slot in the future.

He's not happy cooling his heels on the bench, nor is he ever likely to be.

"I said when I signed for this club in the summer that I felt like I had been honoured by this opportunity. You don't say no to Liverpool when they come calling for you.

"The six months that I have been here for have done nothing to change my mind. The players here are world class, the stadium is amazing and the supporters that fill it every week are fantastic.

"But I'm not happy playing only very occasionally. I knew the size of the task facing me when I came here because Pepe Reina is such a consistent keeper.

"The situation was explained to me by the manager, but when I arrived here it was my intention to play every week.

"I am not happy sitting on the bench, I am a professional footballer and I want to play. Anyone who is happy when they are not playing, well I don't understand that.

"I know why I am not in the team, and I am not complaining or anything like that.

"All I can do is keep pressing hard and be ready as and when I am needed. That's the way it is.

"But you need to play every week to be at your best, to really show what you can do.

"I am a student of our team when I am on the bench. I am not just watching the games, I am watching the players in the back four and trying to understand how they do certain things in certain situations so that if I am playing behind them I can anticipate their moves.

"But it is not the same as playing behind them. You only get the true picture when you are 20 yards away when they act.

"But I will wait for my chance. Pepe is a great guy and a world class goalkeeper and he gets better and better all the time.

"I can only do my best and hope that I get more chances to show that I am at that level also."

If Charles does get the chance to shine tonight, or indeed later in the season, then expect an addition to his on-field wardrobe too.

"I used to wear tracksuit bottoms in Lens when it was very cold, but it was nothing like as cold as it is here.

"I'm going to be getting them out soon if this weather persists! Maybe even tonight, we will see."

"I am not happy sitting on the bench, I am a professional footballer and I want to play. Anyone who is happy when they are not playing, well I don't understand that. I know why I am not in the team, and I am not complaining or anything like that. All I can do is keep pressing hard and be ready as and when I am needed. That's the way it is"

FA Cup Third Round

LIVERPOOL were expected to sweep past a Luton side facing going out of existence without immediate financial assistance, but the League One strugglers gave an excellent account of themselves and were, according to some observers, unlucky not to win in 90 minutes.

Peter Crouch's opener was cancelled out by Riise's own goal and it was the home side who looked most likely to produce a winning goal in the closing stages.

They made the most of the tight and uneven Kenilworth Road pitch to knock Liverpool off their stride in the opening exchanges and never let them settle into a rhythm thereafter.

However, Anfield's wide open spaces and carpet-like playing surface will make repeating that feat a difficult proposition.

• Luton have reached one FA Cup final. In 1959 they lost 2-1 to Nottingham Forest. Former Everton manager Billy Bingham was in the Luton side that day. Forest's first goal of the game was scored by Roy Dwight, who later in the match broke his leg. Dwight was the uncle of Elton John.

FORM GUIDE... LUTON TOWN

AS we went to press, a saviour emerged for Luton Town with lifelong fan and TV presenter Nick Owen heading a consortium keen to safeguard the Hatters' future.

Owen's bid is backed by three of the club's biggest supporters groups – including the supporters' trust – and that backing will not have gone unnoticed by the decision makers.

"The people in the consortium are all lifelong Luton fans," Owen told BBC Three Counties Radio.

"These guys have worked so hard over a few weeks now to put together a very impressive application – 64 pages of it.

"They are big Luton fans and have pulled together some very successful businessmen who are Luton fans.

"It blew my mind away when I read the application."

Town administrator Brendan Guilfoyle revealed that the bid received from the group fronted by Owen was not the only one to arrive at his door last week before the deadline he set at 1700 GMT on Monday last.

"We are now in the process of getting one bid to the stage of being the preferred bidder and then entering exclusive negotiations," Guilfoyle admitted.

"The price of that is for one party to start funding the club straight away.

"We are asking for that to test their commitment."

By the time you read this, they may already have reached that stage, bringing to an end months of uncertainty that followed the club's plunge into administration on November 22, costing them a 10-point deduction.

That penalty sent them tumbling down the table, and made relegation to League Two an uncomfortable possibility.

However, they've lost just once since then, suggesting they won't let themselves go down without a fight – believing that the lift they've taken from forcing a replay against the Reds will be enough to carry them to safety.

In the league, they are currently three points from safety and faced table-topping Swansea on Saturday. They still have to face all of the teams around them at the wrong end of the table so can at least claim to have control of their own destiny.

LUTON'S LAST FIVE RESULTS:

06.01.08 Liverpool (H) D 1-1	26.12.07 Bristol Rovers (A) D 1-1
01.01.08 Yeovil Town (H) W 1-0	22.12.07 Tranmere (H) W 1-0
29.12.07 Port Vale (A) W 2-1

DID YOU KNOW...

• Luton last defeated a Premiership side in 1994 when they beat West Ham 3-2 in a quarter-final replay. All three goals were scored by Scott Oakes, whose father Trevor was a guitarist in the '70s band Showaddywaddy.

• This season Luton beat Brentford 2-0 away in a first round replay after a 1-1 draw and beat Nottingham Forest 1-0 in round two thanks to a Calvin Andrew goal.

• Luton have not lost away in the FA Cup since 2003 when they were beaten 3-0 at Wigan. Since then they have won five and drawn two of their seven games on the road.

• The Hatters captain Chris Coyne has played in a cup final against Liverpool. He was in West Ham's Youth Cup final team against Liverpool in 1996 opposing Jamie Carragher and Michael Owen.

THE MAN WHO MAKES THEM TICK... DARREN CURRIE

DARREN Currie has clocked up more miles than most professional footballers during his playing career, taking in spells at 10 clubs in 15 years.

He'd never played outside the bottom two tiers of the English game until Scotland managerial candidate and current Motherwell boss Mark McGhee gave him a chance at Brighton.

Just as he'd found his feet at the Withdean Stadium Ipswich signed him and at the end of the season Currie appeared in a crucial encounter between his current and previous employers.

A win for Ipswich would send them into the automatic promotion berths and condemn the Seagulls to relegation.

Currie had a quiet game and it ended 1-1, meaning Ipswich made the play-offs and Albion survived.

Currie might now be tagged a veteran, but he was sprightly and inventive against Liverpool. Indeed, his intelligent positioning between attack and midfield made him difficult for Lucas and Alonso to pin down.

Denying him the space that he enjoyed at Kenilworth Road will be important tonight.

CURRIE FACTFILE...

• Currie rivals former Red Djibril Cisse in the tattoo stakes, boasting 12 of various designs.

• Currie is himself a Liverpool supporter.

• He once had a trial with LA Galaxy but chose to sign for Derby instead.

DID YOU KNOW...

• Don Hutchison scored 10 goals in 60 games for Liverpool from 1990-94 and played three times for the club in the FA Cup.

• Chris Perry was in the Wimbledon side knocked out of the FA Cup by Liverpool in 1995.

• In 1961 Luton Town beat Manchester City in the cup despite Denis Law scoring six times. With City leading 6-2 at Kenilworth Road the match was abandoned after 69 minutes. When the game was replayed four days later Luton won 3-1.

• Luton have reached the semi-finals on four occasions. The last time was in 1994 when they lost 2-0 to Chelsea at Wembley Stadium.

• Darren Currie is the nephew of former England international Tony Currie who played for Queens Park Rangers in the 1982 final against Tottenham.

THE MAN OF THE MATCH... DREW TALBOT

DREW Talbot was handed that accolade in the first meeting between these two at Kenilworth Road, which was reward for a gutsy performance and 90 minutes of sheer hard work and a consistent threat on Charles Itandje's goal.

It was former boss Mike Newell who took Talbot to the club, on the recommendation of former Sheffield Wednesday boss Paul Sturrock.

Sturrock was in charge of Talbot's career at Hillsborough and rated him highly, but a back injury meant the Scot was seldom able to call on Talbot.

However, Newell was impressed with his fellow manager's assessment and landed him a year ago. Talbot's first act was to make one and score another in a win over his former employers.

However, he's not a goalscorer – indeed he's yet to score this season – and he will feel he could have done better with a header from six yards in our first meeting.

What he does do is work defences and create chances and space for team-mates.

THE MAN WHO MADE IMPORTANT SAVES... DEAN BRILL

IT'S probably a safe bet to assume that had Ryan Babel opened the scoring for the Reds inside the game's first minute then we probably wouldn't be here for tonight's game.

The fact that we are owes much to a fabulous early save from Dean Brill that denied the Dutchman a goal.

Brill then saved well from a deflected John Arne Riise shot in the second half and made another good stop, at the second attempt, from Crouch's volley.

Brill is born and bred in Luton and came through the club's ranks quickly. He's now undeniably the number one at Kenilworth Road as the number on his back suggests.

Bigger clubs have had a look at him, and Kevin Blackwell will be a happy man when the window closes and the 22-year-old is still at the club.

Brill will have to be at his brilliant best tonight on an evening when he is likely to be far busier than he was eight days ago.

DID YOU KNOW...

- This was the fifth year out of the last six Liverpool were drawn away in the third round following Manchester City (2003), Yeovil (2004) Burnley (2005) and Luton (2006).

- Xabi Alonso's two goals in this competition came at Luton in 2006.

- This is Liverpool's first third round replay since 1995 when they overcame Birmingham in a penalty shoot-out after a 1-1 draw.

- Peter Crouch's first FA Cup goals came against Luton in 2001 while he was playing for Queens Park Rangers. He has now scored 10 goals in 17 career appearances in the competition.

THE MAN WHO SHOULD HAVE SCORED... DAVE EDWARDS

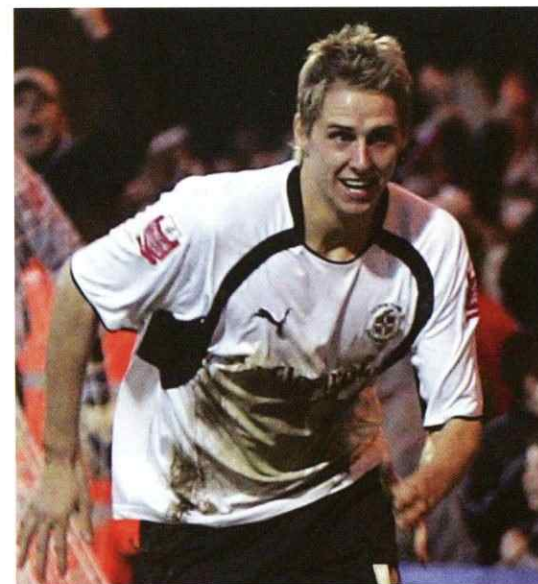

DAVE Edwards should have come off the pitch at Luton last week celebrating the most famous goal of his career. However, he failed to make any sort of contact with Drew Talbot's cross and it was left to the highly unfortunate John Arne Riise to turn the ball into his own net.

