ADDICKS GO DUTCH AFTER DAILY GRIND

In light of a notable Scottish absence on the pitch, one defender recently made a pilgrimage to The Valley. MATT WRIGHT introduces Charlton's new rearguard recruit

He may be unable to play this afternoon, but new Charlton recruit Marcel Seip intends to play a full role in the club's push for promotion.

The versatile defender was recruited on loan from Plymouth Argyle on Monday after the club decided not to appeal against the controversial red card issued to Addicks captain Christian Dailly against Yeovil Town last Saturday.

Dailly will today serve the second match of his four-game suspension, and Phil Parkinson reacted quickly to his scheduled absence by bringing in Seip.

"I know Charlton have been doing well, but I've come here to play," said former Netherlands U21 international Marcel.

"I don't know if the gaffer will pick me or not, but I hope I come into his mind for a start. I'll have to wait and see because Charlton are doing well at the moment. But I want to play. I'll do my best in training and hopefully he'll pick me."

Seip, who represented the Pilgrims against Charlton in the 2-2 draw at Home Park in October, is unable to feature this afternoon because he represented Argyle in the competition in the last round. He is also unavailable for Charlton's Johnstone's Paint Trophy campaign.

But he already feels as if he is among friends in SE7, having worked with Tim Breacker during the assistant manager's time under Ian Holloway at Home Park, and having previously played alongside loanee Lee Martin.

Defender Marcel Seip was on the bench against Bristol Rovers after joining on loan

"I was happy the minute I heard Tim was looking for someone," said 28-year-old Seip, who has signed until January 8th. "Christian got suspended, so they were short of options."

With Chris Solly out until the new year with an ankle injury, Dailly was the main cover for Simon Francis on the right of the rearguard, and Seip will add competition at right-back and in central defence.

"With Christian suspended and the loan window closing on Thursday, it was important we moved quickly," explained manager

Parkinson. "We just felt we needed another player like him in the squad."

Charlton will be without skipper Dailly until the regional semi-final of the Johnstone's Paint Trophy against Brentford on December 14th after the club opted not to appeal against his harsh dismissal last weekend.

Although Dailly and opponent Sam Williams, plus Yeovil boss Terry Skiverton, admitted afterwards that the incident was a clash of heads, the video evidence wasn't clear enough to sustain hopes that the referee's decision – that Dailly elbowed Williams – could be overturned.

"We had a good long look at it and it was a clash of heads, but we were concerned that if we did appeal, it could ultimately see him miss more games," said Parkinson. "We just couldn't take the risk of it being extended due to a frivolous claim."

"It's a real shame because Christian has spent 14 years in England and, prior to this season, had only been sent off once. Now he's been the victim of two harsh decisions in a matter of months."

Charlton's player of the season last term, Dailly was sent off when he received a second yellow card for an innocuous challenge against Leyton Orient in August. ◀

"THE FA CUP ALWAYS HAS A SPECIAL FEEL TO IT, AND THE PRIZE FOR BOTH TEAMS IS BEING INVOLVED IN TOMORROW EVENING'S THIRD-ROUND DRAW. IT'S ALWAYS EXCITING WHEN THE BIG CLUBS ENTER THE COMPETITION, AND IT WOULD BE GREAT TO HAVE PREMIER LEAGUE OPPOSITION AT THE VALLEY ONCE AGAIN"

Welcome back to The Valley for the final match of this run of four successive home games.

The FA Cup always has a special feel to it, and the prize for both teams is being involved in tomorrow evening's third-round draw.

It's always exciting when the big clubs enter the competition, and it would be great to have Premier League opposition at The Valley once again.

Our opponents, Luton Town, are doing well in the Blue Square Bet Premier this season. I saw them play against Corby Town in their first-round replay, but it was difficult to judge them that night. It was a very one-sided game after Corby had a player sent off in the first half, but from what I've seen myself and the reports I've received, they like to get the ball down and play.

They're a good footballing side, which isn't always the case when you play non-League opposition.

So it should be an attractive game, and as we welcome Richard Money, Gary Brabin and everyone else at Luton, we're looking forward to the contest.

