WELCOME TO MEADOW LANE

Welcome back to Meadow Lane for this afternoon's Sky Bet League Two game against Luton Town. Two of the pre-season promotion favourites clash here today, with Notts returning to action after sitting out last weekend due to international call-ups.

We, of course, hope that the Notts fans who were here for our last game - against Mansfield in the Johnstone's Paint Trophy - will have seen enough to tempt them back today. Goals from Izale McLeod, Jon Stead and Mike Edwards capped off a fine performance from Ricardo Moniz's side, so now they'll be looking to carry that form into the league and kickstart their campaign.

Enjoy the programme and the match and we'll see you back here on Tuesday 22nd September for our game against Crawley Town.

« FROM THE BOARDROOM »

Chairman Ray Trew brings us the latest from the boardroom ahead of this afternoon's clash against Luton Town...

Good afternoon and welcome to Meadow Lane for this Sky Bet League 2 game against Luton Town, as we make a welcome return to action after our break for the international fixtures.

We could only watch on as those around us secured the points that pushed us down to 22nd in the table last weekend, so whilst the gap in the fixtures may have provided the lads with a welcome rest, it also emphasised the need to be back to our best when we return to action this afternoon.

If you found it as frustrating as I did last weekend to not have a game, I'm sure you'll also be delighted that we're back into it today because whilst it was nice to go into the break with a win against our local rivals Mansfield in the Johnstone's Paint Trophy, it's points in the league that we need to be racking up now.

“AS A CLUB, WE REMAIN AS STRONG AS EVER AND DETERMINED TO BRING SUCCESS BACK TO YOU, THE FANS AND TO REWARD THE HARD WORK THAT HAS BEEN PUT IN BY SO MANY PEOPLE OVER THE YEARS”

One big plus this week was seeing our reserve team in action, because that can only help promote competition for places and keep those players who may not be playing in the first-team each week fresh, hungry and ready to play their part when called upon this season.

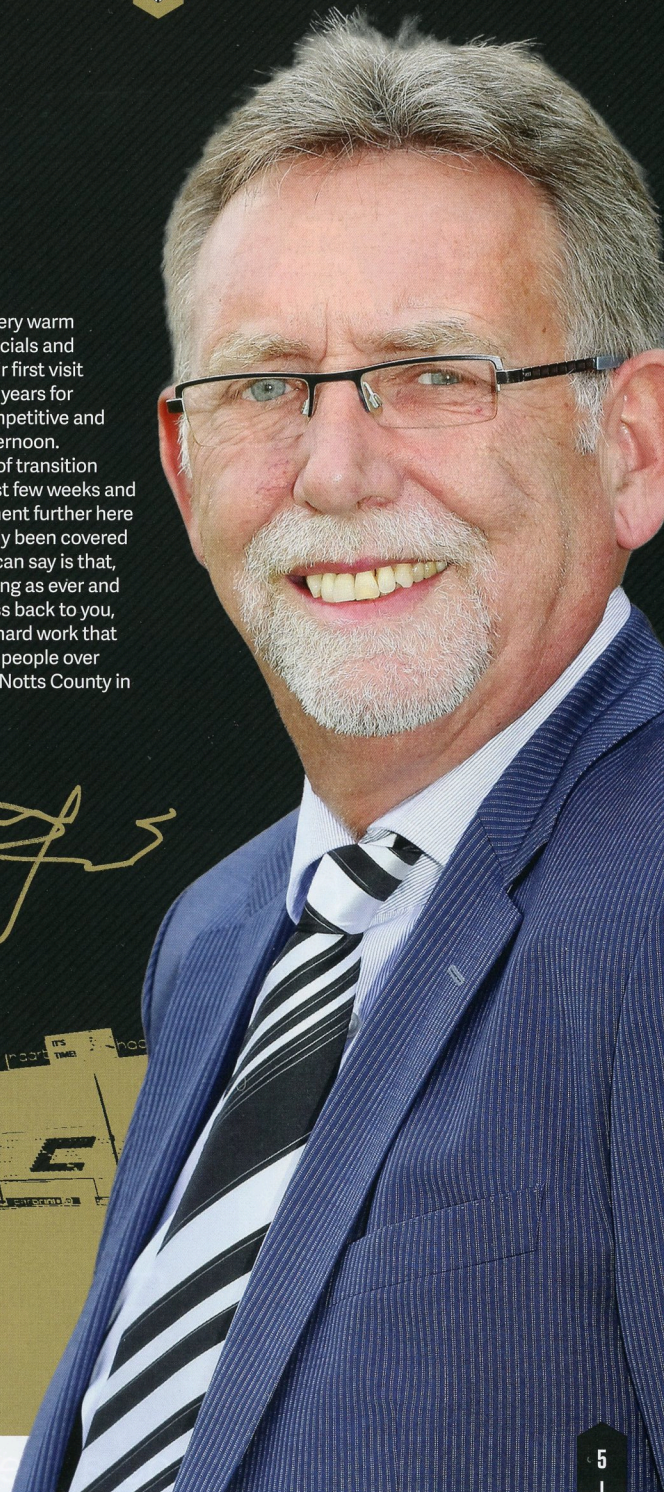

It was also nice to see them get a win in the game against Grimsby Town on Tuesday obviously and I'm sure some of those that featured in that match will have given Ricardo Moniz plenty to think about in his team selection this afternoon.

Having only narrowly missed out on a play-off spot in this division last season, I'm sure that our guests this afternoon will soon hit their stride in this new campaign and prove that they're better than their current league position would suggest, as we ourselves are hoping to do obviously.

I would like to extend a very warm welcome to the players, officials and supporters of Luton for their first visit to Meadow Lane in over six years for what I am sure will be a competitive and entertaining fixture this afternoon.

It's been another period of transition here at the club over the last few weeks and whilst I don't want to comment further here on matters that have already been covered at length in the media, all I can say is that, as a club, we remain as strong as ever and determined to bring success back to you, the fans and to reward the hard work that has been put in by so many people over the years, who have all had Notts County in their hearts.

Onwards and upwards,
Ray Trew
Chairman

«FROM THE BOARDROOM»

Notts County Chief Operations Officer Luke Negus-Hill pens his thoughts ahead of today's game against Luton Town...

Good afternoon and welcome to Meadow Lane for today's Sky Bet League 2 game against Luton Town FC.

I would like to start by extending a warm welcome to the staff and directors from Luton.

As you are aware, the last couple of weeks have seen a significant change here at Meadow Lane, with Aileen's resignation as Chief Executive. I would like to echo the thanks of the Chairman and the board for the work Aileen has done at Notts County. Her support and commitment to this football club can never be questioned and I think her hard work was there for all to see.