Edwards fooled the stadium announcer who, despite having a better view than most, credited his own player and not the Norwegian with the game's leveller.

The Welsh international started his career at his hometown team, Shrewsbury, but moved to the Hatters in July this year before Town fell into financial difficulties.

He is currently being tracked by several of League One's high fliers but Blackwell will not be keen to allow one of his side's key players to depart less than six months into his Town career and while they are battling for their lives.

As we saw for Luton's goal, Edwards knows how to arrive late in the box without being marked – marking him out as a goal threat.

THE MAN WHO CROSSED THE GREAT DIVIDE... DON HUTCHISON

WHEN Don Hutchison was coming through the ranks at Anfield it was around the same time as future Reds skipper Jamie Redknapp.

Although the pair played in slightly different positions, it was actually Hutchison who – experts believed – had the greater natural talent.

Despite a bright beginning to his career on Merseyside, off-field indiscretions meant that he never really fulfilled his potential in a red shirt and he was sold to West Ham after just 45 appearances and seven goals.

He returned to the region four years later when he signed for Everton and although he scored in a derby for the Blues, it was chalked off by the referee so we never got the chance to see whether or not he would have celebrated the moment.

In recent years Hutchison, a former Scottish international, has dropped down the divisions and has made eight appearances for the Hatters – mostly from the bench.

He may well wonder what might have been as he walks up the steps and onto the pitch tonight.

DID YOU KNOW...

- The last Liverpool player to score a hat-trick in the competition was Stan Collymore, whose three-goal haul came against Rochdale in 1996.

- Only two players have ever scored FA Cup hat-tricks against Liverpool: John Boag of Derby County in 1897-98 and Ray Westwood of Bolton in 1945-46.

- Liverpool have played in two FA Cup ties decided on penalties and won them both – against Portsmouth in 1992 and Birmingham in 1995.

- The Reds' biggest win against Luton came on this ground in October 1983 when they won 6-0. Ian Rush scored five – the last time the feat has been achieved in the league by a Liverpool player.

Agger is voted 2007's greatest Dane

DANIEL Agger's outstanding contribution in our run to Athens has seen him rewarded with the 2007 Danish Player of the Year title.

The 23-year-old is currently recovering from a metatarsal injury sustained back in September.

Despite that he topped the poll based on the votes of players and coaches from the two major divisions in his native land as well as Danes who play abroad.

"I am extremely proud and honoured to receive this award – not least because it is based on votes from my colleagues," our number five said.

In claiming the honour Agger finished ahead of Seville's Christian Poulsen, who had claimed the title in the previous two seasons.

It also means Agger follows in the footsteps of such prestigious names as Brian and Michael Laudrup and Peter Schmeichel.

BUYING TICKETS:

To buy tickets for Premiership matches at Anfield by post or phone you must apply 18 days in advance

BY POST

Send a letter stating the match and number of tickets you require, with a stamped addressed envelope, to LFC Ticket Office, PO Box 204, Liverpool L69 4PQ. You can pay by cheque, postal order, credit or debit card. Cheques must be made payable to Liverpool Football Club. If you want to pay by credit or debit card, include your card number and expiry date, plus debit-card issue number where applicable. If the number of applications exceeds the number of tickets, they will be allocated through a ballot.

BY PHONE

You can apply for a maximum of four tickets, by calling the credit-card hotline, quoting your credit or debit-card number and expiry date. A minimum booking fee of 50p per ticket will be charged. Tickets booked more than three days before the match will be sent out by post, those booked after this must be collected from the credit-card collections window at the ticket office, and you must produce the card used to book the tickets.

IN PERSON

Any remaining tickets will go on sale at the ticket office, 11 days in advance. However, tickets usually sell out through phone and postal bookings.

AWAY MATCHES

Tickets for away fixtures go on sale first to Liverpool season-ticket holders. Priority will be based on a loyalty system i.e. priority will be given to supporters on the number of away FAPL fixtures attended during season 2006/07 and also may include the number of fixtures attended in the current season. The number of matches attended will be determined from the information held on the ticket office database.

TICKET OFFICE

Open weekdays 8.15am to 5.30pm, weekends 9.15am - 1pm and matchdays 9.15am to kick-off and for 15 minutes after the final whistle.

- Keep ticket stubs as they may be necessary for a further ticket allocation or used again if a match is abandoned.
- Liverpool FC reserve the right to alter ticket-selling arrangements without prior notice. Times and dates of fixtures may change. Watch local press and the matchday programme for details.
- Ticket information for cup matches will be made available as soon as possible after the draw.

Anderson relishing Anfield cup return

PAUL Anderson is desperate for Liverpool to beat Luton tonight. The young Reds winger has been on loan at Swansea since the start of the season and the Welsh club are in FA Cup replay action tomorrow night against Blue Square Conference South side Havant and Waterlooville.

Wins for both Liverpool and the Swans would bring Anderson back to Anfield in the fourth round and the player is relishing the chance of a dream outing in front of a packed Kop.

"I was jumping up and down in my room when I heard the draw," said Anderson.

"Liverpool was the only team I wanted to play against.

"I couldn't believe it. I was so happy. For it to come out of the hat like that was brilliant. I got straight on the phone to my dad and told him the good news."

Anderson has been in impressive form for Swansea this season where his pace and trickery have been instrumental in their rise to the top of League One.

The fans inside the Liberty Stadium are well aware of Anderson's talents and the 19-year-old now wants to show Liverpool supporters what he can do.

"I'm desperate to play at Anfield," he said.

"I've never played for the first team there, only in youth cup games. So I've played in front of the Kop before, but never in front of so many fans.

"It will be really nice if I can go out and show both the Liverpool and Swansea fans what I can do.

"When you are a young lad at a club like Liverpool, it's easy for people to know nothing about you. But, if I can show the fans that I'm half decent, then perhaps they will start to wonder why I'm not there.

"It might give them a different opinion of me if they can see that I'm a good player.

"Obviously we have to get past Havant and Waterlooville first.

"But you always hope for the big teams in the FA Cup. You look for Premiership teams and obviously one of the big four is a bonus.

"It's a great draw for both myself and the club."

Haifa struggling to match glory days when Yossi ruled the roost

Players Lounge

YOSSI Benayoun first came to European attention while wearing the famous green colours of Maccabi Haifa, and he will be disappointed to see his former employers pass up an opportunity to narrow the gap on league leaders Beitar Jerusalem.

Indeed it took a Yaniv Katan goal to level the score against Maccabi Petach Tikva – leaving Haifa 10 points behind the runaway leaders after 14 rounds of the competition.

It's not like the glory days they enjoyed with Yossi as their fulcrum.

Benayoun played for Maccabi Haifa for three seasons, scoring a total of 55 league goals in his Greens career, including two hat-tricks.

He scored some of the Israeli Premier League's best goals, including one, against Ashdod, which saw Yossi perform keepy ups to by-pass an opposing defender and a stranded goalkeeper for what was a magnificent goal.

In 1998, under the guidance of Dusan Uhrin and Daniel Brailovsky, Benayoun and Haifa reached the quarter-finals of the Cup Winners' Cup, and he scored against Paris Saint-Germain in an unforgettable match.

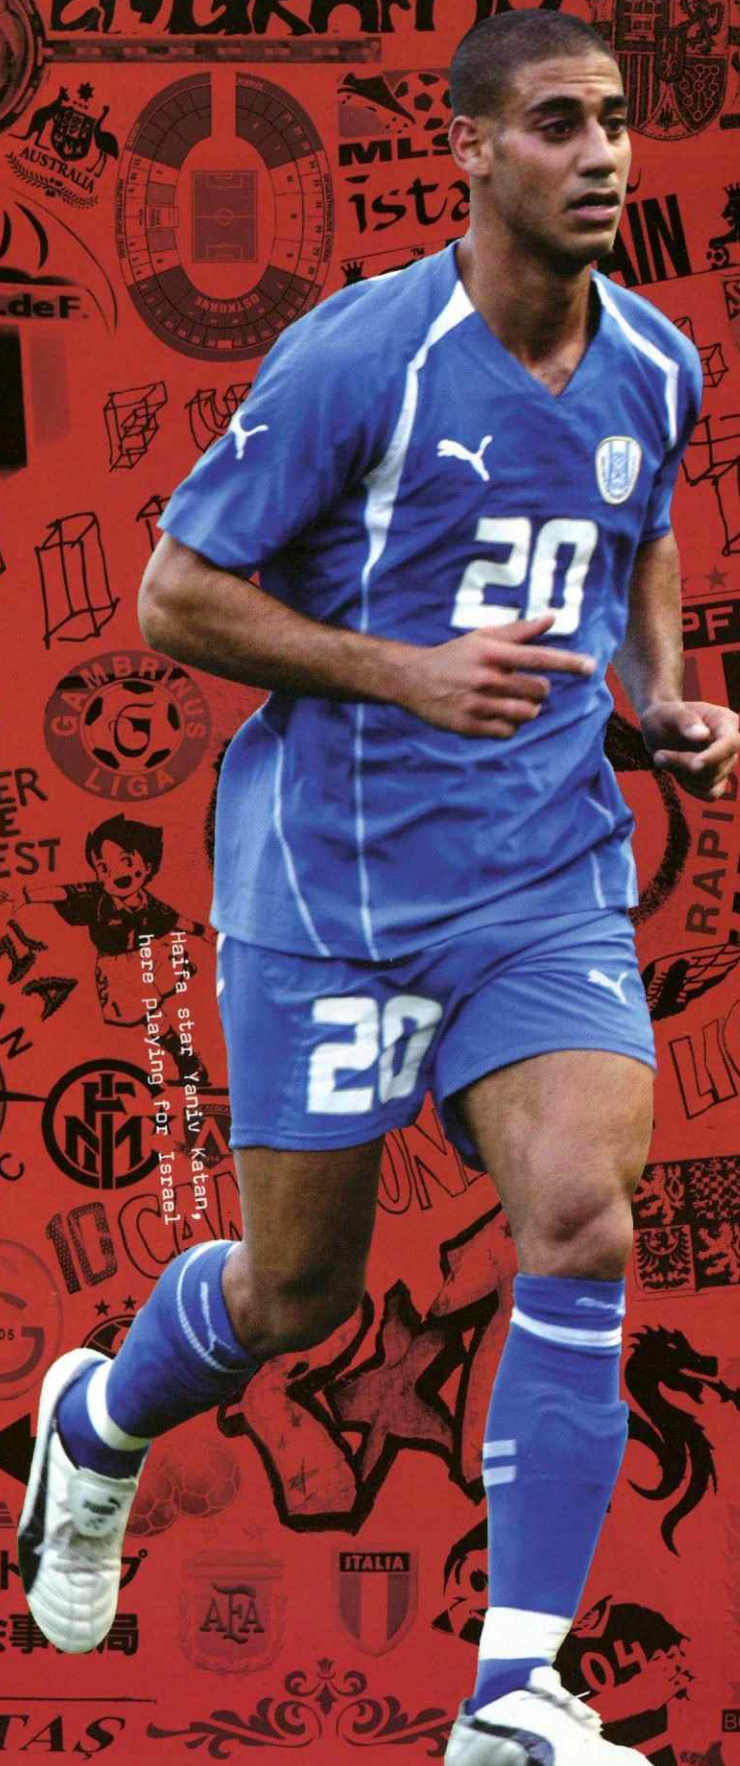

In 1999, he confronted his manager Eli Cohen, when Benayoun refused to be substituted during a match. This incident, plus a bad month for the club, ultimately lost Cohen his job. Such was Yossi's stock with Haifa supporters that the decision to replace their star man was tantamount to signing his resignation.