It's a significant day for Tim Breacker and Gary Doherty, both of whom started their careers at Luton, so they will be particularly keen to do well. Tim won the Littlewoods Cup during more than 250 games for Luton, while Gary was at the club for almost three years and was a big-money sale.

We came from behind to draw with Bristol Rovers last Tuesday night, but I was generally pleased with the all-round performance.

Bristol had drawn at Brighton & Hove Albion three days earlier and were hard to break down, but I thought that, over the 90 minutes, we had enough clear-cut chances to win the game, and I can't fault the lads' efforts.

When we equalised, I think fans could sense that we weren't going to be content with a draw and really wanted to win the game.

We went all out to win the match, and when you do that, you can sometimes leave the back door open, and we nearly got punished. But our attacking threat in the last 20 minutes was excellent, and on another day, we could have scored a couple of goals in that period alone.

I went to Park View Road the following night to watch the U18s in the youth cup, and I was very pleased with their performance against Bury Town.

The win has set up an attractive game at Carrow Road next month, and I expect a couple of the players on show will be involved in our squad this afternoon, because we have a few suspensions and injuries.

Enjoy today's game. ◀

Frustrated by an injury-plagued spell in Yorkshire, one defender emerged determined to battle his way back – just like the club he returned to during the summer. GARY HAINES finds out how a long-serving Addick has played his part in Charlton's current good Fortune

It's around this time of year that the Christmas decorations come down from the loft and gift lists are circulated among friends and family.

Such traditions remain rife, and the absence of Jonathan Fortune from last year's festive menu in SE7 was pretty much like Christmas Day without the Queen's Speech.

The big defender is reborn in the Addicks stable this season, though, and is keen to make up for lost time following a stop-start second spell at the club.

Just to fill fans in on the absence of Fortune last season; the 30-year-old ended his long association with the club in summer 2009, joining Championship side Sheffield United.

However, following an injury-plagued spell at Bramall Lane, the centre-back found himself once more seeking fresh pastures a year later – and his career went full circle when he arrived back at Sparrows Lane.

A member of the Addicks squad in the Premiership, Fortune's transition back into Charlton red was seamless, and he was eventually handed a short-term contract until the end of this year.

He's had to wait patiently for his chance to shine, but the suspension of skipper Christian Dailly has opened the door for a solid run in the team going into December.

And having entered the fray for the closing 15 minutes of the incident-packed clash with Yeovil Town last Saturday, Fortune started alongside Gary Doherty in the midweek Valley draw with Bristol Rovers.

WILL OF FORTUNE

Indeed, he ended the evening wearing the captain's armband after stand-in skipper Jose Semedo left the action early in the second half.

"I was surprised to come on last weekend, because as a defender, you don't usually come off the bench," said Jonathan, whose midweek outing took him to an aggregate 204 games for the club.

"I was chatting to Christian about it after the game, and we were saying that defence is probably the hardest role to fulfil after coming on.

"A centre-forward or winger can take his time and get involved, and if you mis-control the ball or you are not ready, then it's not going to affect things too much.

"But one mistake as a defender and it's a goal or a chance on goal for their team. So you have to be so concentrated and so prepared."

Fortune and co held firm when shorthanded against the Glovers, and after the visitors were also reduced to 10 men near the end, Johnnie Jackson's penalty proved decisive in a 3-2 win.

On Tuesday, Fortune was in from the start as Dailly began his ban, and the defender helped stretch the Addicks' unbeaten run in all competitions to nine matches.

"It was a tough evening," said

Fortune, who watched Will Hoskins spurn a glorious chance to win the game for Bristol in the closing stages.

"We've been on a great run of late, and I thought the boys showed great character to get back in the game and then press on for the win.

"The boys have put in a great bit of effort recently, and taken us from mid-table to being in contention.

There is more of a team feeling about the place now. I think everyone is starting to blend a bit more and understand each other. Hopefully, we can keep going like this."

Fortune is now hoping to continue his rearguard progress in this afternoon's FA Cup clash against Luton Town. And while 'Forch' may be a cool customer off the field, don't

"It was best that I didn't carry on, but it was really frustrating," he said, having finally been forced off after 63 minutes. "I'm waiting for these games and when the opportunities come, I can't pass them up.