The change in personnel hasn't changed the ambitions for the club. The Chairman and I, along with the other members of the Board, are still fully focused and determined to obtain promotion from this division and return back to League One. Promotion was the main aim set out at the beginning of the season and we will continue to do everything we can to achieve this target.

I am here as an interim in this position, however, for as long as I am in this role, I will be fully committed to the cause and making Notts County Football Club a League One side again.

There have been signs this season of a very good footballing side building, and I think last time out against Mansfield showed what we are capable of.

Both sides made a number of changes, but that shouldn't take away from what was a great performance, with some great chances created. Today, we will be looking to take that into the league.

( "PROMOTION WAS THE MAIN AIM SET OUT AT THE BEGINNING OF THE SEASON AND WE WILL CONTINUE TO DO EVERYTHING WE CAN TO ACHIEVE THIS TARGET" )

I must also congratulate the reserve team for their strong start in the league against Grimsby. Having this facility is fantastic to the club and gives those players who are recovering from injury, or who need some minutes under their belt, a great chance to do just that.

It also helps some of the youth players to gain some valuable experience as they continue their ambition to play first-team football.

It is only going to be a great asset to this club, and credit must go to the coaches in the youth set-up for their continued hard work in producing some very good players.

Finally, enjoy today's game and make sure you make yourselves heard to cheer the team on to three points.

« FROM THE DUGOUT »

Manager Ricardo Moniz shares his thoughts from the dug-out for the 2015-16 League Two campaign...

Although we would have liked to have played last weekend after beating Mansfield Town 3-1 in the Johnstone's Paint Trophy, it was a wise decision to call off last weekend's game with Crawley Town.

We were suffering with a number of injuries and the break allowed us some vital recovery time following a busy start to the season. The weekend off also gave me an opportunity to look back on the games we have had so far and conduct more detailed analysis which cannot always be achieved when the team is playing three times a week.

We have had some brilliant moments and scored some brilliant goals, but we have also had moments of immaturity, defensive lapses and mistakes.

With some players being unfit because they signed late or players having picked up injuries, it has been hard to play the same XI on a consistent basis but I am happy with the development of the young players like Graham Burke and Adam Campbell. I can see that the glass is half full, but I am also aware that there are plenty of areas where we can still improve.

Looking to this afternoon's game, I have watched Luton already this season in their 2-2 draw against Oxford United last month.

They are a strong, interesting team and have some good players like Paddy McCourt, who we know well from his time with us last season, and Craig Mackail-Smith. We cannot afford to underestimate any side in League Two and I fully expect a difficult game this afternoon.

Before I finish, I would like to take the time to acknowledge the resignation of Aileen Trew as CEO. It is a great shame and a great loss for the club as Aileen only ever had the best interests at heart in wanting the club to progress and move forward using homegrown talent like Haydn Hollis and Curtis Thompson.

I am thankful for the continued support from both Aileen and Ray Trew as we all try to move Notts County forward.

Unity is our strength.

CEO AILEEN TREW STEPS DOWN

Aileen Trew recently resigned from her role as CEO at Notts County, due to personal reasons.

The club's previous Chief Operating Officer Luke Negus-Hill has taken on the Chief Executive Officer duties in the interim.

The board of directors thank Aileen for her hard work and endeavour over the last five years.

Chairman Ray Trew said of the resignation: "Aileen's commitment and enterprise has been a big asset to this football club over the past five years and it's with regret that she has resigned from her position.

"Aileen will continue to be a big supporter of Notts County and we will continue our ambition of promotion from League 2 this season, with Luke handling the CEO responsibilities."

Luke Negus-Hill added: "I would like to wish Aileen all the very best, it has been great working with her in my short time here at Notts County.

"I will work closely with the Chairman in the coming weeks and look forward to helping achieve our target of promotion back to League 1."

NEW DATE FOR CRAWLEY TOWN CONFIRMED

Last Saturday's game at home to Crawley Town, postponed due to international call-ups, will now be played on Tuesday 22nd September, kicking-off at 7.45pm.

BILLY DANIELS DEPARTS

Billy Daniels has left Notts County after having his contract terminated by mutual consent.

The 21-year-old striker signed for an undisclosed fee from League One outfit Coventry City in January earlier this year and went on to make four appearances for the club, scoring his only goal for Notts with a late winner against Crewe Alexandra on debut.

The club wishes Billy all the best for the future.

BRAMALL LANE AWAITS

Notts County's reward for their Johnstone's Paint Trophy First Round victory is a trip to Sheffield United's Bramall Lane. The tie will be played on Tuesday 6th October at 7.45pm. Visit the official site today for ticket details.

AUGUST'S WINNER OF GOAL OF THE MONTH

Our first Goal Of The Month competition this campaign was a fiercely contested one between four goals that any other year could well have won top honours at the end of the season.

Curtis Thompson's opener at Stevenage on the first day of the season set the tone for the month, a sweeping counter attack from our own area to the back of the opposition net inside ten seconds.

Next up was Liam Noble's wonder volley from 35-yards to clinch victory at Huddersfield Town - a wonderful look up and take which left the Terriers 'keeper Joe Murphy stranded and in the process, set up the memorable night at Aston Villa in the second round.

Graham Burke's effort against his former club flies past Villa 'keeper Mark Bunn

It was of course on that occasion that Graham Burke whipped in his unbelievable strike mere yards away from the travelling County contingent at Villa Park.

Finally was Genaro Snijders' Tony Yeboah-esque volley at Morecambe, setting himself and unleashing a vicious right-footed volley to bring Notts level in the game.

Voting was close, and it wasn't until the final vote came in at 4.58pm - two minutes before voting closed - that the contest was decided.

And it was Graham Burke who took the win in the last minute! His goal to put Notts County 3-2 up at Villa Park, as an outstretched Mark Bunn in the hosts' goal could do nothing to stop it, was the overall winner taking the most votes.

Stay tuned to our official site, social media channels and The Mag later this month for news of September's Goal Of The Month competition.

The winner of two match tickets for a game of their choice, and a signed matchday programme was Matthew Crispin. He chose Burke's goal as the month's winner and was pulled out of a draw by Ricardo Moniz.

IN MEMORIAM

Mick Mayes was a valued member of the ground staff at Notts County for 32 years until his untimely passing earlier this year.

In memory of Mick, the club has placed a memorial plaque in the main stand car park and we invited Mick's family down to take a look at the tribute. Mick's father and sisters agreed with all the staff that it's a very fitting tribute to a much loved member of our team who is sadly missed.