In the 2000/2001 season under the guidance of Avram Grant, Benayoun led Haifa to a first championship in seven years and he himself was the unanimous choice as Player of the Year.

He helped secure a second successive title the following year, where his assists for Ayegbeni Yakubu made them a lethal combination.

Haifa are in something of a slump of late and if they fail to win this season's championship it will be for the second season in a row and will further infuriate an already disappointed support.

Haifa have three must-win games in the next three weeks before they travel to Jerusalem to tackle the table toppers in a game which unquestionably falls into the 'win or bust' category.

Cisse not going anywhere, insists Marseille president

Ex-players Lounge

HE may not be enjoying his best season in Le Championnat, but former Liverpool striker Djibril Cisse still finds himself in high demand during the January transfer window.

Man City had a bid rebuffed by L'OM president Pape Diouf last week and there are several other interested parties around Europe watching and waiting to see what happens.

Cisse has been a target for the boo boys at the Stade Velodrome this season and speculation would suggest he'd welcome a return to England – where he still retains a house in Cheshire.

According to his club, the 26-year-old is not for sale at any price.

"I will make myself very clear concerning Djibril Cisse: he will not leave, he will stay at Marseille until the end of the season," said Diouf.

"It is certain many English clubs have shown interest in him. I have been approached very officially by Manchester City, to whom I categorically said no," confirmed Diouf.

Yet, that's a view that differs from that of 'Djib's' representative Ranko Stojic who seemed to suggest that his client would happily leave behind the remainder of his contract with the south of France based club.

"Everybody has forgotten that Djibril has not always been respected in recent times, personally as well as a professionally," Stojic told the French press.

"Not only by the supporters (Cisse is regularly jeered by Marseille fans), but also from within the club.

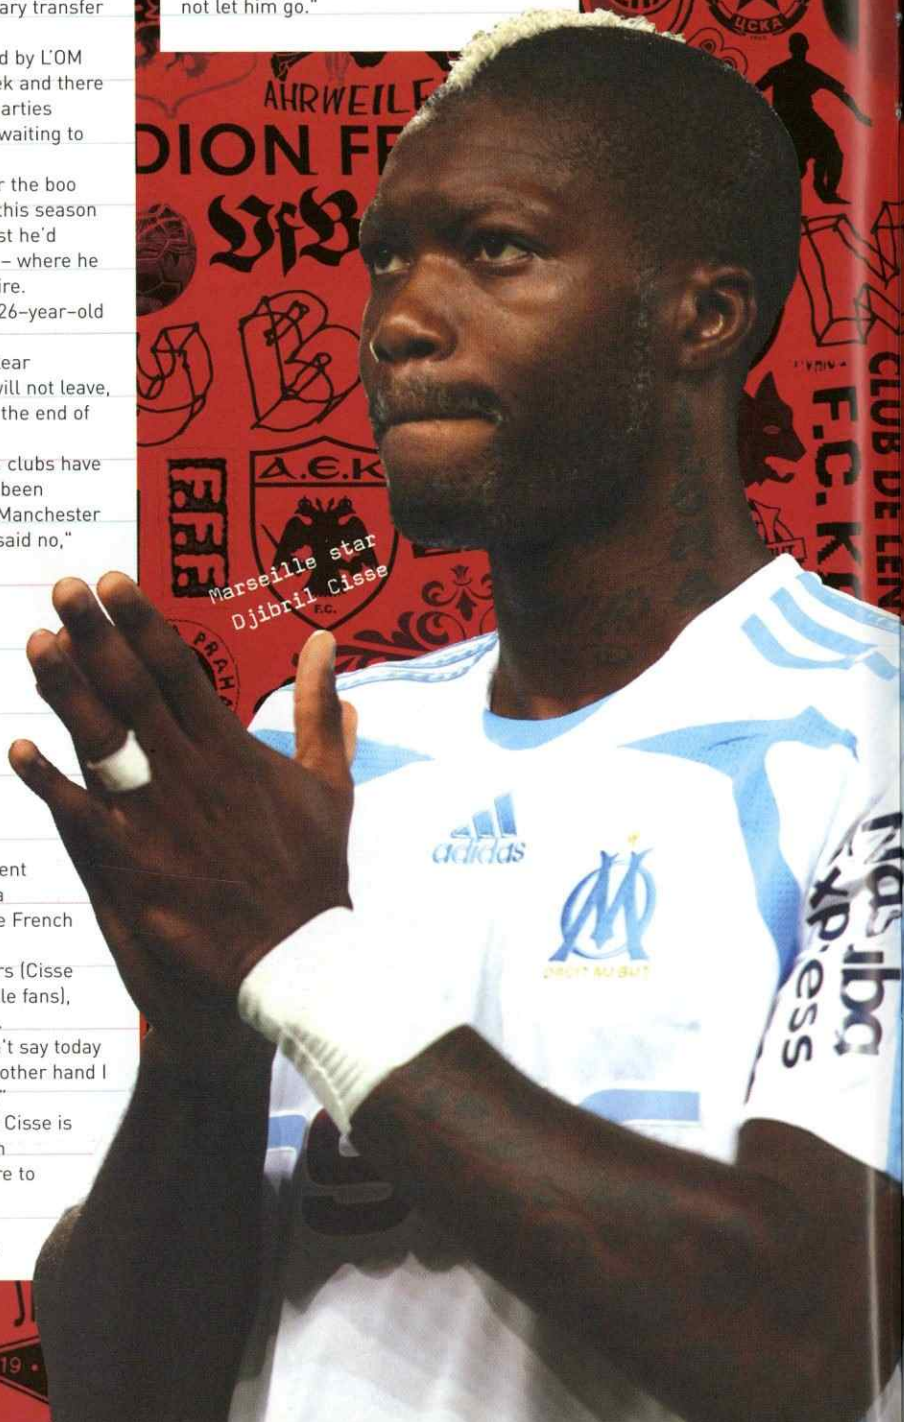

"It is for that reason, I can't say today that he will leave, but on the other hand I can't say that he won't leave."

But Diouf is adamant that Cisse is going nowhere, even if he can understand the player's desire to leave.

"With all he has gone through I understand that he wants to push for a transfer," said Diouf. "Having heard that a big English club wants him, he could have dug his heels in and said he's going, like certain players do.

"He understood that I would not let him go."

Milan put their faith in young Brazilian

European Lounge

IT perhaps tells you a lot about how far Milan have fallen since they beat Liverpool in the Champions League final in Athens in May that they have placed so much faith in 18-year-old Brazilian striker Alexandre Pato, who made his competitive Milan debut last weekend.

But then this is no ordinary teenager. This is a bona-fide prodigy and speculation from the Milan training camp, where Pato has been based for six months before he was eligible to play in Serie A, suggests he has more talent at his age than Kaka had at the same stage.

His displays at Milanello prompted Silvio Berlusconi to gush: "If he continues to do what he does in training he will score 30 goals by June".

He could not play for the San Siro giants before January 1 because of Italian regulations which prevent clubs registering non-EU players before their 18th birthday.

On Saturday the hype and hyperbole stopped and it was left to Pato himself to do his talking on the pitch.