"I know I've been here a long while, but apart from, obviously, the gaffer and Kins [Mark Kinsella], it's a whole new set-up.

"There are new players and three very good centre-halves – Christian, Doc [Gary Doherty] and Miguel [Llera]. I've got to be patient and I understood that when I first came here, but, fingers crossed, I can now hopefully get a run in the side and put some performances back to back.

"If anyone in any position at any club is getting a continued run, it should work out that you start getting better with each game. I want to be able to put a run of a few games together to try to get back to match fitness and match sharpness."

Fortune made his first-team return against Milton Keynes Dons on September 28th, fully 20 months and a day after his last outing for the club, on January 27th, 2009.

And while the date will long be remembered by the Valley fans who celebrated a victory over fierce rivals Crystal Palace after an 18-match winless league run, it was memorable for all the wrong reasons for Fortune.

A jarring Achilles injury suffered in the 1-0 win saw him leave the action on the hour mark, and it proved to be the final match of his initial spell at the club at which he had climbed through the ranks.

But far from a fresh start in the Steel City, his career stood still as he made just six appearances for the Blades during a frustrating time at Bramall Lane.

Discussing his move north, he explained: "I had to go up there, really, as there was nothing [on offer] at Charlton at the time. So I played 45 minutes in a friendly and did well and they said we would get something sorted.

"Then, in the last kick of the training session the next Monday, I did my hamstring, which put me out for a month."

After missing pre-season, Fortune eventually signed for the Blades, but opportunity didn't knock until November.

"I played against Barnsley and played well and was back involved again," he said. "Then I came off the bench for two minutes and did my hamstring again.

"I just couldn't get a regular run of games. Every time I came back, I kept breaking down, and I did my hamstring again just before January."

Only four more games followed in 2010 before the two parties agreed to part ways.

"It's been awful in terms of how frustrating it has been," he said. "I wasn't playing and I just wanted to go somewhere where I would start getting some football games again. So I moved on."

After heading south in the summer, the defender therefore continued his unbroken sequence of starting pre-season training at Sparrows Lane in July.

"Even last season, when I was at Sheffield United, I was always in contact with Charlton and watching what was going on," he said.

"When pre-season arrived, I knew that I had to be somewhere training. I'm not someone who can just go to the gym by myself; I have to be around other people, and it just felt right at Charlton.

"I was enjoying myself with the boys over the summer, and thought it created an opportunity where maybe we could both do something and I could stay."

Luton's arrival in SE7 recalls a thrilling League Cup contest between the two sides in September 2003, and Fortune was in the centre of the Addicks defence as Charlton trailed 2-0 just after the half-hour mark.

A last-minute goal by Paolo Di Canio, his first as a Charlton player, made it 3-3 after 90 minutes, and after the teams traded goals in extra-time, the match ended in a 4-4 draw and penalties ensued.

Fortune converted Charlton's third spot-kick, and a save by Dean Kiely finally earned the Addicks an 8-7 shootout success.

"I had a friend called Courtney Pitt who was playing for Luton at the time, and he came on," recalled Jonathan. "I remember it going to extra-time and then penalties, but all our cup games at that time seemed to go to penalties.

"I put one past Woody [Charlton goalkeeping coach Andy Woodman] against Oxford United a year earlier as well."

Fortune, who was a striker coming through the youth ranks at the club, is one of just two playing survivors – along with Therry Racon – from the last time the two sides met, a 3-1 League Cup loss at Kenilworth Road in 2007.

Since then, the Hatters have dropped out of The Football League, and he noted: "Football is getting stranger and stranger now.

"It's no surprise when you see what's happened to us and other teams, but it's hit them a bit worse.

"These games are strictly about being professional, being up for it and doing the right job. Hopefully, that will be the case today."

"I've recently been involved in a new soccer school, where kids get the chance to be trained by professionals and ex-professionals and meet some of our friends in the game.