“FOOTBALL SEEMS TO HAVE MOVED AWAY FROM STYLISTS, BUT I WANT TO GO BACK TO THAT WITH REAL DEFENDERS, REAL PLAYMAKERS AND REAL ATTACKERS. WE ARE TRYING TO BUILD IT BUT THE CROWD ONLY COMES TO SEE DANGER IN THE OPPOSITION'S PENALTY AREA”

THE BIG INTERVIEW:
RICARDO MONIZ

With last weekend's home game with Crawley Town postponed due to international call-ups, The Mag sat down with Ricardo Moniz to discuss the manager's philosophy, the development of young players and the unique qualities of English football.

“My philosophy is only about creating scoring chances,” said Moniz. “That is what football is all about. There have been breakthroughs in sports science, sports psychology and the introduction of performance coaches but football remains football, just as it was in the past.

“Football seems to have moved away from stylists, but I want to go back to that with real defenders, real playmakers and real attackers. We are trying to build it but the crowd only comes to see danger in the opposition's penalty area.”

With the emphasis at Meadow Lane firmly on attacking and scoring goals, Moniz says his style is influenced by the players who stick in his memory.

“The great players from the past inspire my philosophy. They were the reason I watched football. I forgot the rest.

“I watched Johan Cruyff during his time at Ajax and I stopped watching when he left because Ajax lost their identity, their aura, their hunger for success. Those types of players always lift up their team.

“Although he had fantastic footballers alongside him, he was the exception and football is always about the exceptions.”

Exceptions are seemingly becoming rarer and rarer in football, leaving Moniz with the feeling that there is a danger of football becoming too prosaic, citing his home country as an example.

“Holland is no longer Holland,” he lamented. “It is over-organised. They have more teachers than trainers. That was what killed Ajax. They used to have players like Marco van Basten, Dennis Bergkamp, Patrick Kluivert, who were the exception up front.

“Then midfielders like Rafael van der Vaart, Wesley Sneijder and Nigel de Jong came through and then the defenders - Jan Vertonghen, John Heitinga. But the exception is always up front; the players who create the scoring chances.

“The current situation cannot be changed because nobody thinks differently. They all move in the same direction. Nobody goes right when 10 people go left. We are now waiting for that one person to go left, much like Cruyff did."

Cruyff, of course, was an exponent of Rinus Michels' Total Football ideology, which took years to develop and integrate into the Ajax team.

But how long can it take for a manager to implement his ideas and philosophy at a club?

"That depends on the quality of the manager," says Moniz.

"Last year, we did not have a bad team with players like Hayden Mullins, Gary Jones, Paddy McCourt, Jamal Campbell-Ryce and Garry Thompson.

"In one day, they understood exactly what I wanted. The problem is that you need the qualities to create scoring chances. If you have that, you have a top team. But we do not train those things enough at youth level and the training is not focused enough to allow players to become effective in the final third, which means they fall flat. Even if they understand what I want, they cannot do it sometimes," he added.

Since taking charge of the club, Moniz has shown a keen interest in developing young British talent at Meadow Lane and feels that English football is not patient enough to reap the rewards of youngsters with bundles of ability.

"Football is sick," he said. "The lack of patience at the top level is a disgrace. British talent is wasted. We are trying to bring players like Adam Campbell and Graham Burke, who were released by Premier League clubs, back to the top level, where they should be.

"Something has gone wrong along the way which means those players are not currently at the top. When you ask players like Campbell or Burke why they didn't reach the top, they tell me that they were not given any feedback from managers or coaches. This is a problem.

"For example, when someone is six-years-old, they join the academy. Twelve years later, they are 18 and must find a normal job if they do not become a professional footballer.

"All of the players can play football but they are not given the help when they need it the most, which is at the level between Under-18 football and the first-team," the Dutchman said.

"We identified players like Burke, Campbell, Kyle De Silva and Wes Atkinson. We do not know if our judgement on those players is right, but at least they are being given a chance here.

"THE LACK OF PATIENCE AT THE TOP LEVEL IS A DISGRACE. BRITISH TALENT IS WASTED. WE ARE TRYING TO BRING PLAYERS LIKE ADAM CAMPBELL AND GRAHAM BURKE, WHO WERE RELEASED BY PREMIER LEAGUE CLUBS, BACK TO THE TOP LEVEL, WHERE THEY SHOULD BE"

"In those type of players, I look for someone who wants to give 200% to reach the top, not just 99%. Sometimes we do not know that straight away and it can only be found in practice whether or not they have it.

"I can honestly say that the players here are hungry but they do not know how to reach their top level. It is simple: we have to show them where their strength is, where their individual qualities are. The team has to play for each other.

"Another problem is that the relationship between players is not like it was in the past. There was more friendship, more unity and less egotism. But I must say the players here are very good; they have a good spirit."

After the opening month of the season, Notts find themselves 22nd in the League Two table, albeit with a game in hand, but the manager insists that he should be the one to take the criticism for Notts' indifferent start rather than the players.

He said: "There is no pressure on the players, it is all on me. I will always protect my players. There is pressure to fulfil the aims of the process but the players must play with freedom and not feel the pressure because that can stifle creativity. The fans want to see players who take initiative, lead others and play with freedom. We need more players who are extroverts, who play with less stress.

"The responsibility is mine if things go wrong. If people wish to criticise, they can aim it at me, that is not a problem. But people must see the longer term. For example, we should have won at Aston Villa and we created many scoring chances against Accrington. That does not come from nothing.

"I feel that things are going well but not all of that is visible to those outside the club. There is a lot of support in the background from the staff at the club for the philosophy we are trying to put in place."

There has been great support, too, from the fans, 11,000 of whom turned out at Meadow Lane for the league fixture against Mansfield a month ago and Moniz believes that is one of the great strengths of English football.

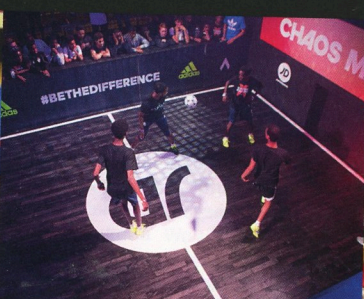

"There is an unbelievable passion for football here, which is why we got 11,000 people in for the league game with Mansfield.

"England is unique. It is very strong. To me, there is no difference between League One and Two. We went to Huddersfield, a Championship team, and won deservedly, for example. That shows that no team can be underestimated; the standard here is too good."

« MATCHDAY MATTERS »

BLAST FROM THE PAST

This week's past programme is from the 1973-74 season – a 1-1 draw between today's two sides in which Les Bradd's second-half equaliser secured a point for Jimmy Sirrel's Magpies.

The Tuesday night fixture saw Notts coming off two straight defeats after an opening day 4-1 win at Crystal Palace.

A man in focus was Kevin Randall, given his own page having been such an influential player in the previous season's promotion – scoring 22 goals in his first season at Meadow Lane since signing from Chesterfield for £20,000.