KOP 'N' GOAL P48

OH CAMPIONE P48

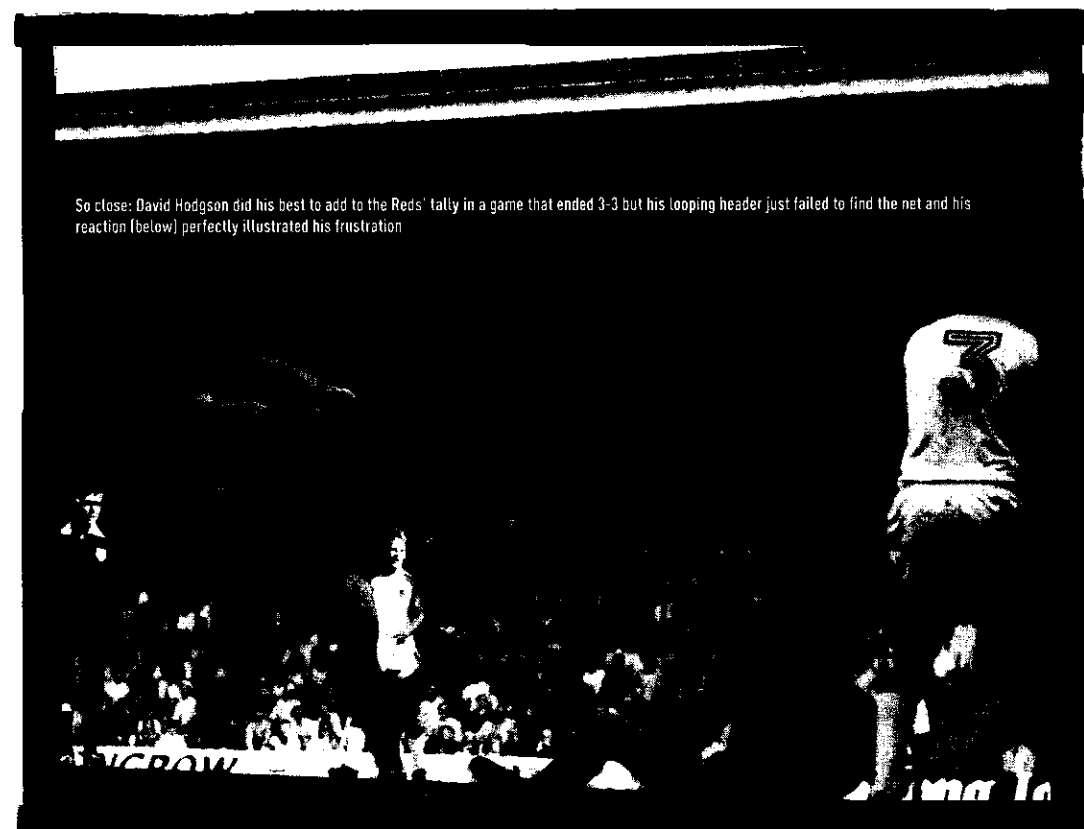

ON THIS DAY P50

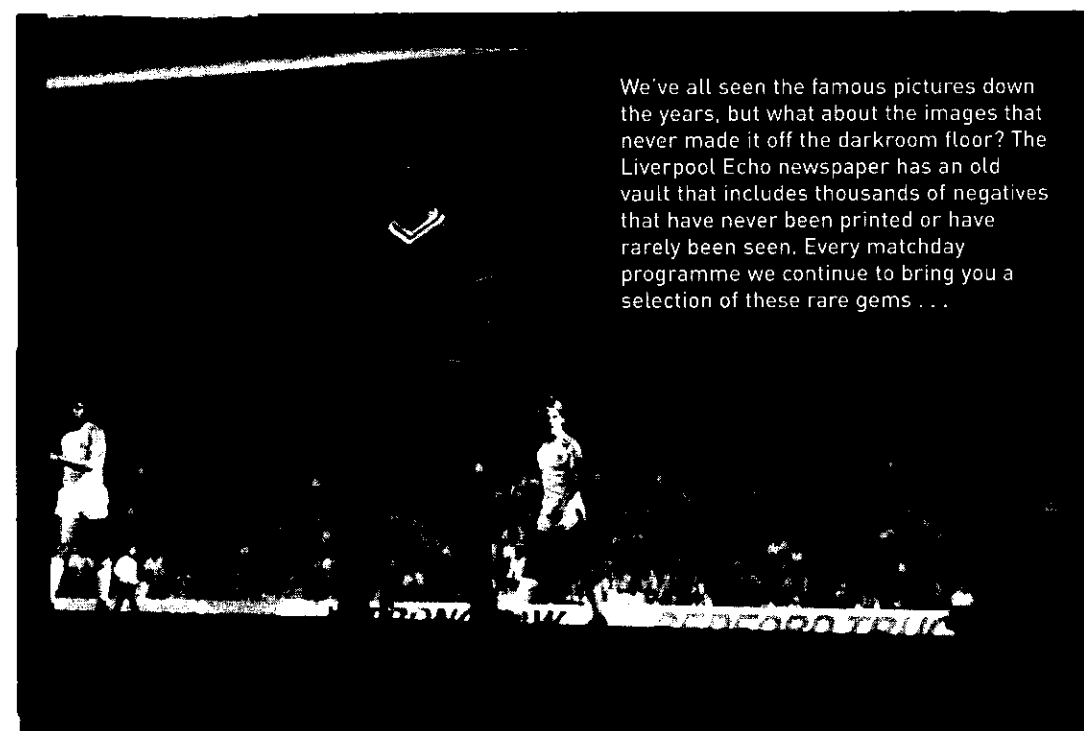

Man of the moment: Brian Hansen took his goal for the Reds when the Reds found the net against Luton in September 1977

One on one: Ian Rush got away from the Luton defence and tested the goalkeeper and the Welshman got on the scoresheet in this classic encounter

So close: David Hodgson did his best to add to the Reds' tally in a game that ended 3-3 but his looping header just failed to find the net and his reaction (below) perfectly illustrated his frustration

We've all seen the famous pictures down the years, but what about the images that never made it off the darkroom floor? The Liverpool Echo newspaper has an old vault that includes thousands of negatives that have never been printed or have rarely been seen. Every matchday programme we continue to bring you a selection of these rare gems...

Flew-ton Town: With the goalkeeper beaten, this Luton defender contemplated taking matters into his own hands as Craig Johnston and Ian Rush looked on, hoping to see the net bulge

LFC UNICUT

On top of his game: It was raining goals again when Luton visited Anfield in October 1985. Former Hatter Paul Walsh was the scourge of his former team scoring twice in a 3-2 win, including this effort in front of the Kop that had the Luton defence (bottom right) paying him extra attention

Anyone fancy a game of Twister? After struggling to contain Paul Walsh by fair means, Luton's Mal Donaghy finally finds a way of getting to grips with the Reds striker that will keep him under control

YET ANOTHER AMAZING NIGHT OUT WITH MY BIRD

Liverpool v Luton Town (FA Cup round 3 replay)
Monday, January 26, 1987

PLENTY has been said by both sides since Luton's snow-influenced no-show on the date the replay was originally scheduled, but the talking should finally stop at Anfield tonight.

Since the first tie at Kenilworth Road finished 0-0 Liverpool have got on with the business in hand, calmly taking maximum points from league outings against Manchester City and Newcastle United while also eliminating Everton from the League Cup.

They haven't conceded a goal during that run, while at the other end Ian Rush and Paul Walsh have caused havoc.

Despite such impressive results Kenny Dalglish has been busy trying to improve the champions' squad.

A £750,000 deal to make John Aldridge a Red was finally sealed today, although he won't actually join up with his new team-mates until the end of the week.

The Liverpool boss has also attempted to bolster his defensive resources following the recent broken leg suffered by Jim Beglin at Goodison Park.

West Bromwich Albion full-back Derek Statham has been earmarked as an ideal replacement, although doubts over his fitness may prevent the deal from going through.

Mark Lawrenson has been deputising for his Republic of Ireland colleague but his inclusion tonight will only be determined after he's undergone a late fitness test following a shoulder injury picked up at the weekend.

That decision is the only worry for Dalglish as the cup holders look to progress to the next round at the second - or some would say third - time of asking.

Causing havoc: Ian Rush and Luton Town's Rob Johnson battle for the ball during the 0-0 game at Kenilworth Road

Knocking at the door: Paul Walsh and John Wark (right) have efforts on goal but Luton escaped Anfield with a draw

January 26, 1987: Liverpool 0 Luton Town 0

KENNY Dalglish's men should have known it wasn't going to be their night when they lost a pre-game coin toss to decide on the venue of a possible second replay.

Buoyed by that result Luton set out to secure another tie at Kenilworth Road.

Their 'tactics' were obvious right from the start when Mick Harford appeared to walk on Barry Venison, an offence the officials failed to spot.

And it didn't take long for blood to be spilt as Alan Hansen and Mike Newell collided, the defender being left with a nasty head injury.

When some football was eventually played the hosts nearly went ahead through Craig Johnston's shot, which Les Sealey just managed to parry.

On the rare occasions the Hatters did venture forward Brian Stein squandered one opportunity while Mick Harford brought the best from Bruce Grobbelaar.

At the other end a deserved breakthrough looked like it might finally arrive until Sealey denied John Wark and Ian Rush narrowly missed the target from the loose ball.

With just over a quarter of an hour left there was a legitimate appeal for a penalty after Mal Donaghy upended Paul Walsh, an infringement that again went unpunished.

In extra-time it was a similar pattern although only Jan Molby threatened the goal when his curled effort smacked off the post before rebounding to safety.

It all means that Liverpool now face another test on the dreaded plastic pitch in 48 hours' time.

"If they refuse to have a neutral venue there is nothing at all we can do about it," Dalglish said afterwards. "We would have loved to have won but we are still in it and now back to the original tie.

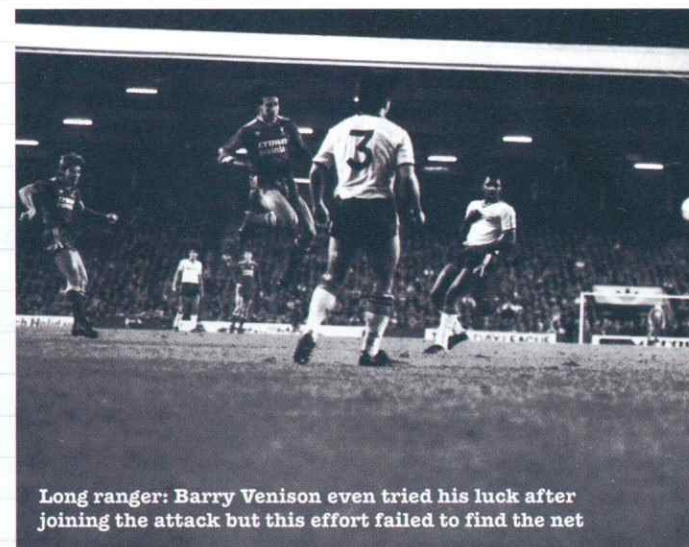

"They must feel as though they have got out of jail tonight. If we keep on playing like that - which we are capable of doing - the bounce may go for us on Wednesday."

Unlucky Lawrenson hits the post

IT wasn't only the Luton team that had travel problems on the night of the first scheduled replay in the FA Cup third round between Liverpool and Luton in 1987.

Following the postponement of the game when Luton failed to arrive on Merseyside because of the weather, this is what happened to Mark Lawrenson's car on his way home from Anfield.

After skidding on ice and hitting a lamp post, the Liverpool defender was forced to abandon the vehicle in a driveway in Barton, near Halsall.

Despite a bang on the head, Lawrenson came out of the scrape unscathed.

"No sense, no feeling," he joked the next day.

"I was on my way back from Liverpool last night and the car went out of control on black ice.

"As I put the brakes on nothing happened. After I crashed the car it wouldn't start again. I think I'd done something to the petrol pump, so I just got a taxi."

Liverpool were knocked out of the FA Cup first round by Bristol City at Ashton Gate. It was something of a cup shock at the time as, although both sides were in the top flight, Liverpool finished the season as runners-up in the league whereas the Robins were languishing in 16th place and only avoided relegation by three points.