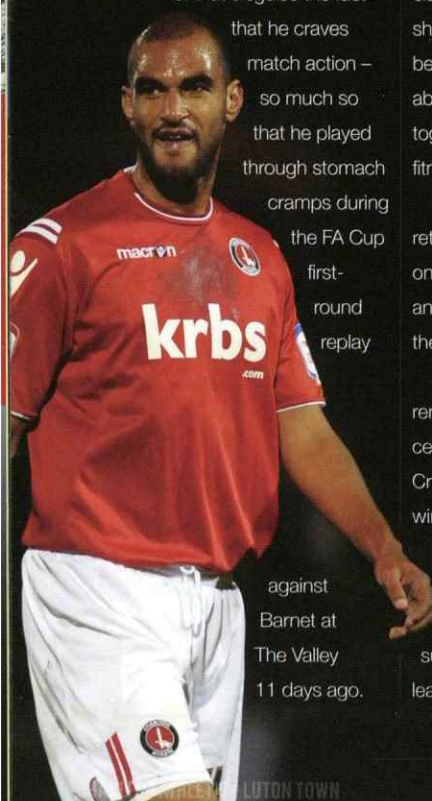

It's called Pro Impact and we've done a few half-term courses in Chingford and Catford, and players such as Ashley Cole, Ledley King and Carlton Cole have all come down.

I run it with former Arsenal youngster Paolo Vernazza and Kevin James, who was a YTS boy with me at Charlton, and if I was a kid, I would have loved to have been to such a course. Find out more at www.proimpactfootball.com."

FACING THE 12 DAYS OF PRINT MASS

Producing four matchday programmes in 12 days has required hard work behind the scenes, and MATT WRIGHT takes a closer look at how the club's hectic schedule compares to previous years

Today's FA Cup tie against Luton Town is Charlton's fourth home match in the space of 12 days – and has certainly tested the club's communications department to its limit, even though we've produced smaller editions of the Valley Review for the two cup games in that period.

It started us thinking about previous busy times in the club's history, and that meant just one thing – a call to Colin Cameron.

As you'd expect of the ever-prepared club historian, his reply was immediate as he recalled the 'Ice Age' 1962/63 season, when the Addicks played nine matches in 28 days in April following a series of postponements earlier in the campaign due to the weather.

Indeed, in contrast to the current hectic schedule, there was a 75-day period (from December 22nd, 1962 to March 6th, 1963) when Charlton were only able to play six league and cup matches, all at The Valley. Even one of those games, against Southampton, was abandoned.

A third-round FA Cup match against Cardiff City, originally scheduled for January 5th, was ultimately postponed 10 times due to the extreme winter weather before it eventually took place on February 18th.

But it's previous occasions featuring a sustained run of home games that we're specifically interested in, and further research shows that three home matches in eight days has proved a relatively common occurrence over the years, as well as runs of four Valley matches in the space of 15-18 days.

But four home fixtures in just 12 days remains a rarity – until you go all the way back to 1924/25 and uncover a sequence of nine matches, seven of which were at home, from November 22nd to December 27th.

Fruits of our labour: an Addicks fan reads Tuesday night's Valley Review

During this period, four home games and one away were played in the space of 10 days.

And although this is a worse schedule than the Addicks have experienced this month, the matchday programme editor in me is compelled to point out that the 'programme' of the time was a one-page printed sheet...

The vagaries of the FA Cup draw and the necessity of a first-round replay against Barnet were responsible for the current concentration of home games, but it could have been worse.

Had Charlton been drawn at home in the regional semi-finals of the Johnstone's Paint Trophy, and the match not selected by Sky, we could all have been back here again on Tuesday night – five home games in 15 days.

That would have meant nine games in November, but times have certainly changed.

In 1971/72, Charlton played their final nine fixtures of the campaign in 30 days, culminating in the 5-0 defeat to Blackpool which confirmed the club's relegation to the Third Division.

However, just three days before heading to Bloomfield Road, the same team took part in a testimonial match for former player Dietmar Bruck against Coventry City at Highfield Road – making it a final run-in of 10 matches in 30 days.

Given the financial ramifications of relegation in modern-day football, it's hard to imagine that any club would field a full-strength line-up for a friendly with such an important match on the horizon nowadays. ◀

CLUB HUNTS COIN CULPRIT

When lifelong Charlton fan Lynne Pettyfer enters The Valley this afternoon, she will automatically head towards the seat in Block C of the lower north stand which she has occupied for the past decade.

are also urging other fans to assist us, because these are not the sort of people we want at The Valley."