Elsewhere in the programme, bookings were being taken for a train which had been hired from British Rail to take Notts County supporters to the game at Portsmouth later that month.

The price was just £1.70 – the equivalent journey these days could cost you as much as £91!

LAST TIME AT MEADOW LANE

The last time these two sides met at Meadow Lane was the 2008-09 season – the year Luton Town dropped out of the Football League, a year before Notts flew out of League Two as Champions.

First-half goals from now-Derby County forward Chris Martin and a penalty from Adam Tann put Charlie McParland's Notts to the sword on this particular Tuesday night in front of 2,886 supporters.

Notts had actually had the better of the game either side of the goals but were unable to break the visitors down. A few weeks later, the Hatters would be relegated to the non-league ranks – thanks in no small part to a 30 points deduction. Notts meanwhile would finish 19th in League Two.

Today's visitors last weekend picked up their first victory of the season in toppling mid-table Cambridge United.

Goals from Luke Guttridge, Luke Wilkinson and Danny Green sealed victory at the sixth time of asking for the Hatters. Aided perhaps by a red card to the U's Leon Legge, two goals in the last half an hour sealed a much needed victory for John Still's side.

Like Notts, today's visitors were hailed pre-season as one of the pre-season promotion favourites. With a host of additions to both squads this year, either side will be looking to kick-start their campaigns today at Meadow Lane.

The Mag investigates the form, tactics and personnel of this afternoon's visitors to Meadow Lane, Luton Town...

HATTERS HOPPING MAD

A five-game winless run was the very antithesis of how promotion favourites Luton Town were expected to kick off their 2015-16 campaign.

The relief was palpable then last weekend after a first league victory arrived to ease any mounting pressure on the Hatters. Taking three points at the expense of derby rivals Cambridge United made the triumph even sweeter for under-fire Town.

The 3-1 win lifted Luton to 19th and, just four days after eliminating Leyton Orient from the Johnstone's Paint Trophy, experienced manager John Still will expect the result to act as a catalyst for a rapid ascent up the table.

"We're a club that's capable of playing at a higher level, we need to find that path that gets us on a run as we did before in the Conference," Still explained to BBC Look East.

Moving to higher ground in the fourth-tier should not prove a laborious task for a club whose recruitment drive during the close-season was based on acquiring pedigree performers with a winning mentality. For example, captain Steve McNulty, Paddy McCourt, Josh McQuoid and Danny Green are multiple-promotion winners, while eight other squad members have also tasted title successes.

Addressing last season's lack of a cutting edge, especially in the wake of leading goalscorer Mark Cullen departing for Blackpool, also appears to have been sorted. Northern Ireland international's McQuoid and McCourt were drafted in to provide more firepower alongside Jack Marriott, while in Scotland international Craig Mackail-Smith and Paul Benson, the Bedfordshire outfit have tried and tested marksmen with more than 250 League career goals between them.

There are no question marks over a lack of experience either. Mark Tyler has an unrivalled 660 League starts between the posts, Magnus Okuonghae is a former Colchester captain, and Luke Wilkinson and Alex Lawless are former Player of the Years at Dagenham and Luton, respectively.

It is easy to comprehend then why Cambridge boss Richard Money remarked that, "there is no doubt on this planet that Luton will be amongst the automatic promotion challengers this season".

Bizarrely, it wasn't a belief vehemently held by some of Town's own followers in August after results dented confidence and reawakened painful memories of last season's collapse. Last term saw them finish outside the play-off spots after picking up just 10 points from the last 39 on offer.

A late-goal hoodoo saw the Hatters limited to just two points from a possible 15 then in the campaign's opening month. Two-goal leads were thrown away against Oxford and Yeovil, while Bristol Rovers and Portsmouth snatched victories thanks to late goals.

The club's 12 new recruits taking time to bed-in, gel together and make intuitive partnerships can excuse August's performances. Although there have been concerns raised over no clean-sheets in nine outings and, on occasions, a broken supply-line to the frontmen, gradually Luton's new-look class of '15-16 are adapting to Still's high-octane, counter-attacking system.

More tangible progress will be anticipated in the following weeks, although knee-jerk criticism of his players from some in LU4 was difficult for Still to accept. "It really hurts me because I know what the club was like when I came in - we have made unbelievable steps," he told Luton Today. "We have been really poor in some league games, but we were really poor at the start of my first season at the club and we won the league with 100 points."

LEAGUE SELECT

05 STEVE McNULTY

Position: Centre-back

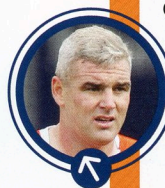

DOB: 26.09.1983

Last club: Fleetwood

Eyebrows were raised when Luton's captain won a place in League Two's Team of the Year last season, although not from anyone in Bedfordshire.

While there are more refined centre-backs, McNulty excels when it comes to organising and marshalling a back-line, is second to none in the air and his commanding, yet composed performances have won him countless admirers.

The Hatters' talismanic centre-back captained Barrow and Fleetwood to promotions before winning Luton's Player of the Year going in guiding them to the Conference title in 2013-14. Now the 31-year-old wants to prove his critics wrong again by inspiring Town into the third-tier.

CROSSED PATHS

15 PADDY McCOURT

Position: Midfielder

DOB: 16.12.1983

Last club: Notts County (L)

Once dubbed the 'Derry Pele', the Northern Ireland international is no stranger to Meadow Lane.

The 31-year-old made 12 outings for Notts County during 2015, while on loan from Brighton, with his one goal in black and white stripes proving the winner at Colchester in March.

There is no doubting the Irish winger's calibre. His mantlepiece bulges under the weight of four Irish domestic cups collected with Derry City, and braces of Scottish Cups and SPL titles while in his pomp at Celtic.

Yet injuries in recent years have seen the former Rochdale and Barnsley 'crowd pleaser' working hard to rediscover the jaw-dropping form which he is capable of.

MARQUEE SIGNING

22 CRAIG M'L-SMITH

Position: Striker

DOB: 25.02.1984

Last club: Brighton

John Still's powers of persuasion should not be underestimated, after he lured Scotland international striker Craig Mackail-Smith to Bedfordshire.

The 31-year-old has a proven track-record of finding the target in the lower leagues. Some 99 goals in 212 outings for Peterborough yielded three promotions, League

One Player of the Year and the division's Golden Boot.

Despite a less productive four campaigns in the Championship with Brighton, 24 goals in 122 games, the goal connoisseur still has top-flight ambitions despite dropping two divisions.

"I was playing in the Championship but I feel this club has got the quality to get out of these divisions quickly," he stated upon signing a two-year deal this summer.

DUG-OUT WATCH: JOHN STILL

Position: February 2013

DOB: 24.04.1950 | Last club: Dag & Red

In his 40th year of management it would be fitting if John Still could continue his love in with Luton and mastermind them to a second promotion in three years.