1914

Bill Lacey was on target in the 89th minute to spare Liverpool's blushes by giving them a 1-0 FA Cup first round replay win over Barnsley at Oakwell. The second division side had held Liverpool at Anfield to a 1-1 draw five days earlier but Lacey's goal sent the Reds on a cup run that took them all the way to their first FA Cup final at Crystal Palace where they were beaten 1-0 by Burnley.

1927

The Reds recorded a 1-0 victory over Manchester United at Old Trafford in front of 30,304 thanks to a 57th minute winner from Dick Forshaw. The Preston-born striker scored 124 goals in 288 appearances for Liverpool with his winner against United being the final goal of his career with the club. He joined Everton less than two months later and became the first player to win a league title with both Merseyside clubs.

1949

Nottingham Forest came to Anfield for an FA Cup third round replay and were on the end of a 4-0 thrashing. The initial tie at the City Ground had finished 2-2 but a Jack Balmer double and strikes from Jimmy Payne and Albert Stubbins saw off Forest. Liverpool keeper Cyril Sidlow also saved a penalty from George Wilkins.

1959

Worcester City inflicted the most ignominious defeat on Liverpool in the club's 116-year history when they beat the Reds 2-1 at St George's Lane in an FA Cup third round tie. Geoff Twentyman scored a penalty for Liverpool but it wasn't enough to spare Phil Taylor's second division side the embarrassment of being knocked out by a non-league club.

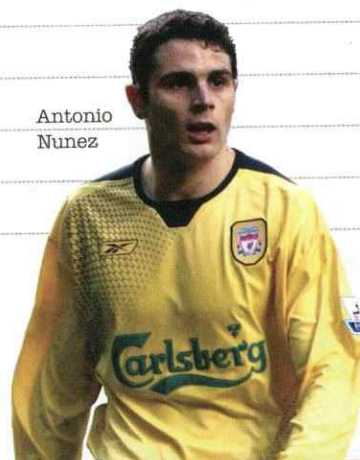

1972

Kevin Keegan scored his first FA Cup goals for Liverpool in a 3-0 win at Oxford United. Keegan netted twice at the Manor Ground and Alec Lindsay added a third as Bill Shankly's team recorded a comfortable victory.

1979

Antonio Nunez was born in Madrid. The Spanish winger joined Liverpool from Real Madrid in the summer of 2004 as part of the deal that took Michael Owen to Spain but his Anfield career was short-lived and he was sold to Celta Vigo in July 2005. Nunez did make history at Liverpool though. He became the only man to have scored his only goal for the club in a cup final when netting in the 3-2 Carling Cup final defeat to Chelsea.

Antonio Nunez

Former Liverpool striker El-Hadji Diouf was born in Daqar, Senegal. Diouf made 80 appearances for the club following his arrival from Lens in 2002 but disappointingly scored just six goals in a red shirt, all of which came at Anfield.

1983

Jermaine Pennant was born in Nottingham. The Liverpool winger was denied a return to his home city this month by Luton after they knocked Nottingham Forest out of the FA Cup by winning the second round clash between the two sides.

1983

Ian Rush scored a 90th minute winner to give Bob Paisley's side a 1-0 win at the Hawthorns against West Bromwich Albion. Rush scored a record 346 goals for Liverpool, but this was the first one he ever scored for the club in the 90th minute of a game.

1994

Julian Dicks found the net for the first time in a Liverpool shirt. Dicks opened the scoring in a 3-0 win at Oldham Athletic with Robbie Fowler and Jamie Redknapp also on the scoresheet. The game also marked the return of Michael Thomas, who made his first appearance in over 12 months after being sidelined with a serious Achilles tendon injury.

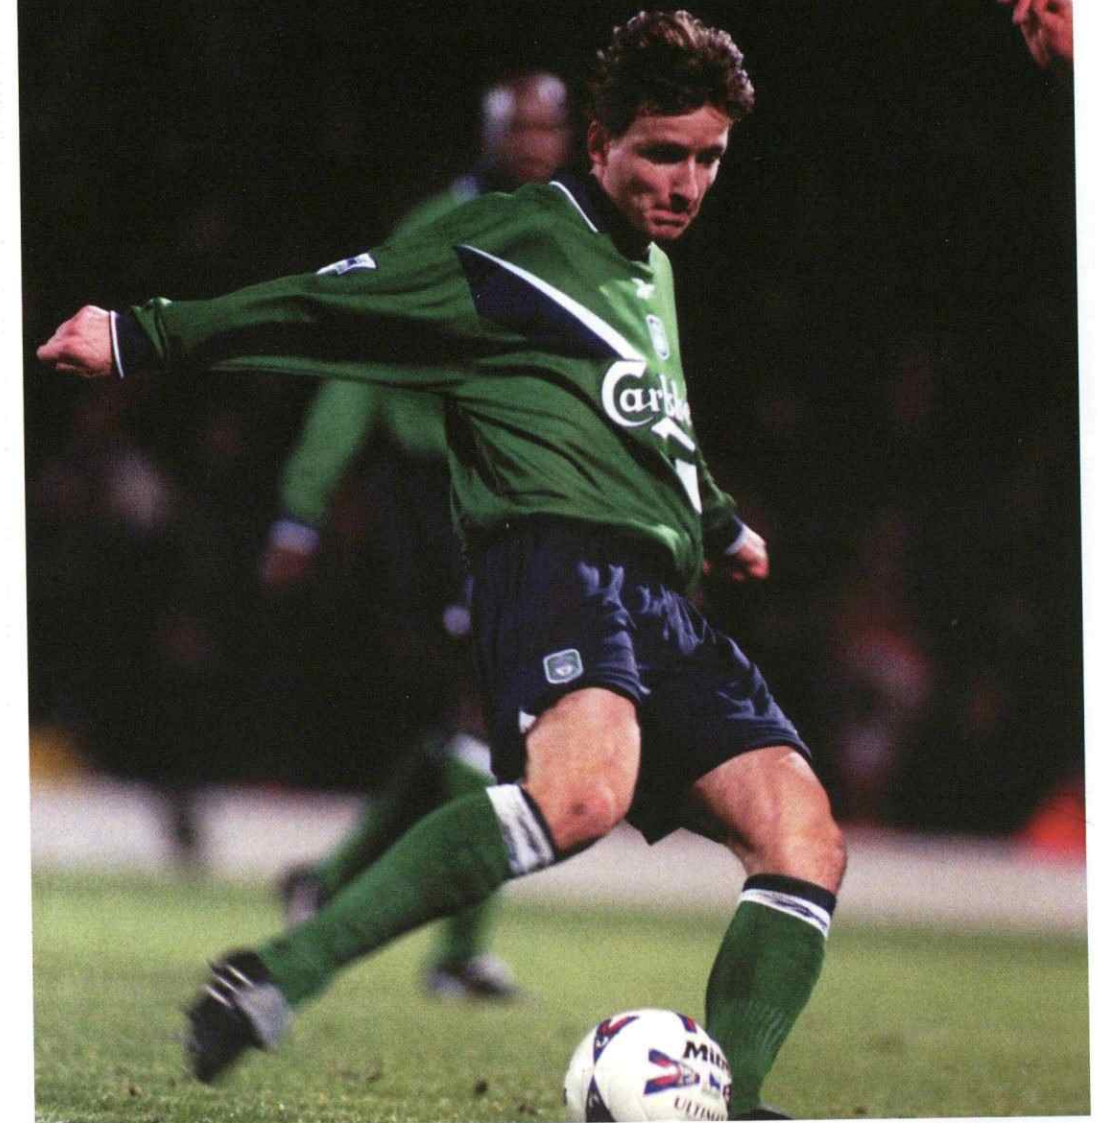

2000

Vladimir Smicer scored his first goal for Liverpool. The Czech international fired home a 71st minute winner against Watford at Vicarage Road to give Gerard Houllier's side a 3-2 victory. Smicer only scored 19 goals for Liverpool but no-one in Istanbul on May 25, 2005, will ever forget his last one!

Children spell out the phrase 'beat bullying'

COMMUNITY

You can now find your 'This is Anfield' matchday programme converted into other formats. If you would like a large-print version, a Braille version or CD Rom version then send a cheque for £3 to Colin McCall, LFC Community Department, 69 Anfield Road, Liverpool, L4 0TH. Cheques should arrive no later than seven days after the game in question.

Truth 4 Youth: Give bullying the boot

IN the latest of our series on the LFC community department's Truth 4 Youth initiative we are looking at another of the messages the department promotes through its special assemblies in schools across Merseyside: Give Bullying The Boot.

There are many reasons why a young person might be bullied. It could be their size or shape; the way they sound or look; their hobbies and interests; the clothes they wear or the way they style their hair. But there is never any justification for bullying; without exception, it is always wrong.

Bullying can take many forms, such as name calling, hitting, spreading rumours and excluding people, some of which are referred to in this poem by a 10-year-old girl:

While you're all off and having fun,
 I'm always the lonely one.
 I sit in the corner and play on my own,

Or walk around the playground while kicking a stone.

When you tell me I'm fat and look a little odd,
 And say, "Look at you, you're always on your tod."

Well maybe you should help me but you never ever do,
 I wish that I was popular and had more friends like you.

When you're sniggering behind my back,
 I dream about those friends I lack.
 While you're all off and having fun,
 I'm always the lonely one.

This young girl has expressed herself through her poem but many children do not know where to turn. It is important that we make sure children know they can talk to us if they are being bullied and that they can trust us to take them seriously. As adult role models we also need to do everything we can to discourage bullying and that is why the LFC community department's message is:

Bullies are not hard; they are not brave; they are cowards! If you are being bullied – even if it's by email or text – tell someone: your teacher, your mentor, your friend. Don't suffer in silence. For help and advice contact CHILDLINE on 0800 1111 or www.childline.org.uk

ZERO TOLERANCE OF RACISM

Is this fan shouting abuse, racial abuse or just supporting their side?

There's a clear line to be drawn between abuse of a racist nature and just getting hot under the collar. Understand it and respect the boundaries. Any level of racism is unacceptable.

If you see or hear racism, call Kick It Out free.

Ex-Red Welsh enjoying loan spell at Chester

FORMER Liverpool midfielder John Welsh has joined Chester City on a month's loan deal.

The 23-year-old made the switch from Hull on New Year's Day in an attempt to get his career up and running again after eight months out with a broken leg.