Sixty-year-old Pettyfer, who is known as 'the confetti lady', has been following Charlton home and

Addicks season-ticket holder Lynne Pettyfer, 60, was badly injured after being hit on the head by a coin thrown from the upper north stand at The Valley on Tuesday night

There's nothing unusual in that, you may think. Except the last time Pettyfer sat there, she ended the night at Queen Elizabeth Hospital, having been struck on the head by a coin thrown by one of her fellow Addicks supporters.

Now the club is appealing for fans to help identify the person who threw the coin at Tuesday night's League One match against Bristol Rovers.

"We are taking this incident extremely seriously because we cannot allow the mindless actions of one person to cause so much pain and distress," said managing director Stephen Kavanagh. "We will be examining CCTV footage to try to identify who was responsible, and we away since the 1950s.

Her husband, Keith, said: "You don't expect that sort of thing from your own fans. It hit her on the crown of her head, so it could only have been thrown from the upper north."

The duo are refusing to let the unsavoury incident spoil their support of the Addicks, however, and were intending to return to SE7 today.

"We've been in the same seats for the past 10 years and we're not going to move now," Keith said. "But supporters can help to make sure it never happens again by finding whoever is responsible."

CALLUM AND CO HEAD FOR CARROW

Charlton's U18s will face Norwich City in the third round of the FA Youth Cup after dispatching non-League Suffolk side Bury Town 4-0 on Wednesday night.

Two goals from Adebayo Azeez and further strikes by Tosan Popo and Bradley Jordan eased the Addicks through at Welling United's Park View Road, and Charlton will travel to Carrow Road on Tuesday, December 7th (7pm). The Addicks defeated the Canaries 3-1 in the league a fortnight ago.

The first three goals in midweek were created by 16-year-old winger Callum Harriott, who was named on the first-team bench recently against Barnet and Yeovil Town. Read more on page 16. ◀

SECOND THOUGHTS ON CUP CLASH

After Charlton played in their first home FA Cup first-round tie for 76 years, against Barnet on November 16th, the Addicks today feature in their first second-round match for almost 30 years.

Charlton and Luton Town will meet again at Kenilworth Road if the spoils are shared this afternoon

The last time Charlton participated at this stage of the competition was in December 1980, against AFC Bournemouth.

Should today's match end in a draw, the two sides would try again at Kenilworth Road on Tuesday, December 7th (7.45pm). Tickets for the replay would be likely to go straight on general sale on Tuesday, priced £10 adults and £5 over 60s and U21s.

Whoever wins this afternoon – or both clubs if things finish all square – will be ball number 57 in tomorrow's third-round draw, which takes place live on ITV1 at around 6pm.

The minimum adult price for any third-round tickets would be £15 under Football Association rules. ◀

FRY IN BAN

Striker Christian Dailly is not the only player missing through suspension today; fellow defender Matt Fry, below, is serving a one-match ban after collecting his fifth booking of the season on Tuesday night.

Jose Semedo left the action four days ago with a slight hamstring strain, while former Luton Town player Gary Doherty suffered a dead leg against the Pirates, when Paul Benson's equaliser – his seventh goal of the season – gave the Addicks a 1-1 draw.

Lee Martin, who made his 100th career appearance in midweek (as did winger Kyel Reid), is unable to play in the FA Cup under the terms of his loan deal from Ipswich Town.

But striker Joe Anyinsah could be available after resuming training following the groin injury he sustained on November 13th. ◀

The Addicks will travel to Norwich City on December 7th after clinically dispatching Bury Town in Wednesday's FA Youth Cup second-round clash, writes Gary Haines.

A three-goal first-half blitz warned fans on a chilly evening, and set up an enticing trip to Carrow Road.

Adebayo Azeez's double led the way, and strike partner Tosan Popo was also on target before the break, with all three goals created by exciting winger Callum Harriott.

Bradley Jordan curled home a superb fourth 16 minutes from time to cap an excellent evening's work, and first-team boss Phil Parkinson congratulated every player as they left the field at Welling United's Park View Road.