Not that the 65-year-old needs to enhance his reputation at Kenilworth Road. After returning the Hatters to the Football League in 2014, after a five-year wait, he already enjoys cult-hero status and was honoured with the Freedom of the Borough earlier this year.

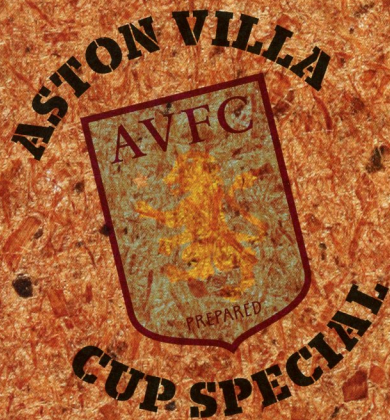

Winning the Conference title with Luton was the wily tactician's eighth career promotion, having also worked miracles during nine years at Dagenham, and with more than 1,600 career games under his belt, there isn't much in management he hasn't encountered before.

It was misery in Morecambe for Notts as they fell to a heavy 4-1 defeat at the Globe Arena.

County were on top in the opening stages but could not find a goal to go with their dominance. They were punished when Alan Goodall opened the scoring, finding the bottom corner of Roy Carroll's net with a crisp drive from distance.

After Jon Stead curled a shot against the crossbar, Genaro Snijders crashed in a stunning volley from 25-yards to equalise for the Magpies shortly before the interval.

The hosts reclaimed the lead just after the hour mark as substitute Paul Mullin collected the ball and advanced beyond a couple of challenges before curling into the top corner from the edge of the penalty area.

In the dying embers of the match, another substitute, Alex Kenyon, broke into the area and slammed through the legs of Roy Carroll from eight-yards to double the lead.

Minutes later, a long ball over the top bypassed the Notts defence, leaving Jamie Devitt to go one-on-one with Carroll and the midfielder rounded off the scoring to put Morecambe out of sight and ensured that the three points stayed in the North West.

Johnstone's Paint Trophy R1

Following five games without a victory, Notts got back to winning ways by beating local rivals Mansfield Town 3-1 at Meadow Lane in the first round of the Johnstone's Paint Trophy.

The closest either side came to scoring in the first-half was when Adam Campbell curled against the post from 12-yards after robbing former Magpie Krystian Pearce of possession.

Izale McLeod, making his home debut, opened his Notts account seven minutes into the second period, coolly chipping the ball over Brian Jensen and into the far corner after collecting Haydn Hollis's sweeping pass.

The lead was doubled with just over 10 minutes remaining. Graham Burke's corner fell invitingly for Mike Edwards, who powered a shot through the goalkeeper's legs.

Jon Stead's deflected free-kick deceived Jensen and found the back of the net to put the game beyond the visitors, rendering Craig Westcarr's penalty as little more than a consolation.

The former Notts striker won the spot-kick after being fouled by Edwards and stepped up to squeeze the penalty past Scott Loach, as Notts earned some revenge for the 2-0 league defeat to the Stags 18 days earlier.

«COLIN SLATER»

«BACK TO THE FUTURE»

The 'voice of Notts County', BBC Radio Nottingham's Colin Slater, fires up his DeLorean to send us back down memory lane...

The circumstances in which Luton Town tumbled out of the Football League six years ago are bizarre and remain unprecedented. But it's a situation in which the Hatters would rather not have made football history.

In the 2008-09 season, the last time Luton visited Meadow Lane, they lost only 16 of their 46 League matches and amassed 56 points, a total that would normally have seen them finish around half-way in the final table. How, then, did they contrive to end in the bottom place and relegated into the Conference?

The answer lies in the fact that they were deducted no fewer than 30 points, so that their final tally of points was 26, 11 less than Chester who were also relegated.

Ten of the 30 points were docked by the FA for "irregular matters involving player transfers" and the remaining 20 by the Football League for "breaking rules on exiting administration."

You can imagine these penalties knocking the heart out of many clubs and it is to Luton's credit that they enjoyed a good playing record in such unenviable circumstances.

It ended with a second relegation in two years but the never-say-die spirit is best reflected in Luton's achievement of winning the Johnstone's Paint Trophy, beating Scunthorpe United in the Wembley final.

The scores were level at 2-2 after 90 minutes, after a late equaliser by Scunthorpe's Grant McCann, before Luton hit an extra time winner thanks to Claude Gnaka, to provide a silver lining on an otherwise dark cloud.

The first meeting between Notts and Luton in that fateful campaign took place at Kenilworth Road on the third Saturday of the new season and finished with a 1-1 draw, the Magpies' goal coming from a penalty converted by Jamie Forrester.

The return the following March offers an unkind memory to every Magpies' fan who saw it, Luton winning 2-0, the start of a very sticky part of the season for Notts in home matches.

After going down to Luton, Notts next drew at home to Accrington Stanley, then lost at Meadow Lane four times in a row - to Gillingham, Chester, Grimsby and Dagenham.

Both Chester and Dagenham completed the double over Notts and the greater embarrassment was at the hands of the Daggers who, on their own ground, triumphed 6-1, a truly painful and embarrassing result.

It goes without saying that Notts' home record was the chief reason for finishing the season 19th. Of 23 home League matches that term only six were won, six drawn and eleven lost.

The target today must be to avenge that defeat to Luton in 2008-09, a hope that will be echoed not least by two who were then on Notts' books and remain here, familiar and popular figures - Kevin Pilkington (who played) and Mike Edwards (ruled out by injury).

The Notts County Sports Science and Medicine department are always in search of ways to progress our footballers and to make them the best athletes they can be.

Head of Sports Science and Medicine John Wilson has been working with American company Concept 2 to bring even more state of the art equipment into the club.

We spoke with Concept 2's Alex Dunne recently to see what he's bringing into the club:

Alex, tell us about Concept 2: Concept 2 is an American company that manufactures rowing machines primarily, and also oars. If you see people racing on the water then they're probably using Concept 2

Oars and we also have another product for cross country ski training.

And tell us about your own sporting background? I was a rower for a long time, I rowed in Nottingham for a reasonably high level for many years and since 1999 I've been working with Concept 2.

A lot of people will question what difference a rowing machine can make to a footballer. How would you respond to that? The rowing machine is used in all sorts of sports. It's time efficient, save exercise rowing. We find that the data you can get out of the monitor is very interesting, it's motivating and you can measure your progress.

So I think as an all round body exercise, in tandem with the regular exercise the players are doing it will be able to help improve their physical condition

Do you have anymore projects lined up with the club for the future? John and I have been talking about some ideas around the athletes and what we can do to bring them on, if they're coming back from injury or if they're just trying to increase their VO2 max and just generally try and formulate some ideas on taking what we know as rowers and applying those physical ideas to the sport of football.