Welsh played in Chester's 2-0 defeat to Grimsby and last week's 3-3 draw with Accrington Stanley and hasn't ruled out a longer stay in Cheshire as he looks to boost his fitness.

"The move to Chester has given me a chance to get some games under my belt," he said.

"My fitness isn't at its peak but after a couple of games I will be looking to get my sharpness up.

"I will have to wait and see how my loan deal goes but I wouldn't hesitate in staying at Chester and extending the deal a bit longer.

"It's certainly an option."

The boyhood Liverpool fan joined Hull from Liverpool in January 2006 in a deal that saw winger Paul Anderson arrive at Anfield.

A former Liverpool reserve and England U21 captain, Welsh is the latest in a line of departed Reds who have turned out for Chester.

Despite three defeats since Christmas, the League Two side are within touching distance of the playoff places and Welsh is hoping to do his bit to help the Blues' push for promotion.

"As I'm from Liverpool I always try and keep an eye out for the local clubs and I've noticed Chester have been doing really well," he adds.

"Chester have suffered a few defeats since Christmas but the lads here are willing to work hard and I think they will soon turn things around.

"I already knew a few of the lads here like Ritchie Partridge from our time at Liverpool and I used to play alongside Stephen Vaughan at The Academy when we were younger.

"If we can get everyone fit I'm sure this club will be pushing for promotion."

John Welsh, now on loan at Chester City, and left, playing for Liverpool

Reds pay the price for not taking chances

Martin Kelly put the Reds up after just three minutes

BOLTON 1, LIVERPOOL 1

@ Euxton Lane, 05.01.08

DESPITE taking an early lead the U-18s had to settle for a point against Bolton Wanderers.

Centre-half Martin Kelly put Hughie McAuley's men in front and at that stage a repeat of November's 5-2 win over the same opposition seemed likely.

However, despite dominating possession the youngsters couldn't add to the opener and eventually paid the price when the hosts drew level.

"We started the game very well and we took the lead after three minutes when Martin headed home from a corner," McAuley said afterwards.

"We then had good chances to increase our lead through Nathan Eccleston, Marvin Pourie, David Amoo and Sean Highdale but we didn't take them.

"I felt for the first 20 minutes of the game we were really good but in the second half we were poor. We didn't get our passing going and I was disappointed with the way we played.

"Bolton equalised in the second half and we could have lost the game in the end but Chris Oldfield made a good save from a penalty. Overall a draw was probably a fair result."

Team: Oldfield, Irwin, O'Connor, Kelly, Kennedy, Highdale, Amoo, Ajdarevic, Pourie (Scott 80), Eccleston (Collins 60), Mackay-Steven (Kacaniklic 45). Unused subs: Hansen, Awang.

COULD YOU BE A STAR OF THE FUTURE?

THE Liverpool Academy is throwing open its doors again with two fantastic coaching courses as we continue our search for the stars of the future.

You could be lacing your boots and joining the action at the first purpose-built complex for the development of young footballers in Britain.

During February boys can take part in a three-day soccer school for 6-11 year olds and also a two-day goalkeeping camp for 6-14-year-olds.

All courses take place with the Academy's expert training staff, responsible for developing such stars as Michael Owen, Steven Gerrard and Robbie Fowler. And who knows? If our coaches spot your talent you could be the next Academy protégé to make it through to the first team.

Our team of dedicated coaches encourage technical footballing excellence and help nurture youngsters in attributes of balance, speed, attitude and skill.

And as our past record has demonstrated, we've developed top class players for the Liverpool first team.

So what are you waiting for?

- The LFC Academy soccer school will be held at the Kirkby complex on 11/12/13 February from 10am - 1pm. Price: £45

- The LFC Academy goalkeeping camp will also be held at the Kirkby complex on 14/15 February from 10am - 1pm. Price: £30

Application Form

If you wish to attend the Academy soccer school and/or goalkeeping camp you can obtain an application form to print out and post back to us from our website at www.liverpoolfc.tv, then go to 'The Club' and click on 'Soccer School.'

Alternatively you can contact The Academy on 0151 477 1201.

Please send completed application forms and fees to (Heather Maguire) Academy Soccer School, The Academy, Liverpool Football Club, The Liverpool Way, Knowsley, L33 7ED.

All applications must be returned AS SOON AS POSSIBLE as places are limited.

Fees must be paid in full at the time of booking.

COUNCILLOR URGES SUPPORT FOR SHIELDS

COUNCILLOR Joe Anderson has encouraged all Reds to sign a petition supporting the early release of Michael Shields.

The Liverpool fan - originally jailed in Bulgaria - was moved to HMP Garth recently having reached the age of 21, and has just spent another Christmas away from his family and home.

"Liverpool supporters have already provided fantastic help by paying the fine that allowed him to return to the UK," the Councillor said. "Now I would urge you all to add your name to this list and ensure he doesn't become the forgotten fan."

"Over 16,000 people have already signed up and with your help we can reach 50,000. On behalf of Michael, thank you all for your continued support."

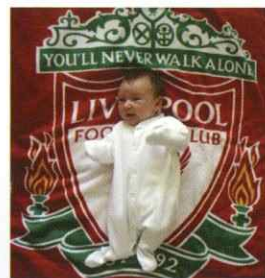

You can sign the petition at the following link:

We are the famous Kopites

Name: Shaun Brookes
Age: 19

First Liverpool game:
January 2002 vs Birmingham City in the FA Cup third round at Anfield.

What do you remember from the game?

I remember everything about it like it was yesterday. Owen scored two and Anelka, who was on loan at the time, scored as well. The atmosphere that day was class and my first You'll Never Walk Alone was special.

Best game you've ever been to:
I haven't been to many games because I live in South Africa but the best would have to be my first one as anyone's first time at Anfield is unbelievable.

Best moment of your Liverpool supporting life:
That one's easy - Istanbul. Unbelievable; I get goosebumps just thinking about it.

First idol in a Reds shirt and why:
Michael Owen. He was class when I started supporting Liverpool.

Best current player and why:
Jamie Carragher. His contribution for Liverpool is irreplaceable. He has everything you want in a central defender; guts, determination, leadership, you name it - he has it all.

Favourite Liverpool goal:
John Arne Riise's free-kick against Man United. It was quality and because it was against Man United it was even better.

Best ground apart from Anfield and why:
I'll have to go with Fratton Park simply because Portsmouth's atmosphere is always quality and for me atmosphere is the most important aspect of a stadium.

Favourite part of Anfield:
The Kop, Liverpool's 12th man for years and for many more to come.

Shankly or Paisley?
I'm still young so my opinion is based on what I have heard or read, but I'll have to go with Shankly because everything I have seen about him is class.

First person you text after a Liverpool game:
Any one of my friends Robbie, Brad or Stefano. They're all big Liverpool fans.

If you could guarantee one victory over the course of the season, what would it be?
Man United away. It would be great to get one over on them in their back yard and it would give the players confidence to go on and win the league.

If you were given the keys to Anfield and could go anywhere and do whatever you want, what would you do first?
I would go into the dressing room, put on my number three "Brookes" shirt, walk down the tunnel, touch the famous "This is Anfield" sign, run out onto the glorious Anfield turf and slot home a penalty in front of the Kop and do a sliding celebration across the slick grass.

Which opposition player would you like to see sign for the club and why?

Cristiano Ronaldo. I know he isn't everyone's favourite but there is no doubting his quality and he could change a game instantly in your favour. Torres, Ronaldo and Gerrard bursting forward would be amazing.

Have you ever met any Liverpool players?

Yes, just recently I met Gerrard, Carragher, Arbeloa, Aurelio, Lucas, Agger, Voronin, Crouch, Benayoun and Itandje outside Melwood training ground. It was a great experience.

Favourite Reds shirt down the years:

Gold shirt during the 2000/01 season. I had the name 'Owen' on the back.

Worst Reds shirt down the years:

Probably the yellow one a few years ago with the black trim. It wasn't the greatest.

Another European Cup or another league title?

A league title as I have never seen us win one yet. But I wouldn't mind both this season.

If you could have a conversation with any player or manager from the club's past, who would it be and what would you ask them?

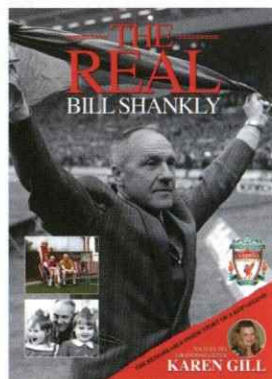

I would ask Rafa Benitez if every time we score a goal he gets the urge to celebrate in style.

You could have a million pounds or score a winner for the Reds at Anfield - which would you choose?

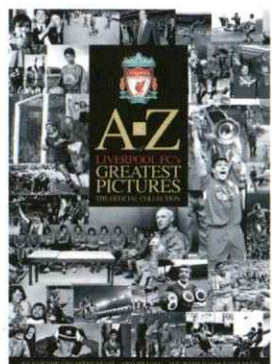

Winner at Anfield any day of the week.

Search is on for stars of Anfield schools classic

THE search is on to find the Liverpool Boys side that played Stockport almost 60 years ago in the most famous school football game ever played at Anfield.

The occasion was the second leg of the English Schools' Trophy final, Liverpool Boys v Stockport Boys, on Whit Monday (May 17th) 1948, which attracted an astonishing 40,667.

The score was level at 0-0 following the first leg at Edgeley Park and the second game clearly caught the imagination of the public.

The attraction was the visitors' centre-forward, Bryan "Boy" Brennan, who had already notched 100 goals that season and appears to have been the football prodigy of his day.

Brennan had a fine game, scoring one and helping his side into a 3-2 lead in extra-time, before Arthur Rowley tied the scores up at 3-3 and the title was shared.

Rowley was the only youngster to advance to play for the Reds' first team, which he did 11 times in 1952. The inside forward was last heard of living in the Aintree area in the 1990s and is not registered with the Former Players Association.

In recent years the 1948 Stockport side have held regular reunions.

In 2008 this will be on April 5 when Stockport County play Bradford at Edgeley Park. This time County wish to reunite all those who played in the final by extending an invitation to the Liverpool team.

The 1948 Liverpool team (the asterisk denotes those already found and the school they attended is in brackets): 1 Ken Atherton (Arnot Street), 2 RJ Harvey (Wellington Road), 3 Ken Mawson (Evered Avenue), 4. George Langshaw (Birchfield Road), 5 Harry Jones (Earle), 6 Joe Maloney (St Edward's), 7 J Devine (Toxteth Tech), 8 Arthur Rowley (Florence Melly), Gerry Tansey (St Sylvester's), 10 Bill Pemberton (Ellergreen Rd), 11 D Threlfall (Rose Lane). Reserves: Harvey (Mt Carmel), Parry (Barlow's Lane), Bretland (St Teresa's).