Delighted development coach Damian Matthew said: "It was an excellent team performance and a great result."

Azeez opened the scoring in the 27th minute when he collected Harriott's pass and finished low into the bottom corner, and the same two players combined five minutes before the break, when Azeez followed up to tuck home a loose ball after Harriott's curling shot was parried.

That was Azeez's eighth U18 goal of the season, and Harriott completed his hat-trick of assists by picking out Popo for the forward to notch his seventh of a productive campaign in first-half stoppage time.

The only thing missing from Harriott's dazzling display was a goal, and the winger was denied by a terrific late stop from Bury custodian Jamie Greygoose.

"Callum's an exciting player and a really exciting prospect," said Damian. "At times, he's got to have a greater understanding of the game, so we are delighted with his three assists."

A backline well marshalled by Harry Osborne, and with the versatile Jordan Cousins catching the eye at right-back, also held firm to keep Bury at bay.

"We wanted a clean sheet as well, so the professionalism across the pitch pleased us," said Damian, who is relishing the third-round test against the Canaries.

"It's a fantastic incentive for the boys to play in a great stadium like Carrow Road. It will be a brilliant experience and we will go there full of confidence."

Charlton: Hall; Ajayi, Osborne, Fox, Carter; Jordan, Morris (Warren 67), Poyet, Willer (Sho-Silva 56); Popo, Pigott (Azeez 71). Sub (not used): Howard.

Coach Matthew praised Charlton's spirit after the Addicks ended up on the wrong end of a five-goal thriller against Ipswich Town at Sparrows Lane last Saturday.

The home side twice came from behind to level, but a free-kick from Caolan Lavery gave the visitors the points.

Popo cancelled out Josh Meekings' early opener 12 minutes before the break, and although Lavery restored Town's lead, exciting U16 prospect Tobi Sho-Silva came off the bench to level with virtually his first touch close to the hour mark.

Lavery's second goal proved decisive, but Matthew said: "It was a disappointing result at the end of a good performance.

Connor Morris played against the Tractor Boys

"We've had a lot of plaudits recently, and sometimes it's good to see how the players react in adversity. We showed good character and good composure to twice get back into the game." ◀

MONEY MEN HAVE INTEREST IN CUP SHOCK

Cashflow may have been a problem for Luton Town in recent years, but one source of Money is starting to turn things around. GARY HAINES assesses the in-form Bedfordshire men

LUTON TOWN

FORM: WWWLDW GAMES SINCE FAILING TO SCORE AT HOME: TWELVE IF THEY WERE A MUSIC ACT: SHAYNE WARD - ON THE COMEBACK TRAIL AFTER SOME WILDERNESS YEARS, A FOOTBALL LEAGUE RETURN IS THE GOAL

Having gone from the Championship to the Conference in the space of three years, there's not been too much to smile about for Luton Town supporters in recent times.

Indeed, the wonderland of top-flight football must seem a million miles away from the Hatters following a mad descent down the league ladder.

A far more stable club these days, however, and with Money at their disposal (manager Richard, that is), Luton experienced play-off semi-final misery last term, just like Charlton.

For Swindon Town on penalties, read York City in the Blue Square Premier post-season lottery as the second-placed finish by Luton, attempting to bounce straight back into The Football League at the first attempt, was rendered academic by the Minstermen.

Town have everything to gain and nothing to lose today, though, following their first-round replay win against the minnows of Corby Town.

They needed a late equaliser to force a 1-1 draw in the initial tie, but proved too strong when the match was replayed and earned their trip to The Valley with a 4-2 triumph.

The Money men are certainly flush at the moment, having lost just once in their last nine games in all competitions, and Histon were hammered 5-1 last weekend.

They currently sit third in the league, two points behind leaders AFC Wimbledon, although second-placed Crawley Town have a game in hand on both clubs. And after today's cup crunch, the Hatters are due at Kingsmeadow for a tasty-looking summit meeting with the Dons on Tuesday.

The prestige and pounds offered by a third-round tie against one of the country's big clubs are a sizable carrot for both teams this afternoon, but Money remains fiercely focused on leading his side back into The Football League this term.