THE HEROIC BENEFITS OF GOING SOBER FOR OCTOBER

Becoming a soberhero might not mean you have X-ray vision or you get to wear a cape (although you can if you want to). But not drinking does mean you'll gain many heroic qualities, that us beer and wine drinking mere mortals can only dream of.

Staying off the booze (along with a few small improvements to your diet and exercise routine) can mean:

- Increased energy levels, higher productivity
- Clearer head
- No more hangovers
- Sleeping better / snoring less
- Weight loss
- Clearer skin
- Healthier bank balance / Save money
- Sense of achievement
- Fresh approach to alcohol consumption
- Generally feel healthier

DOING SOMETHING POSITIVE FOR A GOOD CAUSE

It almost makes you feel better just reading that list doesn't it? So there you have it: having 31 gloriously hangover-free days will not only see you raise lots of money to help people with cancer, you'll also be doing good for your own health.

To find out more about how Go Sober can make positive changes to your lifestyle, click here.

WHO CAN TAKE PART IN GO SOBER?

Anyone, as long as you are 18 or over. Go Sober does not encourage people to increase their alcohol consumption immediately prior to 1st October 2015, nor will it promote excessive drinking from 1st November 2015.

We advise heavy drinkers or people dependant on alcohol to speak with their GP first before signing up to Go Sober for October.

OUR TOP TIPS FOR GOING SOBER

No one said that being a soberhero was easy. Only the bravest and most fearless heroes will see it through to November without any alcohol touching their lips. You're doing something amazing – and we salute you.

Every superhero needs a sidekick and we want to be the Robin to your Batman. That's why we've put these top tips together to make this 31 quest a little easier:

• Sober-heroes assemble!

You don't have to go it alone. Assemble a squad of the best, non-drinking soberheroes by inviting friends, family or work mates to join your Sober Squad.

• You're doing something heroic for people with cancer

Even though going sober can be tough, just think of the people you're doing it for. Your month off the booze will mean many people can take back control of their life from cancer. Focus on the cause to keep you strong.

• Think of what you can achieve

31 days of no alcohol means you're doing something amazing for people with cancer – but you can also develop new powers for yourself. A clear head, better sleep, you may even be able to fly. (Sorry, we've just checked – it's a no to the flying thing).

• Send out the sober signal

The world needs to know about your bravery. We think it should be on the front of all the newspapers but if you can't do that send lots of emails and put it on Facebook. Tell everyone you know you've signed up to Go Sober. The more people that know you're doing it, the more money you'll raise.

• A Golden opportunity

Even a hero needs a night off sometimes so don't forget about the Golden Tickets, your get out of jail card. A chance to have a night off, and a cheeky tipple or two.

• TAXII

Become the most popular person in your group and be the Designated Dryver to your mates. (And remember to get them to donate to your taxi service).

And that's just the tip of the iceberg. Check out our Tools area for inspirational ideas and creative ways to raise awareness and let people know about the heroic challenge you're taking on.

Stay strong, soberhero. You're doing something incredible.

HOW CAN SOMEONE GET INVOLVED?

Everything is managed through the Go Sober website. From here you can Sign Up, make and receive donations, run your own profile page, create a team, go 'Head-to-Head' with a mate or colleague, see your national ranking, update your status and much more. We are also on Facebook and people can follow us on Twitter.

«STAY HEALTHY»

«NUTRITION & HEALTH»

This season see's the return of the 'Nutrition & Health' feature, written by Club Nutritionist Matt Lawson...

After spending some time working over in America this summer, it was an experience to see first hand the most unhealthy country in the world, solely down to the type of diet consumed.

We know that Europe and in particular the United Kingdom is not far behind and there is a cultural phenomenon around fast food and its links to ill health. So what can any fans out there do, who are looking to start a health kick this afternoon?

The answer may be found in looking into the diet of a footballer. Athletes think about their lifestyle a huge amount as the effect on their performance is felt so acutely.

As the children have gone back to school this week most families will be deployed back into their busy routines. The slogan Eat Better Do Better was used by internationals at last year's World Cup and can be a simple message we all take home this year to help tone up, avoid the Autumn colds and feel better about ourselves each day.

EAT BETTER DO BETTER

- ✦ Base meals around quality protein from wild sources for example lean meats, fish and eggs
- ✦ Fat does not have to be a dirty word, use healthy fats like olive oil, organic butter, nuts, seeds, pulses
- ✦ Aim for nine portions of fruit and vegetables per day, smoothies are a fast way to achieve this
- ✦ Hydration is important for all of us, no less than eight glasses of water, squash or juice per day
- ✦ Before bed drink a warm cup of green or fruit tea to leave you feeling revitalised overnight

These easy rules should fire up a healthy routine to have you all feeling the benefits, even if you choose one I can guarantee an improvement.

Back at Meadow Lane in the thick of a new season, things are buzzing at the ground with the mens, ladies and academy teams all back engaged in action in the black and white stripes.

Finally I would like to wish everyone a great weekend and for any questions or queries relating to nutrition or topics you would like to hear about feel free to contact me directly at the club.

Enjoy the match. Come on You Pies!

NEW PRIZE DRAW

Supporters will remember last season we ran a prize draw with big prizes in aid of our club's Academy with all the proceeds going towards the extra equipment that they required.

Notts County fund the Academy at great expense, so a visit to Highfields football ground on match days gives a good insight into how much the club invest into our Academy with all the kit and paid football coaches.

It is very impressive, but there are areas in which the Academy need extra funding. This is where the Notts County FC Official Supporters Association help by providing the extra equipment. For example, co-ordinator Peter Jarvis has just ordered video analysis equipment from America - equipment which will enable them to bring in a new Under-18 analyst and a new schoolboy analyst to film matches and give feedback to players and coaches.

Last season the Prize Draw raised £1,000 and with the supporters help we can raise it again. If you want to support our future youngsters please call into the NCFCOSA office next to the ticket office on matchdays or speak to any committee member.

Secretary

« TONY TOMPOS » « SPORTS SCIENCE »

Having been offered the chance to join the Notts County FC Medical Team in June 2014 as Youth Team Physiotherapist, I have had the privilege of working with some of the most talented, hard-working Sports Medicine professionals in the country.

As today is my last day with the club - having made the decision to move back home to work at Wigan Athletic FC - I would like to express my thanks and give my views on the guys working tirelessly behind the scenes in the Sports Medicine Department.

JOHN WILSON

The boss. The teacher. John is the Head of Sports Medicine, which means he oversees the whole department including Physiotherapy, Strength and Conditioning and Nutrition.