Anyone with information on these players should contact Tim Johnson on 07940 751774 or email tim@splendidmedia.co.uk

LUTON v LIVERPOOL

FA CUP THIRD ROUND, JANUARY 2006

CUP CLASSIC: Djibril Cisse was a key player but failed to get on the scoresheet himself when the Reds went to Kenilworth Road in the third round of the FA Cup in 2006. Steven Gerrard (top right) got things off to a positive start for the visitors, but Luton soon came fighting back

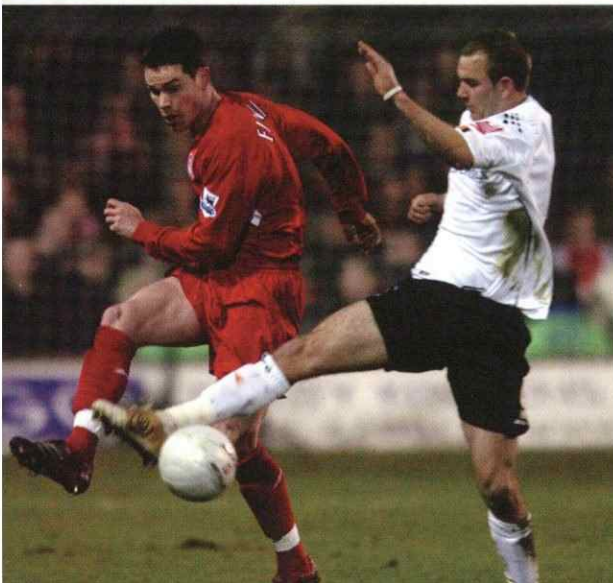

LUTON v LIVERPOOL

FA CUP THIRD ROUND, JANUARY 2006

HALFWAY HOUSE: Luton stormed into a 3-1 lead to leave the eventual cup winners' hopes hanging by a thread, but once the Reds had fought their way back into the lead, Xabi Alonso produced a rare feat as he rounded Hatters keeper Marlon Beresford to score from his own half

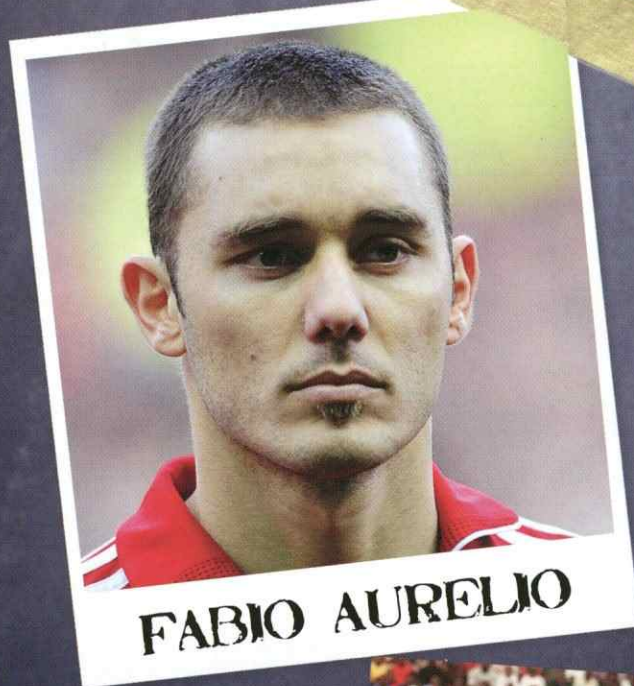

LUTON v LIVERPOOL

FA CUP THIRD ROUND, JANUARY 2006

UPS AND DOWNS: It was a rollercoaster night for the Reds as they battled past a spirited Luton side but the 5-3 final scoreline reflected the excitement enjoyed by a viewing TV audience. Peter Crouch, Scott Carson, Steve Finnan and Harry Kewell certainly knew they'd been in a match

FABIO AURELIO

FINDING YOUR BEST FORM

HOW DO YOU FEEL YOUR LIVERPOOL CAREER HAS GONE AS A WHOLE?

I'm in my second season at Liverpool but I honestly feel like I have not yet been able to show everyone why I was brought to the club from Spain.

The fans have not seen me at my best. I have missed a lot of football and I want to make up for it by playing as much as I can. I don't want tiredness to cost me a single minute.

I've had a little problem around New Year but I hope that from now until the end of the season I can show my best.

ASPIRATIONS

GROWING UP DID YOU EVER THINK OF PURSUING A CAREER IN ANYTHING OTHER THAN FOOTBALL?

I don't think that I ever did. It is such a long time ago now that I don't remember but I was always playing with a ball when I was a young child and I think watching the great players that Brazil have produced over the years made it the only dream I chased.

I did okay at school. I always tried to learn but I really just couldn't wait to get my hands on a ball and play with my friends.

I don't think it's any different whether you grow up in England, Spain or Brazil - all we want to do is kick the ball about.

BRAZIL

THE WORLD CUP IS COMING TO BRAZIL IN 2014. IS THAT GOOD NEWS FOR THE NATION?

It is magnificent news; I was really pleased when I heard that we would host our first finals since 1950. It will ensure that the stadiums which have grown old and tired in some cases will see real investment and bring them hopefully on to the same level as the stadiums in Europe.

Some grounds are good but there are not enough stadiums ready to host it at the moment.

There is a lot of work to come and to be done in the next six years.

Also Brazil has been in the news for negative reasons in the last few years. There have been films and documentaries highlighting the social problems. I am not saying they do not exist but there is much more to Brazil than that.

It is a beautiful country, with great beaches, fantastic art and architecture, and brilliant weather. The World Cup will bring millions of new visitors to Brazil and that will be good for everyone.

INTERNATIONALS

YOU AND CARRA ARE TWO OF THE REGULARS LEFT BEHIND AT MELWOOD WHEN CLUB FOOTBALL IS INTERRUPTED. CAN YOU BELIEVE HE WAS NEVER A REGULAR?

No. There are a lot of good players in his position in the centre of defence but he would be one of the first players I picked if I was the manager of that team.

He has everything you need to play at that level. He is experienced, a leader, and his positional sense is excellent.

But if it means he is fresher for Liverpool then that is good news for us.

OUTSTANDING TEAM-MATES

YOU'VE BEEN LUCKY TO PLAY ALONGSIDE SOME WONDERFUL PLAYERS IN YOUR CAREER.

WHO STANDS OUT AS THE BEST OF THE BEST?

(Looks worried, and exhales loudly) That's a really, really tough question! I look back at Valencia and I think of Pablo Aimar - an absolute magician with the ball at his feet. Under Rafa he played his best football and he was outstanding. Some of the passes he could play took your breath away, and it did not matter how tight a space he was in he could get away from two, three, even four markers.

But honestly, if you pushed me I would say Steven Gerrard every time. I say that not just because I am a team-mate of his here because I would say the same even I had never been on the same pitch.

People talk about Kaka and he is a great player too but for me Steven can do things that Kaka can't. For example he can defend as a holding player, he can play in Kaka's position in attacking areas and you could ask him to play on the left or on the right and he would still be world class.

For me, he is the complete player.

AURELIO JUNIOR

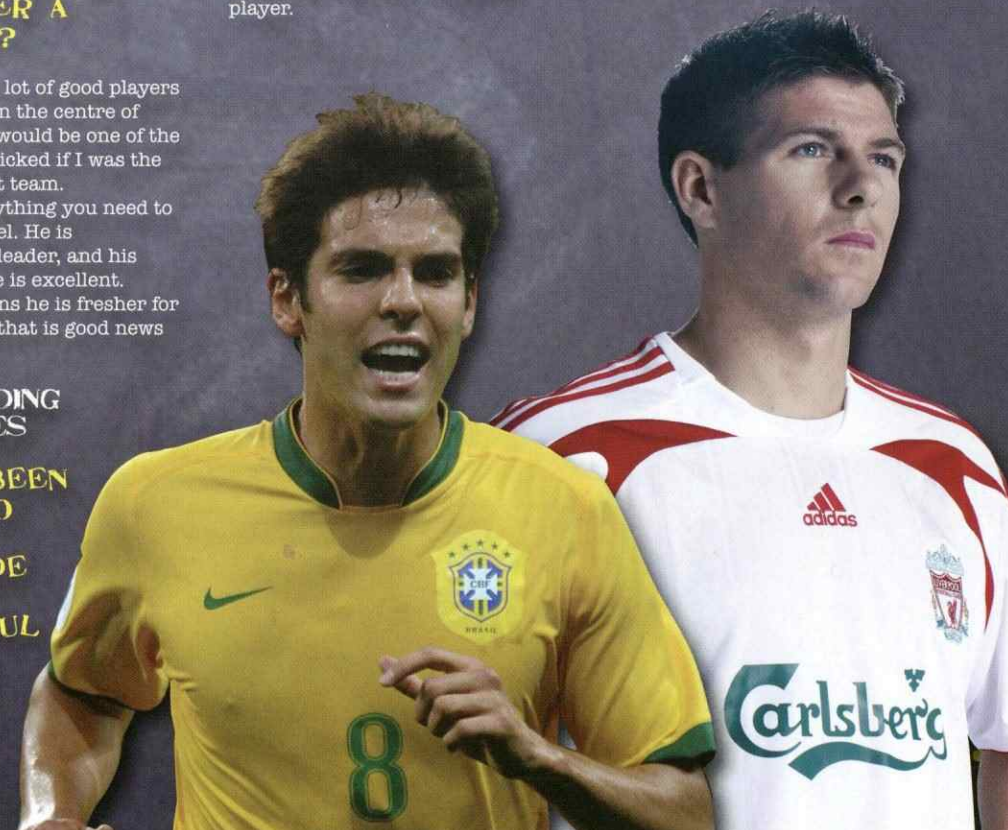

IS HE STARTING TO FOLLOW IN HIS FATHER'S FOOTSTEPS YET?

Yes, he has started to play football and it is hard to get the ball from him now. He loves Liverpool, my whole family enjoy it, and he is totally happy. He is doing really well at school and speaks better English than me or my wife.

It's funny watching young children play football, the way they are all drawn towards the ball all the time.

WOULD YOU ENCOURAGE HIM TO PURSUE A CAREER IN THE GAME?