And so to the decline that has seen the club - FA Cup finalists in 1959, when they lost 2-1 to Nottingham Forest - plunge into obscurity.

Dogged by financial problems, Luton dropped out of the Championship in 2007, and, after an encouraging start to the following campaign, were hit by a 10-point deduction for falling into administration.

Another relegation followed in May 2008, and the off-field predicament worsened the following summer with another deduction, this time a cumulative 30-point punishment threatening their 89-year stay in The Football League.

Despite almost wiping out the deficit before the turn of the year, the challenge proved too much, and the Hatters suffered the drop for a third season in a row in 2009 - but not before the club defiantly won the Johnstone's Paint Trophy at Wembley. ◀

MARK TYLER Goalkeeper Former England youth international Tyler, 33, came through the ranks at Peterborough United, and made 483 appearances during 15 years at London Road. The five-foot-11 custodian enjoyed a testimonial against Liverpool in 2007, and his three promotions with the Posh include their rise from the fourth tier to the Championship from 2007-09. Tyler helped loan side Bury reach the 2008/09 League Two play-offs, and switched to Kenilworth Road in July 2009, playing 39 times last term as the Hatters finished Conference runners-up.

ANDY DRURY Midfielder Box-to-box midfielder Drury, who turns 27 tomorrow, signed from Stevenage in May, having scored twice in 30 league matches as Boro claimed the Conference title last term. The five-foot-11 player claimed the 2008/09 FA Trophy with Stevenage, but despite scoring in the final 12 months later, he ended up on the wrong side of a 2-1 extra-time defeat thanks to Barrow striker – and current Hatters teammate – Jason Walker. The versatile midfielder, who has also represented Gravesend & Northfleet and Lewes, has five goals and 10 assists so far this season.

CLAUDE GNAPKA Defender Centre-half Knapka, 27, has undertaken something of a European tour in his career to date, playing in France, Spain and Liechtenstein before joining Swindon Town in July 2006. Gnapka won automatic promotion from League Two with Peterborough United in 2007/08, and moved to Luton in July 2008, scoring the winner as Scunthorpe United were defeated 3-2 in the 2008/09 Johnstone's Paint Trophy final. The six-foot defender can also play at right-back, from where he netted the opening goal in a 5-1 home win against Histon seven days ago.

MATTHEW BARNES-HOMER Forward After leaving first club Wolverhampton Wanderers in 2004, Barnes-Homer, 24, enjoyed spells with US sides including Syracuse Salty Dogs. The five-foot-11 striker spent time with Wycombe Wanderers before joining Kidderminster Harriers in July 2007, and broke the 20-goal barrier with 21 strikes in all competitions in 2008/09. Barnes-Homer joined Luton in November 2009 – nine days after scoring the winner on his England C debut, a 2-1 victory over Poland – and has 11 goals so far this term, including five in his first three league games.

Kevin Barrett

"Scoring hasn't been an issue – we've racked up a total of 41 goals, the highest in the league. Andy Drury, signed from Stevenage, is a class player and should probably be playing at a higher level"

James Heneghan

"Luton have always been one of English football's great yo-yo clubs, and technically we are at our lowest ebb in living memory. But that isn't the vibe you'll get from the Hatters. We have a hungry and talented young squad capable of making great strides in the near future – and maybe even causing something of an upset today. It will also be intriguing to see how we fare without the pressure, for once, of being favourites"

Mark Wood (Luton News)

Keith Keane has played 211 Hatters matches while fellow defensive midfielder Godfrey Poku, 20, joined from St Albans City in January.

Alternatives are homegrown Taylor Nathaniel, 18, and Adam Watkins, 19.

Available on the right wing is former West Ham United trainee Adam Newton, 30, who has represented both England U21s and St Kitts and Nevis, and has been promoted from League Two with both Peterborough and Brentford.

Homegrown winger Jake Howells has two goals this term, while ex-St Albans wideman Jonathan O'Donnell, also 19, made his senior bow in the 4-2 FA Cup first-round replay win against Corby Town.

Options up front include Danny Crow, 24, who hit 19 goals for Cambridge United last season and has seven so far this term.

Kenya international Taiwo Atieno, 25, has four goals in his last five games, while Amari Morgan-Smith, 21, has netted twice since switching from Ilkeston Town in September.