Despite all the pressures this brings, John still finds time and is passionate about teaching and CPD (Continued Professional Development) within the department. I have never been to a first-team match where we haven't spent a minimum of 1 hour on pitchside trauma management CPD.

John has made me progress as a Physiotherapist tenfold by individual teaching sessions on rare days off, appraising my assessments and rehabs and encouraging me constantly to provide CPD sessions for the team. I cannot thank him enough for the last 16 months of teaching.

BEX KNIGHT

Bex is the First-Team Physiotherapist working with the squad on a daily basis as the front line physio travelling up and down the country providing physiotherapy support.

She's quite scary and doesn't give much away and is absolutely brutal with her banter - both with the medical team and players alike. But one thing the fans should know about Bex is that she is an incredible physiotherapist. Her knowledge is amazing and relentless and I feel lucky to have learnt so much from her during my time here.

MIKEY EDWARDS

Probably the only professional footballer in the world who spends days at training weighing players, checking recovery scores, measuring urine samples, preparing water bottles, leading team warm ups/ gym sessions, taking part in training sessions themselves as a player, preparing post-training nutrition, dishwashing water bottles and preparing them for the next day and then helping Pilks with the kit.

All done with a smile and tangible passion for what he does. As well as scoring goals in front of the Kop when called upon, Mikey also spends his evenings studying for a degree in Exercise and Sports Science at Manchester Metropolitan University.

TOM HALLAS

And finally Tom, whose like Makelele - the battery to the Sports Medicine Department's watch.

Under the radar, hard working but greatly appreciated. Without him, things just wouldn't work. Tom is a qualified Sports Therapist and currently works with the club as an unpaid intern in his second season with the club, linking both the Physiotherapy and Sports Science Department as one.

Amongst many other jobs, he plans and prepares player's rehabs, assists with assessments and also helps with training and matchday prep with Mikey and can be seen in the dugout on matchdays doing so.

Many thanks to everybody at Notts County FC who made my time here so enjoyable!

Come On You Pies!

«VIEW FROM THE PRESS BOX»

Nottingham Post's Meadow Lane correspondent, Leigh Curtis, pens his views on all black and white striped-related matters...

Today marks the return of league action at Meadow Lane and it's a game which promises to be an absolute cracker.

I agree with Ricardo Moniz that a weekend without football is boring but it was the right choice considering the international call-ups.

It's fair to say Luton haven't had the best of starts, but they will be coming here today in a game with plenty of sub plots.

Craig Mackail-Smith could have been lining up in a Magpies shirt had he not opted to join Luton while Paddy McCourt was obviously here last season on loan from Brighton. There's no doubt both players are incredibly talented and dangerous which means they must be kept under wraps at all times.

We know how McCourt can be influential in the No.10 role while Mackail-Smith's finishing prowess has been well documented.

You sense Luton are in a false position at the moment because the quality in their squad is a lot better than their position in the table suggests.

The same can be said of Notts who are blessed with an outstanding array of talent that once it hits top gear will be very hard to stop.

The performance against Mansfield in the JPT was excellent and the challenge is to carry that on. With Izale McLeod off the mark, Adam Campbell looking extremely dangerous, Jon Stead excelling off the front and Graham Burke in great form

Following a loan spell with Notts last season, Paddy McCourt is back at the Lane, this time as a Luton player you sense things are coming together.

That's even before we mention the return of Liam Noble from suspension today and his start to the season, red card aside, has been hugely impressive.

There are a lot more plusSES than minuses right now if you are a Notts fan and a win today will only continue the optimism which reigned after the win over the Stags.

All that remains to be said is be loud and be proud this afternoon, many of the players have told me how much your support means to them.

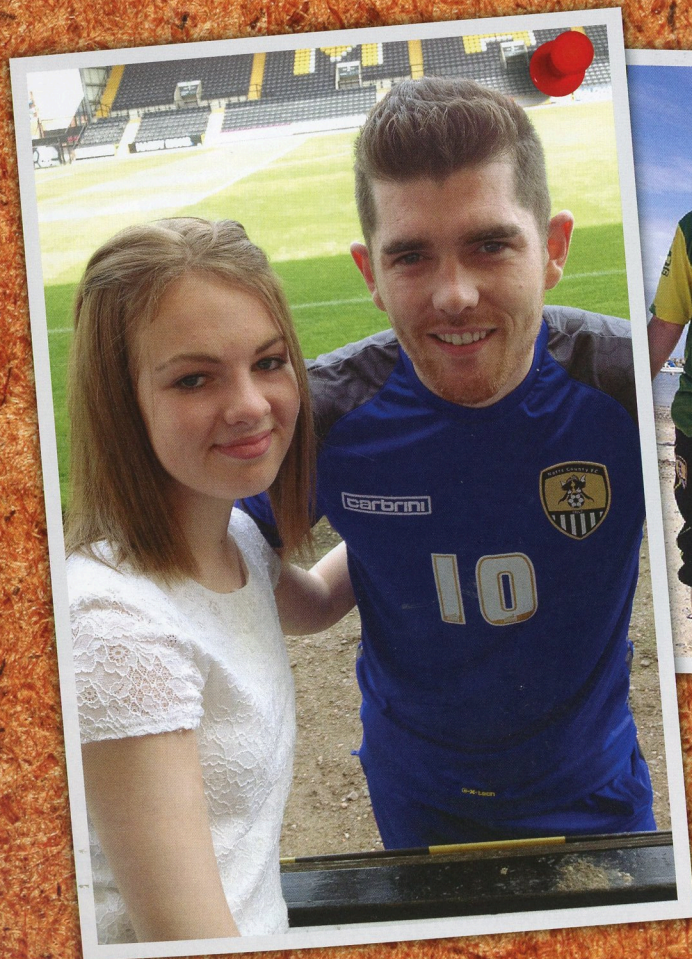

Enjoy the game. It's sure to be a barnstormer.

SEVENTH HEAVEN FOR NOTTS COUNTY'S LIONESSES

Seven of the Notts County squad have been called into Mark Sampson's England squad ahead of this month's European Championship Qualifier.

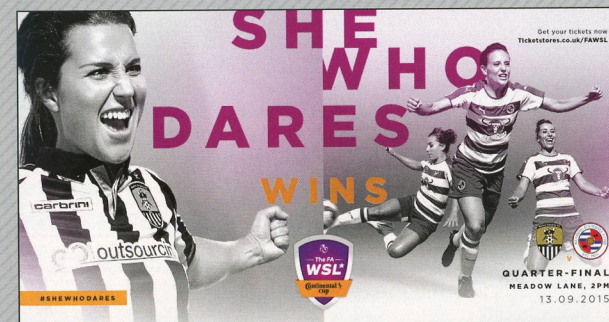

The team will travel to Estonia for the first group qualifier on Monday 21st September, in their first game since the history-making World Cup, and seven of the Notts County squad will be on the plane.