Of course I would, but only if it was what he wanted to do. I will not push him to play; that would be wrong. I would be just as happy if he became a doctor, a teacher or whatever he wanted, so long as he is happy.

UNDER PRESSURE

A COUPLE OF SLIPS OVER THE CHRISTMAS PERIOD HAVE SEEN US WRITTEN OFF IN THE MEDIA AS TITLE CONTENDERS. WHAT'S THE DRESSING ROOM VIEW?

We have been unlucky that maybe we have not picked up a few more points against our rivals this season that would have kept us closer to the top of the table but I do not think we are too far away from mounting a real challenge.

If we are still in a good position at the end of January, then who knows what might happen? We have an important game in hand.

We have the management and players to go a long way but we must do our talking on the pitch. We believe we can win the title.

RATE YOUR MATE

AS THE FIRST BRAZILIAN TO PLAY FOR LIVERPOOL, HOW HIGHLY DO YOU REGARD LUCAS WHO IS FOLLOWING IN YOUR FOOTSTEPS?

He will be a fantastic player for this club for many years to come. I got to know him quite well when he first came over because we are countrymen and we share a common language, but already his English is excellent.

He is growing in confidence on the pitch with every game he plays and will get better and better.

He is a star of the future for sure.

EATERIES

WE'VE SEEN CARRA AND AGGER OPEN RESTAURANTS IN THE PAST SIX MONTHS. ARE YOU NOT TEMPTED TO OPEN A BRAZILIAN THEMED PLACE OF YOUR OWN?

My wife and I have talked with our families about doing this, and we have had a look at the possibilities but I am not sure whether or not I will pursue it. I would worry that the red tape would make it too complicated.

If I was going to do it I would have to do it properly. It would have to be entirely authentic and stay true to the cooking procedures and recipes from home. To do that I would have to bring over chefs and staff from Brazil, and I think that might be difficult with the employment officials.

There is one place in Liverpool already that specialises in this cuisine, and it's very nice. We've been there to eat. But it's not what I would call authentic. The meat is spiced for the British pallet because everything here is seasoned.

Back home we like our meat quite plain. You would probably not enjoy it but it is the flavour of the meat which we enjoy rather than the flavours on the meat.

My wife would like to do it but we both understand how difficult it might be to get it up and running and to have it become a success.

I would say it is more likely to remain a nice dream than to become a reality.

LIVERPOOL DERBY

HOW DO THE MERSEYSIDE DERBIES COMPARE TO RIVALRIES IN BRAZIL?

They are different games in different countries and not so easy to compare. The people come into the stadiums hours and hours before the game begins to start the singing and the party.

There are flares and fireworks too and the games are much slower affairs. The pace is not as fast as a derby in our city.

I would say that if you are a fan of football the Liverpool derby is one of the games you have to see in your life, along with a Sao Paulo derby between Sao Paulo and Santos. Boca v River Plate would be another along with the Milan rivalry.

All are unique experiences. I haven't been to all of those but I will try.

IN RESERVE

DO YOU TAKE AN INTEREST IN THE YOUNGSTERS COMING THROUGH THE RANKS?

Yeah, I do as much as I can. Because I don't play for Brazil at international level I get to train with the young talent we have at the club for a couple of weeks at a time and some of them are looking really good.

Jack Hobbs has come into the team a couple of times recently and I am sure we will see more following his example in the years to come.

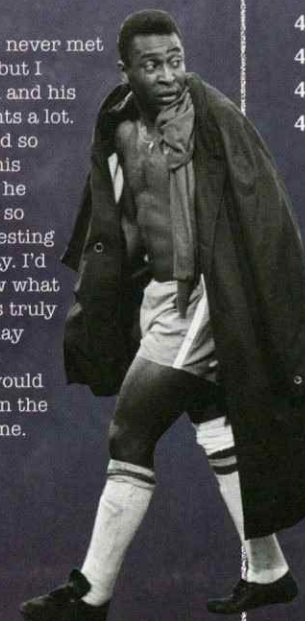

It's important that it is not just at first-team level that we have good teams; it must be all the way through the club.

ON THE OTHER SIDE OF AN INTERVIEW

IF YOU COULD REVERSE THE ROLES AND ASK THE QUESTIONS IN AN INTERVIEW WHO WOULD YOU LIKE TO QUIZ?

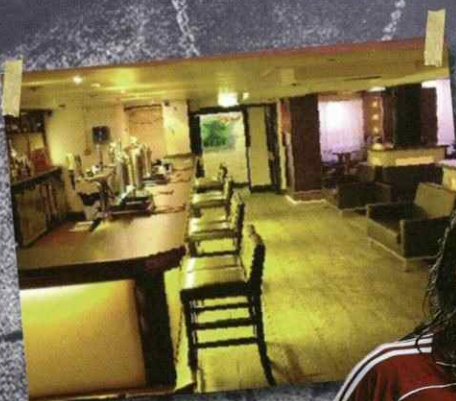

Pele. I have never met him before but I admire him and his achievements a lot.

He crammed so much into his career that he would have so many interesting things to say. I'd like to know what football was truly like in his day and how he thinks he would have done in the modern game.

STATS

Carra ready for career landmark

JAMIE Carragher will join an elite band of Liverpool players when he clocks up his 500th appearance for the Reds.

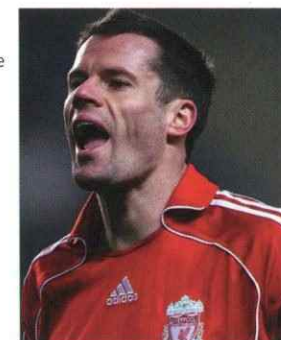

Going into Saturday's FA Barclays Premier League clash at Middlesbrough, Carra was on 498 appearances and, if selected as expected, tonight will see him reach that amazing fifth century.

If he does make his 500th appearance tonight it will come exactly 11 years and one week after his debut at Middlesbrough's

Riverside Stadium. He will also become the 12th man on an illustrious list to have achieved the feat.

Carragher can also surpass Kenny Dalglish's 515 appearances for Liverpool this season but he's still got a long way to go to get in the top five:

1. Ian Callaghan 857
2. Ray Clemence 665
3. Emlyn Hughes 665
4. Ian Rush 660
5. Phil Neal 650

with...
PEPE REINA

WHAT was going through your mind LAST season when Jerzy Dudek conceded nine goals in just four days as Arsenal knocked Liverpool out of both domestic cups?

"It is always going to be difficult to see a goalkeeper and fellow teammate concede so many goals like that, especially as they [Arsenal] only had 12 or 13 shots.

It wasn't all Jerzy's fault though. The team could have done more to prevent some of the goals. Obviously it wasn't Jerzy's best moment, which I'm sure he will agree.

He had not been playing for a long time and that can make it more difficult to come back in to the team when you are maybe not at the level you would like to be.

But we cannot blame Jerzy for all those goals. It was disappointing for everyone."

The LAST domestic cup game you played in was the 4-3 Carling Cup win over Reading last season. Does it bother you that you don't figure much in our FA and League Cup games?

"No, because it means that Charles [Itandje] can have his chance to play.

He deserves that and has been working really hard to stay switched on and keep his levels up for when these chances arrive.

It is good to know there is someone behind me pushing me all the way. It helps keep the team level high.

Charles has played well in the cups. Hopefully we can reach the final again this year.

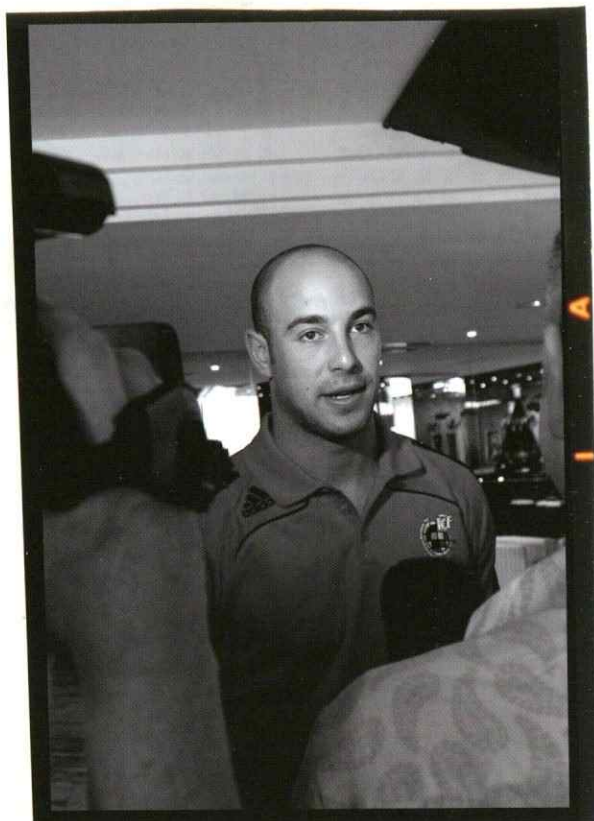

The FA Cup is special. We have won it once during my time here. It would be nice to do so again."

When was the LAST time you took part in a cup replay?

"I don't recall ever playing in one.

This kind of game does not exist in Spain, not in the Copa del Rey anyway.

The last time I played in the Copa del Rey the system was that if a game was a draw after 90 minutes of the second leg, it would go to extra time and then penalties. There were no replays and I am sure the system is still the same now."

Famous LAST WORDS

"Sometimes I feel I'm hardly wanted in this Liverpool team. If I get two or three saves to make I've had a busy day"

Kick out racism

Liverpool Football Club fully supports the Kick It Out anti racism campaign and will not tolerate racism in any form. Anyone who witnesses behaviour which is likely to cause offence is encouraged to report such on the club's dedicated Anti Racism Incident Reporting Line - 0800 298 4999. The club is committed to investigating all reported incidents as we are determined to make Anfield a place that is accessible to supporters from all sections of the community because we believe that in today's multi-cultural society there is no place for racism.

Emergency procedures

In the event of an emergency at Anfield you will hear a police message over the public address system. It will be preceded by a loud 'bing-bong' sound. Please remain where you are, listen to the message and, if it affects your area of the stadium, comply with the instructions immediately. These will direct you to a safe area, through exit gates and doors into car parks, roads or the pitch area. If you are disabled or feel unsafe in a large crowd, remain where you are until the stewards assist you to leave. Above all, REMAIN CALM and DO NOT MOVE unless the announcement concerns your area of the stadium.