Fellow England C forward Jason Walker, 26, scored an extra-time winner for parent club Barrow in the FA Trophy final in May, and also netted on his debut in a 5-1 home victory over Histon seven days ago.

Former Bedford Town striker Dan Walker, 20, scored in a 6-1 thrashing of Forest Green Rovers last month. Youth product Jordan Patrick, 18, has featured twice, while Kevin Gallen, 35, played for loan side Barnet at The Valley 11 days ago. ◀

Ignoring Gracie Fields, Cyril Smith, Cannon and Ball and Lisa Stansfield, it's worth mentioning that Rochdale's best-kept secret is a genuinely nice football club.

Around 400 of the club's initial allocation of 1,032 tickets in the Westrose Leisure Stand had been sold by Thursday night, so it's unlikely we'll need the further 2,593 available.

I wasn't at Charlton's last visit to Rochdale 36 years ago (I was only five at the time!), but did have a look-see in 1997, the day after we had played Bolton Wanderers in their last ever game at Burnden Park, and watched Mark Stuart inspire a win against Cambridge United.

I sat in the home end because the visiting accommodation didn't look very appealing. How times change – away fans are now spoilt. The entire ground is covered, although look out if you're in the first few rows, and the view and facilities are great.

I offered a few pre-match pub recommendations on Tuesday night, but real ale fans might like the Cemetery Hotel, although this is a mainly home hostelry. There are also lots of options in the town centre and by the railway station, but the area around the ground is best. ◀

HALF-SEASON TICKETS

Half-season tickets, starting from the match against Southampton on Boxing Day and comprising the final 13 games of the 2010/11 campaign, are on sale now.

Prices are based on 60 per cent of the full season rate, with an adult and U11 child able to sit in the NE quadrant for a combined £174 – or just £13.38 per match.

Reductions have been made across the board, including U18, U11 and disabled prices.

Half-season tickets can be purchased in person from the commercial centre, by calling 0871 226 1905 or by downloading, completing and posting the form available at www.cafc.co.uk. The original form will also still be accepted with the appropriate payment.

NOTES:

DRESSING ROOM DIARIES

One former Hatter's prowess in front of goal had unfortunate – but not drastic – consequences last Saturday. TOM HARVEY talks to Gary Doherty

I've got great memories of my time at Luton Town – we had a decent team. A lot of the old guard had moved on and players who'd done well in the FA Youth Cup got a chance in the first XI.

It was going well but, as Luton have had to do a lot down the years, they sold players to stay afloat. Until they get their new stadium, they'll always be in the same boat.

They seem to be doing well right now. I haven't been to see them this season, but I read reports when I go back to my mum and dad's, and the manager seems to be doing a great job with a really young team.

I played as a striker and as a defender in my time there, as I have throughout my career – it's only in the past few years that I've settled as a centre-half. When I was at Tottenham Hotspur, there was a stage when I was playing centre-half for them but then going away with the Republic of Ireland and playing centre-forward, which was pretty weird.

Christian Dailly's red card against Yeovil Town – which I didn't think was a sending-off – means the gaffer has been forced to change what has been a fairly settled back four.

If you want to get out of this league, you need a steady back four who all know each other's games. I think that's what we were lacking at the start of the season.

Chris is a massive loss. He's our captain and our leader, but I have full faith in the other centre-backs at the club because they've come in and done well this season.

Unfortunately, I scored an own goal against Yeovil. The ball shot across the goal and I stretched for it to try to put it out for a corner, but instead hit it full on with my laces and it flew into the top corner. It felt like it was happening in slow motion, and it's always gutting to score an own goal, but thankfully we dug in and got the three points.

Jacko [Johnnie Jackson] showed great guts to step up and take a massive pressure penalty to win the game. He's got great ability. Now he's got licence to get forward and get in the box, he's shown how good he is further up the pitch.

He moans about his body because he doesn't look great with his shirt off, so I told him to do some press-ups because a few of us do them after training. He then started scoring, so in his head he thinks it's down to the press-ups!

His goals have really propelled us up the league, though, and that's what you need – goals from all areas, not just your strikers. ◀