Following a succession of fine performances, Carly Telford has been named in the squad alongside on loan goalkeeper Siobhan Chamberlain, who has kept three clean sheets in seven games since joining the Lady Pies.

Alongside Telford and Chamberlain, Sampson has included a trio of Notts defenders in his 23 player squad, with club captain Laura Bassett named alongside Alex Greenwood and Amy Turner.

Completing the seven players are front two Jess Clarke and Ellen White, who have notched 24 goals between them so far this campaign.

LADY PIES HAVE EYES SET ON SILVERWARE

Having narrowly missed out on silverware in the Women's FA Cup Final, the Lady Pies have their eyes set on claiming the Continental Tyres Cup as they look to reach the semi-final stage tomorrow.

Notts host Reading Women at Meadow Lane (KO 2pm) in the quarter-final of the competition, and they need your support to cheer them on in their quest for the title.

Tickets are available in advance via their website for the discounted price of £4 for adults and £1.50 for concessions.

ACADEMY ROUND-UP

Mick Halsall's youth team last Saturday were made to work for their second win in succession at home to Grimsby Town.

First-half goals from Montel Gibson, Yohan Rutty-Smith and a second of the season from Jack McMillan had the game out of sight by half-time, before second-half resistance from the visitors ensured a tense end to the game for the young Magpies.

Head of Academy Coaching Mick Halsall told The Mag: "It was a good win, our first in the league and nice to get it on the back of last week's win at York in the League Cup.

"I was really pleased with our first-half. There are still things to iron out but we deservedly went into half-time 3-0 up. We had to make sure that the players remained focused and went out with the same commitment and endeavour as the first-half."

The visitors' goals in the second-half were a cause for concern for Halsall, something he'll be keen to avoid in future games: "We could have had a couple more goals early in the second-half, but we didn't, so it became a matter of seeing the game out.

"For whatever reason, we conceded two goals, which could have been dealt with better and it put us under a little bit of pressure near the end when we should have been comfortable."

Mick Halsall was delighted with the youth team's opening day victory

The Magpies ran out 3-2 winners against Grimsby

Playing his first game of the season, Gibson's return was a big boost for the team: "It was good to see Montel get his first goal after being injured," said Halsall. "He came in up front to give us a bit more movement, a bit more cut and thrust. There were so many pleasing aspects, particularly in the first-half. The second-half was a learning curve for the players in how to see out a game when you are 3-0 up. We should try and kill the game off by making it four or five. It's something to work on, there's a lot of positivity and we've got a few weeks now before we play our next game."

The youth team are now without a game until their trip to Hartlepool on Saturday 19th September, but a number of them are already featuring for Notts County's reserve side.

Read on in this issue of The Mag for more information on that.

Jimmy Spencer and Lartey Sarpong were on target in either half as Notts County Reserves started their Final Third Development League campaign with a 2-0 win over Grimsby Town Reserves.

The Mariners fielded a strong side with first-team players Richard Tait, Craig Clay, Jack Mackreth and Jon-Paul Pittman all starting.

But there was little the experienced contingent could do to stop Notts taking an early lead when Scot Bennett's inch-perfect pass over the visiting defence was controlled with a superb first touch by Spencer, who showed his experience by rounding the goalkeeper with ease and rolling the ball into an empty net.

Montel Gibson's fierce effort from 10 yards was saved by Callum Bastock in the visiting goal before the winger rolled a shot wide of the post after being slipped in by Filip Valencic's incisive pass.

The lead was doubled in the second-half as youngster Sarpong prodded into the bottom corner at full-stretch from 18 yards to continue his impressive form from pre-season.

Nicky Wroe volleyed wide whilst goalscorers Spencer and Sarpong curled efforts the wrong side of the post from outside the area.

It could have been 3-0 when Jake Payling's cross found Valencic but the Slovenian attacker crashed his shot against the underside of the bar from close range.

Grimsby threatened to spoil Kevin Pilkington's clean sheet, but the goalkeeper produced a couple of superb stops to deny James Wroot and Josh Venney from a few yards out.

Pitman headed wide from a corner as Notts saw out the game for an impressive win ahead of their trip to Hartlepool in the next league outing.

Coach Richard Dryden was particularly pleased with the performances of the young players in the squad, praising their maturity.

He said: "We had three Under-18s and four or five 18-year-olds playing so it was good for them to be able to play alongside the senior professionals like Jimmy Spencer, Nicky Wroe and Blair Adams.

"Montel Gibson, Jordan Aghatsie and Luther Wildin all stepped up and did well. The three young lads who came on as substitutes didn't weaken the side either.

"They were all a credit to the club."

Notts: Pilkington; Richards, Aghatsie, Bennett (Layton), Adams (Payling); Sarpong, Wroe, Wildin, Gibson (Rutty-Smith); Valencic, Spencer. Subs not used: Parkes, McMillan.

IN MEMORIAM: 'THERE'S ONLY ONE LEONARD DAYKIN'

Leonard Daykin was a lifelong and devoted Notts fan, who sadly passed away peacefully on Monday 24th August 2015 age 76.

Len Daykin was a loving husband, father, grandfather and great grandfather. He was a true role model and was in every sense of the word a gentleman. A gentleman that was always laughing and joking, never taking life too seriously. That was of course until he was watching his beloved Notts County. Watching the Magpies was his pride and joy, bringing his family and friends together on a Saturday afternoon. He always used to say that when he was younger, he watched County one week and Forest the next. But as he grew older and must add wiser, he came to his senses and stopped going to the City Ground.

He has followed the Magpies for 66 years, home and away, watching great players like Tommy Lawton and Jackie Sewell. No matter what, Len kept his faith in his team and taught those around him a very valuable lesson, to never give up on what you love.

Such was Len's support of the club, he always bought the Christmas raffle tickets and was greatly rewarded in 2004 by winning first prize and together with his wife Margaret, went on an all-expenses paid trip to Australia. No one deserved this prize more than Len as his support of the club has been second to none.

Len was diagnosed with Alzheimer's around eight years ago, still managing to watch the Pies until a few years ago when his condition deteriorated. He is the reason why his sons, grandsons, great grandson and many more support Notts County, leaving behind a legacy that will never be forgotten. He may have left us here on earth, but he will most certainly be cheering on the boys from above.

He will be missed beyond words and being down the Lane without him will never be the same. Len will always be in our hearts and will always be remembered for living life to the full.

PARTING SHOT...

Youth team physiotherapist Tony Tompos last week bowed out of action after a highly-impactful time at Meadow Lane. The lads gave him a guard of honour last Saturday at Arnold Town after they had beaten Grimsby Town 3-2. The club wishes Tony all the best at Wigan Athletic who he is joining.
